Friday afternoon, July 23rd, was set apart as "Stunt Day." Each county was to perform some stunt in front of the judge's stand after the picnic dinner.

Charlevoix and Saginaw counties enjoyed a splendid picnic dinner in the lunch room of the main building although Saginaw outnumbered us five to one they willingly admit what they knew we were present.

After dinner all counties adjourned to the athletic field where the "grand march" was followed by the "Stunts" of the day lead by Grand Traverse county. Charlevoix came up eighth in line with the production entitled "Resort Season Opens."

At dusk after each county had done justice to their cause the judges gave their decision on the stunts. Grand Traverse county came out with colors flying and walked away with the loving cup.

Although Charlevoix was not a winner, all the students will have for days to come many pleasant memories of the event, and we all agree that another time we will make the others play a faster game for their honors.—Contributed.

ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY BUREAU

DELEGATES FROM TOWNSHIPS MEET AT BOYNE CITY

Officers Elected Who Will Succeed Guide Organized Work in District

The organization of Farm Bureau for Charlevoix county was accomplished on Wednesday of last week, when delegates from every township in the county met in Boyne City in an all-day meeting.

The formation of the bureau is the result of the two weeks campaign for membership which closed the day before the meeting, each district choosing delegates to attend the final wind-up meeting.

The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Carnegie library, the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce as hosts for the visiting delegates. At noon the delegates were banqueted by the Chamber of Commerce, speakers being present who aided further in the work by inspiring talks.

In the afternoon the permanent organization was formed and the following officers: R. V. Otto, president; H. J. Korthase, East Jordan, vice president; W. H. Benjamin, W. F. Tindall, Frank Bird, Ira Brndshaw, Emil Nasson, and Elmer Ingalls, executive committee. R. W. Paddock, delegate.

These men, with the help of the county agent, will carry on the work so well commenced, during the coming year.

VOTE ON FOUR AMENDMENTS

ELECTORS TO DECIDE IMPORTANT MATTERS NOV. 2

State Officials Again Seek Raise in Salaries—Deputies Get More Than Their Chiefs

Notwithstanding the fact that the "school amendment" and the "homo rule" amendment will be left off of the official ballot this fall, the voters at the November election will have four amendments to vote upon.

One amendment, which it appears now will be submitted to referendum is designed to empower the legislature to fix the compensation of the secretary of state, the state treasurer or the auditor general. Their salaries are now limited by the constitution to $2,500 a year. It is the consensus of opinion about the state house that these officials are underpaid with the cost of living at the present level.

In all three departments the deputies are paid higher salaries than the heads. For those second in command $3,500 is paid, while their superiors receive but $2,500. Officials have found it impossible, however, to find competent men who will aid as deputies for $2,500.

The attorney general and governor receive $5,000 while the superintendent of public instruction is paid $4,000. There is some agitation in state circles to increase the superintendent's salary to $10,000.

The effect of the second amendment, which is proposed to be made to Article III, would be to provide that every male inhabitant of foreign birth, and the wife of such inhabitant, who, having resided in the state two years and six months before the eighth day of November, 1894, and having declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States two years and six months before that date, and who shall have completed his naturalization prior to Jan. 1, 1924, shall be an elector and entitled to vote; also to extend the privileges accorded to absent voters to include any person engaged in teaching in the public schools of the state, and the immediate family of any members of the legislature during any session of that general assembly.

Article V would be changed by the third proposal, which, in effect would empower the legislature to enact laws relative to the hours and conditions under which women, as well as men and children can be employed.

The last amendment, which is intended to change Article XIII, would empower the legislature to authorize municipalities of the state to condemn and take the fee to more land than is needed for acquiring, opening and widening parks, boulevards, public places, streets, alleys or for any public use, and to issue bonds therefor.

WINTER CARE FOR CURRANTS

To Eradicate Insects and Fungus: Gerns Dormant Spray of Lime and Sulphur is Good.

Currants need good soil, and should not be planted too close. The rows should be at least seven feet apart and the bushes five feet apart in the row. At this distance, when full grown, they will come together in the rows and leave none too much space between the rows for cultivation and weeding. Of course, this is for more than one purpose.

For home purposes four or five bushes, if properly taken care of, will give a ample supply. The soil should be rich and kept rich and moist by ample mulching with strong manure. This should be attended to every spring. Currant bushes need pruning. Every spring they should be cut over and all the new shoots left out with the exception of three or four. All wood and all branches below the ground should also be cut away, together with broken sticks. They should have a dormant spray of lime and sulphur, of the same strength as used for apples, one gallon of concentrated solution to nine gallons of water. This is to eradicate scale and destroy fungus germs.

Umbrellas.

Umbrellas should be washed occasionally. Stand them open, in a bathtub, scrub them with a small hand scrub brush and rinse with a bath spray.

DAIRY NOTES

When ten days to two weeks of age, the calf should have a little grain.

The silo is one of the foundation stones of successful dairy farming.

Some people like butter that is quite salty and some prefer butter without salt. It is all a matter of taste.

Every farmer who observes closely must be impressed with the need of more dairy cows to economize in food production.

Dairymen should weigh each cow's milk daily. Feed and labor are too expensive to spend on any but high producing animals.

Shipping whole milk long distances without souring is a matter requiring considerable skill and an understanding of the principles involved.

Poor Pussy's Tail.

The restless curl in the end of a kitten's tail is attributed by French peasants to a supposition worm. It is a common practice of theirs to chop off the end of the tail, to save the animal suffering.

Cost little to run, practically no upkeep, and saves time and worry over the farm work. A Fairbank-Morse gas engine is the kind to buy. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 29tf.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

Breaking the News to Cox and Harding

The presidential candidates and their "Vices" have been receiving political delegations bearing the important tidings of the Chicago and San Francisco conventions. And now the candidates have been notified. It seems probable that everybody has been told whose names will be on the ballots in the frosty and melancholy days of November. But it does not seem at all likely that either business or industry is apt to become excited over the presidential campaign. In this respect there have been a good many comments to the effect that neither Harding or Cox are regarded as firebrands. The more correct explanation lies in the fact that in recent years, and particularly during the war that it has been determined by the American people that the business of government must be confined to the handling of the affairs of government. In other words the day has passed when anyone expects a new president of a new Congress to start out upon a program to uproot the established policies under which business and commerce have been built. The ghosts of government ownership, the Plumb plan, nationalization of industries and the like, have been successfully put to sleep in the United States, and in place of these restless possibilities there has been built a substantial foundation for our transportation system, and for our financial system, as represented by the Federal Reserve Banks. It therefore appears that the present outlook on life promises the customary dullness of mid-summer enlivened by vacation periods for the rich and poor; after which a revival in business and the security markets are looked for. While the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder is in the shock the campaign orators and political managers will enliven the country with a brisk campaign. Amid one final resounding shout the news will sweep the land telling who is the victor. No matter what the result it is not likely to add one business failure or to upset and industrial or financial enterprise in the country. There is no danger that the bottom will fall out of the old U. S. A.

Industry Lags

Fresh news from the coal mines tells of the troubles of the operators, and it seems more than likely that labor troubles will add to the probability of a coal shortage the coming winter. And what is true with regard to coal also appears to apply to most of the industrial plants of the country which are oversold, and which are vainly trying to speed up production.

The farmers have shown no disposition to curtail their produce, except for the one reason of insufficient help to care for what the soil will yield in abundance. Of course there is the dreaded apprehension of a lack in transportation facilities; and the car shortage has had tendency to make farmers as well as manufacturers conservative. But while, everywhere there has been a tendency for manufacturers and farmers to slow down, the striking reason has been that there has not been enough labor to carry on the ordinary game of life.

At the same time, in the cities as well as in the towns and country, there has been a house shortage. In New York it is not uncommon for a single office room to rent for as high as a thousand dollars a year. In Washington offices are double what they were before the war. This condition holds good in most of the large cities. Apparently there are not enough people to man the industries, to take care of farm production, and to build new houses and building structures with in the nation. The United States census now being taken, shows that the population is increasing, but it does not indicate what has become of the laboring people who evidently are becoming scarcer and scarcer as the years roll by. If America could analyze her true economic condition she would likely find out that the country is several years behind in the affairs of its shops and households.

Whatever the idealists and theorists could figure out from the above facts is uncertain. In any event conditions all show that the people who predict panics are sadly misguided, as there are of necessity, continued good times ahead—and these likely will improve as more people are compelled to turn to the ranks of industry after dissipating the small fortunes that they accumulated during the war times. Doubtless prices are slowly coming down, due to the fact that business profiteers and labor profiteers are being forced to subscribe to saner business conditions demanded by a country at peace with the world.

COW-TESTING IS PROFITABLE

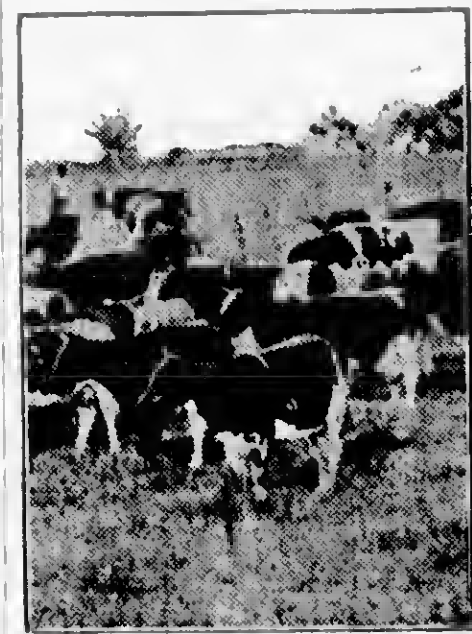

Best Scientific Agency for Isolating and Eradicating Drones From Dairy Herd.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Practical reports from the various cow-testing associations throughout the country show the value of this work of separating the chaff from the wheat in cowdom. The modern cow-testing association is the best scientific agency for isolating and eradicating the drones from the herd, while it also is of value as a detector of the highest producing animals. Such studies of the cow's appetite, digestion and production are the economical and logical methods of increasing the net earnings of the dairy.

One Ohio cow-testing association, whose members owned 285 cows last year, reports an association average of 345 pounds of butterfat per cow, and that the present production of the cows is 72 pounds of fat more apiece than it was at the first of the year.

Another cow-testing association announces that its expenses during the last five years have been below $1,000 while the value of the increased production during only the last year has aggregated over $11,000. This remarkable increase in income is not abnormal for this particular association as during each year the production of the cows has improved and the returns greatly increased. Members from another association report that all other cow owners are feeling the individual animals according to the capacity and production of each cow. This is a marked change from conditions a few years back when the cows' feed boxes at midnight always contained the same allowance of feed.

"There is certainly no difference in the world between bulls," comments a member of a successful bull club. "Do you recollect that old 'Honnie' cow of mine whose record was only 537 pounds of fat? I have raised three heifers from her, the best of which produced 715 pounds of fat during the last year, while the other two heifers, which are younger, yielded respectively, 363 and 361 pounds of fat. These heifers were sired by different pure-bred bulls and evidently the difference in the qualifications of the sires as regards fat production is aptly characterized in the production of their daughters."

Why Insure in a Small Company?

In the winter of 1914 a law passed by the State Legislature which provided for the organization of mutual automobile insurance companies. The men who prepared this law organized the CITIZENS' MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE CO. of Howell, Mich., taking out their license to do business August 27th, 1915. The Company grew rapidly. Within a few months a number of mutual companies were organized until now there are nine competing companies in the state.

One of these smaller companies had assets of $887.80; another had assets above liabilities of $88.14; a third had assets in excess of liabilities of $1273.55; while a fourth had a surplus of but $65.27 according to their statements of January 1st, 1920.

The careful automobile owner is anxious to insure with a company having sufficient surplus on hand to pay the big claims. During the month of April, the CITIZENS' MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE COMPANY of Howell paid one liability claim of $2,975.00, one fire claim of $2,975.00, a personal injury claim of $1,750.00. The Company has never had to borrow a dollar and has always had sufficient surplus to pay its claims promptly.

THE STATEMENT OF THE COMPANY AS OF JULY 1, 1920 IS AS FOLLOWS:

VICTORY MEDALS AWARDED SOON

War Department Tells Who is Entitled to One

The Courier has a number of form letters for the use of those wishing to apply for Victory Medals. The following cover the questions in doubt as to those who are entitled to one. The wards will be made on Armistice Day. Make applications early:

Q.—What is the Victory Medal?
 A.—It is a tribute of a grateful nation to all men who wore Uncle Sam's uniform who aided in crushing German ambition to dominate the world. It makes no difference whether you went "across" or not, you have a medal coming.

Q.—How May I obtain a Medal?

A.—If you live in a city where there is an army recruiting office, simply take your discharge there and sign an application. If you live in the country, or where there is no army recruiting station, write to the nearest recruiting station for proper form, stating whether you were an officer or enlisted man. Recruiting stations in western Michigan are located as follows: Alma, Battle Creek, Benton Harbor, Cadillac, Ionia, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Leland, Muskegon, Petoskey, Traverse City and Grand Rapids.

Q.—What do I do after I write for application form?

A.—With the form will be sent a blank on which you can have made a true copy of your discharge. Fill out the application blank (on type-writer) and report to the recruiting station with a true copy of your discharge. The true copy may be made by any army officer who is empowered to administer oaths.

Q.—How long do I have to wait for the Medal?

A.—The majority of the medals applied for through the Grand Rapids recruiting office have been received in less than a week.

Q.—How may medals be obtained in case the soldier was killed, or has died since being discharged?

A.—Application made by next of kin; write or call at nearest army recruiting station. The entire details will be handled for you in a courteous business-like manner.

Q.—I was a "drafted man" am I entitled to a medal?

A.—If you were accepted by the army, and have an honorable discharge there from, yes.

Q.—Is there any expense connected with the victory medal?

A.—None whatever. Everything is free.

Q.—What "red tape" is there connected with procuring a medal?

A.—None, unless you consider writing a letter to the recruiting office and the signing of your name to an application blank "red tape."

PREPARE CULLS FOR MARKET

Among Other Fowls to Be Disposed of Are the Old and Weak and All of the Scrubs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Cull out and prepare for market all fowls, old or young, which appear weak, slow, or dull; fowls with drooping tails, rough plumage, or crumpled heads; all scrubs except those which have laying points; all hens which molt early, and all males except those strong, vigorous, and of a pure type desired for breeding.

Gamefowl Once Valuable Bird.

Off the coast of Newfoundland lies a group of islands called the Funks. Here in the beginning of the last century the gamefowl, with its short, abortive wings, resorted in hundreds and hundreds of thousands to breed. Its feathers were soft and fine. Beneath the feathers was a thick coating of valuable down, and its flesh, after the bird had been soaked, was extremely palatable.

Woman's Tolerance.

A neighbor woman's idea of tolerance is to say with a curious emphasis which leaves the impression that she is open to conviction on the subject: "Oh, well, I don't suppose the girl's actually bad."—Ohio State Journal.

Cause of Failure.

Failure is not often the result of making a mistake now and then. It is usually the consequence of making the same mistake repeatedly.

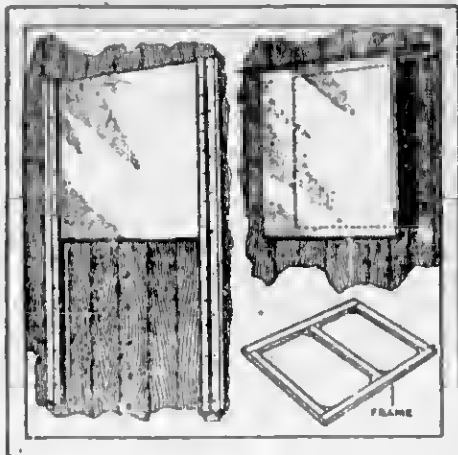

FARM POULTRY

VENTILATION OF HEN HOUSE

For Success With Poultry There Must Be an Abundance of Fresh Air Without Drafts.

Poultry raisers have come to realize that the ventilation of the poultry house is a very important matter. There must be an abundance of fresh air without extreme heat or cold, and without dampness and draft. Proper conditions cannot be had with the makeshift, wrongly used ventilators frequently employed.

One method, which has proved successful is to use the straw air strainer. A second ceiling is built about six inches below the regular ceiling, in the form of a latticed framework. A trapdoor in the center of this makes it possible to change the straw which is packed between the lattice and the original ceiling. Vents, or wire, low openings, must be cut in the side of the house as close under the eaves as possible. The air, entering at these vents, filters through the straw, and thus into the poultry house. No drafts are possible, and the temperature is kept very nearly constant. The straw also absorbs a great deal of moisture.

Another method, in rather wide use, is to cover an ordinary window frame with muslin, instead of using glass. An improvement on this type of ventilator is shown at the right of the drawing. A light wooden frame covered with muslin is hung from a wire, which serves as a track. The frame can thus be moved sideways over or away from the window opening. Screw eyes on the frame allow it to slide easily over the wire. The wire itself may be fastened either to screw eyes or over blocks at either end. To the left is shown a similar frame, moving up and down. In this case it will be necessary to arrange some means of holding the frame at the height desired. Either the pegs that fit into holes in the wall, or a hook fitting into screw eyes, placed at various heights in the wall, may be used for this purpose.

The advantage of the air strainers over muslin-covered frames is that the latter have to be adjusted accurately to the weather, while the air strainer requires no attention whatever.—J. T. Kunkel, Fort Collins, Colo., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Most Excellent Plan to Keep Out Wind at Night While Fowls Are Roosting.

If the poultry house is narrow so that the wind blows in through the open windows on the fowls on the roost, put a piece of burlap over the open space at night, but do not close the windows until the weather gets cold.

FATTEN FOWLS FOR MARKET

Poultry Will Sell for Higher Price Per Pound Because of Increase in Weight.

If any stock is to be sent in market be sure that it is fattened well before it is shipped. It will pay to do this because the poultry will sell for a higher price per pound and it will weigh more.

AT THE MOVIES

His great-great-grandfather had died of heart disease at the age of ninety-seven, so his mother felt considerably worried over his condition. He was only twenty-one, so she hired a physical trainer and hung fever thermometers all over the place. And then he saw Dorothy. The story is "Turning the Tables," by Wells Hastings. It has been done into pictures by Dorothy Gish and Raymond Cannon, and will be presented at the Palace Theatre on Saturday for the first time. It is a Paramount-Artercraft release.

It was a case of love at first sight, and although the trainer made his daily visits, it was Dorothy who led her young lover back to a realization that he needed no doctors and was a pretty healthy specimen of young manhood. They were both confined in the New Hope Sanitarium, she suspected of being insane, and he for what the doctor told his mother was a most delicately balanced nervous system. But they both proved Manager Moon announces that Tuesday, August 10th, he will present Wanda Hawley in "Miss Hobbs," her first starring vehicle for Realart, at his Palace Theatre.

This will be welcome news to the many Palace playgoers who have been awaiting with interest Miss Hawley's first appearance as an independent star. As a lending lady she was one of the most popular players whose films work is seen in this city.

"Miss Hobbs" is a sparkling comedy, concerning a young woman who hates men and inclines to smocks, futurist art, barefoot dancing, and other such fads. It was written by no less famous a person than Jerome K. Jerome, author of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" and "Idle Thoughts of an Idle Fellow." It was scenarized by Elmer Harris.

An excellent cast will be seen in support of the new star. Harrison Ford plays opposite the star, while other film favorites include Helen Jerome Eddy, Walter Hiers, Jack Mulhall, Julianne Johnston and Emily Chichester. One day only Tuesday August 10th.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids—Splendid for system.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

THE PROFITEER IN FRANCE

When the courts get through with a profiteer in France he knows that he has had his day in those courts. They do not merely impose a mild little fine on him, which he can pay without a twinge, and let it go at that. They leave him so tied up in a maze of fines, imprisonments, and superpenalties that he must be a determined and a courageous profiteer indeed if he resumes the profiteering business at the old stand.

The members of three of the large provision firms in Paris are cases in point. These enterprising gentlemen foresaw a drop in the prices of certain provisions because the markets were getting full supplies in increasing volume. This did not suit the plans and calculations of the profiteers. It did not meet their ideals of patriotic service in their stricken country. So they sent "rush" telegrams to all the centres of supply, countermmanding all their orders then placed.

This gave them at once wide if not an enviable celebrity throughout France. The "rush" telegrams were published broadcast in the newspapers. Then the courts took a hand in the matter. They wanted to know all about it. Moreover, they did in the end, know all about it, with unpleasant results to the profiteers. In addition to fines of very large amounts, the profiteering gentlemen were sent to prison for from two to three months. And even there their unpleasant experiences did not end. Under the court's stern ruling each one of them was compelled to pay for form ten to a dozen insertions, at full advertising rates, announcing the terms of the sentence in the Paris press—a deliciously French touch, and an inspiration of ironic justice; and also they were ordered to have a large poster setting forth the terms of the sentence firmly attached to the doors of their respective places of business, and kept there for the space of one year.

This last feature of the sentence is the best of all. A profiteer may pay a fine, and may even serve a short term in jail, and, although he won't like it, he will find it vastly more endurable than to be obliged publicly to advertise himself in the newspapers, and by show-bill posters on his place of business doors, as a conscienceless swindler, preying upon the needs of a public already staggering under its burdens.

Would that our own courts might take a leaf out of this particular chapter of French jurisprudence, and apply it where it would do the most good here at home!

If all the profiteers had a change of heart, and went to work for the public welfare as zealously as they have been working for themselves, what a grand and glorious country this would be!

We notice that Republicans are still busily endorsing the Republican platform and ticket, and the Democrats are still busily endorsing the Democratic platform and ticket.

Campaign managers are planning to reason with women voters. Aren't there any married men among them, to tell how foolish that is?

The powers that be, having given the postmen a small raise in pay, are now going to make them earn it by carrying tons of political publicity matter between now and November.

A detail examination of the world situation in war, politics, commerce and sport will indicate that Jack Johnson chose a poor time for coming back to the United States, if his idea was to break into the front page.

The government is preparing to publish a list of draft evaders. It will be prudent in the war department first to make certain that none of those named happen to have service stripes or decorations.

When Candidate Roosevelt said the league of nations is not a fixed issue, did he mean that the president and Governor Cox failed to fix it all up?

When the St. Lawrence waterway links the Great Lakes and the sea, the next thing will be an America's cup race somewhere out here in the west.

That "third party" looks like a case of divided personality. There are too many of it.

FINE POULTRY RECORD MADE

Satisfactory Results Reported From Number of Co-operative Shipments in Arkansas.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The Polk county (Ark.) agricultural agent and home-demonstration agent report satisfactory results from a number of co-operative shipments of chickens marketed by farm women during the early summer. Shippers listed their poultry in the same manner as is employed where hogs or cattle are shipped co-operatively, using Monday as shipping day. All the poultry was shipped by express from 60 to 250 miles to the Memphis and St. Louis markets.

A total of 1,573 pounds of poultry was loaded at the shipping point in July; the total weight at destination was 1,111 pounds, the aggregate shrinkage in transit amounting to 462 pounds, or an average of 10.3 per cent. The cost of marketing, including express, commissions, coop expenses, etc., but not inclusive of shrinkage, was 44 cents a pound, while the cost of marketing a pound, including the drift over the railroad was: Hens, 75 cents; cocks, 63 cents; and springers, 85 cents.

The total gross sales amounted to $421.07, which left a net return to the shippers of $332.70 after the shipping expenses of $88.37 were deducted. The market value of this entire shipment on the local market was only $338.80, so that the net gain through co-operative marketing aggregated $84.47, or a total of 34 per cent. Twenty-one shippers participated.

PAYS TO BANISH LOAFER HEN

In Recent Culling Campaign in Indiana 345 Out of 1,222 Fowls Were Discarded.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The Bartholomew county (Ind.) agricultural agent reports that a total of 1,222 hens were banded in a recent culling campaign and of this number 345, or 28 per cent, were discarded as poor layers. The entire number of hens, 1,222, laid 2,308 eggs the week before culling, while the week after they had been culled the 887 fowls left on the farms laid 2,332 eggs. This explains why it was expedient management to cull the flocks of the 345

The small sawmill of the Michigan Maple Block company on the road toward Cross Village is now being operated. The lumber is being hauled to the Petoskey plant of the block company for use in making blocks.

Last Saturday Ray and Earl Bennickson, seventeen and twelve years old, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennickson, living on a farm a short distance northeast of Harbor Springs drove a Ford car over the east bluff. The car turned over several times but the boys were not seriously injured and came out of the accident with only a few bruises. The boys had driven to town with grain for the elevator, after which they made a trip to Wequetonsing, and returning were driving up the east hill on their way home. Witnesses to the accident say the boys were not driving fast but in turning out for a rig drove too near the edge of the bluff where there had been a small wash-out and the dirt was soft. The car was completely demolished. Monday the boys were reported as getting along nicely and only a little lame from the effects of the exciting time.

FOOD REQUIREMENTS OF COW

Results Given of Studies of Department of Agriculture and Purdue University.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Bessie is one of the champion consumers of the universe, according to results of studies of the United States department of agriculture and Purdue university in the neighborhood of Fort county, Indiana, where Uncle Sam kept her for two years on the food requirements of about 353 cows that were producing market milk for Chicago. As cow living expenses have increased proportionately to those of the human family, these results are notable as an index to which the average dairyman or the owner of a family cow can refer in "doping out" the means and amounts of feed which his animal or animals require.

The grand average maintenance and production ration for the good grade cow yielding about 7,000 pounds of milk a year included 2,916 pounds of grain, as well as 3,301 pounds of hay and corn stover, 7,770 pounds of silage, and 720 pounds of straw for bedding. The average cow required a little less than 1½ acres of good pasture to furnish grazing for six months of the year. To keep her in proper condition and to milk and feed her regularly required 164.5 hours of human labor, as well as 16.2 hours of horse labor to haul the milk.

The studies in Indiana showed that the annual overhead charges for Bessie aggregated $27.11, inclusive of the interest, depreciation, and taxes on buildings, cattle, and equipment, as well as miscellaneous expenses, such as provision and maintenance of cans, pails, dipper, shovels, forks, scoops, lanterns, and the like, medicine and veterinary costs, fly sprays, gas engines, windmill and milk wagon repairs, and similar items. The cost of full service, tuberculosis-testing expenses, and cow-testing dues are also included.

The tests show that a calf crop of approximately 87 per cent is usually raised, so that each cow is credited with the production of 0.87 of one calf, as well as the providing of 0.8 tons of manure, which is hauled to the fields as fertilizer.

Massed together under one roof, the grain and coarse feed which Bessie will eat in one year would fill a small barn. Generally speaking, high production of milk is closely associated with a large and healthy cow, gentle, and the dairyman who chooses his accounting records at the year's end with the maximum net return is the man who provides the greatest variety and a proper mixture of the goodies of the cow world for the husband of his herd according to their individual production and capacity.

Of Indian Origin.

The powerful political organization "Tammany" was named after the Indian chief "Tammamund" of the Delaware tribe who was famous for his virtues and wisdom. The Tammany society was founded in New York city May 12, 1782 and became identified with the Republican party the Democratic party.

EPISODE X

When the Man WHO CARELESSLY WASTES THINGS found that the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal had been placed on him he was just as careless for anything else turned over to him BUT HE COULD NOT LOSE THE MEDAL.

This made him think about how he could get rid of it, and then he saw that he was holding the Medal because he had FAILED TO SEE that every bit of waste, every bit of material spoiled by him WAS PAID FOR BY HIM. Every bit of Spoiled Stock and Careless Work in the place where he worked meant INCREASED DEPLETING EXPENSES and as the expense for running the plant went up the chances of getting higher wages WENT DOWN. As he thought this over he saw that the wasted material was in DE PAID FOR and he saw that HE WAS THE ONE WHO PAID THE BILL. And he saw that his CARELESS WASTE hurt not only himself but HURT EVERY ONE OF HIS FELLOW WORKERS. And he saw that when he CHECKED HIS WASTE he became a CAREFUL and a BETTER worker.

When he saw this he decided that he would not be entitled to any HIGHEST LUNKHEAD Medal any longer so he took it off and went and placed it on the Man WHO WAITS FOR OTHERS TO HELP HIM.

(Copyright Workers' Success League.)

(Follow the travels of the Lunkhead Medal. Next you will be told what happened to the Man Who Waits for Others to Help Him.)

OLD MAN WISE SAYS:

Temper fills more jails and hospitals than it does high positions.

Putting all your punch into a time clock will never get you anywhere.

A lot of successful men who could not go to day schools went to night schools—and the night schools are still open.

You never get the chance to refuse the president's job if you take pains to show that you are afraid to accept responsibilities.

The man who is half way home when the whistle quits blowing is usually the one who complains the most because the boss doesn't give him a square deal.

COMPOUNDS TO KILL INSECTS

Experimental Work Recently Undertaken by Specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The development of methods for the manufacture of cheaper and better chemical compounds to kill insects and fungi which destroy large quantities of fruits and vegetables each year is the object of experimental work recently undertaken by specialists in the insecticide and fungicide laboratory of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture.

The high cost of copper, which is an essential ingredient of the fungicide known as Bordeaux mixture, has led to experiments to determine whether a bordeaux mixture cannot be prepared which will be more effective for each unit of copper present than as usually prepared, thus resulting in a saving of this expensive constituent of the bordeaux mixture.

Studies also will be made of the manufacture of parts green, lead arsenate, and other compounds of arsenic. No systematic study of all the compounds of arsenic that might be useful in spraying has been made, and it is thought probable that such a systematic study will lead either to the development of cheaper sprays, because the constituent elements are cheaper, or to sprays that are more effective than the sprays now used.

Needless as an insecticide will be studied with a view of developing possible substitutes for it, since there are a number of compounds which resemble nicotine in chemical and toxic properties. It is hoped to develop something that will be cheaper and even more effective than nicotine. A study will also be made of the best and cheapest methods of extracting nicotine from tobacco products on the farm. Compounds of lime, sulphur, and other compounds which may be used as insecticides and fungicides will be investigated.

Commercial methods of preparing insecticides and fungicides will be studied under practical conditions of preparation with a view of developing cheaper and more effective methods for manufacturing them.

The efficiency of the insecticides developed and the question of whether or not they are injurious to growing fruits and vegetables will be determined by field experiments conducted by the bureau of entomology, plant industry and chemistry.

A method for preparing a commercial grade of calcium arsenate has been worked out and a patent obtained for the process. The patent has been dedicated to the public and any manufacturer may use it. The results of the investigation on such a description of the process for preparing calcium arsenate have been published in department Bulletin 740, which may be obtained upon application to the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood while the bowel pores do.

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE WEEK

Daily Matinee starting at 2:30 p. m. Evening Show at 7:15

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5—Paramount presents Dorothy Dalton in "L'Apache." One of Miss Dalton's latest and best pictures. See the Apache dance and the latest up-to-date gowns. A Thomas H. Ince production. A powerful dramatic story.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6—Vitagraph presents Corinne Griffith in "The Unknown Quantity." Adapted from O. Henry's short story by the same name. Also a one reel Rowland comedy "Don't Weaken."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7—Paramount-Artcraft presents a big double attraction Dorothy Gish and Fatty Arbuckle in a new 1920 picture and comedy. Dorothy Gish in "Turning the Tables." A farce comedy you will like. They said she was funny in the head so her crooked aunt and her crooked aunt's doctor packed her off to a sanitarium and proceeded to spend her money. Was she funny? She was! She is! But not in the head. And what did she do to Aunt's Doc; and the Crazy House? Don't dare to miss it. One big long side-achy laugh and the special added attraction Fatty Arbuckle and Buster Keaton in "Back Stage." The actors struck and Sh-h-h; Fatty put on a show of his own. Better come.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8—Afternoon show same as Saturday. Sunday evening Paramount presents Vivian Martin in "The Third Kiss." One, two, three and out goes she. There was no other way she simply had to admit defeat when that third kiss was stamped where the gods intended it to go. But a factory fire, a society scandal, a big settlement job, and the queerest tangle of hearts and honor you ever saw, all had to come before the final thrilling climax. One a theft, two an outrage, three—Come and label it to suit your taste, also Fatty Arbuckle and Buster Keaton in "Back Stage."

MONDAY, AUGUST 9—Robertson-Cole presents Sessue Hayakawa in "The Brand of Opezo."

TUESDAY, AUGUST 10—Real-Art presents Wanda Hawley in her first picture in "Miss Hobbs" from the play by same name. By Jerome K. Jerome, directed by Donald Crisp. A fine comedy drama. Don't miss this one and also a Kinogram News reel.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11—Big double attraction. Goldwyn presents Tom Moore in "Duds." A thrilling mystery drama from Saturday evening Post story. Mystery, love, fierce encounters, a strange woman, tangled motives, big stakes. See Tom Moore in "Duds" one of his latest and Charlie Chaplin in "The Rink."

COMING AUGUST 17—Julian Eltinge the famous woman impersonator in his latest picture "An Adventuress."

COMING AUGUST 21—Mary Pickford in "Hearts O' the Hills."

COMING AUGUST 12—One day only. Second showing of The "Miracle Man."

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL
By J. E. Jones

moment at Washington, does not stand by itself. It is a part of the entire industrial problem of the country and is tied up with it in every detail. Hence it cannot be solved by itself. Any disturbance affecting any industry reverts upon railroad transportation. It may keep cars empty and idle that should be full and running. Then upon the abatement of such a disturbance the demand for products delayed by it becomes abnormally strong for the time being. There is, so to speak, a "rush hour" demand, creating a temporary need for more than a normal supply of cars.

The coal strike of last fall had long extended effects. All production in which iron and steel enter was complicated by the steel strike. Building has been hampered by numerous local strikes of craftsmen and the longshoremen's strikes have rendered it difficult to get many materials. Traffic for export has been complicated by maritime strikes, both of longshoremen and tugmen. Teamsters' and truckmen's strikes have added to these difficulties. Capital has faced uncertainties and particularly has been unable to make stable contracts at known prices. Commodities have neither been produced nor transported with the foreseeable and dependable regularity of normal times, and this has interfered with the normal flow of commodities.

The exigencies of the war period has resulted—unavoidable, it is true,—in deterioration of equipment and facilities which takes time to overcome. The competition for labor has lost to the railroads many skilled men. The lowered efficiency of labor has affected the railroads, just as it has other industries. This, together with the shortened workday basis, has made it impossible to get the same transportation results with the same number of employees as before the war.

Three Autos to Every Mile

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads shows that there were 7,565,446 motor vehicles of all types registered in the United States during the calendar year of 1919, an increase of 23 per cent over the previous year. License and registration fees alone last year amounted to $64,700,000, and practically all this sum was devoted to road maintenance and construction. The highway officials estimate that there are 2,475,000 miles of highway in the country, and a simple long division problem shows that there are three cars to every mile of highway. Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Montana, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wyoming have one car or less for every mile and a half of their roads. But Rhode Island brings up the average by producing more than twenty cars to the mile. Massachusetts has thirty and two-tenths cars to the mile, and New Jersey's average is twenty-eight and one-tenth cars to the mile. California has seven and eight-tenths cars to the mile.

Home Studies in Finance

While the prices of so-called "necessaries" have appreciably increased, all the official statements on finance given out at Washington show that mortgage security prices have gone down too much a point that the investment opportunities were never better than now. Good securities bearing high rates of interest are apparently interesting people all over the country, and the era of "speculating" is giving way to a period of investment. The old-time advice to people to invest in their local public service institutions seems to be proving interesting to many people, and the "home ownership" policy of owning the enterprises that serve the public is taking root.

THAT BAD BACK

Do you have a dull, steady ache in the small of the back, sharp, stabbing twinges when stooping or lifting—distressing urinary disorders? For bad back and weakened kidneys, Charlevoix residents recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this Charlevoix woman's statement.

Mrs. John Wenderman, 707 Bridge St., says: "I suffered awfully with my back; it was stiff and lame. The irregular action of my kidneys had me down. I purchased a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills at Hines & Co.'s Drug Store, and they cured me."

Down on the Derby.

My cheeks grow so warm as I remember an occasion several years ago when my blushes almost burned me up. I went to church one Sunday evening with an escort who wore a stunning new derby hat. (Think heaven those hats are almost relics now!) The congregation rose for the singing of the first hymn and at the close of the song there was a loud report. I had sat down upon that stunning new hat. —Exchange

RETAIN ALL DAIRY ANIMALS

More People Than Ever in Country to Feed and Milk Will Be Used if Price Is Fair.

There are more people to feed than ever in this country and if prices can be brought to a point where they can afford to buy they will buy and use a great deal more milk than they did. As for selling of dairy cows, think how disastrous it would be. Many do not even now get as much milk as they would like, and thousands and thousands of pounds of butter substitutes are used every year.

HERD BULL REQUIRES GRAIN

Good Ration Is Composed of Oats, Barley or Speltz, Bran, Oatmeal and Wild Hay.

A herd bull in heavy service should be fed grain. A ration composed of 6 parts oats, 2 parts of barley or speltz, 2 parts of bran, 1 part of oatmeal, together with good upland wild hay makes a good ration.

FIND COST OF FEED IN OHIO

Hundred Pounds of Milk Produced at Rate of 68 Cents When Silage Is Furnished.

At the Ohio college it was found that 100 pounds of whole milk can be produced at the rate of 68 cents when silage is fed, and butter at a cost of 13.1 cents a pound. However, when an average feed is fed without silage, it costs $1.25 to produce 100 pounds of whole milk, and 22 cents to produce a pound of butter. The same can be said for beef production. Silage and a little concentrated meal, or clover hay, soy beans or cowpeas will make a balanced ration. Moldy silage should not be fed to stock at any time.

ANTRIM STUDENTS AT CENTRAL NORMAL

County Well Represented at Michigan State Normal

The C. M. N. S. annual picnic was held Friday, July 23d, in which Antrim county took an active and successful part. We are pleased to state that Antrim county has a larger attendance at the Normal this summer than ever before, there being 24 representatives.

After the picnic supper each county did a "stunt." Antrim county's stunt was entitled "Saving the Cherries" a clever agricultural play. Those who took part in this stunt were as follows:

Rosaline Dempsey, Mamie Peebles, Ruth Chellis, Opal Harper, Bessie Poff, Hettie Dawson, Mary Anderson, Clarence Best, Fannie Elzinga, Mrs. Archer, Inez James, Pauline Gardner, Leona Heyser, Margaret Watson.

Poultry Culling Demonstration

A poultry culling demonstration and lecture will be held Wednesday, August 18, at the following places. The farm of John Bos, on the county line near Norwood, at 10 a. m. fast time.

Martin Elzinga's at 1:00 p. m. and at Peter Wieland's at 3:00 p. m. An expert from the M. A. C. will be in charge and it will be to the benefit of every farmer to attend these demonstrations.

DISPOSE OF EARLY PULLETS

Fowls Hatched Last Winter Will Molt About January First and Should Be Marketed.

Pullets hatched in January and February are the ones that lay in the summer and fall when the old hens are molting. It will be well not to depend on these to continue laying through the winter, however, as they probably will molt about the first of January and should be disposed of at that time.

FIND MARKET FOR BROILERS

Good Thing May Be Made of Plump Young Chicks Weighing Three Quarters to a Pound.

If your farm is near a city of large hotels, restaurants and club houses, a good thing may be made of plump young chicks, termed squab broilers. At seven to eight weeks old when weighing three-quarters to a pound each they often bring as much as one dollar a pair.

POULTRY NOTES

Don't feed the chickens in a dirty, filthy place.

It pays to watch the flock closely in the fall, winter and early spring.

Clean the floors of the hen houses every few days; don't allow the trash to accumulate.

Perhaps some hens and pullets would be much better layers if they could select their owners.

Lachorns at 5½ months, and the larger breeds of Rocks and Reds at 6½ months, will begin egg production.

It is much more economical and profitable to feed a variety of feeds to poultry, than it is to depend on one or two grains.

Chemists find that eggs simply are water, protein and ash and that more than one-half the egg is water, so it is apparent that sufficient water is a necessary consideration.

The Great Lunkhead Mystery

Follow the Travels of the Famous Medal Designed to be Worn by the Person Proving the Right to be Known to the World as the Biggest Lunkhead.

EPISODE VII

When the Man WHO NEVER SAVED A CENT became the owner of the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal he found that it would be hard to get rid of his money. And, as he did not care for the Medal any more than he did for his money, he started to find out HOW he could get rid of the Medal.

He found that he could GET RID OF THE MEDAL only by KEEPING HIS MONEY. Then he found that it is EASY TO SAVE MONEY. He saw that men saved it by BANKING some amount each week. That others saved by REFUSING TO BUY THINGS when they COULD NOT AFFORD TO BUY. That some got better bargains by NOT demanding that they be sold the HIGHEST PRICED GOODS. He saw many ways to save and he saw that the man who saves HELPS HIMSELF by providing against the future.

As it PAID HIM TO SAVE he decided that he would rather save the money than save the Medal, so he went out and planned the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal on the MAN WHO LET OTHERS DO HIS THINKING FOR HIM.

EPISODE VIII

When the Man who LET OTHERS DO HIS OWN THINKING to find out covered that he was wearing the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal he was in a bad way for in this case he had to DO HIS OWN THINKING to find out WHY he had the Medal.

But he was THE WINNER for he found out that HE HAD A BRAIN OF HIS OWN and he found out that he HELPED HIMSELF when he used his OWN BRAIN and started in to DO HIS OWN THINKING.

When he STARTED TO THINK he found that HE could see things JUST AS CLEARLY as others could see them. He found that IT PAID HIM TO FORM HIS OWN OPINIONS about his work and his life; that IT PAID HIM FAR MORE than to have OTHERS using him for THEIR OWN PURPOSES. He found that HE HAD BEEN THE LOSER many times in the past by letting others do his thinking. He decided that he would be HIS OWN LEADER and not be ONE OF THE FLOCK for some other man.

And having found that he was DOING HIS OWN THINKING he went out and planned the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal on the MAN WHO WAS ALWAYS SARCASTIC.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BETTER MICHIGAN SEEDS

WORK OF FARM BUREAU ALONG THIS LINE

Bureau Stands Ready to Investigate and Guarantee Quality of Seed Sold

Of all the many activities of the Michigan State Farm Bureau perhaps that which is being watched the closest by the 75,000 farm members over the state is the development of the seed department. The reason for this is obvious. There are few farmers in the state who some time or other have not purchased seed that did not grow according to promise. Now the farm bureau stands ready to investigate and guarantee the quality of any seed.

Manager of this department which is located in the farm bureau headquarters at Lansing, is J. W. Nicolson, formerly connected with the crops department of the Michigan Agricultural College. As assistant manager, there is R. V. Tanner, who formerly was county agricultural agent in Mason and Barry counties. Working in co-operation with them is C. F. Barnum, formerly in the fertilizer and feeds department at the college.

In brief the work of the seed department is along the lines of agent for the county farm bureaus in purchase of field seeds needed from outside of the county and the sale of such surplus seed as may be in the county. Assistance is being given all the counties in establishment of county farm bureau seed departments. Many are preparing for installation of seed cleaning machinery so that it will be possible for them to take care of a great proportion of the requirements of the farm bureau members within that territory. All farm bureau business is done cooperatively on a cost basis.

Warehouses and storage facilities are maintained in Lansing, and the seed department pays all transportation and expenses incident to handling, purchase and marketing of seed, including bookkeeping and clerical work, until the seed reaches the point of delivery. Adequate insurance is carried on all seed that may be in possession of the state farm bureau. It is desired, insofar as possible and practical, to have each of the counties handle the business of the individual farm bureau members, and thereby permitting the state department to deal primarily and principally with the county units.

Arrangements have been made for the sale of considerable Michigan grown seeds to farm bureau units in New York, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, and these states are preparing to co-operate with Michigan extensively in purchase of genuine alfalfa and northern clover from the Dakotas and Idaho. Nicolson now is in the west for several weeks inspecting growing crops and arranging for large shipments to Michigan this fall. It is the intention of this department to handle no seeds that it cannot guarantee to growers; quality rather than price always being the principal point considered.

As an illustration of the opportunity for service confronting this department, is sales of dwarf Essex rape and grimm alfalfa which have been made in Michigan. Dwarf Essex rape is used extensively in Michigan as a fall pasture crop, and when the right kind of seed is used, it furnished an excellent pasture for sheep and hogs. The best source of dwarf Essex rape is Holland. Since the war, imports from there have been negligible and considerable of the Japanese variety has been substituted. The Japanese does not seem to give good results in latitudes as far north as Michigan, it producing a spindling meagre growth in comparison with the vigorous, prolific crop produced from the Holland seed. The Japanese and Holland look exactly alike; and differences only can be detected by expert seed analysts. The state farm bureau has located a limited amount of genuine dwarf Essex rape from Holland, and expects to have extensive supplies for the next year for county farm bureaus that, positively indicate their needs through contracts. Numerous samples of rape from foreign countries have been secured and will be tested to determine the varieties that may be adapted to Michigan.

Genuine grimm has been difficult to obtain and statistics show more of this variety has been sold in the United States the last year than was grown. So that Michigan farmers may be protected against substitutes, all seed of this sort that is handled by the farm bureau is backed up by affidavits from the growers of the seed, and if the seed should happen to be handled through a dealer, that dealer is also expected to guarantee the genuineness of the seed. In the last year more than 18,000,000 pounds of alfalfa seed was imported into this country principally from Turkey and Italy. Neither of these sources supplies seeds adaptable to Michigan they not being hardy enough.

Further activities of the seed department will be in co-operation with Michigan Crop Improvement association of the state college. It acts as sales agent for this association which inspects the growing crops of its members and certifies only high quality products.

Appraise Telephone Property
A party of engineers from the Michigan public utilities commission will be in Charlevoix some time during September or October to make an appraisal of the property of the Michigan State Telephone company. This is to be a part of the work of appraising the company's property in Michigan, in connection with the petition for a higher rate.

SEVEN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

BUICK CAR COLLIDES WITH HORSE AND BUGGY

Lena Kingster Suffers Skull Fracture and Remains Unconscious 48 Hours—Buggy Demolished

Another auto accident which resulted in more or less injury to seven people occurred on Dixon avenue last Wednesday evening about 9:45, when a Buick touring car driven by Richard Loeb ran into a buggy owned by Mrs. Mary Wyers.

The buggy and its occupants were standing on Dixon avenue, about forty feet from the Lewis street intersection. Loeb was driving with dimmers on and failed to see the buggy in time to avoid the collision, with the result that the car struck the rear end of the buggy, throwing its occupants out and almost demolishing it.

In the buggy were Mrs. Mary Wyers, who received a bad scalp wound and other serious bruises; Jay O'Brien, aged ten years, a fractured clavicle; Lena Kingster, aged twenty-two, fracture of the skull. Miss Kingster was thrown from the buggy, her head striking the curb, and was picked up in an unconscious condition and rushed to the Charlevoix hospital. She remained in an unconscious state until Saturday morning, and although badly injured, will probably recover.

In the automobile were Richard Loeb, whose leg was injured beside numerous other bruises; Sylvia Hartman, bad scalp wound caused by glass from broken windshield; Max Becker, broken rib and injuries to chest, and Miss Elsie Frank, more or less bruised.

All of the injured with the exception of Mrs. Wyers and Miss Frank were taken to the hospital, where every attention was given them.

Up to the present time all of the injured with the exception of Miss Kingster, are able to be out. Miss Kingster's injuries are of a serious nature and it will be some time before she will be able to leave the hospital.

The opinion of those viewing the scene of the accident are that all escaped death by a narrow margin, and that it should be a warning to all who drive cars to be extremely careful, especially after dark, when traveling not only the streets of the city, but rural highways as well.

HEROIC RESCUE OF YOUNG GIRL

Lee Allard Dives Headlong From Bow of Boat

A drowning accident was averted Wednesday forenoon only by the quick action of Lee Allard who dove headlong from the bow of a launch and rescued a young lady who had sank in the deep water off the channel bank.

Allard and John Wineman were on a fishing trip in the waters of the south arm of Pine Lake, and were at Burlington Bay when cries for help were heard.

A party of young people from Enst Jordan were bathing, and a young lady went beyond her depth and had sank to the bottom of the lake just off the channel bank.

Allard dove the boat to the place where she disappeared and dove from the bow of the boat fully dressed, and rescued her. Had it not been for the fortunate arrival of Allard, she would have drowned, as none of the party she was with were able to render assistance. His act is deserving of much praise.

I ask the consideration of the electors of Charlevoix county in making your selection of the one you desire to represent you in making the laws and appropriations at the next session of the legislature.

Your investigation of my record as an officer, and my qualifications for this important office is respectfully solicited.

CHARLEVOIX YACHT CLUB REGATTA

BOAT RACING TO BE RENEWED THIS YEAR

Owners of Sail and Power Boats of Northern Michigan to Meet Here Week of August 28

Boat racing in Charlevoix waters is to be renewed this season and plans are under way which will result in a three-day regatta, under the auspices of the Charlevoix Yacht Club, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 24, 25, and 26.

It has been several years since an event of this kind has been staged here, and every boat owner, power or sail, is extended an invitation to take part in the contests. Boats will be classified under different headings, according to their horse-power and water line, and the racing will be in charge of men interested in this line of sport.

Boat racing is one of the pleasures enjoyed both by summer visitors and year-round residents, and the waters of Pine Lake afford a place for an event of this kind hard to equal. An effort will be made to obtain a large entry, as the success of the regatta depends largely on the number of contestants.

The Charlevoix Yacht Club, Charlevoix Commercial Association, mayor and common council are backing the movement, and boat owners from Harbor Springs, Petoskey, Mackinac Island, Traverse City are urged to give their support in an effort to make the regatta an annual event. Good trophies will be awarded winners in all classes and an extra prize of considerable value may be offered, to be won twice out of three events.

The course will be laid out on Pine Lake or Lake Michigan, the weather governing this matter. Sam Hamilton and son, Ray, have been placed in charge and those who desire information as to entries, etc., are requested to take the matter up with them.

BODY FOUND IN ROUND LAKE

DEATH OF MRS. HAMPTON SHOCKS COMMUNITY

Had Been Suffering From Nervous Break-down For the Past Three Years

The community was shocked Thursday morning by the news that the body of Mrs. W. E. Hampton had been found floating in the waters of Round Lake, at the foot of Clinton street.

The body was first discovered by Charles Allard, and immediately taken to the undertaking rooms of S. M. See & Sons.

Mrs. Hampton had been in ill health for the past three years, suffering from a nervous break-down and melancholy. She had been in the habit of rising early, and on the morning of her death was up and around the rooms at the usual hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton occupy rooms in the Bartholomew block, and Mrs. Hampton's mother has been with them for some time. The hour she arose is not known, as her movement between that time and the time her body was found in the lake are unknown. Mr. Hampton arose at eight o'clock and was the first to miss her.

She was clad in her night clothes when found. The shock to the husband and sons is heart-breaking and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to them.

MRS. ROBERT WITHERS DIED TUESDAY P. M.

Had Been a Resident of Charlevoix for 38 Years

Mrs. Robert Withers, who for a number of years has been a resident of Charlevoix, died at her home on Belvedere avenue, Tuesday afternoon after an illness extending over several months.

Lucina Dennis was born in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., 64 years ago and lived there until she married George Miller and moved to Charlevoix 38 years ago. To this union four children were born, two of whom are still living.

About 12 years ago she was united in marriage to Robert Withers of this city. For a number of years previous to this marriage Mrs. Withers conducted a rooming house on Belvedere avenue.

The deceased was a member of the Rehoboth and Maccabee lodges and had held offices in both of these orders, filling the office of chaplain in the Maccabees at the time of her death. She was a faithful member of the Methodist church and will be greatly missed among her sister church workers.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, and two children, Mrs. R. C. Korth and George Miller of this city and a host of friends. At the time we go to press arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

GRAND BALL OF THE SEASON

FOR BENEFIT OF THE CHARLEVOIX HOSPITAL

Held at The Inn Casino Saturday Evening—Subscribers to Fund Represent Nineteen States

The grand ball of the season was held in The Inn ball room for the benefit of the Charlevoix hospital, Saturday evening, August 7. Dancing started at 8:30 and lasted until 11:30. There were hundreds present, beautifully frocked ladies, and society from all sides of Charlevoix-Belvedere, Chicago Club, Beach, Pine Lake and inside. The cottages were well represented also. The favors supplied by the management of The Inn were elaborately attractive. The entire proceeds of $1,827.08, with no expense, will be handed to the treasurer of the hospital. Not only was the financial success most gratifying, but the entertainment afforded this summer colony was one of its most enjoyable.

Mrs. Leopold Simon of Davenport, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred John of Chicago, all guests of The Inn, who composed the committee to solicit subscriptions within the hotel, state that their efforts were met with a spirit of readiness to cooperate and a liberal disposition to make the result of material benefit to the Charlevoix hospital.

Among the subscribers, all guests of The Inn, the following states were represented: Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Wisconsin.

THIEVES GET AWAY WITH BUICK CAR

Left Parked on Bridge Street Last Friday Night

Automobile thieves, probably a part of the gang operating in northern Michigan, stole a five-passenger Buick car owned by J. H. Lowenstein, one of our summer visitors who lives in the Swinton cottage, which had been parked in front of Levinson's store, last Friday night between eight and nine o'clock.

Those driving the car were attending the moving picture show, and did not discover their loss until the close of the show. Officers are working on the case in an endeavor to find the car, but to date no trace of it has been discovered.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. George Meggison gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Emily Meggison at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. B. Ward, on Thursday evening, August 5. A number of friends and relatives were present and many useful gifts were presented.

An enjoyable evening was spent by all, after which refreshments were served.

WANT HATCHERIES IN ALL DISTRICTS

MICHIGAN FISH COMMISSION IS HARD AT WORK

John L. A. Galster, Member of State Body, Tells How Plan is to Be Worked Out.

The Michigan fish commission has decided to open a campaign having for its sole object the establishment of a hatchery in every senatorial district in the state where there are lakes and streams, and the fish thus procured are to be planted in the lakes and streams of the senatorial district in which they are hatched, according to a statement issued last week by John L. A. Galster of Petoskey, one of the three commissioners. The other commissioners are Walter J. Hunsaker, Saginaw, and Richard E. Follett, Detroit.

"Furthermore," said Commissioner Galster in making his statement, "we shall include in our efforts an attempt to impose a license charge of one dollar on every person who fishes in inland lakes, streams or Lake Michigan, the object being to make fishermen pay for the hatching and placing of the fish they catch just as hunters are taxed to pay the costs of game protection. There is just as much reason for licensing a fisherman as hunter. At present the law demands that visitors from outside the state take out licenses, but the number of visiting fishermen is small compared with the number of native anglers. Our plan is to tax all, and we feel sure that all will gladly pay the tiny tax when they realize that all the money is wanted for is to make their fishing days a success. There is nothing more discouraging nor more injurious to Michigan as a summer resort state than to have fishermen fail to get fish.

"The tax asked will be only one dollar, and we feel that all will be glad thus to become shareholders in this business of stocking the lakes and streams in which they fish. The plan of producing the fish in the vicinity where they are to be caught should arouse interest and produce the very best results. There is a strong agitation now on in the upper peninsula favoring a rod license, the revenue from which would be turned over to the fish commission department to be used solely for the fish hatchery business of Michigan. The better fishing obtained would be well worth the small sum paid by the fisherman, and the commission feels that every good sportsman will welcome the idea and contribute gladly.

"A hundred persons go fishing to every one who goes hunting," continued Mr. Galster, who is one of the best-known sportsmen in Northern Michigan, "and fishermen fish several months a year against ten or twenty days for the deer hunter. We need the rod license just as much as we need the deer license. More persons get fun and food out of fishing than out of hunting, and this larger portion of our population should be given broader opportunities to fish. Successful conservation of our fish should go along with the building of good roads for automobiles and the prevention of fires in our forests."

OBSERVE FLOWER MISSION DAY

W. C. T. U. to Meet at Home of Mrs. A. E. Mason

"Gather the splendor of summer's green bowers, dawns with its mission, the day of flowers." The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will observe Flower Mission Day at the home of Mrs. A. E. Mason, 110 Belvedere avenue, at 2:30 p. m., Friday, August 13.

At the opening of the meeting a memorial service for Mrs. Huntington and Mrs. Parmelee, members who have lately "changed the white ribbon for the white robe" will be held in charge of Mrs. John Burns.

The president will give a report of the state convention and Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Campbell will talk on the topic of the day, "Our Obligations to Others."

Donations of flowers for the sick and shut-in are solicited. Visitors welcome.

Notice to merchants on and after this date I refuse to pay any bills contracted by my sons. I have had enough trouble with them and will not be bothered again. Signed, Frank Hyek. 32tfp

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skin, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Brand Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

—with insufficient surplus when you can insure in the largest exclusive mutual automobile insurance company in the world. In the winter of 1914 a law passed by the State Legislature which provided for the organization of mutual automobile insurance companies. The men who prepared this law organized the CITIZENS' MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE CO. of Howell, Mich., taking out their license to do business August 27th, 1915. The Company grew rapidly. Within a few months a number of mutual companies were organized until now there are nine competing companies in the state.

One of these smaller companies had assets of $887.80; another had assets above liabilities of $68.14; a third had assets in excess of liabilities of $1273.55; while a fourth had a surplus of but $65.27 according to their statements of January 1st, 1920. The careful automobile owner is anxious to insure with a company having sufficient surplus on hand to pay the big claims. During the month of April, the CITIZENS' MUTUAL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE COMPANY of Howell paid one liability claim of $2,975.00, one fire claim of $2,975.00, a personal injury claim of $1,750.00. The Company has never had to borrow a dollar and has always had sufficient surplus to pay its claims promptly.

DAIRY FACTS

SCHOOLS TAKE UP DAIRYING

Bulletin Published by Department of Agriculture Has Twelve Lessons on Subject.

To add impetus to the teaching of dairying in elementary rural schools Bulletin 763, just published, contains 12 lessons on the subject. With each lesson are given helpful directions for home projects that may be worked out with profit to every community and with real educational value to pupils. Practically all the subject material for these use and instructions for home projects can be found in available bulletins either free or at small cost, but teachers and pupils are advised to use additional sources of information, such as the printed matter from dairy cattle breeders' associations, books on dairying, and farm and dairy journals.

According to the bulletin teachers of agriculture are agreed that instruction on that subject should follow certain definite lines—it should be seasonal, be local in its interests, meet the needs of the pupils, and be practical. The home-project plan affords the best means of meeting these conditions, especially the practical side, for by it the pupil works out for himself the principles and theories taught in the classroom.

The term "home project," applied to instruction in elementary and supplementary agriculture, includes as requisites a plan for home work and related instruction in agriculture at the school. It should be a problem new to the pupil; the pupil and pupil should agree with the teacher on the plan; some competent person must supervise the home work; detailed records of time, method, cost, and income must be honestly kept; and a written report based on the record should be submitted to the teacher.

One of the means by which teachers may learn the dairy interests of the district is a dairy survey. The pupils may assist in obtaining this information, but first-hand knowledge obtained by the teacher will be valuable. This survey should tell the kind of farm (crop or stock), purpose of dairy cows (commercial or home use), breeds of cattle, feeds raised, feeds purchased, milk records kept, how milk is tested, how milk is disposed of, and dairy conveniences. Information should be tabulated as it is collected. In addition the teacher with the pupils' help should prepare charts showing the points of a typical dairy cow, samples of dairy records showing how they should be kept, directions showing the food value of milk, and drawings showing a section of the model dairy farm, milk house, etc.

The bulletin contains lessons, giving sources of material, on the following subjects: Producing clean milk; care of milk and cream, weighing milk, testing milk, keeping of records and marketing dairy products, profit and loss (good and poor cows), judging and purchasing stock, care in handling of the dairy cow and barn, butter manufacture, food value of milk and its use in the home, making cottage cheese, cooking with milk products, and the use of milk as a supplement to other foods.

GOOD RATION FOR DAIRY COW

Ohio State University Recommends Mixture of Ground Corn, Oats, Bran, Gluten and Meal.

A good dairy ration recommended by the dairy department of the Ohio State university is made of the following grains: Ground corn, one part; oats, one part; bran, one part; gluten, one part; cottonseed meal, half a part; linseed oil meal, three-fourths part. Feed one pound of this mixture to each two to four pounds of milk, depending upon the percentage of butterfat. This should be fed in connection with silage, clover or alfalfa hay and either sugar beets or beet pulp. Soy bean hay is also desirable.

What we are doing to make Telephone Service Better

Hardly a week passes that does not see some plan or device in operation, or a prospect, that will make the telephone service more as we both would have it.

During the past three and one half years, for instance, more than 10,000 miles of additional telephone wires have been strung in Michigan. These additional lines have added greatly to the scope and quality of long distance and toll services.

A new cable connecting the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan has also been placed. This cable has added greatly to the long distance service which we are giving Michigan.

More than 6,000 private switchboards have been installed in Michigan to date and as many more as can be procured will be placed at the disposal of subscribers desiring them this year.

All of these improvements and additions have been put through in the face of the most difficult material delivery conditions Michigan has ever experienced.

Great attention is being given the work in our operator training schools in cities throughout Michigan, that these young women may come to their tasks proficient, and with a full understanding of their responsibilities.

And so it is throughout every department of the business. Difficulties are being experienced. The results are not always all that we wish. But we will keep at work until we have overcome every obstacle to good service.

A Traverse City dispatch says:
The grasshopper pest, which threatened destruction to crops throughout that section, has almost entirely disappeared, according to reports reaching here from neighboring farm districts.

Whether the hoppers tired of their environment there or merely were exterminated by the extensive poisoning campaign remained a matter of conjecture.

Inventory of damage done by the hopper invasion showed today that the principal affect of the depredations were destruction of a considerable share of the oat crop. Other grains did not suffer materially and the potato crop was undamaged.

Conway last Saturday for a trip out into the wide world. They traveled to the north as far as Pellston, in which village they passed the night heading for the south Sunday. They traveled as far as Petoskey where the bright lights of the city attracted them. Here their wanderings were brought to an end, however, for the sheriff located them and returned them to their home.

Berrien county farmers in the vicinity of Union Pier have petitioned state police to protect their orchards against summer resorters who "steal enough fruit to furnish them with a winter's supply of canned good," it was learned here today.

The resorters, according to charges made by the framers, are not in the habit of raiding the orchards merely for the purpose of picking a few morsels of fruit to eat—instead they go about it systematically, hauling the spoils away in baskets and canning it at their summer cottages for winter use.

"The resorters figure that this is a good way to cut their vacation expenses to a minimum," one farmer said. "If they return home in the fall with several hundred dollars' worth of canned fruit which cost them nothing, their vacation will be looked upon as profitable. There is no reason, however, why we farmers should contribute so heavily to their support."

Refusal of Democratic leaders in the Fourth congressional district to place any candidate in the field for the congressional nomination has not deterred Mrs. Maude Glasner, wife of former State Representative Henry Glasner of Nashville from entering the primary as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Prominent Democratic farmers of the district have indicated they would support John C. Ketcham, master of the State Grange, for the place both in the primary and the election in spite of the fact that he is a Republican.

Announcement has been made that under an order issued by Associate Justice Holmes, Senator Truman H. Newberry and the other defendants convicted at Grand Rapids, Mich., on charges of violating the election laws, are to be allowed until September 17 to file appeals with the Supreme court. The appeals were to have been filed late last month, but owing to inability to complete the record in the cases, the extension of time was allowed.

Fred Globe, of Chicago, chauffeur for E. C. Uhl, of Chicago, is in the general hospital at Traverse City suffering from a badly fractured skull as the result of the explosion of a tire on the Uhl car, caused by over-inflation. The force of the explosion drove the rim band from the wheel and this struck Globe with terrible force. A piece of bone two inches long and an inch wide was removed by physicians from Globe's skull.

Arrested for Theft

Ray Meier of Chicago, was arrested last Saturday night by policeman Carpenter of Petoskey, and taken to Petoskey, to answer to a charge of larceny. Meier confessed to taking several silk shirts, a pair of trousers and a traveling bag from a room in the Cushman some time ago.
He was bound over to the circuit court for trial.

On account of the number of requests from Beaver Island, J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will visit the Island early in September.—Adv 3241.

CHARLEVOIX ASSN.
OF COMMERCE

New Name for Local Business Men's Association

Friday evening's meeting and banquet of the Charlevoix Commercial Association resulted in the making of numerous changes in the organization, one being a new name, that of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

The meeting was held in the dining hall of the Masonic Temple, some fifty members being present. The committee in whose hands was placed the new form of organization reported, and application has been made to the public utilities commissioner for re-organization, thus placing the association in a position to transact business in a legal manner.

The same committee was renamed with the addition of two members, to prepare by-laws and general re-organization plans, which will be present at a future meeting for open discussion and adoption.

The ladies of the Eastern Star served the banquet and received a rising vote of thanks for the manner in which they served the association.

NEW ROAD SIGNS BENEFIT TOURISTS

All Roads Leading to Charlevoix Should Bear Markers

A new road sign has been placed at the corner of Belvedere avenue and Bridge street, directing tourists to the Mackinaw Trail, and bearing the words "East Jordan, Albion, Mancelona." At East Jordan a similar sign is being placed directing tourists to the Dixie Highway. Signs will also be placed at Alba and Mancelona. Sign board directing tourists along the various routes is the best advertising Charlevoix can do and we suggest that signs be placed along the Dixie Highway from the state line to Charlevoix.

'Tis our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliance with any portion of the foreign world. We may safely trust temporary alliances in extraordinary emergencies.—

BEEF SCRAPS AND FISH MEAL FOR FOWLS ARE ESSENTIAL FOR PRODUCTION OF EGGS

Chickens Are Not Strict Vegetarians—They Thrive on Meat and Fish.

On the average farm where poultry are kept as a side line, most meat and fish scraps are usually little used in the ration because, as a rule, they are extremely expensive compared with the other nutrients commonly furnished the fowls. Many farmers make up for this deficiency of protein in the ration by the liberal feeding of skim milk. Others maintain their focus on farm-grown grain without the essential supplementary protein, and as a consequence suffer a pronounced loss in the yield of eggs. It is economy for the general farmer to utilize such high-priced feed as beef scraps and fish meal, as generally he feeds only a small amount of this material while its influence on the egg yield is markedly perceptible and decidedly profitable to the producer. Unless the farmer can supply plenty of protein in the form of rabbits, horse meat, wild game, fish or skim milk, it is advisable that he, by all means, purchase and feed meat meal or fish meal regularly to his flock.

Beef scraps, fish meal, or other poultry nutrients which are rich in protein are essential to produce a regular and dependable supply of eggs. However, in some sections of the country these materials are rarely available on account of the high transportation costs and the distance from production centers. Poultry raisers in these localities have to utilize substitutes. In many districts of the Southwest jack-rabbits are used as a valuable poultry feed. Rabbits of this type are not desirable as a human food during certain seasons of the year and, to many persons, they are always objectionable. As a consequence, their use as a food for hens is economic and efficient, as otherwise the meat is usually wasted.

It is desirable to remove the skin from the jackrabbit and suspend the body by means of a cord or wire in the poultry house. Of course, feeding in this manner is advisable only during the period of cold weather when the meat will keep well, or during the summer season when there are enough fowls in the house to consume the rabbit in a short time before the meat begins to decompose.

Good Use for Waste Rabbits.

Jackrabbits are so objectionable in some of the Southwestern farming country that huge drives are organized for the extermination of the pests. Hundreds of ranchers, farmers and hunters will form a compact line and traverse a rabbit-infested territory, killing or driving away all the rabbits which come in their path. If the rabbit drive occurs during cold weather a considerable number of the rabbits may be frozen and kept in this condition for the use of the flock throughout the winter season. The carcasses can then be thawed out and suspended in the poultry house as suggested above. Without cleaning, or if desired, the meat can be cooked and fed in this form to the hens and pullets. This is a valuable use of rabbit meat, as ordinarily the hundreds of thousands of carcasses are wasted and allowed to decay on the plains and cultivated fields where the animals were killed.

Horse meat, also, makes a good chicken feed. In some sections where the sanitary laws do not prohibit the feeding of horse meat to fowls, extensive poultry raisers buy old, worn-out drobbins and slaughter them and feed their meat to the poultry. This is done on a large scale in parts of California. Operators report increased egg yields by the hens as a consequence of the liberal use of meat in the ration. Several Arizona poultry farmers formerly made a practice of feeding wild burro meat to their hens with as attractive and interesting results as come from the feeding of horse meat. These ranchers used to pay the Indians bounties for slaughtering up the wild burros in the mountainous country and killing and transporting the carcasses to the poultry plants.

Fish Make Good Feed.

Practically any kind of wild game or varieties of fish which are not valuable for human food purposes are highly satisfactory to the poultry diet. Where fish are abundant it is ordinarily the custom for the fishermen to throw back into the water or else throw away any fish which are not highly desirable for eating. The use of these fish as feed for hens would be quite ideal and, apparently, there is splendid opportunity for some poultrymen to locate commercial plants near popular public fishing grounds. Some of the Long Island duck farmers, who turn off as many as 100,000 ducklings a year, make an annual practice of supplying fishermen especially to catch fish to feed to the ducks. The fish usually are boiled and supplied to the ducks in a cooked condition, being lightly salted and a particularly fattening food.

Rations for Layers.

In order to obtain an abundance of eggs it is necessary to have healthy, vigorous stock, properly fed. The following are good grain mixtures for laying stock, the proportions being by weight:

Ration 1.	Ration 2.
Equal parts of:	2 parts cracked corn.
Cracked corn.	2 parts oats.
Wheat.	1 part wheat.
Oats.

Ration 3.
2 parts cracked corn
1 part oats.

A choice of any one of these rations should be scattered in the litter twice daily, morning and evening.

Either of the following suggested dry-mash mixtures should be fed in a dry-mash hopper, allowing the fowls to have access to it at all times.

Mash No. 1.	1 part beef scrap.
2 parts cornmeal.	Mash No. 2.
1 part bran.	3 parts cornmeal.
1 part middlings.	1 part beef scrap.

When fowls do not have access to natural green feed, sprouted oats, cabbage, mangels, cut clover, etc., should be fed.

When wet mashes are fed, be sure that they are crumbly and not sticky. Plenty of exercise increases the egg yield.

Fresh, clean drinking water should be always provided. Charcoal, grit and oyster shell should be placed before the fowls so that they can have access to them at all times.

MANY PUBLIC MARKETS FAIL

Improper Location Is One of Great Causes for Failure—Central Site Is Best.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Many public outdoor markets have failed through being improperly situated. A retail market should be centrally located in or as near as possible to the main shopping section where street car facilities are good. On such a site the public market would be available to the greatest possible number of people.

EGGS IN SEPARATE PACKAGES

White and Brown Should Not Be Placed in Same Case—Keep All Defects for Home Use.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages. Eggs irregular in shape, those which are unusually long or thin-shelled, or which have shells otherwise defective should be kept by the producer for home use, so that breakage in transit may be reduced as much as possible.

PRODUCING PERIODS OF HENS

Much Depends on Breed, Plymouth Rocks Being Profitably Kept for Two Years.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The hen's greatest egg-producing periods are the first, second and third years, depending upon the breed. The heavier breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks, may be profitably kept for two years; the lighter breeds, such as Leghorns, three years.

POULTRY NOTES

Never frighten the pullets or handle them roughly.

All poorly developed chickens should be culled out and sold for meat.

The habit of pulling and eating feathers is common amongst fowls confined.

Sour milk is often a by-product of farming that can be used profitably by the hens.

Sour milk or meat scrap is needed in the ration of the pullets which are starting to lay.

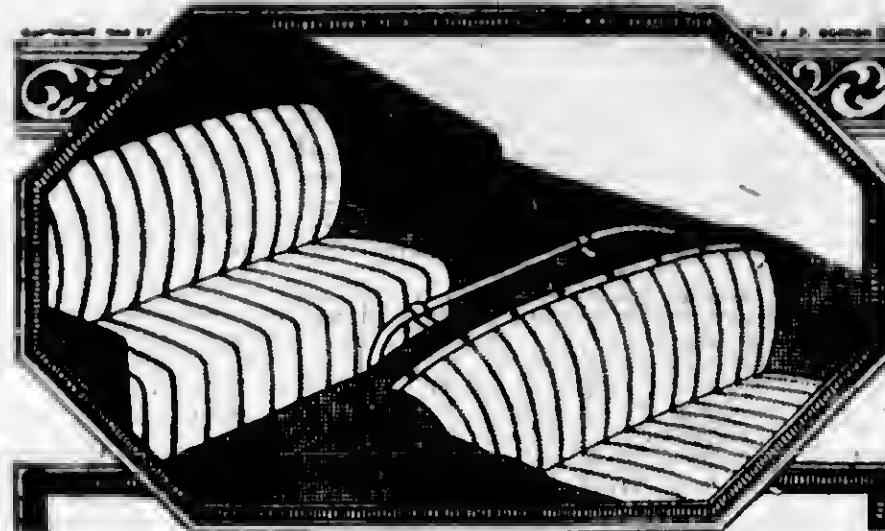

Damp quarters—rheumatic hogs; rheumatic hogs—unhealthy animals and unprofitable production.

OLD MAN WISE SAYS:

You can't get to the top by running around in a circle.

If you wait for a busy world to discover you, you are going to do a lot of waiting.

Any time you make your job too little for you, you have made a bigger job for yourself.

It is a bigger thing to take the "call down" coming to you than it is to quit. Anybody can quit.

If you were always right you would be holding down a heavenly throne instead of your present job.

Any time you get ready to change your job be wise enough to decide where you are going to land.

Just one person is going to land you at the top or the bottom. Teach under your vest and feel his heart.

Some persons start to make good, work a week, and then wait to know why the reward for faithful effort is so long delayed.

You can't be on the square with yourself while your suspicious refuse to let you see that others are being on the square with you.

The Great Lunkhead Mystery

Follow the Travels of the Famous Medal Designed to be Worn by the Person Proving the Right to be Known to the World as the Biggest Lunkhead.

EPISODE XI

When the Man WHO WAITS FOR OTHERS TO HELP HIM FOUND that some one had helped him to get the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal he waited for some one else to come and take it away, but he was left wearing it, and then he started in to find out WHY.

He found that ONLY THE WEAK MAN depends upon others, and he saw that all men who SUCCEED do so by their OWN EFFORTS. He saw that he was HURTING HIMSELF by always waiting for someone to pull him along because by doing this he branded himself AS A SHIRKER. He knew that if he used GRIT and DE-TERMINATION—if he made up his mind to succeed through his own work—he did not have to depend upon others.

He saw that he could get WHAT HE WANTED and WHERE HE WANTED in life without the help of others—IF HE WORKED. And he started to work with the DETERMI-NATION TO WIN and took off the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal without any help and pinned it on the MAN WHO NEVER LOOKED UP
THE FACTS ABOUT HIS WORK.
(Copyright Workers' Success League.)

(Follow the travels of the Lunk-head Medal. Next you will be told what happened to the Man Who Never Looked up the Facts About His Work.)

The Great Lunkhead Mystery

Follow the Travels of the Famous
Medal Designed to be Worn by the Person Proving the Right to be Known to the World as the Biggest Lunkhead.

EPISODE XII

When the Man WHO NEVER LOOKED UP THE FACTS ABOUT
HIS WORK saw the BIGGEST LUNK-HEAD Medal being attached to his breast he found himself, for the first time, unable to JUMP AT CONCLU-SIONS. He had to find out WHY he had been given the Medal.

So this time he LOOKED UP THE FACTS and he discovered that he had been HURTING HIMSELF by never facing out the REAL TRUTHS about his work. He saw that he had been believing the nice sounding things about how he could live without work because his dream might be spoiled
if he LOOKED UP THE FACTS. He saw that failure to GET THE FACTS ABOUT WORK was the thing that would always HURT HIM because without the facts he could not use GOOD JUDGMENT and without GOOD JUDGMENT he could do much harm to HIMSELF and to his Fellow Workers and to his Employer. Looking up the facts he found that ONE MUST WORK TO MAKE DREAMS COME TRUE.

So he looked around to see where he could pin the BIGGEST LUNK-HEAD Medal and then the Stranger appeared and told him that the people had become wise and that the BIGGEST LUNKHEAD Medal must be taken to some other country to and the man entitled to wear it.

OLD PEOPLE NEARLY DROWN

BOAT CAPSIZES WHILE OUT INTO LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Rescued From Precarious Position By Two Young Yettaw Boys

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Jones of Denison, Texas, and who were stopping for a few days last week at the New Orient Hotel here, had a narrow escape from drowning on Wednesday while fishing in Campbell's Lake near town.

The boat was anchored in deep water and Mr. Jones, in lifting the anchor, over balanced the boat with the result that both he and Mrs. Jones were thrown into the water. Both people are well advanced in age and although able to grasp the boat and hang on, were unable to climb in. Their cries for help were heard at the Yettaw farm home and the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Yettaw procured a boat and rowed to the scene of the accident and while one of the boys held to the two old people the other lad paddled the boat to shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were brought to the hotel at once and furnished with dry clothing and luckily felt no ill effects of their involuntary bath.

Had it not been for the prompt assistance of the boys, the oldest of whom is but fourteen years, there is no doubt but what one at least of the old people would have been drowned, as the oars of the boat were set adrift where the boat tipped and the water was about twenty feet deep at the place where the accident occurred.

Dales, the eldest of the two lads is the boy who about two weeks ago dove to the bottom of the same lake to loosen a fish line and thus capture a large fish and the recent incident proves that people and fish are all the same to these boys and is all in the days' work.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should use now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

BARBECUE A BIG SUCCESS

HUGE CROWD ENJOYS SPEAKERS AND SPORTS

Ellsworth Wins Over Bellaire in Game of Ball—Day Ends With a Dance

August 5th, was a day apparently made-to-order for the Ellsworth Barbecue, and the largest crowd in the history of the town was on hand to help make the day a huge success.

The ox was roasted in splendid shape and the program of sports were run off without a hitch. In fact, the entire program with one or two minor exceptions, was put on in exact conformity with the printed lists distributed through the crowd at the opening at ten o'clock in the morning.

Thomas D. Meggison candidate for representative from this district, and Tom Reed of Shelby, speaker of the house of Representatives, and candidates for lieutenant governor were the speakers of the day, the Hon. J. Rush Thompson of Cincinnati, Ohio, being unable to appear on account of domestic developments.

The East Jordan band was on hand early in the forenoon and furnished splendid music during the entire day. The base ball game was between Bellaire and Ellsworth and was a hustler from start to finish, just the kind of a see-saw contest with first one team and then the other in the lead to keep the interest of the spectators up to high pitch, Ellsworth was the winner by a count of 11 to 9.

The day was finished with a dance at the Blue Hall which was well attended and every one went home at the close of the day tired and happy.

On Friday August 6th, the committees met for settlement and the first Thursday in August was set for a barbecue next year and the same general committee consisting of M. R. Nelson, president; A. L. Ely, secretary; and J. H. Elzinga, treasurer, were re-elected.

J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be in Ellsworth, Tuesday, August 17—Adv. 32tl.

Sheriff George W. Weaver warns everyone against buying automobiles offered cheaply by strangers, without first investigating thoroughly to find out if the alleged owner has a right to dispose of the car he offers for sale.

Sheriff Weaver says he is continually being told by officers in other cities that cars have been offered for sale at prices that have excited the suspicion of the persons to whom the bargains is offered and that in many cases it has been stated that these auto hawkers have become alarmed and have headed northward.

Theft of cars are becoming frequent despite the added precautions taken by police departments and insurance companies. Every day a list is sent to Sheriff Weaver by the Detroit police and Detroit Auto club, and by other cities.

"Good news travels fast," and the many bad back sufferers in Charlevoix are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. Dan Bacot, 105 Lincoln St., Charlevoix, says: "My back was very stiff and sore just over my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of my trouble in a satisfactory manner. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

following warning, which is offered by sheriff Weaver as good advice to everyone:

"Do not purchase a car from an unknown person. If you do desire to buy a car from a person unknown to you, ask for his registration card issued by the secretary of state. Examine the motor and factory numbers on the car and ascertain whether or not they have been tampered with. Call up the sheriff or chief of police and ask them to look over the car and to report whether or not there is evidence of its having been stolen.

"These are merely safety measures to protect you from purchasing a stolen car. If you buy a stolen car and the officers find it in your possession it will be taken from you and your money will be lost."

NINETY-THREE YEARS

George Winkler Well on Way to Century Mark

Almost reaching the century mark, George Winkler, father of George Winkler, Jr., of Eveline township, died Wednesday, August 4, at the Canadian Soo, at the home of his son, William Winkler.

Mr. Winkler was a native of Alsace, France, migrating to Canada, before the Franco-Prussian war. Most of his life was spent in western Ontario. Mr. Winkler comes of a family of centenarians, one brother who lives in the west, having reached the century mark. He is survived by five sons.

The funeral took place Saturday and was attended by his son from this place, who returned Monday.

DROPS DEAD WHILE DRIVING CAR

East Jordan Man Passes Out in Peculiar Manner

Charles Alexander, proprietor of a soft-drink emporium at East Jordan, dropped dead while driving his car, near Deer Lake, Thursday morning of last week.

Mr. Alexander, his wife, brother-in-law and some neighbors were on a berry expedition, when Mrs. Alexander's brother, who was in the front seat with the driver, noticed that the car was slowing, a look at Mr. Alexander convinced him that something was physically wrong and he immediately stopped the car and then it was discovered that the driver was dead.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

LAID AT REST IN HAMPTON FAMILY LOT

Friends Pay Last Respects to De- parted One—Death a Great Shock to Community

The Courier was just going to press last week when the body of Mrs. Will E. Hampton was found in Round Lake, and we had but a brief mention of the tragic occurrence. From Mr. Hampton we ascertain these facts:

Mrs. Hampton was always of nervous temperament, and when her son Victor went into the war, she became greatly depressed, and later when she knew he was with the Marines on the fighting lines, her nerves broke under the strain, and she suffered a break-down at that time which shattered her health. From that strain she never recovered. Last spring she had a recurrence of the nervous trouble, and gradually grew worse. Six weeks ago her sister and sons were summoned, as it was thought the end was at hand. She apparently improved, however, and it was hoped that the worst was passed.

Wednesday night she slept until midnight, when she woke Mr. Hampton and they both sat up and visited for over an hour, when she again went to sleep. It had been her habit to arise early and go to the room of her mother, Mrs. J. F. Reed, who had been with her all summer. When Mr. Hampton awakened about eight o'clock Thursday morning, and found she was not in bed, he thought she was with her mother as usual, and it was not until her mother came to call them to breakfast that her absence was discovered.

It is thought she left the rooms about four a. m. and in a state of mental depression such as she had been subject to, went to the lake and threw herself in.

The funeral services were held at the Congregational church Saturday morning. Rev. Harold VanKirk officiating. The Pythians acted as an escort, and the church was crowded with those who had known and appreciated Mrs. Hampton's splendid womanhood. The floral tributes were beautiful in the extreme, many coming from friends in every part of the state.

Jennie E. Lathrop was born in Decatur, Mich., June 16, 1865. Her father, George Lathrop, was one of the pioneer settlers of Northern Michigan, settling at Harbor Springs in the early seventies. She was married to Will E. Hampton April 8, 1885, and three sons, Harold, Hugo and Will, Jr., have blessed the union, and remain to bless the memory of a devoted mother and wife. Her only brother, Chas. Lathrop, lives at Levering, and her only sister, Mrs. Allen Wright, who now lives at Fargo, N. D., was with her daughter for several weeks helping to care for her until the danger was thought to be over.

The remains were taken to Petoskey for interment in the Hampton lot in the beautiful cemetery overlooking the bay, and beyond to Harbor Springs where she spent her happy girlhood days. Her tragic death was a great shock to the entire community, as well as to her husband and relatives, and the deepest sympathy goes out to them all in the loss of a wife and mother who had devoted her life to their best welfare.

REMOVED TO HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Louis A. Orlowski Well on Road to Recover

Friends of Louis A. Orlowski will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered from the injuries received June 4, when the car in which he and his family and Mrs. F. E. Cartier and little daughter were struck by a Pere Marquette passenger train at Ellsworth, that he was removed from the hospital to his home on Sunday last.

Since the accident Mr. Orlowski has been confined to the hospital, and at times his condition was quite serious. His leg was so badly crushed that the physicians in charge were compelled to operate at several different times, but with success, and it is now healing nicely.

AUTOMOBILE AND MAN COLLIDE

George Montel of Grand Rapids Bad- ly Shaken Up

Automobile accidents are becoming more frequent of late than usual, and if more precaution is not taken by both car driver and pedestrians, detakens will experience an increase in business.

George Montel of Grand Rapids, will long remember his visit to Charlevoix. Monday he was on his way to call on his niece, Mrs. Walter Ball, and when opposite Ashton's barber shop on Bridge street, left his car at the curb and started across the street to make some inquiries as to the location of Mrs. Ball's home.

He stopped to avoid one car and stepped directly in the path of a car driven by D. N. Gregory of Boyne City. The impact of the collision threw upon the hood of the car, and from there he rolled to the pavement. His injuries consist of a badly sprained back and numerous severe bruises.

He was taken to the Charlevoix hospital, where his injuries were attended to, and from there to the home of E. E. Cross, with whom he was visiting. It will be several days before he can enjoy the beautiful northern scenery or travel to any extent.

REGATTA AND BOAT RACING

CHARLEVOIX YACHT CLUB PLANS BIG EVENT

Power and Sail Boats to Contest for Valuable Trophies—Course Laid on Pine Lake

If the weather man can be persuaded to continue the present ideal weather into the coming week, he will make a hit with the committees in charge of the coming regatta, August 24, 25 and 26, also the hundreds of men and women, owners of power boats and sail boats, interested in the contests to be run on those days.

Indications at the present writing are the list of entries will be larger than anticipated, and more than usual interest is being manifested in boat circles. Plans for the event are about completed, only a few minor details remaining to be taken care of.

Contesting boats will be divided into five classes: Class A, runabout motor boats and sloops; Class A mackinaws and schooners; Class A cruisers, and Class B motor boats. Contests for Class A mackinaws and schooners and Class B motors will be run in the forenoon of each day. Class A runabout motor boats and sloops and Class A cruisers in the afternoon.

The course will be laid out on Pine lake as follows: Class A, motor boats, five miles. Class A, sail boats, seven miles. Class B, motor boats, one mile.

Judges and starters will be men who are owners of boats and interested in this line of sport. Prizes for the winners in each class will consist of valuable trophies. Information can be obtained from Hamilton & Son at any time.

HOSPITAL NEEDS AN AMBULANCE

Drive Under Way to Raise the Nec- essary Funds

Charlevoix needed a hospital. It has one. Now it needs an ambulance. We must have one. The many accidents this summer has shown us that we need an ambulance. Residents of Charlevoix and the neighboring community are asked to contribute freely to the Ambulance Fund. Hundreds of dollars have already been subscribed but much more is needed.

To increase the fund a huge celebration is being staged at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel this Saturday August 21. J. C. Stein has been put in charge of the program for the evening and has been planning a very novel program. There will be a cotillion with numerous favors to everyone; a merit dancing contest awarding a large silver cup to the best dancers; numerous booths in the various parts of the hotel. Mrs. J. S. Baker has turned over the entire hotel for the occasion and it is expected that every one will be there.

FINAL PAPERS HAVE BEEN SIGNED

SYNDICATE OF BANKERS BUY BOYNE BANK

A. D. Crimmins Among Those Finan- cially Interested—G. C. Town- send of Ellsworth is Cashier

The final papers were signed and a deal transacted Tuesday afternoon whereby the entire interests of the People's Bank of Boyne City, owned by Ealey, McNair, Hooper & Company was sold to a syndicate of bankers consisting of C. W. McPhail, president of the State Bank of Scottville, First State Bank of Central Lake, and the Kalkaska bank, A. D. Crimmins, cashier of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, A. J. Maynard, vice president and cashier of the Traverse City State Bank, G. W. Kilbourne, director of the Traverse City State Bank, L. O. Bloomer, vice president of the Kalkaska State Bank, W. R. Richardson, cashier of the First State Bank of Central Lake, and G. C. Townsend, cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth.

The new owners have assumed possession and the bank opened Wednesday morning with Mr. Townsend, who has been cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth for the past eight years in charge. Mr. Townsend is well known, not only in Ellsworth, but Charlevoix as well, and under his management there is no doubt but that the interest of the people of Boyne City will be well taken care of. He is a young man of exceptional ability and the selection of him for this responsible position is but a deserved promotion in banking circles.

The combination of bankers under whose direction the bank will be managed are representative men located in the best of northern Michigan cities and Boyne City's financial interests should consider themselves fortunate in having the opportunity of including them among their citizenry.

Application has been made to the state banking department for a charter, and it is expected that the present institution will be converted into a state bank not later than September 15.

LOCAL HOSPITAL TO BE ENLARGED

Present Quarters Inadequate—As- sociation Officials Elected

With every room in the Charlevoix hospital filled, and demands being made daily for admittance it is only a question of a few months before capacity of the local institution will be considerably increased by the addition of new rooms and equipment.

This move has been under consideration for some time and at a meeting held at the home of H. L. Oldham on Park avenue, it was decided to proceed with the preliminary work at once and complete the necessary addition as soon as possible.

At the meeting which was the regular bi-annual meeting of the hospital corporation, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: H. L. Oldham, president; A. D. Crimmins, vice-president; Lisle Shanshan, secretary; I. A. Adams, treasurer. A re-organization of the trustees followed, which resulted in the naming of the following men: R. F. Sloan, R. C. Hammet, A. A. Swinton, W. H. Miller, F. M. Glasgow.

HIGH PRICED CAR DAMAGED

Heavy Cunningham Ran Into By a Studebaker

Between ten thirty and eleven o'clock Sunday evening an auto accident happened on Bridge street that resulted in no injuries to anyone but the cars themselves.

A heavy Cunningham car was going north on Bridge street, and when opposite Henry Wood's auto livery, was run into by a Studebaker car owned by Wood. The Studebaker was being driven by Ed Ager, but just how the accident happened and what the drivers were thinking of, is hard to conjecture.

The result was, however, that the Studebaker hit the Cunningham broadside, in making the turn to enter the barn, and the amount of damage done will take the joy out of auto riding for the owner of at least one of the cars in the mix-up.

Circulation counts—we have it.

Candidate for Governor Makes Friends in City

Hon. C. L. Glasgow of Nashville, candidate for governor of Michigan in the August primaries, was in the city Tuesday renewing old acquaintances and making friends who will aid in his candidacy.

Mr. Glasgow has had political, executive and business experience in sufficient quantities to qualify him for the leadership of state affairs. He stands for good business, whether applied to merchandising, farming, banking or any other line of human endeavor. He would give Michigan a clean, fair, and most economical administration, and he the means of taking control of the state out of the hands of the small calibre politicians.

$1,700 RAISED AT BELVEDERE

WHILE ANNUAL MEETING WAS IN SESSION

Association Collected $4,060 From Its Membership For Charlevoix Hospital During 1919

The Charlevoix Summer Home Association (the Belvedere resort) has as one of its standing committees one known as the "Charlevoix Hospital Committee." The members of this committee are Mrs. W. H.
Miller, Charlevoix; Mrs. George L.
Warner, Chicago; Miss Marie L.
Heaton, Detroit.

At the annual meeting of this association, held in the Belvedere cassino on the 12th inst., this committee reported that during 1919 the sum of $1,700.00 had been collected from the membership and had been paid into the hospital treasury. In addition thereto some materials for bed-linen and gowns had been contributed and the making and sewing done by the ladies of the resort.

While this annual meeting was in session this committee quietly passed subscription papers for pledges for 1920, with the gratifying result that nearly $1,700.00 was subscribed by those present. The committee intends to make a complete canvass of the resort, their purpose being to secure not less than $2,000.00 in cash toward maintenance expenses of the hospital for the year 1920.

This is certainly generous support from our summer visitors, and their lively interest and sympathy with our worthy hospital project will, no doubt, be an inspiration to others.

CROWDS AUTOMOBILE INTO THE DITCH

Road Hog Cause of Accident on Pe- toskey Road

A big touring car with strong lights and the driver having the idea that he owned the entire road, was the cause of an accident on the Petoskey road Sunday night between eleven and twelve o'clock.

Ed McSaba, wife, three children, mother and another woman were on their way home from the Indian camp meeting at Greenski Hill. They met the car just east of the railroad track, near the Martin farm. They gave three-fourths of the road, but the touring car struck the right front wheel, bending the steering gear, causing the car to swerve across the road and land in the ditch. Before the car overturned, two of children jumped from the car, but those remaining were pinned underneath when it overturned.

Mrs. McSaba, the grandmother, was slightly bruised, but the other woman received a broken shoulder blade. Both were taken to the hospital and later removed to their homes. The driver of the big car stopped, helped the occupants of the over-turned car from their predic-ment and then proceeded on his way.

A lecture on Christian Science will be given on Sunday afternoon, August 22, at Van Pelt hall. Admission free.—Adv. 33tf.

WELFARE OF NEEDY CHILDREN

MEMBERS SELECTED FOR CHARLEVOIX-COUNTY BOARD

Organization Backed By the State and Two Societies for Child Welfare Endeavor

Supported by the Michigan Hospital School for Crippled Children of Farmington, Oakland County, and the Michigan Children's Home Society of St. Joseph, and backed by the State Child Welfare Commission, Charlevoix County has prepared itself for organized effort to care for all crippled and dependent children within its jurisdiction. The Charlevoix Child Welfare Board has been named and its members are prepared to carry out a definite program of child reclamation, according to Mrs. E. S. Leonard of Detroit, who has just completed the local organization work. Mrs. Leonard is the only woman serving as Child Welfare Commissioner in Michigan. She was appointed by Governor A. E. Sleeper to serve on the Michigan Child Welfare Commission, together with H.
E. Gray of Benton Harbor and Fred
S. Butzel of Detroit.

Members of the Charlevoix County Board are as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. A. F. Bridge;
Vice-chairman, Mrs. Herschel Miller; secretary, Mrs. H. P. Hanson.
Other members are: Mrs. F. W.
Mayne, Mrs. H. S. Harsha, Mrs.
John A. Auld, Mrs. J. L. Crane,
East Jordan, Mrs. Wm. Palmeter, Mrs. W. P. Porter, Mrs. W. P. Boswell, Boyne City, Mrs. J. M. Harris, Mrs. W. L. Martin, Mrs. S. L.
McNeal, Mrs. Ed Loreh, Boyne Falls, Mrs. W. J. Pearson, Mrs. J. J.
O'Connor, Miss Orthella Porter.

Judge Correll, Judge Mayne and Mr. Cooper Co. Agent strongly favor the local movement tending toward a higher standard of physical and mental efficiency among Michigan children.

Mrs. Leonard, who is well known to local club women through her work along child welfare lines in connection with activities of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, emphasizes the fact that parents'
co-operation with the Child Welfare Boards is of vital importance, if the work is to be carried on efficient.
"The age of experiment along these lines is a thing of the past," said Mrs. Leonard today, "curing crippled children, together with curing for those who are being reared in disadvantageous circumstances, is a positive success. We intend to leave no hamlet in Michigan unvisited by this campaign. All we ask is that parents lend their aid in helping us to help their children. Not only poor children are included but also any children needing any help what soever."

FARMERS TOUR THROUGH THIS CITY

Go From Here to Harbor Springs and Mackinaw City

Southern Michigan farmers and business men from Battle Creek and Grand Rapids, many automobile loads of them, passed through Thursday enroute to Harbor Springs where they took part in a two-day celebration prepared for them.

While in the city they visited the Loeb Farms and other points of attraction. The party spent Wednesday and part of Thursday in Traverse City where they report an enjoyable time. At Harbor Springs the party pitched their tents on the high school grounds, proceeding on to Mackinac Island the following day.

The Michigan Farmers' tour is affiliated with the Battle Creek Community club, an organization the useful existence of which has promoted the heartiest co-operation between merchants and the farmers of that community. This club has banquets weekly at the Post Tavern, discusses topics of mutual interest and progressiveness, and few farmers of the region have failed to accept the opportunity to "get in touch." The group which passed through this city Thursday is an outgrowth of this excellent Food city movement.

Net Receipts Over $475

The Palace Theatre was packed to the doors Monday night at the benefit for the Smith College Fund and the Charlevoix Hospital. The amount raised, $475, will be equally divided between the hospital and the college fund. Considerable credit is due the young ladies who had the event in charge.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

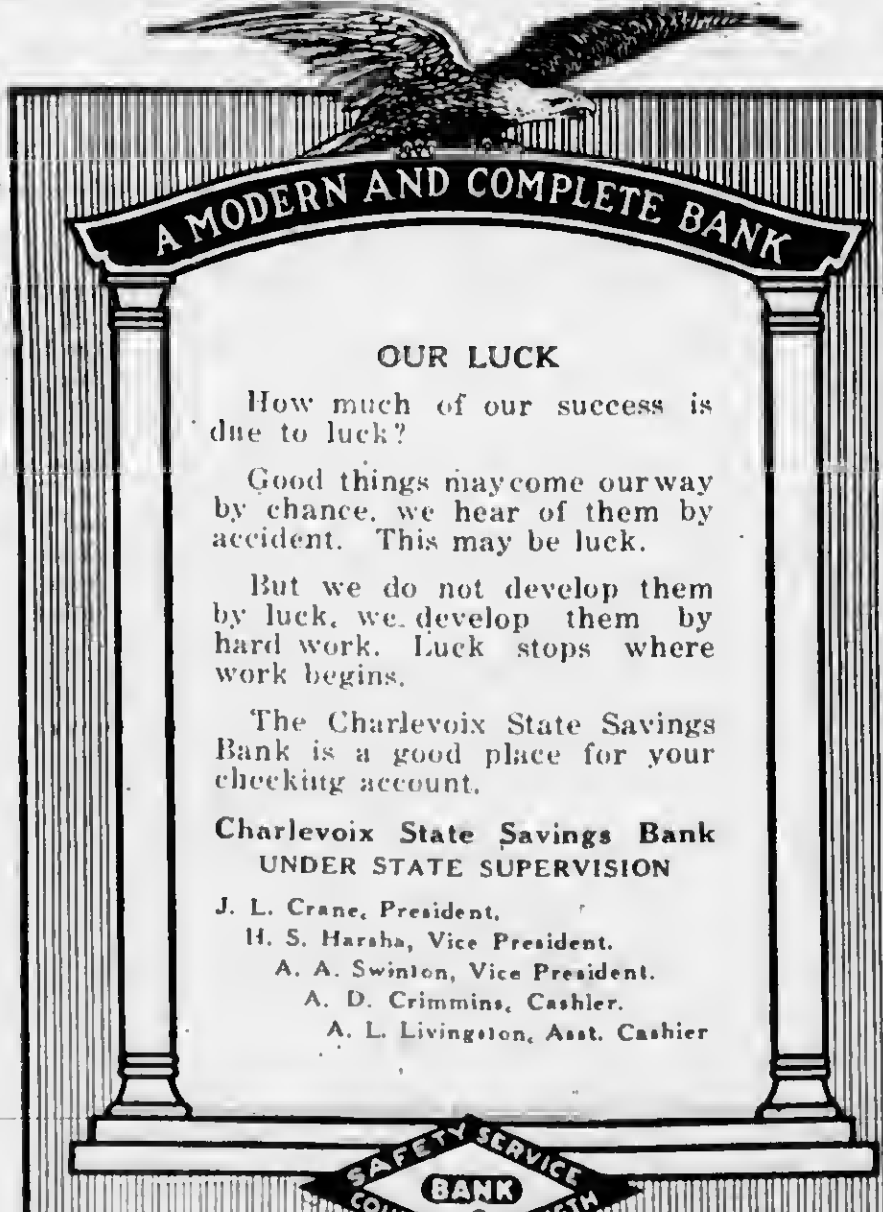

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, held stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.

Save Money—Put Goodyear Tires on Your Small Car

Avoid disappointment with tires made to be sold at sensationally cheap prices by using Goodyear Tires built to deliver maximum mileage at minimum cost.

The high relative value built into Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3½-, and 31 x 4-inch sizes, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell or Dort, take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy true Goodyear mileage and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at our nearest Service Station.

Catarthal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarthal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the System. Catarthal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tencup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Liniment

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 30 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

The Interstate Commerce Decision

The Interstate Commerce Commission's rate decision is one of the most important events that has occurred since the war, inasmuch as it seeks to place the railroads of the country on a strict business basis that will enable them to operate and maintain their properties, pay their workmen the wages that have been fixed by government and other official tribunals, and return to their owners a net operating income of six per cent on a valuation of $18,900,000,000.

Naturally, the biggest question in our industrial and economic life, has been the settlement of the transportation tangle. After months of constant study, the Commission has made a disposition of matters that covers all questions of financing the carriers. The railroad deficit of approximately $75,000,000 a month, which has been met by taxation of the public, is wiped out, and the increased charges to shippers places the burden where it belongs. In other words the taxpayers' load is lightened and the shippers find that their rate has been raised the amount necessary to meet all financial requirements of the roads. Thus, for the first time since the railroads of the country have been under public control, they are in a position to sustain themselves, and at the same time the rates that have been fixed have been made by a decision of the Commission, after hearing shippers representing every large industry in the country, all of whom have agreed that the time it at hand when the intent of the transportation act to make the railroads stand on their own resources, must be put into effect, since it represents the only common sense course.

The Interstate Commerce Commission decision is supported by the State Railroad Commissions to the extent that chosen representatives of the latter sat with the Federal body in the hearings and oral arguments and joined in the conference antecedent to the determination of the matters in issue. On the face of all the returns the public has seen thoroughly represented by its tribunals. In their decision they have interpreted the instructions of congress to put the railroads on a firm foundation, which would at the same time be fair in every respect to shippers and tax payers. While no one likes higher railroad rates any more than they want higher prices for wearing apparel and food, still there is genuine satisfaction expressed in all official circles in Washington over the fact that the railroad question has apparently been solved, so far as financing and the relations with the public and the shippers are concerned.

Put the Shoe on the Other Foot

Immediately following the Interstate Commerce Commission's order fixing permanent freight and passenger rates, the cry went up that the cost of living would be increased. As a matter of fact the railroads are receiving no more money under the decision than they received before, the difference being that the treasury of the United States has been paying out the people's money to keep the carriers going, as was provided in the legislation returning the roads to private ownership. So that every dollar added to the cost of living is a dollar less to be paid in taxes—and the Lord knows that there is nothing that needs pruning down more than the taxes. In this instance the government guaranty was no better than a subsidy to the roads, and was given in lieu of their proper support to their patrons. The condition would be much the same if the government paid deficits for the steel mills, coal mines, or any other public-serving industry. Thus, by the recent decision, the government will be relieved of this guaranty after September 1, and the amounts necessary to pay a return on the capital invested in railroads will be paid by those who receive railroad service rather than by the tax payers.

$500,000,000 of the increased revenues will be required to pay increased wages, and about $900,000,000 is left toward net operating income, which with the $200,000,000 earned by the roads during the constructive year ending October 31, 1919, on which their estimates were based, would produce the $1,100,000,000 to which the commission finds the roads are entitled under the law.

That Town of Boston

A man named Ponzi lives in Boston. He surely never got that name wished on him anywhere near Boston harbor. Ponzi was long-headed enough to plant large sums of money in different European countries, and after he had established his banking connections abroad he began to deal in foreign exchange. American dollars are of full value. These he converted in depreciated foreign currency. Then by switching his credits from one country to another he finally worked out the problem so that the money he had dealt in abroad for himself and customers finally got back to the United States through a clever process of manipulating worth par. Ponzi agreed to pay fifty per cent profit to his investors for the use of their money for three months. The surprising part of the performance developed by an investigation was the apparent proof that Ponzi was making good. At the same time he cleared up several million dollars for himself in a few months.

About a dozen years ago the United States government wished to float a big bond issue. Everyone was invited to bid and a Boston man was the lowest bidder. The astonished bankers of the country found that the Bostonian had no other capital invested in the bond enterprise beyond the two cent stamp which he had used to mail his bid to Washington. Nevertheless the lowest bidder got the job, and almost before the government could notify him to that effect the big banking houses got behind the Boston "postage stamp bid." The result was that the far-sighted Bostonian made a lot of money.

But why shouldn't Boston lead? Didn't it have the first big American tea-party. Wasn't it the original Hnh of the Universe; and hasn't it the only State House that is decorated with a Lion and a Unicorn to signify the ancient heritage of England? Boston has its Bunker Hill, its old North church; and Lexington and Concord hard by. Why, even Henry Cabot Lodge and Calvin Coolidge live in "Boston's home State of Massachusetts." Tom Lawson also register from Boston.

Maybe Folks Have All Their Clothes Bought

Many of the textile mills of the country have been running on a short-week schedule; while some have closed down entirely for indefinite periods. The mills say that there is a lack of orders. The government's figures show that there was a drop in wool consumption of nearly 17,000,000 pounds from the average for the six months of 1920.

War Is Not Over for These

While a lot of people are forgetting all about the war there are still approximately 17,825 War Risk patients in the government hospitals. Continued on page five

EMMETT TO HAVE BIG FAIR SAYS SECRETARY

Calls on Farmers to Plan Bigger Agricultural Show Than Ever

F. L. Thomas, secretary of the Emmett County Fair, is out with a plea for a large number of agricultural exhibits for the fair which will be held September 7, 8, 9 and 10.

There will be horse races on all but the first day, and the purses amount to $900. Hiram Starmer, of Bay Shore, again is superintending this feature.

On Wednesday, September 8, there will be named trotting race or pace, best two in three for a $50 purse. A purse of $150 will be hung up for the 2:14 class trot or pace, best three in five.

On the following day there will be two $150 purses, one for the 2:40 class trot or pace, best three in five, and another for the 2:38 class trot or pace, best three in five.

Friday, September 10, will be the biggest day in the number of races and amount of purses. The winners in the 2:30 class, trot or pace, will pull down $150. The best in the free-for-all, best three in five, will draw $174, and there will be a $25 purse for a half-mile running race for Emmett and Charlevoix county horses only, best two in three.

Of course there will be a baby show—there always is—and Dr. John Reycraft will, as usual, give the youngster "the once over" and award valuable prizes to the finest under six months, between six months and a year and between one and two years. All sets of triplets, no matter how many, will each receive $100, and an Indian baby suit will be given the finest Indian baby under two years.

The list of awards is a long one and includes premiums for all classes of horses, cattle, oxen, swine, sheep, poultry, grains, vegetables, fruits, canned goods, dairy produce, fancy work, home-made articles of use, flowers, plants and works of art.

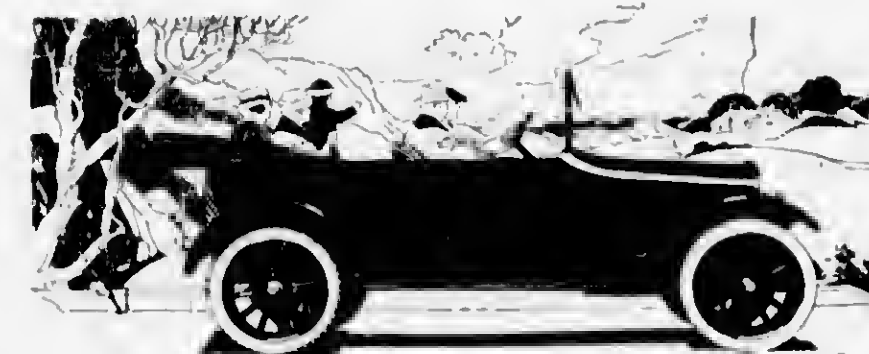

A lecture on Christian Science will be given on Sunday afternoon, August 22, at Van Pelt hall. Admission free.—Adv. 331f.

NO PARKING CARS WITHOUT LIGHTS

City and County Officials Making Many Complaints

Don't park your car on any of the streets or alleys without lights. If you do you are pinched. Such is the new ruling of the state auto law being enforced by the sheriff and city police.

The new order went into effect last week and to date some forty or fifty arrests have been made. The justice hands you a fine of $3.00, first offense. The second time he will deal more harshly with the offender.

Frequent auto accidents have brought about an effort to enforce the law. Speeders are handed a $19 for first offense. Look out for second trip to the office of the justice. If every auto driver will not only obey the law, but use horse sense, few accidents will happen.

An editor works 365 1/4 days per year to get out 52 issues of a paper; that's work. Once in a while somebody pays him a year's subscription; that's capital; and once in a while some "son of a gun" of a dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and then vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy; but later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts; that's hell.

Cheboygan finds that the cost of operating her city water works has mounted so rapidly that the operating cost almost exceeds the income, and the city council is endeavoring to improve the system by installing electrical power. Engineers will make a survey of the system and report on some plan of action.

Lloyd Davis, aged about thirty years, clerk of Coldsprings township, Kalkaska county, drowned in a small lake near his home last Friday morning. He had been out in the field with his father and left the field to go to the house. A short time after his father went to get his breakfast and found that he was not at home, and on going to the lake found his son near the shore in only a few feet of water dead. It is thought he went into the water to wash himself and was taken suddenly ill and fell into the water. His parents can give no reason other than this for him being there at that time of day.

Raymond Woodruff, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodruff, of Petoskey, was instantly killed at about 6 o'clock last Thursday evening by being struck by an automobile truck owned and driven by Albert Rasmussen. The lad in company with other boys was crossing State street at Howard street and started to run across the street.
They evidently passed behind one car and directly in front of the truck. The lad's neck was broken and he died instantly. The other lads dodged back and escaped being hit.

The lad was picked up immediately following which remarks were a physician hurried to the scene.
The parents of the lad were prostrate with grief over the death of their son. Mr. Rasmussen, driver of the car, was suffering from a nervous breakdown as a result of the accident.

The annual meeting of the Mancelona Marketing association was held at the warehouse at Mancelona, August 14, with about 200 members and families in attendance.

A picnic dinner was participated in the following which remarks were made by County Agent Wiley, of Grand Traverse county and others.
The financial report of the past year showed a profit of $1,700. The new directors elected were I. K. Lichty, W. H. Downey, Samuel Irwin and
F. E. Elder.

Representative Charles Evans, of Tipton, will lead a campaign for repeal of the Michigan primary law if voters of his district see fit to re-elect him to the legislature, he has announced.

Terming the present nominating system "a sham and a fraud on the people of the state," Mr. Evans declares he believes a majority of the members of the house are in favor of its repeal but he is not sure whether the people of the state are yet ready for this move.

Hon. Cassius L. Glasgow, of Negaville, former state senator and member of the state Railroad Commission, prominently known among business men throughout the state, will visit this city in the interests of his campaign for nomination for governor.
Though Glasgow entered the race later than the other candidates, his campaign is gaining state-wide strength so rapidly his supporters are confident he will be nominated.
Glasgow was born and raised on a farm in Hillsdale county, and received an excellent education. For 25 years he has successfully engaged in business in an agricultural community, which fact, combined with his knowledge of state affairs, gained while serving four years as senator and twelve as railroad commissioner, make him unusually well-qualified for governor.—3321.

TOWNSEND GOES TO BOYNE CITY

ONE OF THE STOCKHOLDERS IN NEW ORGANIZATION

Will Act as Cashier in People's State Bank of That City—Will Be Greatly Missed

A deal was closed last week which will be of interest to Ellsworth and surrounding territory to a great extent, because it cuts into the business life of Ellsworth and calls away to other fields Glen. C. Townsend, who as the cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth, has been closely connected with the business and social life of the town for the past six or seven years.

Mr. Townsend will take charge beginning this week, of the new Peoples' State Bank of Boyne City, formerly the People's Bank of Boyne City and up to until last week a private bank. Mr. Townsend left the first of the week for his new home and Mrs. Townsend will be in charge here for the balance of the week. Stuart Barr will be the new cashier of the Ellsworth bank. Mr. Baar is an Ellsworth boy who has had banking experience both here and at Central Lake, and we are sure that the past record of the bank as to courtesy and attention to business will be kept up in the future. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, while deeply regretting their departure, will unite in wishing them success in their new home.

A reception was given for Mr. and Mrs. Townsend on Thursday evening of last week at the D. Patterson home and on Friday evening a gathering of Ellsworth people called on them at the hotel and presented them with several beautiful pieces of our glass.

Insure and Be sure with Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth.—Adv. 3115.

Foolish Court Sentence.

One of the most frankly foolish and impossible sentences on record was that imposed upon a child murderer in Germany, who was tried at Griefswald in 1906. He was sentenced to be hanged twice, then to receive two years' imprisonment, and finally to suffer the loss of all his political rights.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The government has decided to convert two of the national homes for volunteer soldiers in to sanitariums for the exclusive treatment of tuberculosis and another one of the homes into a sanitarium for the exclusive treatment of mental cases. These institutions are made necessary because of the condition of ex-soldiers, most of whom have suffered from shell shock and poisonous gases. These patients who have become disabled by reason of their military or naval service are provided for under the War Risk act.

Gas and Housing

That there is a close and very direct connection between the tremendous building program now opening up all over the United States and the emergency conditions at present confronting the gas industry of the country, is the declaration made by Mr. Philip H. Gadsden, chairman of the Emergency committee of the American Gas Association. Speaking on this point, Mr. Gadsden said:

"The building program of the country has been postponed for four years owing to the war. Housing as well as construction of all kinds means a new demand for gas service. For gas companies to extend their service means that they must have new capital. To obtain the capital, the gas manufacturer must demonstrate to the investor that he can continue to operate and maintain satisfactory service. To keep up such a service, he must be able to establish a rate that will permit extensions and enable him to meet the present tremendous increases in the prices for coal, coke and oil, and still live." Mr. Gadsden appeals to the public to meet this great emergency which threatens the gas industry, representing a commodity so vital for the domestic uses of approximately 45,000,000 people.

Don't Take Chances

Insure your farm buildings and stock with an old reliable company. We pay in full. Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth. Adv. 3115.

Early Hospitals.

Hospitals were founded in very early times in India, Persia and Arabia. They were for the most part supported by the Elites. The Greeks maintained shelter homes for the sick, but the best institutions of this kind in ancient times were those of the Romans, which were actually endowed.

Food Value of Oatmeal.

The value of oatmeal as a human food is established by Drs. H. C. Sherman, J. C. Winters and V. Phillips in the Journal of Biological Chemistry. But it needs milk in addition, and the two together can furnish a man with all the protein he needs.

ANTRIM CITY

Mr. and Mrs. R. Brumbach and family went to Ironton Sunday. Miss Dora Smallegan is staying at her cottage on the farm this week.

seriously considered. Michmer of Adrian, in stating his opposition, says it is "unfair and unreasonable, and is aimed directly at the farmer."
Senator Townsend, Congressman Currie of Midland, Crampton of Lapeer, Smith of Charlotte, and Fordney of Saginaw all disclosed similar sentiment.

These representatives of Michigan at Washington also declared to the Michigan State Farm Bureau that they will favor passage of the "truth in fabric" bill, which would benefit the general public by compelling clothing and cloth manufacturers to label materials with the percentage of shoddy contained in them. "All wool" clothing is a misnomer that is fooling most everybody these days, according to the farm bureau.

Support of the farmers' collective bargaining bill known as the Volstead act, which would permit farmers to collectively market products, also has been assured the farm bureau by these legislators.

The "old" Lane-Mondell land reclamation bill, which has been received as part of the Borah "world war home and farm building act" is opposed to the farm bureau on the grounds that it is a scheme of land speculative interests who hope to unload barren and waste land on U. S. war veterans. Worthwhile lands for this purpose, or none, is the farm bureau's idea. This idea has support of all of the above mentioned congressmen with the exception of Crampton, who favors its passage if labelled frankly as a "reclamation" measure, and not an "aid plan" for returned soldiers. This idea would meet with approval of the farmers not only of Michigan but of the country.

Latest development in the Michigan State Farm bureau's wool program are the launching of a statewide educational campaign and the leasing of a fourth warehouse.

This warehouse is located in Grand Rapids and will hold approximately 1,000,000 lbs. This new space will bring the total amount of wool that the pool can accommodate to approximately 4,500,000 lbs.
About 4,000,000 lbs. are in hand
now.

By study of his business the average farmer can increase his income from his wool, the Farm bureau maintains. To stimulate such study and also give the woolgrower a graphic understanding of methods of wool grading the Farm bureau is sending out to each Michigan county a plaque of samples of the several grades of wool. With each display is a careful description of the types of wool, a list of the kinds of wool produced from each breed of sheep and instructions designed to produce the most profitable wool crop. One of the most important phases in the betterment of Michigan wool production, according to the farm bureau, is for each grower to select one bred of sheep and stick to it, gaining thereby a more uniform grade of wool and a greater profit.

These wool displays go first to the county fairs and then will be placed permanently in the farm bureau offices.

Cost little to run, practically no upkeep, and saves time and worry over the farm work. A Fairbank-Morse gas engine is the kind to buy.

Communication

Reports still continue to show a slowing down of trade and a tendency towards lower prices, which must necessarily come. Both England and Germany are manufacturing their goods for a less cost than we are, because the workmen in those countries produce more per man per day than we do in the United States. Consequently our merchants are not buying as freely as they would were conditions different.

Some factories who have had advertisements appear in daily papers after they had secured all the help needed, suddenly discovered that their production had increased per man per day; the workmen giving as a reason that there were too many men applying for work and they did not want to lose their jobs.

That we are gradually passing through a reconstruction period, no man can deny. Neither can we with any degree of certainty tell what the future will bring forth, but there is one gratifying sign and that is that labor slowly awakening to the fact that they have not been doing their best, and that in order to protect themselves they must either do more work in the future or have other men take their places, or foreign goods will take the place of our home-made stuff.

Prepare for the rainy days and old age. Recent extravagances have upset all the good old days, when men gave an honest day's work, and merchants were satisfied with a fair profit. Let's hope and pray for a speedy return to those happy prosperous days gone by.

Your truly,
"Uncle" Geo. H. VanPelt.

Annual Regatta, and Boat Racing of Charlevoix Yacht Club Being Successfully Held

A new era in aquatic pastimes was born in Charlevoix this week when on Tuesday the first annual regatta under the new regime was started. It will be repeated annually.

The event is under the direction of the Charlevoix Yacht Club, the mayor, council and chamber of commerce of the city of Charlevoix and will occupy three days and possibly four, depending entirely upon the weather conditions.

There are four classes for sailing and power boats and a beautiful sterling cup is offered the winner in each class. These are now on exhibition in the show windows of the Charlevoix Hardware company.

Following the races there will be a banquet at the Inn Saturday evening in honor of the winners.

The first race was run Tuesday afternoon, Class A sloops being the contestants. Those who entered the contest were XXIX, Harbor Springs; Alert, W. R. Lynn, Chicago; Marjorie, Dr. Danforth, Chicago; Cynthia, J. P. Wilson, Chicago; Jane, J. P. Stewart, Chicago; Whistling, Joseph King, Chicago; Grace, Ray Hamilton, Charlevoix; Natoma, Harold Shaw, Boyne City. The sloops crossed the home stretch as follows: XXIX, 1st, Alert, 2nd, Grace, 3rd.

At the close of the race of Class A sloop, Class A Mackinaws were started, those entered being as follows: Schoodle, J. P. Wilson, Chicago; Whitecap, L. C. Stanley, Detroit; Argo, B. L. O'Gee, Ypsilanti; Clara, Sam Hamilton, Charlevoix. The winners in this race were Clara, 1st, Whitecap, 2nd and Schoodle, 3rd.

The Cora B, owned by Arthur Laramore of Cincinnati, is the judge's boat, and the following men are acting as judges: Arthur Laramore, Cincinnati; Logan Thompson, Cincinnati; George Miller, Charlevoix.

Wednesday's races, which are taking place as we go to press are as follows:

Runabout Motor Boats—Imp, H. P. Block, Chicago; Idle Hour, owned in Cincinnati; Mink, J. P. Wilson, Chicago; Millodon, J. B. Lord, Chicago; Sylvia, Logan Thompson, Cincinnati; Blanche C, John Kuyler, Paducah, Ky.; Elaine, Arthur Joseph, Cincinnati; Minnehaha, William Schroeder, Cincinnati; Cino, Robert Block, Cincinnati; Ella Parkhurst, Chas. Gilbert, Detroit.

Class B, Boats—Blanche G., A. Goldman, Chicago; Nancy, Arthur Joseph, Cincinnati; Helmer, J. Kuyler, Paducah, Ky.; Dolphin, Fred Roth, St. Louis; Helysny, Sam Hamilton, Charlevoix.

This is the big event of Charlevoix's resort season, and its object is to strengthen interest in boating on Pine Lake and to increase the fame of this ideal water for sailing and motor boating. The course is considered by the best amateur boat racers as surpassed by none in the matter of breeze, and its space is ample for all sorts of courses. Objects of the regatta are to stimulate interest in boating in Charlevoix waters and to entertain summer visitors at the height of the season and persons coming from nearby towns.

1000 MOOSE ON ISLE ROYAL

GAME WARDEN JONES MAKES SURVEY OF ISLAND

Resident Warden Established on Island to Prevent Poaching—Great Fishing Ground

Fully a thousand moose and a large number of caribou are found on Isle Royal, the state's great water-bound game preserve off Keweenaw Point in Lake Superior, according to Chief David R. Jones, of the state game department, who has just completed a three weeks' survey of wild life on this game preserve says the Petoskey Evening News.

"We found plenty of evidence that the moose are increasing rapidly and satisfactorily, and that the caribou, while fewer in number, are also increasing noticeably. Smaller game is also found on the island in good quantities.

The small bays and inlets about the island also abound with whitefish lake trout and other fish, and close to a hundred fishermen with nets spend the entire summer fishing season there, shipping thousands of tons of fish.

A resident game warden has now been placed on the island to protect the game from any poachers who might invade the wooded retreats of the moose or caribou. The island is fifty miles long and about eight miles wide.

Among the members of the game warden's party, which has just completed its trip aboard state patrol boat No. 4 were Harold Fuller, son of Auditor General Fuller; Sheridan S. Master, assistant attorney general; Jay Murtz, clerk of the Supreme court; and Representative Robert McDonald, of Hancock.

Eversz Nordrum, for the past two years manager of the Booth Fisheries Co. interests at Sault Ste. Marie, has been chosen to succeed his father, Oluf Nordrum, as manager of the company's local plant.

Mr. Nordrum began working for the company in the office of which he is now manager, six years ago. He went from here to Detroit, and two years ago to the Soo.

The promotion is a reward for faithful and efficient service and his many friends extend congratulations.

Jacob E. Chew for Representative. The candidacy of Jacob E. Chew for representative represents a square deal to all concerned in the county welfare. Announcement

To the People of Charlevoix County: My attention has been called to a statement being circulated by my opponents to the effect that if I am elected Probate Judge I will return to the old system of holding the court open one day each week.

I take this opportunity of informing all of you that such statement is unfounded and untrue. I can say just as strongly as it can be said that if I am elected by you, I will give this office the very best attention within my power. The office will be open six days of the week, and I will give the people the service they are entitled to expect, none say more than this, it is my desire to make the office something more than a mere probate court. To make it a Juvenile Court in practice as well as in name. That is the intention of the law and it should be observed. There must be a court in this county to take care of cases of children under 17 years of age and it must not be a CRIMINAL court.

The Mothers' Pension Law must be given a fair trial and its merits tested by the people. I believe that it is a splendid law and that it will prove economical and save some of the tax-payers money as well. If not, we will soon find it out. Every fair man and every mother in this county should demand the right to see this measure put into effect, and fairly judged.

Probate Judge Stowe of Livingston county in this state says, "I am satisfied that the law is a very wholesome law and that these cases can be handled better and CHEAPER through the Probate Court than by the Superintendents of the Poor. It makes more work for the Probate Judge but that is no consideration."

Judge E. R. Harris says, "The work under the Mothers' Pension Law is one of the most pleasant and satisfactory duties I have to perform and a saving to the taxpayer."

Many other Probate Judges express the same opinion. Is this convincing or is it not?

If I am elected by you, I shall devote my time and use whatever experience and ability I may possess to the purpose of carrying out the objects I have mentioned. In addition, I shall make every effort to make the administration of the office active, progressive, sympathetic, courteous and just in all the things which those terms mean. If you have confidence in my sincerity and honesty of purpose, I shall be grateful for your support at the primary August 31st. Very respectfully, Arthur L. Fitch.

WOOL PRICE NOT DECREASING

DESPITE CLAIMS BY MANY WOOL BUYERS

Statements Published Aimed at Michigan Farm Bureau and Its Many Activities

Have you seen the article headed "Farmers in Michigan to lose millions" printed on the first page of the Grand Rapids News of August 19. If you haven't, get it. Or probably you may see a reprint of it in some of the other papers of the state.

This bit of propaganda, evidently by the wool buyers, is the strongest argument for farm organization that has yet appeared in the daily papers.

The article says, "With wool gradually reaching the lowest point for which it has sold in years, the price now ranging between 15 and 20 cents per pound, is disclosed one of the greatest losses to Michigan farmers ever recorded in the stock raising business in Michigan. The largest part of this loss, it is learned, will fall upon members of the Michigan Farm Bureau. The Michigan Farm Bureau began to store wool for its members when the price was ranging from 55 to 75 cents.

The facts are that 50 percent of the wools in the warehouse had no market when they were brought to Lansing except for the offers of a few buyers at 10 to 25 cents. The wool department can sell right now as much as 500,000 pounds for prices ranging from 35 to 47 1/2 cents which would result in a 50 to 100 per cent increase, depending on the market when the wool was pooled. A few farmers who placed wool from the March clip before the price dropped would lose if they sold now. But they are not selling. The market is already better than it was when 90 percent of the wool was placed in the pool.

You ask how this propaganda can help farm organization? Because it shows that the State Farm Bureau is on the right track. If it hadn't been getting results it would not have scared up a scrap. When one boy takes his big brother along to help him the neighbor boy it means he believes the neighbor boy is the better man. The interest behind that article are scared, that shows through. The farm bureau is progressing.

Another way that article helps: The wool-buyers are trying to convince the farmer he is wrong. But look at the inaccuracies in their argument. Few statements in the entire article will bear inspection. The writers have over-reached their mark. The wool-buyers used to "get away with it" when he advised a farmer, for there was no way to check up on the truth. When he now advises on a big scale and attacks the Michigan State Farm Bureau, he enlarges his inaccurate method so that it can be seen by everybody. He shows his hand.

The farmer must market with somebody. How can he put trust in the framers of such an article? Which are his friends, the middle-men or the State Farm Bureau?

This bureau believes that such propaganda is aimed at the morale of the entire organization. It is not likely to hurt the wool pool.

The article links pooling wool with speculation. It says: "That a very considerable part of this loss is due to speculation and the so-called holding-out process by the large stocks of wool the state over and particularly at Lansing and Grand Rapids." The State Farm Bureau is "Organized for Business." Through a central marketing agency the wool is graded and collected in quantities to attract large buyers. This saves buyers' profits and expense of handling of small lots. The wool department has gone further and started an educational campaign for the care of fleeces and to encourage concentration on certain breeds of sheep for a better and more uniform production of wool. Very few farmers anticipated a dollar for their wool as the article claims. But they do want a fair price based on production. Holding your product for market is not speculation.

The price paid for wool at Grand Rapids is quoted in the article. The buyer's price there is no criterion of the national market in which the wool department expects to sell.

Another statement is: "Banks all over the state are carrying loans on an inflated value of wool which either they are or the borrower must make good." I know of one country bank that has loaned $30,000 on wool at approximately 40 cents." This may be true in regard to some individual buyer. But so far as the Farm Bureau wool pool is concerned the total money advanced to date is less than $17,000. Advances from the Lansing office have been $5,803.84; from Michigan banks $10,325 with wool as security. The Lansing office is notified when any banks advances on pooled wool. Money has gone to 98 farmers from Lansing and to 175 from the banks; the average advance is $5900. Instead of being afraid of a mammoth "speculation" the banks of the state have been very helpful to the State Farm Bureau and have co-operated heartily.

The farmers holding wool are not going to lose millions. It looks reasonable that practically all of them will make more money than they would through the individual buyer. The Commercial Bulletin of August 14, the most reliable authority on the wool market, says that "There are some signs of a better interest in the market for wool," though at present they are not great. It says also "The mills of the American Wool Company, or rather a few of them, are busy getting samples for the light weight season though none of them has been opened for the regular season (Continued on page ten.)"

NEW RULING ON RAIL TICKETS

ROUND TRIP TICKET HOLDERS
MISS BOOST

Pullman Fares and Single Trip Fares Go Up Today, Former Fifty Per Cent and Latter Twenty

Charlevoix railroad ticket agents, received instructions last week that holders of round trip tickets will not be charged the proposed additional twenty percent in cost when they start on their return trip.

Thousands of summer tourists in Charlevoix and Northern Michigan hold return trip tickets purchased when they started from their home cities for Charlevoix. The first ruling was that holders of these tickets would be charged the increased rate. Many of them had already planned to return home before August 25, the date on which the new rate goes into force, but now that the new ruling relieves them from paying the additional sum, they will remain until later in the season.

Hundreds of tourists have also purchased one way tickets from Charlevoix to their home cities and made Pullman car reservations for their return return trip. The ruling states that these people must pay the increased rate, but just how the work of collecting this additional amount is to be handled is not known.

Rates increase twenty per cent today, while Pullman rates increase fifty per cent. This is in addition to the war tax of eight per cent.

TEA ROOM HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Extends Thanks to the Many Who Made Success Possible

The Smith-College Tea Room closed its doors August 21, after a most successful season. Exact figures cannot yet be given, but approximately one thousand dollars have been raised for the Smith College Fund. This includes the Smith College share of the "movie benefit," given August 21.

A "rummage sale" is being held this week at the Tea Room, 306 Petoskey avenue—and China, glass-ware, loaf-sugar, remnants of oil cloth and other articles are on sale.

Miss Anne Clark, who took the financial responsibility for the venture wishes to thank all those who have helped make the Tea Room a success especially the loyal friends of the college, who served or helped make sandwiches in the kitchen at busy times. Chief among these are: Mrs. Andrew McLaughlin and her daughters, the Misses Constance, Isabel and Esther McLaughlin, Mrs. George Webb, and her daughters, Miss Bicknell and the Misses Marian and Betty Webb; the Misses Armstrong; Miss Lenore Wolf, the Misses Aloe; Miss Nessler, Miss Snyder; Mrs. Hans; Misses Adeline Pierce and Miss Marian Gregg.

Notice

The regular monthly meeting of the Marion Township Farm Bureau will be held at the Co-Operative Warehouse in Charlevoix on the last Tuesday or the 31st of August. All members are urged to be present.

ALL SET FOR COUNTY FAIR

TO BE HELD THIS YEAR SEP-TEMBER 13-17

Coming Fair Expected to Be a Record
Breaker in Attractions, Attendance and Exhibits

The big event of Charlevoix county and this northern district, the Charlevoix County Fair, will be held at East Jordan, September 13-17. This will be the thirty-sixth consecutive year that this fair has been held. And each year it has grown larger and better. The 1919 fair was a record breaker in attendance and quality and number of amusements and exhibits. But the 1920 fair will far surpass any previous fair held. Entry day is Monday, September 13, and every thing will be in place by Tuesday morning, September 14th. Judging the stock and exhibits to commence Tuesday at 1:00 o'clock p. m. There will be night fair Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The fair closes Friday afternoon with the last heat of the big free for all.

The mid-way will be by far the largest and most complete of any fair north of Grand Rapids. The Northwestern shows of Detroit will bring one of the largest merry-go-rounds on the road, the largest size Ferris wheel a whip which will occupy a space of 4 by 90 feet, at least ten good side shows which will occupy 300 feet of frontage, and twenty of the better class of concessions. In addition to this there will be, at least, thirty other concessions, making the mid-way a real carnival outfit. This will run night and day and will furnish plenty of opportunity for amusement to all.

Commencing Tuesday afternoon there will be a full program of horse racing each day of the fair. This will make four days of horse racing instead of three, and the added day is helping to bring more horses for these races. At this time the association is in a position to announce that race horses from West Branch, Traverse City, Petoskey, Marquette and Gaylord will be in attendance. Inquiries received from other places indicate that there will be more race horses this year than there has ever been before. This should insure four days of real horse races.

The six Morales will put on six different acts each day, and evening, presenting some features which have never been shown in this section of the country, including a teeth slide, hair slide, toe slide, head slide, Spanish wire dancing and stunts on the casting bar. This troop comes highly recommended and will undoubtedly be a source of great entertainment to the patrons of the fair.

Aviator Bishop will carry passengers in his aeroplane throughout each day of the fair and will give one flight daily. He has had many an exhibition flight daily. He has had many years experience as an aviator and during the war was instructor on several of Uncle Sam's aviation flights. During the exhibition flights he will perform all of the hair raising stunts which are known to aviators, including looping the loop and the tail spin. He will not perform any stunts while carrying passengers.

The association is making a special effort to make the night fair a prominent success. It will open at seven o'clock p. m. with the mid-way in full operation; good band music and a full program of free attractions. The exhibition buildings will all be open throughout each evening. There will be dancing in the Educational building to music by the new Metropole orchestra of East Jordan. It will be closed every evening with a gorgeous fire works display which includes many wonderful set pieces; and aerial fire works including the newest inventions. The fire works program will be fired by an expert sent by the company and is surely one of the best which has ever been displayed outside of the largest cities.

These are but a few of the many amusements of the 1920 fair. Other features will be announced later.

Are You Looking for Bargains?

The Smith College Tea Room has closed and is now selling remnants of black oil cloth, loaf sugar, dishes and glass ware at prices that will astonish you. Inquire at the Tea Room.—Adv. 341f pd.

There will be a dance at the Iron-ton Grange hall Friday evening, September 3rd. This will be the last dance of the season. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 341f.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; spitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and rest of the bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before milking more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with indigestion, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way abundantly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ilyers of Grand Rapids, visited Mrs. Jennett last week and are now in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidder of East Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. Mason of Williamsburg visited Mrs. Jennett Sunday.

Mrs. Dan Slick and daughter, Nellie, who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Pierce left Saturday morning for a two week's visit with relatives and friends at Manton before returning to their home at Superior, Wisconsin.

About twenty-eight relatives gathered at the home of Charles Greeley Sunday, in honor of Mrs. Haskins' birthday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ise Dice of Charlevoix, Mrs. Dice and brother, Mrs. Rosebury of South Bend, Indiana, Ise Alward and family of Ellsworth, Mr. Turk of Petoskey, Albert Parsons and family of Ellsworth, Wilbur Haskins and mother, Mrs. Haskins and Sam Alward of Norwood.

We were sorry to learn that Genevieve Jennett was obliged to be taken to the Charlevoix hospital, Sunday for an ulcerated tooth. The whole neighborhood join in wishing her a speedy recovery.

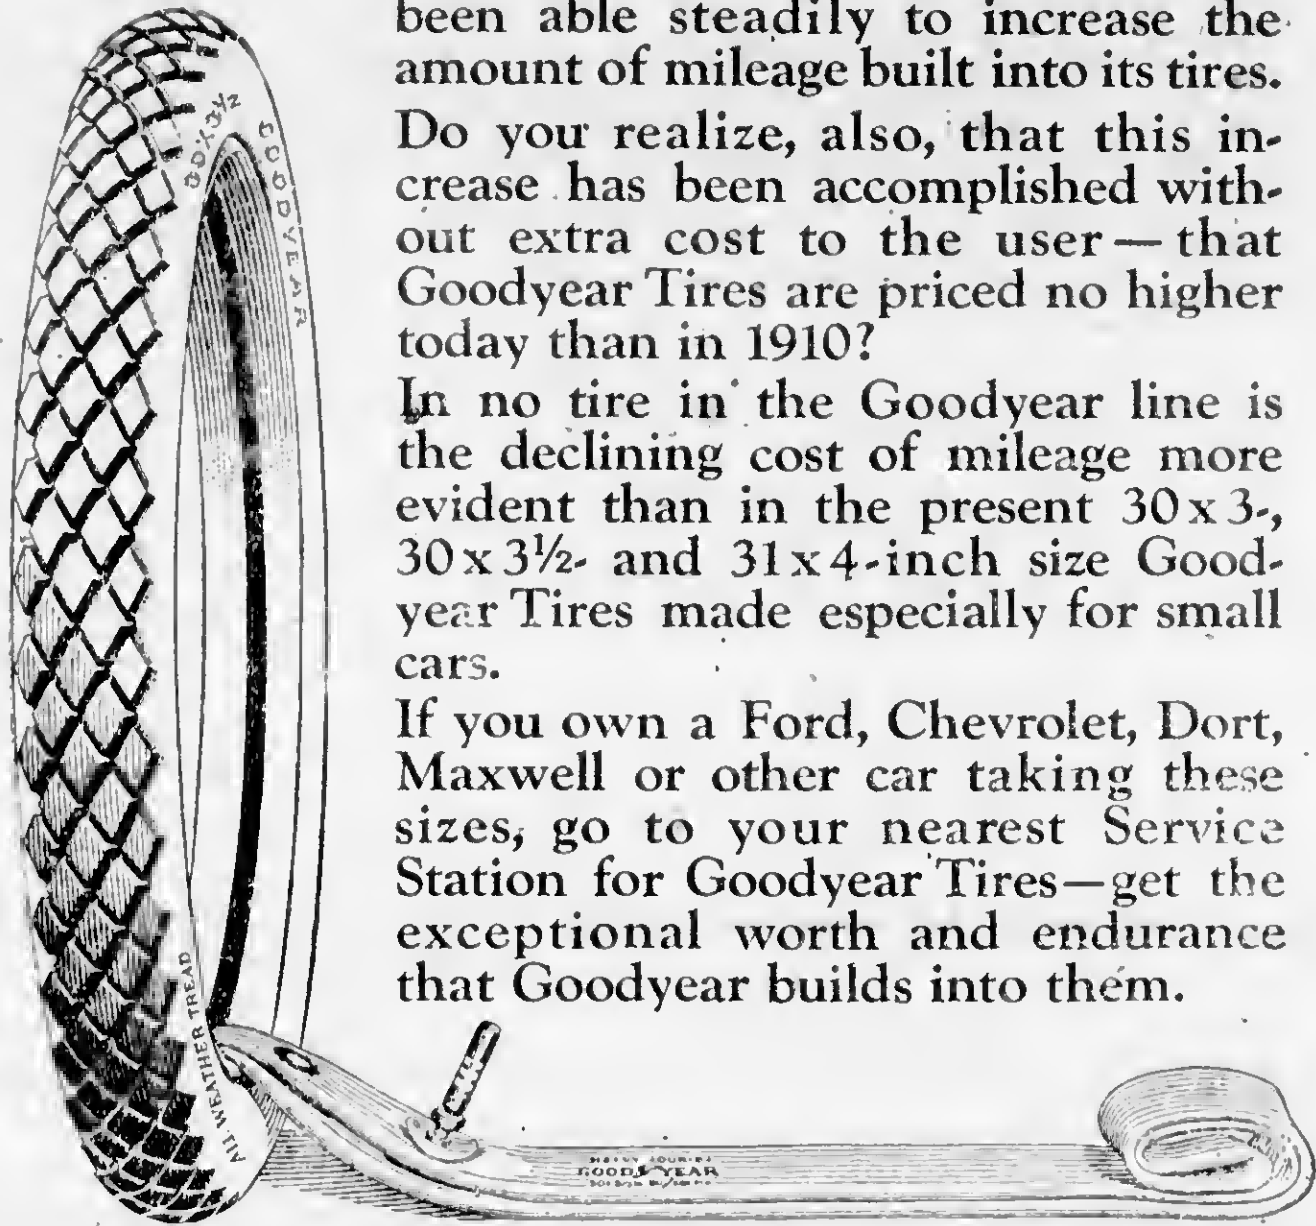

Three cars numbering fifteen people, old neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Swartout motored over from Petoskey Sunday and enjoyed picnic dinner at their home. They were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Ernst, son Dan, and daughter, Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright and daughter, Alice, Mrs. Philip Stark, two sons, Ed and Louis and daughters, Margaret Carolyn and Louise, Vern Morford and Miss Maud Clark of Petoskey telephone exchange.

The Atwood "Old-Timers" or so-called sap busters, busted the Ellsworth base ball team to the tune of 9 to 0 on their home grounds Saturday, and were not in need of huckleberries or Mr. LaDue's help either. Although the game was rather one-sided there was plenty of excitement and good "rooting" on both sides. Nearly all the surrounding country and Ellsworth, showing their typical courteousness by closing all business places for the afternoon. The Atwood team are really "old timers" but have come back with the surprising "kick" which they fully demonstrated. They are now aspiring for higher honors and looking for challenges from other teams. We understand someone suggested the Ellsworth team forfeit their suits to the "old timers" but, you see boys, suits don't affect them at all.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a tumbler full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

In western Michigan approximately 300 technical deserters from the United States army will be included in the list of 173,911, which the department of justice at Washington has announced itself ready to round up for court martial, according to District Attorney Myron H. Walker.

The majority of these men registered with their draft boards, took the physical examinations and then failed to appear for training when called. Many of these district attorney said, enlisted before they were drafted and never have reported that fact to the authorities. Such men are urged to report at once to federal officials and avoid publication of their names and possible prosecution.

The department soon will make public the names of those branded as deserters and the government desires to obtain the co-operation of state and local officials, patriotic societies and other agencies in bringing about apprehension.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

An Efficient Move

After more than a dozen years fight the United States government has just put into operation a law recently passed retiring its aged employees on part pay. During August the first deduction of two and one-half per cent of each pay check for the retirement fund was made.

At the same time, no substantial changes in the salaries of government clerks have yet been made, and in some cases the rate of pay obtained today that was in effect as far back as the period when the old sailing frigate America first cleaned up the British fleet and brought the pewter cup to these shores to tempt future Liptons to build their successive Shamrocks.

It is quite true that the higher salaried officials of the government have received very great increases in their salaries. For instance, we used to hire a President for $50,000 a year, but Lincoln worked for much less and George Washington was not paid anything for fathering the American republic. Now every Ohio editor expects $100,000 a year to do the job. There are more perquisites to garnish the position than the whole understanding cost in the days of our fathers.

But with ordinary government clerkships in Washington it is different. These places are looked upon in the Capital as "great jobs for girls and widows." When viewed as a "career" for men they hold very little in the perspective. What the government has recently done for its superannuated employees and in supplying a retirement fund for the future is very similar to the plans put into effect by the International Harvester Company, and some of the other corporations several years ago. The fact that the government has become a party to the scheme for retiring its employees after long and faithful service is regarded as showing the tendency of the age toward the recognition of individual efforts in every walk of life, no matter how insignificant a part the individual may have performed in humanity's workshop.

Buckling Down to Work

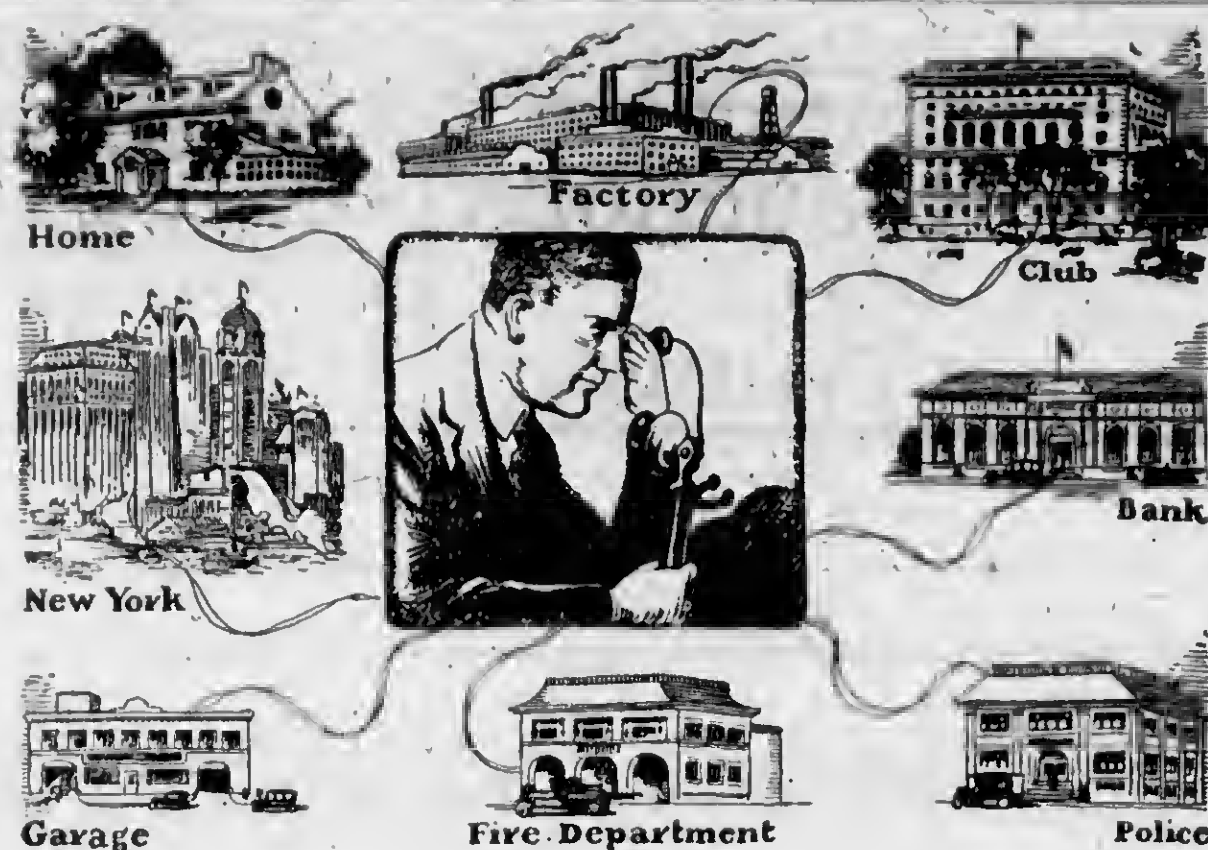

The rate to which production slackens under wages that are not satisfactory to labor has been very strikingly illustrated in the railroad situation. Previous to the recent "outlaw" strikes the figures concerning the amount of freight loaded at certain terminals and the added accumulation of freight in the yards, furnished certain proof that the employees were, at least, "disinterested" in their work. They were demanding more pay. But human psychology demonstrated itself in the situation and since the Government Labor Board has awarded $625,000,000 additional wages a year to the two million railroad employees, the employees are apparently again buckling down to work and trying to give a dollar of service for a dollar of wages.

Everybody knows that after the war there was a great let-down in labor efficiency, and a good many wage earners were "letting George do it." Report of the Car Service Commission of the railroads show that with bigger pay checks in sight—an average of about $300 a year for all railroad workers—the employees are buckling down to help the management move the freight.

Japs Say We Are Militaristic

The world has pointed to Germany as a horrible example of an aggressively militaristic country. When the Central Empires were whipped it became a popular pastime in the United States to speak of Japan as another "aggressively militaristic country." Back in the days of Roosevelt, who supposedly feared nobody, we began to palliate the irritable Japs. By the time President Taft came into office genuine apprehension was felt over the "race peril," and California, at least, was in a fighting mood. When President Wilson went into office he selected as one of the first missions for Secretary Bryan, the taming of the Californians. Whereas President Roosevelt had brought the legislature to Washington, Mr. Bryan, as Secretary of State, went as President Wilson's emissary to the "mountain." He was the guest of Governor Hiram Johnson, but he didn't bring back any bacon to Washington. The Governor and the legislature refused to recede from their position in curbing the encroachments of the Japs—the same Japs whom we were coaxing to remain good, and whom we openly feared might seize the Philippines and the Hawaiian islands.

All this changed with the war, and if the writer has any understanding of the temper and conviction of the American people they are no longer timid, or appreciably concerned about other nations of the earth. While we still claim to be a very peaceful people, still it is apparent that no one ever talks any more about what some foreign nation might do to us in the event of war.

What the Telephone means to You

Consider, for a moment, your home—or your business—without the telephone.

Think of the extra steps you would take otherwise in your daily work to keep in contact with different departments and people.

The amount of business you can do is definitely dependent upon this service which maintains your connection with the business world.

And if your business accomplishments are so affected by your telephone service, so, too, is your every-day home life.

The theatre—the garage—every comfort and necessity of life are literally at your elbow—at your beck and call.

And again, when danger threatens—when minutes are vital—when the doctor must be secured quickly—when fire or destruction are upon you, the telephone is the first and surest messenger of relief.

The Michigan State Telephone Company realizes fully the vital importance of the telephone to the community—the responsibility that is ours in maintaining this service to the people of Michigan at its highest efficiency.

It is striving in every possible way to fulfill this trust.

HARDING IS "JUST FOLKS."
Senator Harding is a business man—not a "big business" man, it is true, but one who began in a small way and attained success, that is fairly representative of American enterprise and thrift. Harding took proprietorship of a small newspaper and made it a large newspaper. He started in a small town, invested his savings in the industries of that town, and helped make it a fairly large town. His paper is not of metropolitan magnitude nor is his city in the metropolitan class. Both are fairly typical of the general average in the United States. Harding's experience in business has been extensive enough to make him practical but not extensive enough to put him out of touch with the great mass of the people. His environment has kept him in personal touch with human beings and prevented his becoming a mere cog in a great industrial machine. He has been a wage-earner and a wage-payer a written except through work and saving, through industry and denial, while needless spending and heedless extravagance have marked every decay in the history of nations.

A more accurate and searching diagnosis of the case, a more practical and efficient prescription for a cure, could not be made. The rival candidate may again charge the speaker with "harking back to the days of thirty years ago," but thoughtful and judicious American citizens will agree with Mr. Harding in calling for "a nation-wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the Republic." A word of such counsel is worth a volume of the "flaming but futile promises" with which the Attorney-General and the Secretary of War seek to beguile the price-burdened public.

Remember the good old Republican days of two cents a mile on the railroads and five-dollar excursions to Niagara Falls when the Democratic orators and editors were telling us what they would do to the railway arons when they got in power and had a good crack at them?

Democratic National Chairman George White talked a little too much recently, and the boosting he got from Governor Cox's press agents proves that in the matter of demanding henchmen whose minds run along with his Woodrow hasn't anything on James.

Republicans are going to do some fighting on the Southern front, too this year. The Dixie Democrats who have been in the habit of stumping the Northern states telling the voters what to do are going to have a lot to keep them busy at home.

It is announced that Governor Cox's middle name is not "Middleton" but something else. Well, it will be something beginning with "m" maybe, after the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

It's funny, but the administration has kept us out of about everything else, yet not out of war, the one thing Mr. Wilson and Governor Cox promised us four years ago it would keep us out of.

Governor Cox takes so much pleasure in being a farmer, according to his press agents, that probably he is glad Washington isn't going to be the Trail's End for him in this campaign.

Governor Cox made a speech at a Democratic picnic from a roped arena the other day and his talk sounded a good deal like that of Jess Willard before the battle of Toledo.

Some question whether the administration is raising railway rates faster than it is railway wages, but one thing is sure, the public loses the foot race in either case.

One hundred and fifty men are idle at Cheboygan as the result of a fire which destroyed the Kretson Lumber company's mill. The loss is estimated at nearly $250,000.

MUST REPORT TO JUSTICE OF PEACE

Owners of Tagged Cars Given Warning by County Authorities

Sheriff George W. Weaver reports that several car owners, whose cars have been tagged for violation of the state motor laws, have failed to appear at the office of the Justice of the Peace as ordered to.

These violators must remember that the number of their car is a matter of record, and if they persist in not obeying the summons, their car numbers will be forwarded to state officials at Lansing, where action will be taken which will result in a heavy fine or have their license revoked or both.

The county officials are enforcing the law to the letter. If you have been a violator, and your car has been tagged, the best plan will be to obey the summons. It will probably cost you three dollars, but this is far less than you will be fined if the matter is taken up by the state officials at Lansing.

QUESTION NOW A NATIONAL PROBLEM

High Transportation to Be Discussed at Lansing Meeting

The question of "Highway Transportation" has become a National Problem. Roads that will bear the burden of today and tomorrow, as well as roads for every day in the year are vital both to the State and nation. These are everybody's problems. The ablest and best thinkers in every field of endeavor are trying to solve them. The solution will require the co-operation of all the people.

These and kindred subjects will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Good Road's Assn. to be held at Lansing, September, 1-2-3. Hon. Frank F. Rogers will have charge of one day's program, and has engaged the services of the most eminent and qualified speakers of various states.

Both of the dominant parties speak in no uncertain terms in their platforms adopted at Chicago and San Francisco on this question. Their standard bearers, or parties duly qualified to represent them, will be present and discuss the issues set forth in their respective platforms regarding Highway Transportation, and other vital issues before the people. The Federal government must continue the policy of Federal Aid as well as the construction of a National System, not alone in the interests of Parcel Post, but National Defense. The national chairman as well as the state chairman of both parties are co-operating with our association to bring about the presence of at least one of the standard bearers of each party.

Senator Townsend has accepted the invitation and will discuss the "Townsend Bill" now pending which appropriates $425,000,000 for a National Highway System, more than seven hundred miles of which will be in Michigan and perpetually maintained by the government.

The largest number of exhibitors in the history of our Association have already signed agreement to be present and exhibit. The program although not completed will be of the highest order; and more real information brought to bear upon the solution of the vital problems of road construction than at any one meeting in the history of the Association.

Charlevoix good road advocates are urged to attend this meeting as well as every city and township send delegates. It is proposed to make a hairs of cows purchased in other states, have contained 50 per cent or more of tubercular animals. Some herds of beef cattle to the western country have become contaminated with the disease from tubercular purchased bulls and cows that came from diseased herds elsewhere.

The tubercular cow is the greatest source of danger to healthy cattle. Any ranching cattle not promptly removed from the herd constitute a constant source of infection. Tubercular cattle sooner or later begin to give off the germs of the disease. These germs escape by the mouth, nose and bowels, and in milk. The discharged germs are carried in the air for a time until they fall to the ground. Healthy animals eat and thus contract the disease. Contaminated water troughs in barns containing diseased cattle, drinking holes containing material from infected animals, failure to clean and disinfect the premises occupied by the diseased cattle, and infected milking tubes and the practice of feeding calves with raw milk from tubercular cows, are means by which tuberculosis spreads to a herd.

Sunlight Kills Germs.

Tuberculosis is caused by a rod-shaped germ visible only under a high-powered microscope. When exposed to the direct rays of the sun it dies quickly—a fact to be noted in the disinfection of pastures, paddocks and barn lots. While it is necessary for the germs of tuberculosis to be introduced into the body of the animal before the disease can be produced, there are many conditions or accessories which make animals especially susceptible to tuberculosis. Stabling animals in dark, poorly ventilated and dirty barns helps to spread tuberculosis among the stock whenever the germs are present. Any condition that produces constant strain upon the system of animals, such as continued forced herding periods, renders them fit subjects for the development of tuberculosis.

The tubercular cow is not only a menace to her milks, but is also the most common source of infection to swine, particularly where unpasteurized skim milk is utilized in the pork-raising ration. The central skimming station is a tremendous source of disease transmission where the skim milk is not pasteurized, as this material is returned to the farms for feeding purposes, and the contaminated milk of but a few cows may infect the entire supply. Similarly, under crowded conditions where hogs follow cattle in the feed lots or pastures, tuberculosis is rapidly transmitted. Swine may also contract tuberculosis by eating parts of the carcasses of infected cattle, swine or poultry. Other sources of contamination are infected spolia from human beings, and the feeding of uncooked garbage containing the germs of tuberculosis.

Tuberculin Test Reliable.

A general run-down condition, accompanied by a cough, is often considered to be a case of tuberculosis, but is not a conclusive symptom, as the disease often involves the lymphatic glands, and an examination of such glands in the living animal is helpful in diagnosing the disease. The glands of the throat, under and point of the shoulder often present an abnormal condition. A tuberculin test, which induces characteristic temperature reaction in tubercular animals after tuberculin is injected, is the most dependable means of detection. No harm can result to healthy animals from the proper application of tuberculin, even in doses many times greater than those customarily used. The subcutaneous test—the injection of a proper quantity of tuberculin under the skin in the subcutaneous tissue—is more commonly used. The intradermal test for detecting tuberculosis is used to a considerable extent, especially on range cattle or others not easily controlled. When made by those who have become skilled in its use, it is very accurate. The tuberculin is injected between the layers of the skin at the base of the tail, where the skin is soft and nearly hairless. The reaction consists of a swelling at the point of injection and is observed after 18 to 108 hours. The character of the swelling varies and a proper diagnosis with this test can be made only by an experienced person. The opthalmic method is used also to some extent in "check" testing in connection with either of the previously described methods. The tuberculin is placed in one eye while the other eye is used as a check. A reaction is indicated by a characteristic discharge from the eye reacting the treatment. This occurs about six to ten hours after application. All tuberculin tests should be applied by experienced licensed veterinarians.

Subject Treated in Detail.

Farmers' Bulletin 1069, "Tuberculosis in Live Stock," issued by the United States department of agriculture, is now available for general distribution, and treats in detail the detection, control and eradication of tuberculosis, explaining the accredited herd or home roll plan whereby herds found free of tuberculosis are certified as healthy jointly by state and federal officials. It also describes the methods of prevention and eradication of this source of the live stock world. It presents information concerning the disposal of reactors and explains testing, the marking of animals for identification, appraisement, and indemnity and other related facts about the disease, control and eradication of this disease.

NUMEROUS CROPS IN GARDEN

Louisiana Woman Raised 32 Different Vegetables on Very Small Plot of Ground.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
A garden 122 by 43 feet, if given intensive cultivation, will produce more vegetables, excepting potatoes, than a family of five can use, according to the experience of a garden club member in Madison Parish, La. During the past season the woman owned grew 32 different vegetables in her garden of a little over a tenth of an acre. Of some vegetables she had several different varieties to determine which grow best, and gave the best satisfaction in that climate and soil. One of her cabbages measured a yard from tip to tip and weighed 10 pounds.

GRAIN CROPS MUCH LIGHTER

Weight of Bushel of Wheat Given as 56.3 as Against 58.8 for the Previous Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The weight per measured bushel of wheat in 1919-20 was 56.3 pounds, as against 58.8 pounds in 1918 and 58.2 the 10-year average. The weight of measured bushel of oats is 31.1 pounds, as against 33.2 pounds in 1918 and 40.5 pounds the ten-year average. The corresponding figures for barley are 45.2 pounds for 1919, 40.9 pounds for 1918, and 46.5 pounds for the nine-year average, according to the bureau of crop estimates.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Do not stop little, immature hogs to market, that is, hogs weighing less than 150 pounds.

If you expect the calf to do best, you cannot afford to allow it to lose its calf at weaning time.

By careful management and feeding of hogs the wise hog grower doubles his chances for a good profit.

Don't feed pigs or cattle soaked grain or let the feed sour in the troughs. It causes disorders and scours.

Cottonseed meal is also a very good hog feed, but it is a very dangerous risk for an inexperienced feeder.

Cost little to run, practically no upkeep, and saves time and worry over the farm work. A Fairbanks-Morse gas engine is the kind to buy. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 291f.

AT THE MOVIES

Fatty Arbuckle's new Paramount comedy, "Hayseed," which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday is a genuine laugh-maker and all Arbuckle fans will find it a delightful affair.

Fatty is a rural delivery letter carrier who gets into serious trouble because of the theft of $300 from the mother of the girl he loves.

Of course, Fatty gets out of his trouble to the entire satisfaction of his admirers and especially his sweetheart. There are numerous farcical situations of which Mr. Arbuckle makes the most, as is his wont in every role he essays. He is admirably supported by excellent comedians, and in every respect "Hayseed" is one of the best comedies in which the big, jolly comedian has been seen in many months.

Wallace Reid will be at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday in a breezy comedy picture called "Double Speed." As a youthful millionaire who is robbed and becomes chauffeur to his lady love, the star is engaging and amusing as ever. The tempo of the film is suggested by the title. The story is light, but brisk in its action and well suited to the comedy talents of Mr. Reid.

The central figure is "Speed" Carr, rich and a "live wire," who, while enroute from New York to Los Angeles by auto to meet his uncle with regard to his inheritance, is robbed of his car and belongings in the Western Desert and arrives at his destination looking much like a tramp. Ejected as an imposter from the bank where he goes to borrow funds, "Speed" by chance assumes the name of a notorious crook and becomes chauffeur to the bank president's pretty daughter. How "Speed" is mixed up in a financial transaction that obliges him, still in his character of chauffeur, to pose as his real self and how he wins the girl of his heart is worked out in an entertaining manner.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The theme of the morning of Sunday, August 29, will be "The Evidence of Progress." There will be special music by the quartet, a cello solo and other special features. The public is cordially invited to worship in our fellowship.

How About Home Customers?

During the frothy period of prosperity of the past two or three years every one has at some time or another been made to feel the bitter scorn of manufacturers and some merchants, who had so much business that they did not hesitate to let you know that they had no time to quibble with you in order to secure your patronage. But now that we have lost $500,000,000 of European trade, and nearly $400,000,000 of South American trade during the past year, it seems entirely probable that customers at local business establishments will soon be getting the same old hand shake and welcoming smile that evidenced the appreciation of their trade in the days before profiteering and the business boom so thoroughly revolutionized production and merchandising methods in the Nation.

The Lure of the White Lights

The United States census shows that one-fourth of the folks in the United States now live in cities of over 100,000 inhabitants. There are now sixty-six cities of that character in this country. In the ten years since the 1910 census more than 5,500,000 people who before that lived in small communities have gone to cities of 100,000 or more. On the other hand the large cities have not lost so largely of their population and every time the Director of the Census puts out a new bunch of figures they show what the lure of the white lights constantly adds to the number of recruits gathered from the small towns and farming districts.

STOCKS OF CORN DECREASED

Estimate of November 1 Placed at 72,203,000 Bu.—Is 2.8 Per Cent Less Than in 1918.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The stock of old corn on farms November 1 is estimated at 72,203,000 bushels, which is 2.8 per cent of the 1918 crop. The corresponding figure a year ago was 114,678,000 bushels, and the average of the preceding five years was 87,277,000 bushels.

Persevering.

John was at his aunt's house for dinner. She grew alarmed because he was eating so many pancakes. She said: "Do you like them, dear?" He replied: "No, ma'am; I'm only waiting for a good one."

NEW PARTS FOR IMPLEMENTS

Careful and Systematic Inspection Should Be Made for Purpose of Making Repairs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A careful and systematic inspection of each implement should be made for the purpose of making or ordering repairs. Plows, discs, harrows, rollers, rakes, mowers, binders, headers, hay racks, engines and horse-power or belt driven machines such as separators, silo cutters and feed grinders are the implements in most common use. It is suggested that each implement be inspected for badly worn or broken parts to determine what parts should be repaired and those that must be replaced with new ones.

As a reminder for ordering new parts and in overhauling the machine, make a list for each implement of the parts to be repaired or the new parts to be bought; also any special tools necessary in making these repairs. Put down the name of manufacturer, year bought, and the number of the machine. If it is known if orders are sent to the factory, be sure to specify the catalogue, pattern, or casting number of the part. Order repair parts early, as the dealer may not have them in stock.

PIT SILOS BECOME POPULAR

Wyoming Farmers Are Constructing Large Number of Contraptions—County Agent Aids.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Members of the Nidrar County (Wyo.) Farm Bureau are constructing a large number of pit silos. Several successful demonstrations have been held by the county agent. Previous to one of the demonstrations the collar of one silo had been constructed and the pit dug several feet.

The farmers were shown how to plumb the walls by means of a "reamer," how to mix cement and apply the same to the walls, and how to make a hoist. A second silo was then started, the collar being laid out, the pit dug and the collar poured. In this manner all the steps in putting down a pit silo were demonstrated, much to the satisfaction of the farm bureau members present.

Ellsworth Section

ELLSWORTH

John Aardema has been working at Central Lake for the past week. Only three hundred and forty-seven days before the next Ellsworth barbecue.

Wm. Boss, Jr., of Flint, spent several days of last week at the home of his parents.

Mrs. A. L. Ely is spending the week at the home of her parents at Traverse City.

Henry Yettaw is planning on giving his residence a cobble stone veneer and expects to start work in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Thompson entertained their sister-in-law, Mrs. Claud Thompson and little son, of Detroit, last week.

Andrew Dunsmore and James Deevy of Bellaire, were in Ellsworth on Tuesday of this week distributing the bills for the August primaries.

Lambert Aardema finished painting the residences of George Klooster and Koo Klooster last week and is working on the Wm. Cole residence this week.

Archie Palmer of Hendrix Quarry, in the upper peninsula is spending a few days with relatives in this vicinity. Mr. Palmer was formerly an Ellsworth resident.

Hubert Benrs, salesman for the Northern Auto Co., sold a Ford coupe to G. C. Townsend, touring cars to Louis Cobb and Edd Moore and a roadster to Leo LaCroix during the past week.

Mrs. Floyd Moshier and her daughter and the Misses Jennie Densmore and Marie Wiefelbach of Bellaire, spent Monday at the Donald Patterson home the guests of Mrs. George Hunter.

Mrs. W. L. Chellis and baby of Detroit, arrived the first of the week for a few week's visit with friends and relatives. Miss Ruth Chellis who has been visiting at Detroit since the close of school at Mt. Galloway, Miss Beatrice accompanied him home for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patterson entertained their daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hunter from Detroit and their sons, Dewitt from Detroit and their sons, William from Flint and Donald from Ironwood a part of last week. This is the first time for several years that the children have all been home at the same time.

The plans of the township board to divide Banks township in two voting precincts with a polling place at Ellsworth and one at Atwood has failed on account of their failure to comply with the law in making a proper division of the township and so for the primary election on Aug. 31st at least there will be but the one regular voting place as in the past and on Monday of this week Clerk T. E. Boss was at Atwood posting notices to the above effect.

Mr. Torman, poultry expert, from the M. A. C., was in this section last week giving a practical demonstration of his ability. At the farm home of Martin Elzinga he culled twenty-seven non-laying hens from a flock of eighty-five. These twenty-seven have been shut up since that time and have produced no eggs. Mr. Torman was also at the Wm. Kooyer home and at the John Bos home near Atwood and in each instance his judgment of layers have been proven absolutely correct. The tests used by him in making his decisions are very simple and would if learned and followed by other poultry raisers add considerably to their incomes along the egg route.

SATURDAY'S BALL GAME ROTTEN

Least Sad About It the Better For All Concerned

The least said about the ball game of last Saturday, the better, but for the benefit of those who were fortunate enough to miss it, we might say the the home team were so roughly handled by the Atwood team that the end of the final inning came as a distinct relief. The home team may recover but will probably never be the same again. The score was 9-0 and the result does not half describe the game. Just for this one game the Ellsworth boys discarded their knowledge of base ball and allowed the old campaigners from Atwood to commit arson, robbery and in fact everything but murder in their efforts to accumulate scores and besides that, helped the visitors to score runs on several different occasions themselves.

Errors of omission, errors of commission and bone-headed plays were so numerous that a Burrough's would quit in disgust if called on to register the mis-plays. Shaffer for Ellsworth pitched a good game, but lacked anything resembling support while the playing of the visitors was steady even if not spectacular.

However another game will probably be played some time this week and the tables may be turned. Here's hoping.

NEAT APPEARANCE OF FARMS

Paint Will Help Considerably and is Almost Invariably Index to Efficiency of Owner.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A coat of paint does not "make" farm buildings any more than "clothes make the man," nevertheless, the neat appearance of the farmhouse and barns is almost invariably an index of the efficiency of the owner. Appearances do count.

POULTRY NOTES

Mangels, cut clover, sprouted oats, cull vegetables and cull fruit are all good for the hens.

Mites and lice are two of the pests which probably do more damage than all others combined.

Ducks need damp mash at least once a day and many duck raisers feed mash most of the time.

The surest way to make poultry unprofitable is to neglect it, let it fester and let it go without sufficient nourishing food.

EARLE WOULD BRIDGE STRAITS

Also Proposes to Move Jackson Prison to St. Ignace

Horatio S. Earle, who because of interest he has taken in the Michigan good roads movement has oftentimes been referred to as "Good Roads Earle," now proposes a bridge across the Straits of Mackinac, and the moving of Jackson prison from Jackson to the high land near St. Ignace. Mr. Earle was one of the speakers at the unveiling of a tablet that marks the site of old Fort Michilimackinac at Mackinaw City Saturday of last week.

The speaker declared that in his opinion it would be a wise move for the people of Michigan to sell the Jackson state prison and build a new prison at St. Ignace that would be a real tuberculosis hospital prison, where the prisoners that are afflicted could get well and those that were not never would be afflicted," he said.

Other benefits that Mr. Earle declared would result from the new prison would be a new bridge across the Straits, to be constructed by convict labor, a market for farm produce and revenue that the state could derive from toll charged motorists crossing the new bridge at the Straits.

There will be a dance at the fronton Grange hall Friday evening, September 3rd. This will be the last dance of the season. Every body welcome.—Adv. 34tl.

COUNTY SCHOOLS FACING CRISIS

contracts in most cases. At the present time, however, the shortage is greater in surrounding counties and the wages have mounted until they are outbidding Charlevoix county and two or three of our local girls are attempting to resign. This practice should be discouraged as unprofessional and dishonorable.

The August examination was a test of methods and current history in which all but one of the beginners necessarily failed. Most of them will take further training and be ready for better positions next year. It is a big problem to maintain the standard of school requirements. The examination was hard at a time when we needed teachers most but, on the other hand, when wages are mounting, surely the standard should be raised not lowered. It is a temptation to school boards to hire the first and only teachers available. In some cases it is a necessity to keep the school going, but the tax payers have a right to demand that if this be done, it be temporarily only and that when wages are high, only the best be employed. It is a wise school board that raises the wages early and high, makes school surroundings as attractive as possible and then chooses a teacher from the ones who are thus encouraged to apply.

BOYNE FALLS MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Death Comes Without Warning While at Work

William Nelson, one of the founders of Boyne Falls, dropped dead last Thursday while at work in a clay pit. Mr. Nelson was apparently in good health and death came without warning.

In the early day of Boyne Falls, Mr. Nelson was one of its most active citizens and was connected with many of its enterprises. He was born in Pennsylvania and came to Charlevoix fifty years ago. He held several township office in Boyne Valley township. He leaves one sister, Mrs. M. Hulbert, of Muskegon, who attended the funeral.

Funeral services were held from the Boyne Falls Methodist church, Saturday, and the remains were brought to Charlevoix for interment.

AMBULANCE DRIVE NETS TIDY SUM

Summer Visitors and Residents Respond Liberally

The drive instituted last week for the purpose of raising funds for the purchase of an ambulance for the Charlevoix hospital closed Saturday evening with a dancing party at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel.

All told, from all sources to date, $1,063 was raised during the drive, which will be placed in the ambulance fund.

The Beach Hotel casino was crowded at the dancing party Saturday evening and the affair was a success from its inception.

AGED LADY DIES AT SASKATOON

A Former Resident Here and is Well Known

Word comes from northwestern Canada of the death of Mrs. Angie Olney, a former Charlevoix resident and well known in this vicinity.

Mrs. Olney died in the St. Paul's hospital, Saskatoon, Friday, July 30. She was the mother of Mrs. George Wells of Claret, Saskatoon, formerly of this vicinity, also William and Allie Geer of Gloucester, Mass.

Mrs. Olney will be remembered by many Charlevoix people, as both she and her children lived here before their removal.

BAD FIRE AT PARTRIDGE COTTAGE

Quick Work of Fire Department Saves Beautiful Cottage

But for the quick and effective work of Charlevoix's fire department, the beautiful Partridge cottage on Michigan avenue, would today without doubt be a wreck to a blaze started from a burning chimney Monday forenoon.

Due to the dense foliage of trees surrounding the cottage, the fire was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway. The fire is thought to have started in the gable, near the chimney, which a few hours before had burned out. A spark probably lodged somewhere in the attic and smoldered for some time before breaking out into a blaze.

The fire was extinguished by the use of chemicals alone, and had it not been for Charlevoix's new fire-fighting equipment, and the boys forced to use water, the house would have been flooded from attic to cellar.

The roof was badly burned, the exact loss as yet not being known.

WOOL PRICES NOT DECREASING

lar run again and it does not look now as if there could be any general reopening of these mills before the first of September." September is only a week away.

The National Warehouse Co. run by grovers in western states, has 10,000,000 lbs. of wool in Chicago. They are not selling. Ohio with 4,000,000 in her county pools is not selling. Great eastern merchants are not selling. It is not time. The Michigan State Farm Bureau is not selling either. However, if the individual members had failed to pool their wool, it is probable that most of them would have sold at a very low figure.

Only faith, perseverance and co-operation will realize the ideals of the Michigan State Farm Bureau. Such faulty propaganda hardly needs attention except that members should realize that it is intended to hurt the whole organization rather than the wool pool. If enemies could destroy the wonderful morale of this movement they would consider their battle won. Wool is the first of many departments that will be started depending on its success. Every member is directly affected by such an attack whether he has wool to sell or not.

BOYNE CITY MAN TERRIBLY BURNED

Explosion of Oil Can Traps Seba Blaisdell in Rear Room of Bakery

Seba Blaisdell, proprietor of the Home bakery in Boyne City, was terribly burned at an early hour Tuesday morning of last week when an oil can, from which he was pouring oil into a stove, exploded and set fire to the building. The force of the explosion blew the bakery doors shut, trapping the man in the fire filled room. Before he could be rescued he was frightfully burned. Mrs. Blaisdell broke in a window and finally rescued her husband. In doing so she was severely cut about the wrists and arms and was painfully burned.

The injured man was taken to Petoskey hospital later in the day for treatment. Mrs. Blaisdell also received treatment for the cuts on her arms.

The bakery was considerably burned.

BATTLE OF THE BALLOTS

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN COUNTY TUESDAY

Campbell Carries County on Republican Ticket for Governor—Lewis Representative, Correll, Judge

Little interest was taken in Tuesday's primary election throughout the county, there being but two contests for county office, that of representative and judge of probate.

For judge of probate were two candidates, the present incumbent, S. A. Correll, and Arthur L. Fitch. With four precincts to hear from, the vote stands as follows: Correll 1057, Fitch 859. The precinct not heard from will not materially change the position of the two men, and will probably leave Correll with a majority of 200 or more.

In the three-cornered fight for representative, Rollie L. Lewis leads his opponents by a nice majority. Figures of twenty out of twenty-five precincts give Lewis 802, Chew 506, Robinson 373. It is quite safe to presume that Mr. Lewis will be our next representative.

In the race for governor, the situation is a peculiar one. Practically every township from which returns have been received give Campbell a big vote. The cities, however, seemed to favor Groesbeck, each precinct with the exception of one giving him a majority. As the vote stands, 17 precincts gave Campbell 382, Groesbeck 339, Mott 213.

Read leads in the county for lieutenant-governor of Sculley, his opponent, and on the balance of the ticket there were no opposing candidates.

Up to the time we go to press, the result in the county is as follows:

Governor

Seventeen out of 25 precincts: Campbell 382, Dickinson 121, Earle 72, Glasgow 69, Groesbeck 339, Hamilton 139, Leland 66, Martindale 161, Mott, 213.

Lieutenant Governor

Seventeen out of 25 precincts: Read 920, Scully 395.

Representative

Twenty out of 25 precincts: Chew 506, Lewis 802, Robinson 373.

Judge of Probate

Twenty-one out of 25 precincts: Correll 1057, Fitch 859.

Antrim County

Unofficial figures from Antrim are as follows:

Governor, Campbell, 500 majority.

Lieut.-governor, Reed, 700 majority.

Senator, Smith, 1000 majority.

Representative, Meggison, 552 majority.

Judge of Probate, vote a tie, Harris and Bailey each receiving 1115 votes.

Clerk, Deevy, 870 majority.

Treasurer, Banowski, 82 majority.

Register of Deeds, Chas. Guile, 470 majority.

Prosecuting Attorney, Homer Wellman, 600 majority.

Emmet County

Latest available figures give the following results in Emmet county:

Governor, Campbell, 75 majority.

Lieut.-governor, Reed, estimated 2 to 1.

Representative, Sargent of Levering defeats A. L. Deull, third term, by 100 votes.

County Treasurer, Lewis White, 200 majority.

Sheriff, W. F. Purple, in three-cornered fight, wins by 150 majority.

Prosecuting attorney, C. J. Pailthorpe wins over Wade Smith by majority of 33.

Fair Expenses $7,000

This year's fair, including all expenses and premiums will cost upwards of seven thousand dollars. To make the fair worth while and the success it should be, requires the co-operation of every man woman and child in the county. The association feels that it is getting this co-operation. It hopes that every owner of articles which are meritorious will take the trouble to exhibit them at the fair, and that every person in the county will attend at least one day and one night of the fair.

TROPHY WINNERS BANQUETED AT INN

Plans Outlined for 1921 Regatta and Boat Racing

Trophy winners in the annual regatta of the Charlevoix Yacht Club, which so successfully closed Thursday evening, members of the various committees and other citizens interested, were royally entertained last Saturday evening at a seven o'clock dinner given by the management of The Inn.

About thirty were present, and the event was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. At the close of the dinner, J. L. Crane, acting as master of ceremonies, presented each of the winners with the trophies they had won.

A general discussion followed and plans outlined for the 1921 regatta. There was no lack of enthusiasm on the part of those present and all pledged themselves to lend their aid towards making this event one of the leading attractions of the resort season.

A rising vote of thanks was given A. I. Creamer, both for his efforts in behalf of the regatta, and for the hospitality shown.

Next season's regatta will exceed the one just past in every way. Interest in boating and sailing is on the increase and many new boats will be among the contestants next year.

TAG DAY RECEIPTS FOR HOSPITAL FUND

Over Thirty-Four Hundred Dollars Raised During Sale

Charlevoix citizens and summer residents responded liberally last Thursday in the "Tag Sale" for the benefit of the Charlevoix Hospital over $3,400 being raised.

The drive began early in the morning and lasted until late in the evening. People wearing tags were in evidence everywhere, and many bought time and time again.

The results of the sale was very gratifying to the hospital board, as this amount swells the maintenance fund to nearly $12,000 for the year. This of course includes returns for all benefits, drives, etc. used to raise funds for the cause.

CHEST CRUSHED BY SEPARATOR

HEAVY MACHINE RUNS OVER MATT ALLEN

Dies Within a Few Minutes From Terrible Injuries Received—Community Shocked

The entire community was shocked late Friday afternoon, when it became known that Matthias (Matt) Allen, a well known farmer of Eveline township, had met almost instant death by being run over by a heavy separator.

The terrible accident happened shortly after four o'clock Friday afternoon. Mr. Allen had hitched a team on the separator, which had been standing in the barn, and was about to draw it away, when the team became startled and started to run. Mr. Allen clung to the lines, but stumbled, and the rear wheel of the heavy machine passed over his chest, crushing the life out of him. He died within a minute after the accident happened.

The incline from the barn where the separator was stored was rather steep, and the sudden pull by the team, started it rather fast. Mr. Allen could have escaped probably with a broken leg or minor injuries had he dropped the lines, but did not do so and probably sacrificed his life by the effort he made to stop the frightened horses.

Mr. Allen was one of the best known farmers of this section. At the age of 14 he with his parents located at Potoskey. Two years later they settled near Charlevoix, where he has since resided. He was united in marriage October 1, 1894 to Miss Estella Miller of Ironton. To this union three children were born, Mrs. Charles Dean of Ironton, and Glenn and Gale, who live at home who with the mother, have the sympathy of the entire community in their hour of bereavement.

Deceased was a Macabee, a man always willing to work for the betterment of the community, and enjoyed the confidence of his neighbors and fellowmen. He was 51 years of age at the time of his death.

Funeral services were held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. Harold VanKirk, officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

Good Advice to Drivers

The two best ways to avoid automobile accidents are to be courteous on the road and confident in your driving ability. This formula for road-safety comes from Restus B. Parrish, motorcycle pathfinder of the Travel and Transport bureau of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company. He is well qualified to speak on the subject as he has traveled 100,000 miles during the past six years and has never had a serious accident.

Dance Postponed

The dance scheduled to take place at Ironton Grange Hall, Friday evening, September 3, has been postponed on account of the death of Matt Allen.—Adv. 351t.

EXHIBITS AT COUNTY FAIR

WILL BE IN ABUNDANCE THIS SEASON

Competition Between City Schools on the Increase—Liberal Premiums Are offered

With unusually good prospects for the largest farm crop in the history of Charlevoix county and the great interest being taken in the fair it is safe to predict that the Charlevoix County Fair will have all available space filled with exhibits at its coming fair.

Miss Mae Stewart, who has charge of the Educational building, has been at work since last fair time preparing for the 1920 school exhibits. The exhibits from the county school districts will be an unusually good one. This spring a series of township contests, to decide what schools in each township should send their work to the fair, were held in the various townships in the county, the school winning first prize being entitled to place its work on exhibition. This is a comparatively new plan and has worked out very successfully. Charlevoix county is the only county in the state whose fair takes the interest in and gives the encouragement to the schools of the county, and it is indeed a treat to be able to compare the works of the different schools in the county and see what excellent work is being done.

There is such keen competition between the different city schools of the county that the exhibits in this department are always of a very high class. A complete program of work to be done in the Educational department, during the fair will be printed later.

Since the Association adopted the plan of securing competent outside judges there has been a great deal of interest in the live stock departments and especially in the cattle department. This past year many registered cattle have been purchased in the county and will be entered in competition at the fair. This is especially true of the Short-Horn and Holstein cattle. The premium list has been revised and premiums doubled, and this is stimulating interest.

The fruit, grain and vegetable exhibits will be unusually good. Exhibitors who plan on making exhibits in these departments should get a copy of the premium list from the secretary and note carefully the changes which have been made. Besides increasing the premiums other changes have been made which will strengthen these departments. Premiums have also been doubled in the ladies' departments and that will no doubt increase the number of exhibits of fancy work, baked goods, and canned fruit and vegetables.

The poultry and rabbit exhibits will this year occupy the entire building which was formerly divided between poultry and boys and girls clubs. An expert from M. A. C. will judge the poultry. There are good prospects of several car-loads of poultry being shipped in from other counties which will greatly strengthen this department.

The Association is taking this opportunity to urge all the residents of Charlevoix county to take an intelligent interest in the county fair and to support it in every way possible. Farmers should be glad to put themselves to some trouble and expense in making exhibits for the opportunity which affords them having an expert pass upon the quality of their products and of being able to compare their crops and live stock with the crops and live stock of other farmers in the county.

BLACKBERRY CROP SAID TO BE LIGHT

But Black Bear Crop Largest in Experience of Geo. Cook

Phonetically it is not a far cry from black-bears to blackberries; in fact it requires but little slurring to make them sound alike, but pronounce them anyway you wish we have George Cook's word for it that there is this difference; and it is a big one: "You go after blackberries—black-bears go after you."

George with Charles Jefferies and Arthur Staley shook Charlevoix dust from their rear tires early Sunday morning heading for the old slushing around Alanson. The berry yield is not a heavy one this year and they had wandered some distance from each other when cries of "Jeff!" "Oh, Jeff!" boomed through the stillness, followed by a crashing of underbrush.

George soon came through, his complexion attesting the fact that an extraordinary experience had been his. While picking berries a large black-bear sniffed her way through the bushes. George started to run and the old bear after him. After taking a few jumps George looked behind and seeing he was gaining on bruin, thought he would shift to second speed as it would make the going easier and the distance was at that time strictly up to the bear. On looking back a second time he saw what would turn an ordinary man's hair—the bear was gaining. George opened up again with every jump registering nine feet and the bear soon gave up but had the satisfaction of seeing a new cross-country record hung up.

"Blackberries are light this year," is the verdict of the party and George ruminatively rubs his leg muscles and says, "Yes, berries are light this year but the bear crop is the biggest I ever saw."

TEACHERS SHOULD BE PRESENT

AT SPECIAL MEETINGS SOON TO BE HELD

County School Commissioner to Be Present and Lead in Discussions and Demonstrations

In order to begin the school year in the most efficient manner possible, putting the supplies in every teacher's hands, and at the same time explaining the use of any new material, the county commissioner of schools has called three teachers' meetings, and has asked every one of the rural school teachers to be present at least one of these meetings. The schedule is as follows:

Sept. 2—East Jordan Library Assembly Room, 9:00 Cen. standard time.

Sept. 2—Charlevoix High School assembly, 9:00 Cen. standard time.

Sept. 3—Boyer City Library Assembly Room, 9:00 Cen. standard time.

Meetings will be held both morning and afternoon and will consist of discussions, demonstrations, and instructions. This year every teacher will be asked to give some very new and interesting tests to her pupils at the very beginning of the school year, and to have reports of these tests made before September 30th, and before the first visit to her school by the county commissioner. She will be shown how to give these tests at each of the teachers' meetings on the above schedule. The dates are so arranged that in most cases it will come just before the opening of the school, but because a few schools are starting on August 30th, these teachers will need to (Continued on page ten.)

COUNTY FAIR NOTES

The Charlevoix County Nurseries will have an extensive exhibit of nursery stock at the Charlevoix County Fair. They having taken both a booth in the Floral Hall and a large space south of the Grand Stand. In the Floral Hall they will give away thousands of hydrangea blossoms to the patrons of the fair. And in the outside space will exhibit trees and shrubs all of which have stood two or more Charlevoix county winters.

The secretary is in receipt of numerous inquiries with reference to exhibit of live stock, especially registered cattle. And from the present out-look the association expects to be forced to use two buildings for the live stock exhibit. Premiums have been doubled in this department and that fact, together with the competent judging is bringing the best registered stock to the fair.

Owners of registered cattle to be exhibited at the fair should get in touch with the County Agent, Mr. Wing, in Boyne City, and make arrangements with him for having their cattle tested before bringing them to the fair. Many owners have done this already. While the association will have to keep the tested and untested cattle separate it cannot refuse to have untested cattle exhibited at the fair.

The secretary is in receipt of an assurance from the Northwestern shows that they will have their entire outfit here and ready for business at the opening of the fair. This means a high class merry-go-round, ferris wheel, and whip together with good tent shows and a number of concessions. The county fair will have the biggest midway this year that it has ever had.

Don't forget that the county fair has had one day added and that this year entry day is on Monday, September 13, with the fair proper starting on Tuesday, September 14. All exhibits, free attractions, music, horse racing, in fact every feature of the fair will be in place and doing business on Tuesday, September 14.

The association has provided an excellent program for three nights of fair. In addition to the six Morales, dancing in the Educational Building, a wonderful carnival midway, a good band and orchestra music. There will be each night a wonderful display of fire works. Such a display as is rarely seen outside of the big cities. This Carnival will greatly aid the night fair. This will be a fine opportunity to have a royally good time.

Charlevoix county is rapidly coming to the front as a potato county. Attention of growers of potatoes is called to the premiums offered in this class. Potatoes will be judged according to the score card printed in the premium list and the following premiums are offered:

Best peck of early Red, 1st premium $10.00; 2nd $5.00.

Best peck of early White, 1st premium $10.00; 2nd $5.00.

Best peck of Petoskey Golden Russett, 1st premium $10.00; 2nd $5.00.

Best peck of Round White Russett, 1st premium $10.00; 2nd $5.00.

The judge will be a man from out of the county who has had special training and experience along this line, and the winners in this class will have something to be proud of.

A mistake in the premium offered in division A, entry number 2 to nine inclusive was made when the premium list was printed. Premiums for these entry numbers should be doubled. A mistake was also made in class four, division B. The same premiums being offered in the class as are offered in the other classes of that division. Entry number 20-24 inclusive should be cut out.

Aviator Bishop will each afternoon give an exhibition flight in his aeroplane. He will also carry passengers throughout each day. While making his exhibition flights he will not carry passengers. In the exhibition flights will be included all known aeroplane stunts.

The association expects to have Congressman Frank Scott deliver an address on one day of the fair, the day will be announced later. Congressman Pat Kelly of Michigan and Congressman Fess of Ohio have been asked and it is expected that one of these men will give an address. Definite announcements will be made later.

Charlevoix county is undoubtedly the best county in northern Michigan from many standpoints and especially from an agricultural standpoint. This should be by far the best county fair. The officers and directors of the association are doing everything in their power to make this a fact.

MOTOR ACCIDENTS.

A citizen who has been driving a car for several years and has never had an accident explains his immunity by the fact that he "never takes chances or allows himself to get into a tight place." He attributes most of the accidents to a desire on the part of a certain type of driver to "show off" by cutting in and out of traffic. "Read the details of eight out of ten accidents," he says "and you will find they are due to these show-offs."

In the main, he is doubtless right. It is the "smart Alecks," actuated either by vanity or by an irrational mania for speed, who cause most of the smash-ups and who put careful drivers to a vast amount of trouble and annoyance on every highway. But this is not the whole story.

The man who tries to pass another car is not always a "show-off" or a speed maniac. He may really be in a hurry, and have a legitimate reason for passing the general stream of traffic. In collisions occurring in such cases, often it is the self-righteous, conservative driver who is the blame.

Law, like common sense, makes due provisions for one car passing another on the road. Often the slow-moving cars fails to do its part, ignoring the warning horn behind and keeping in the middle of the pavement when both law and courtesy require its driver to keep to the right and out of the way.

The excessively cautious citizen who will not move at the average traffic speed, but persists in dawdling along in everybody's way, may be just as much of a "road hog" and just as dangerous a driver as the reckless speeder. The safety and comfort of motoring in general depend on everybody not only obeying the traffic rules but keeping, as nearly as possible, at the average traffic speed, going neither faster nor slower than that speed except for special reason.

If you want to build up Charlevoix, boost for your neighbors who are in business here, trade with your neighbor if he has anything you need. Help him build up his business and he in turn will help you build up yours. Use your hammer to build something worth while, throw your Sears, Roebuck catalog in the fire, and boost for all the enterprises in your own town. Then watch it grow and know that you have helped to make it grow.

Are you conserving your time and taking care of every moment in some useful way, either in doing some useful work or in taking some needed and healthful recreation, or are you idling your time away by fooling around with no settled purpose and no outlook, content to let each day take care of itself? If you are pursuing the latter course, don't blame fate, fifty years from now, because you never accomplished anything worth while.

The world has little or no use for the idler, the spendthrift, the pessimist, the grafter. In spite of that, however, it seems to be in a position where it has to put up with some of each breed. What a pity that Mother Nature has not devised some quicker process of self elimination of such undesirables.

AT THE MOVIES

May Tully's well known stage farce, "Mary's Ankle," has been adapted into what is claimed to be a hilariously funny Thomas H. Ince motion picture and will be shown at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday afternoon, with Douglas MacLean and Doris May as the co-stars. These young people have already made a name for themselves in "Twenty-Three and a Half Hours' Leave" said by many to be the best comedy picture of the season.

"Mary's Ankle" is about a doctor without funds and patents who was persuaded by friends to announce his marriage in order to collect a fortune from a rich uncle. When the uncle announces his coming, the youth is unable to produce the bride. But fate causes a pretty girl to sprain her ankle in front of his office, and then the fun commences.

Mr. MacLean and Miss May are noted for the youth and vivacity that they inject into their work, and "Mary's Ankle" is said to provide an excellent vehicle. Victor Potel, Neal Burns, James Gordon, Lizette Thorne and Ida Lewis are included in the supporting cast. Lloyd Ingraham directed the picture, which is a Paramount-Artcraft, and Luther B. Reed furnished the scenario.

CO-OPERATIVE HOUSES ON BUSINESS LINES

Quite Necessary to Secure the Greatest Results.

Experts of Bureau of Markets Cite Two Instances to Substantiate Assertion That Each Member Must Be on Equal Footing

To secure the greatest results, co-operative marketing enterprises must be organized and operated along sound business lines, say experts of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, who cite two instances to prove their point.

A sweet potato co-operative marketing association was formed in a New Mexico county that boasted of seven sweet potato warehouses. Six of these warehouses were ignored in organizing the association. The owner of the seventh warehouse was permitted to hold 51 per cent of the stock. With such a monopoly, this gentleman was able to control the business of the association, with the result that all the sweet potatoes were stored in his warehouse, and the other warehousemen faced the threat of being driven out of business. However, the seventh warehouse owner was finally made to see the error of his ways and through the assistance of the field marketing agent of the United States department of agriculture the association has been reorganized upon a truly co-operative basis.

In the adjoining county were two men who had made a considerable fortune in sweet potatoes, largely through their ability to store their potatoes in their own warehouses. The other sweet potato growers were able barely to eke out a small profit, because they were compelled to sell their produce immediately. The two warehousemen finally were prevailed upon to interest themselves in the formation of a co-operative association. The association was thereby enabled to negotiate a loan from the bank for the construction of a warehouse to take care of the pooled produce. This was such an encouragement to the farmers that it was soon necessary to construct another building because of a considerable increase in crops.

The two leading sweet potato men in this association did not hold a majority of the stock. The organization is a co-operative one in the full meaning of the word. Each member is on an equal footing with every other member. At a recent meeting of the association it was announced that through the combined efforts of the farmers $40,000 in additional profits has been secured, with all the seed sweet potatoes yet to be sold.

Pronunciation of Z.

The pronunciation of the letter Z as zee is an Americanism. The English pronunciation is zed, from the Old French zede, which in turn is derived from the Latin zeta, the name of the sixth letter of the Greek alphabet, corresponding to the English zed. Shakespeare in King Lear, act II, scene 2, gives the English pronunciation, which is still in vogue: "Zed! thou unnecessary letter."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

"M. L. V."

By JANE OSBORN

(C. 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Hezekiah Weiss thought of her simply as M. L. V. He didn't even conjecture as to whether the M. stood for Margaret or Mary or Mariel or Madge; for Hezekiah was not of the imaginative or speculative sort. Perhaps that is why he made such a good salesman for the business which it had pleased Providence to hand down to him along with his Biblical name from his grandfather.

He had seen her slight from a taxicab one afternoon when he was leaving a certain mid-Western town to come East. A porter followed her—in fact, two porters followed her, each one carrying an assortment of very well-built luggage.

Hezekiah saw her established in a chair in the very Pullman car in which he had engaged a berth, and then paid the car porter to have his berth, which was at the end, changed so that he might sit nearer the charming M. L. V. Those were the letters on the well-built luggage that was stowed away beside her chair by the station porter.

When their ways parted six hours later Hezekiah had failed to find the opportunity to speak to M. L. V. that he had hoped might arise. Just before leaving the Pullman at his station he sought the porter.

Made Hezekiah Feel Entirely Welcome

"The young lady travels with a good deal of luggage," he said. "Is she an actress?"

"No, indeed," drawled the porter. "She is an actress; she some rich young lady travels for her own amusement."

Hezekiah, a few months later, boarded a Pullman at the same mid-Western town, making a run toward the West. And there was M. L. V.—as crisply, daintily, demurely lovely as ever.

Hezekiah had thought he liked fair or red-haired girls, and that he admired the husky type. M. L. V. was of the slight, dark type. You might have called her Japanese, because her eyes were a little almond-shaped and her complexion was clear and pale, and her hair was smooth and dark. Straightway Hezekiah revised all his former meditations on the subject of his ideal.

Hezekiah felt dejected. He was quite sure that he would have to make M. L. V.'s acquaintance some time, some way.

But if she were a young woman of wealth—and she was obviously a person of much education, for she had been reading "Rabbinism in America" before—and now she was deep in a French book, even the name of which was too much for Hezekiah—what show had he? For the first time Hezekiah felt contempt for the business that his grandfather had bequeathed upon him.

She would no doubt like him better if he were a doctor or a lawyer or a college professor. He thought for a moment, not rapidly but intently. Hezekiah seldom came to quick conclusions, but he usually came to wise ones.

In business he had the reputation of being as slow as any man in the field, and as sure. It was the sort of slowness that fascinates you with its security and stability.

When Hezekiah had come to this conclusion on this occasion he summoned the porter to him, and covertly handed him a dollar. "See here, Rastus," he said. "I want you to forget that I'm a drummer. I want you to call me 'professor.' I've a special reason for wanting that little lady over there to think I'm a professor. Understand?"

And then, as he noticed that the little lady was glancing at him from beneath heavily shaded eyes he said aloud:

"Rastus, be sure and get me the Atlantic Monthly at the next stop." "Yes, professor," said Rastus, "and if I see those Harvard professors in the next car—lookin' for you again, professor, I'll just tell them you are in."

Then Hezekiah, taking care that the next chair shielded him from the gaze of M. L. V., opened his paper, chiefly noted for its sporting news, and turned to the "dope sheet." But even this failed to absorb his attention. He was trying to evolve a scheme whereby he might engage the charming M. L. V. in conversation.

Not long after M. L. V. arose as if bent on going to the dining car for dinner, and Hezekiah followed. At the door of the car he waited while M. L. V. seated herself at one of the only those tables that were vacant.

Hezekiah beckoned the head waiter to him and slipped in the palm of his hand enough silver to win his allegiance. There were a few words in an undertone, and then Hezekiah followed the waiter down the aisle.

"I'm sorry, sir—professor, but these two vacant tables are, so to speak, reserved, and the other table wouldn't be safe. There is something the matter with the chairs there. I wouldn't hardly want you to sit there; so since you are in such a hurry, professor, I am going to ask this lady here if she will let you sit at her table. Thank you, ma'am." And M. L. V., with a gracious smile made Hezekiah feel that he was entirely welcome.

There seemed to be no awkward hitch in what followed. Hezekiah accompanied M. L. V. back to the car where their chairs were located, and instead of sitting in his own chair, he took one that belonged to a passenger who had abandoned his in favor of the smoker.

They talked about all sorts of things, but Hezekiah did not mention his work as professor nor his university interests, nor did M. L. V. say anything that would indicate undue pride in her social position.

Yet he had the vision of the array of hat boxes before him and the other phases of smart luggage. He recalled that his sister, who was looked upon as extremely extravagant, never had but two trunks and one hatbox in her travels. Her dressmaker's bills had been the despair of his tight-fisted grandfather. How huge would a man's income have to be, he asked himself, to justify him in asking a girl who had all that luggage to marry him?

Unintentionally Hezekiah mentioned that he was, after a night and a day in the next town, going to make his way on to the East. M. L. V. blushed and said that her plans were the same. So they met and they became as intimate as it is possible for two people who have no real knowledge of each other's identity to become.

And of course the psychological moment came. That is, it was the moment when, according to Hezekiah, he could no longer endure the suspense of not knowing whether the charming M. L. V. returned in a measure the regard that he was showering upon her.

It was on their third trip together. They had met without either knowing that the other was to continue traveling eastward, and Hezekiah, for his part, explained away any suspicions that might have made M. L. V. suspect that he was in reality so low-brow as to be a traveling salesman by saying that he was out on a visit to some college professors on some important commission for his university.

The "college professors" in question were hardware dealers and his "university" was the wash-bottle factory established by his grandfather.

Hezekiah had not thought out just what he would say by way of making the final explanation; he had decided that he would have to know whether M. L. V. cared for him. If she did, perhaps she would care enough to forgive his deceit. If she did not—well, then, he would never have to explain, and she would go on thinking of him as a very learned individual.

When he told her of his regard—they were going at the rate of sixty miles an hour over a smooth stretch of rail—she turned perceptibly paler. He had said: "I know from the first that you had all sorts of money—and that you were high in society. I saw the trunks, I remember, and I thought that my sister, whom I had thought had all the clothes any woman could want, never had a quarter as much baggage—I know all that, and yet I am having the nerve to ask you to think of me as a possible husband."

Then it was that M. L. V. blushed. "Please, don't ask me why. But I would rather never let our—my friendship go any further. If I do you will hate me."

Hezekiah bowed across the gap that persisted between their Pullman chairs. "I could never hate you, little girl," he said, and there was a warmth in his voice that surprised even himself.

"Well, then, I'll tell you. You'll see how you and I could never—never go any further. I have never had much of an education and you are so learned. I've read what good books I could, and all that, but it isn't the same. And then, you see, I'm a traveling salesman. I sell hats for a big New York milliner; those are the boxes of sample hats that you saw."

Is Instinct Lower Gift?

We are accustomed, perhaps, to regard instinct as one of the lower gifts, yet from it spring some of the most beautiful things in life. A "veteran"—although he was only 30 years old—just back from France, was pacing a piazza on the third floor of his home, with a little child in his arms. The child made a sudden motion, and to keep his hold upon it the man leaped forward, but his balance and pitched headlong over the railing to a concrete sidewalk fifty feet below. He was dead when they found him, but as he fell he had so folded the child in his arms that it was not even bruised. It was not his child, but his sister's; but doubtless his arms would have closed just as firmly around the child of his worst enemy. What is it that looks at him? Something stronger than life, certainly.—Youth's Companion.

OLD MAN WISE SAYS:

A man's job is just as big as his head makes it—and no bigger.

No worker can keep even with you if you work faster than he does.

The man who thinks he is down-trodden is the man willing to be stepped on.

Some heads are used to help out the hat makers. Others are used to think with.

If a newsboy became bank president in twenty years, what can you do in the same time?

The wisest talks about the accidents of birth. The door refuses to get into the accident list.

The fellow who never went out to land a better job has never been sighted coming back with one.

Don't waste money because you have it, and then you will have money when you want to spend it.

The man who lets others do his thinking for him has no right to tell you how this world should be run.

The man who wastes all his spare time in the man who has the most time to tell you that no man has a chance any more.

If the rules of the company annoy you, just figure out that if there were no rules there would be no company for you to work for.

If you are where you were when you started and the company has grown, then there doesn't seem to be anything wrong with the company.

WALLOPED THE ATWOOD BUNCH

ELLSWORTH HAS SWEET REVENGE FOR DRUBBING

Taka Atwood Slab Artists Into Camp by Score of 17-6—Game a Scram

Just to prove that the seance of August 21, was a horrible mistake, the Ellsworth base ball team went to Atwood last Friday and walloped the Atwood bunch by the top-heavy score of 17-6, regained the lost uniforms and incidentally annexed the Atwood players' Sox, shoes and pocket books, and just to make the day end perfectly, roped and hog-tied Mike Richardson's goat and brought it home.

Russ Alward was the pitching choice for Atwood and lasted quick, eight hits and a base on balls in the fourth inning changing "Neg" from a cheery whistling youth into an old, old man, and giving Norm Arnold a chance to demonstrate his ability as a pill shooter. Either Norm had something on the ball or else the Ellsworth team were tired of scoring, for from the time of his entry into the game, but one run crossed the pan, that one being scored by Jack Parsons, in the eighth inning.

Shaffer did the pitching for Ellsworth and had a majority of the old-timers rolling over and playing dead during the entire game. He allowed seven hits, scattered, and sent fifteen back to the water pail by the strike-out route, in addition to getting two clean hits himself.

The game by innings: First, inning: Ellsworth—Nelson beat out a slow roller towards third base and immediately stole. Patterson singled to right, Nelson stopping at third. Elzinga waited for four wide ones, filling the bases. Peebles hit to short, scoring Nelson, but Patterson was out at third. Bearss doubled to right, scoring Elzinga and Peebles. Wilson was out to first, but Parsons single scored Bearss, Parsons out stealing, Richardson to J. Parsons. Four runs, four hits.

Nelson scoring. Patterson hit one to short too hot for Coeling to handle and Schaffer scored. Patterson stole second and third and on H. Elzinga's fly to left, scored after the catch. Peebles out short to first. Three hits, three runs.

Atwood: Coeling tripled to left. H. Boss fanned. Arnold out on fly to left. J. Boss hit down the first base line was safe, Coeling scoring. Supernaw fanned. Two hits, one run.

Happy Old Age

Of course youth is the great time for happiness, but old age has its compensations, too, provided age represents the declining years of a well-spent life.

But to be happy in old age there must be a good competence secured during the productive years of life. We all must grow old. There is no avoiding it, but there is a way of avoiding a penniless, poverty-stricken old age. That's why we urge people to start a savings account which will be a friend in need as you travel along, and a great comforter during your declining years.

"The Cummins-Esch Bill"

A good deal of political dishonesty is noticeable in the campaign, in which Congressman who voted for the passage of the Cummins-Esch railroad law are pictured as having betrayed the people. It is not strange that all the wild-eyed radicals who have stood for government ownership, bolshevism and socialism, should be found opposing congressmen on this ground, but it is manifestly unfair that attempts should be made to influence sane voters by misrepresenting the transportation act. The Cummins-Esch measure was as necessary to the welfare of the country as the appropriation bills for the maintenance of the postal service, the agricultural department, road-construction, and the maintenance of all the regular functions of the federal government.

While the European war was going on, and before it looked as though we would be compelled to enter it, the President urged Congress in his messages to devise legislation to strengthen government control of the transportation system. The Newlands' Commission was created and it consisted of representatives from the Senate and the House of Representatives. Hearings were held and every interest in the country sent delegates to Washington. The disturbing conditions of our entry into the war prevented the contemplated railroad legislation. It became necessary for the government to take over the railroads and operate them throughout the war. Had the Newlands' Commission been organized a year earlier it would likely have framed legislation that would have made the government operation of the roads unnecessary. When the war closed chaos was rampant, and the government found itself running the lines at a tremendous loss, which could only be made good by taxation imposed upon the country.

At this point the President again appealed to congress, and both houses held extensive hearings. It seemed as though everyone in the country who ever had anything to do with a railroad appeared in Washington to tell the Cummins committee of the Senate and the Esch committee of the House how to solve the transportation problem. After months of the most intensive study of the situation by practically every Democratic and Republican members of the two Houses the necessary law restoring the lines to their owners was finally passed. The prevailing spirit in congress all the way through was to prevent the railroads from "getting more than was right," while protecting at the same time every interest of the people of the country against the surrender of any principle, particularly with regard to the recognized right of the government to exercise full control over the transportation system of the country. The final measure, as passed, contained exactly two guarantees: One a guaranty that the owners of railroads should for a period of six months receive a minimum return equal to the amounts they received during federal control, and the other a guaranty that the employees of the roads should for a like period receive a minimum wage equal to that which they received under federal control. Who could honestly object to such an arrangement? The guarantees were, necessarily backed by resource to taxation.

It was left to the Interstate Commerce commission and the Railroad Labor Board, both official bodies, to figure out what the amounts of operating the railroads under the methods of government control amounted to, and what the amount of wages should be to give full compensation to railroad operatives. This has been done, and by and with the help of the State Railroad Commissions the permanent railroad plan is being put into operation. Direct taxation of the taxpayer will be discontinued, and the rates have been readjusted in such a way as to make the transportation system of the country self-supporting, like any other legitimate business.

The whole proceeding has been one commending itself as the most efficient and constructive legislation known in many years. Every man in congress who helped to put this legislation through is entitled to praise for the achievement, and nothing but ignorance or dishonesty can hold Cummins-Esch act to the public view in any other light.

The American Melting Pot

When the war broke out the American people became suddenly aware of the fact that a great deal of undesirable immigration had been permitted. Fortunately a lot of bad eggs who liked the big game of gun-play went back to their native lands, where many of them became real heroes in the fight.

Immigration figures show that Italian and Polish reservists are returning to this country in large numbers. One steamship recently brought 665 immigrants from Portugal. Certain editorial writers have attempted to point out that the high steamship fares and the high wages paid to skilled workmen are producing a better class of immigrants than in the pre-war days. Just what the National Americanization Commission will say about this claim is uncertain, but there are all who will hope that the melting pot is actually getting a better supply than in the past.

Of a sudden the United States Immigration Service has become a very important piece of government machinery. Its functions under direction of the Department of Labor, and assistant secretary Post, who is the energetic head of many of the department's activities, has ordered a reorganization of the service, following an investigation, which he says disclosed conditions indicating "utter disorganization."

Mr. Post and Commissioner Caminetti looked horns months ago, and the latter's orders deporting so-called "reds" was set aside by Post, who thereafter faced a congressional investigation and got into a good-sized row with Attorney General Palmer. For a while Post was the "storm-center," and then the clouds cleared away and the sun began to shine again.

Evidently the Department of Labor proposes to enforce a rigid system in handling immigration in the future, and the shake-up of Mr. Caminetti's bureau is no doubt intended to prevent the unassorted hoi polloi and the dregs of Europe walking unchallenged through the gates at Ellis Island in the future years. Desirable immigrants will doubtless be welcomed in America, as in past years. So many mechanics are busy mending automobiles and repairing tires that the other useful occupations are suffering a shortage of "common labor" that can very well be replenished by a fresh bunch of immigrants that are still willing to do menial labor needed by the country. In consequence all well-wishers of America and Americanization will say god-speed to every effort made to put the government immigration work on an efficient basis.

Preaching and Practice

It is related that the dry goods merchants gathered in large numbers at one of their association meetings recently held in New York, and they "resolved" that they would purchase at once twenty-five per cent of the goods required to cover their fall business. But after the "preaching" was all over, and even before the "whereases" and the "resolves" grew cold, the merchants went home without having individually executed actual orders.

This is a concrete illustration of conditions that manufacturers are compelled to face. Is it any wonder that they are showing timidity about production?

In May last, consumers everywhere and as though by common consent ceased to make purchases on the same liberal scale as previously. Why this movement took this form at this particular time rather than another is difficult to say. The forces that govern such mass action afford an interesting subject for psychological study, but its effects rather than its causes are the matter of chief practical concern.

The recession in demand has made itself felt in practically all lines of business. Not only luxuries but such necessities as clothing, materials of manufacture and, finally, food commodities were affected in turn. Wages have not been materially influenced and in some lines, such as transportation and construction, have recorded further advances. This is in line with usual course of events in a declining market. Reduction of wages are resisted to the last possible moment and usually occur only after unemployment has become extensive. Judged by past experience of similar conditions, the present situation bears all the evidence of a genuine movement toward a deflation of values.

close their schools in order to attend the meeting. These meetings are therefore declared County Institutes and the teachers are expected to draw their salary while in attendance at such meetings.

Institute fees for the year will be paid and certificates filed. The help extended at these meetings cannot be gained by correspondence at a later date and no teacher can afford not to be present at the meetings.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Nearly all those cities and towns which appear in the census reports with a smaller population than they had ten years ago, claim the falling off due to the careless work of the enumerators who missed a great number of the citizens. But, granting that they missed some isn't the mistake evened up by the great number they were accused of missing in the census ten years ago? Schl

The Simpson livery barn, and the Max Levine junk shop in Cheboygan were destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning of last week, causing a loss of about $20,000, with only partial insurance. Fire started in the hay loft of the livery which has been operated under the management of John Mushlock. The barn building was owned by a Mackinac Island resident and the loss on this building is reported at about $2,500, and the loss at the junk shop at about $15,000.

An Olivet man suffered on infection of the eye, due to a hit of sawdust, says a news note. But why mention one isolated case when sawdust has caused eye trouble for so many men, since they began putting it into silk stockings?

A Lapeer county calf, born without front legs, has learned to walk on its two hind ones, and is being exhibited as a curiosity from town to town in a tent. But pshaw that's nothing. Since prohibition lots of men have learned to do as well.

Michigan orchards this year will produce 2,000,000 barrels of apples, or double the 1919 yield, says R. L. Taft, state inspector of orchards. Hence, we can now estimate that, if the transportation agencies remain as they were in 1919, there will be only about 1,500,000 barrels which can't be hauled to the consumer and will go to waste.

Frank Greenwood, a Dunningville farmer, says he climbed into the top of an apple tree to destroy what he thought was a crow's nest, and found it was hen's nest, to which his hens ascended every day to do their laying. This is probably what comes of hatching chicks from eggs when the eggs are away up at 80 cents a dozen.

The state public domain commission in its plan for development of forestry in Bliss and Carp Lake township, Emmet county expects to lumber off about 80 per cent of the present growth and replace with spruce, white and norway pine, and establish a station and a fire outlook at Mt. Hebo, says a Carp Lake item.

The Carpenter mill at Topinahee, which has been idle for the past three years, has been sold to L. J. LeBelle, who will remove it to Detroit. Schwartz Bros. & Co. have their men at work taking it down, and Mr. LaBelle expects to have it in operation at Detroit in six weeks. It is a circular mill with steam feed and a capacity of 25,000 feet of lumber per day.—Cheboygan Tribune.

SCHOOL OPENS NEXT MONDAY

MATTERS THAT SHOULD BE KEPT IN MIND

Success of Schools Depends on Co-Operation Between Parents, Pupils and Teaching Staff

The public school opens next Monday. It is an event of the uttermost importance because it concerns most vitally the welfare of the whole community not only now but in the years to come. The education of the youth of the land for the duties of manhood and womanhood is the most important business we have on hand. There is great unrest and a great deal of pessimism with regard to the future of our country and that makes it absolutely imperative that the boys and girls shall learn the lessons of good citizenship. The school is our one democratic institution of equal interest and importance to rich and poor, high and low. It is supported at public expense, conducted for the public good and has for its main object the turning out of American citizens.

Looking at the school from the financial standpoint, no accurate estimate of its value can be made because the standard of American citizenship is not measured in dollars and cents. It is measured in terms of honesty, thrift, industry, right living, clean manhood and pure womanhood, and money does not buy these things. They are the result of training such as the school can give. However it brings us in closer personal touch to know that the investment in school property and equipment is nearly a quarter of a million dollars and that every man, woman and child is interested in the movement.

Last year the expense of operating the school as shown by the annual report was $71,230.92 and the estimated cost for the ensuing year is $75,000.00. This is a lot of money but it is spent for the common good, and whether or not we get value received depends upon our own attitude towards the school. We can only get good results by realizing our personal interest in connection with the public good and giving our whole hearted co-operation. The school board and the faculty are public servants and all are anxious for the best possible results. The faculty consists of twenty-four people, educated and trained in their work and anxious for the welfare of the children under their charge, but their interest should be only slight when compared with the patrons, whose children are being educated, and whose good hard cash is being expended.

There are some things that we should keep clearly in mind with regard to school work and probably one of the most important of these is that attendance should be regular, consecutive and prompt. In a large institution like the school it is necessary that there be certain rules and regulations, that there be a regular course, and that the plans shall be made ahead for the whole year, and even for the entire course. Any interference with these plans on the part of a few has a tendency to disarrange the whole system and spoil the work for all. Parents should therefore see to it that their children go to school every day, that they are there on time, and they should also encourage them to keep their studies up to standard. The mind must be fed regularly, as well as the body, if it is going to develop to its greatest possibility.

Possibly the most important thing to be said about the opening of school is to urge the cooperation of patrons and faculty. It is a foregone conclusion that differences will arise, that questions of discipline will come up, that there will be misunderstandings. But all these things can and should be adjusted through co-operation. The place to settle school questions is at the school building in consultation with the school authorities and not on the street corners or in the harbor shops.

Parents should always keep in mind the fact that their children are in school for a specific purpose, and that they should be making progress toward the goal of good citizenship and upright manhood and womanhood. If they are not doing well in their work, the facts should be ascertained and steps taken to get results.

Let's keep in mind that education is the bulwark of the nation and that we can get the best results only by co-operation, and let's make this the best educational year Charlevoix has ever seen.

ATTEND FAIR RAIN OR SHINE

1920 FAIR WILL COST NOT LESS THAN $7,000

Building Capacity on Grounds Sufficient to Accommodate Over 3,000 People

The Charlevoix County Fair Association has this year gone to great expense in providing the best fair that it has ever held. During the past thirty-six years this Association has always put on a good fair, but the fair of other years will fade into insignificance in comparison with the 1920 fair.

This class of 1920 fair will cost not less than $7,000. In order for the Association to come out on the right end it will be necessary that providence give it five good days. If weather is good, there is no question but that the people of the entire northern Michigan district will flock to the fair. If the weather is bad, there is a question whether the people will come, and that question will have to be answered by each individual.

While the Association is not planning for bad weather, yet in case the week of September 13 should prove to be such a week, the Association wishes to make an appeal to the people of this district to come to the fair, anyway. The Association has building capacity on the grounds sufficient to accommodate at least 3000 people. The exhibits in the exhibition buildings alone are well worth the price of admittance. You would willingly pay fifty cents to see more than 100 head of the best registered cattle in Charlevoix county, or a building filled with the best exhibits from the rural schools and of the three city schools, or a large building filled with the best farm products and fruit raised in Charlevoix county, together with a large exhibit of fancy work, canned fruit and vegetables, butter and baked goods. You can see all these for 50 cents and many more besides.

We have not mentioned anything about the poultry exhibits, horse exhibits, sheep exhibits, or swine exhibits, Fischer's Orchestra, Band music, the six Marvelous Morales, Aviator Bishop in exhibition flights in his aeroplane and the merry-go-round, whip, ferris wheel, shows, other concessions on the midway, manufacturers display, merchants' display or several hundred other things of interest which can be seen at the fair. If it is a bright sunny day we know you will be there. If it is a rainy day come anyway and get your money's worth.

Monday September 13, is the date when J. Leahy the Optometrist will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Headache, dizziness, and all other symptoms of eyestrain cured, glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 3522.

DORR D. BEUELL DIED LAST TUESDAY

Michigan Farmers Have Lost One of Their Best Friends

Michigan farmers have lost one of their best friends, Dor D. Buell, of Cadillac, Michigan, died in Lansing last Tuesday, after an illness of several weeks.

Since 1906, when he entered business for himself, Buell had been actively engaged in work to make Michigan agricultural more prosperous. It was largely through his efforts as first president and general manager, that the Cadillac Potato Growers' Exchange developed into one of the most efficient cooperative marketing institutions in the country, serving hundreds of farmers. It was largely through his endeavors that the marketing department of the Michigan State Farm Bureau has developed into an agency that is filling a marketing void for thousands of other farmers in the state.

At no time in recent years has any movement worthwhile for Michigan agricultural interests developed that Buell did not take a leadership. "When Dor Buell died, Michigan's farmers lost more than can be realized," C. A. Bingham, secretary of the state farm bureau, said. "Buell's work was like himself—unassuming and unostentatious. Personal glory or credit meant nothing to him. His big purpose in life was service and he had virtually dedicated his life to the welfare of his fellow farmers. He will be missed."

Buell was born in 1882 on a farm near Union City that his grandfather secured from the government on a grant in 1836. After completing his education, he located in Elmira, Michigan, where he established successfully a private bank. His farm near Elmira was well known as a source of seed potatoes and pure bred stock. He served as supervisor several years and was a school board member ten years. It was in 1918 that the organization of the Potato Growers' exchange required his able services and this spring that he began the building of the marketing department of the Michigan State Farm Bureau.

APPRAISE LOCAL PHONE PROPERTY

PARTY OF TELEPHONE ENGINEERS REACHES CITY

Company Applies for Increased Rates and to Decide Question By Securing Data

A party of telephone engineers in the employ of the Michigan public utilities commission has just started an inventory of the local property of the Michigan State Telephone company. The work here in Charlevoix is a part of the state-wide appraisal of property of the telephone company which is being made under an order of the Michigan utilities commission issued last November.

The party which is taking the inventory locally is in charge of F. W. Reilly, who has had very valuable experience both in practical telephone work and in the appraisal of telephone properties in this and other states.

"The order for this appraisal was issued," says Mr. Reilly, "as a result of the telephone company's application for permission to increase its service rates and to issue further securities to care for needed plant extensions. In making these applications the telephone company requested that the Michigan public utilities commission make such investigation as would be necessary in arriving at a proper decision.

"Several parties are out through this section of the state inventorying farm and toll lines. My own work consists of inventorying the telephone property within the city limits. This includes poles, wire, underground conduit, all kinds of cable, and sub-station apparatus which really is the technical name for what the layman calls simply a 'telephone'.

"We have to examine a great many of these telephone instruments together with the associated equipment, and to do so it will be necessary of course to go into many of the homes in this city. We wish this phase of our work explained to the public, so that they may understand what we are, and what we want, when we come to call. In spite of the fact that all of the men are provided with credentials from the Michigan public utilities commission, we have been mistaken for everything from Bolsheviks to census enumerators; but then, there are as many kinds of troubles as there are jobs, and we have little cause for complaint for the co-operation we are receiving from the public."

OVERLAND CAR HITS FARM WAGON

Tears Off Rear Wheel and Overturns in Ditch

Few if any will be as fortunate in escaping injury or instant death as did the three young men who were in a big Overland car, running at high speed, which overturned on the Petoskey road, near the Pere Marquette crossing just north of the city, Monday afternoon.

The car was owned by L. Mason of Boyne City and contained two men besides the driver. They were coming down the grade west and ran into the rear of a wagon, loaded with wood, driven by Frank Hyke. Reports say they were driving at high speed and upon approaching the wagon, the car began to slew, hit the wagon, and ran into the ditch, landing upside down. The occupants jumped, probably saving their lives. The car was badly damaged and the accident may result in more careful driving by the occupants in the future.

HAMPTON LEAVES FOR ANN ARBOR

Will Move Office and Locate There Permanently

Charlevoix people will greatly regret to learn of the intended removal of Will E. Hampton, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal of the state lodge Knights of Pythias of Michigan, and one of our leading and progressive citizens, on or about the first of October.

The move is made owing to the death of Mrs. Hampton and the three boys being located from the city, the youngest son, William Jr., being a student at the U. of M., thus bringing father and son together at that point.

During his residence in Charlevoix, Will E. Hampton has always taken an active part in city affairs and is looked upon as one of the most progressive and able men of this territory.

He located in Charlevoix in the spring of 1890, assuming the management of what is now the Charlevoix Courier, then owned by his brother, Charles H. Hampton. In 1894 he purchased the Courier and continued as its owner until sold to the present owners in the fall of 1907.

He was postmaster during the years 1893-7 and served two years as mayor at a later date. He has filled other important city offices during his residence here and in his removal, Charlevoix loses a citizen whose place will be hard to fill. The best wishes of our citizenry go with him.

RESTAURANTS GET BIG FOOD PROFITS

EGGS $1.50 A DOZEN, POTATOES
$28.80 A BUSHEL

Detroit Journal Obtains Figures on Gains Made by Proprietors in Michigan, Metropolis

Eggs—$1.50 per dozen.
Sweet corn—$1.20 per dozen.
Cantaloupes—30 cents each.
Fried Cakes—60 cents per dozen.
Potatoes—$28.80 per bushel.
Coffee (fair grade)—$1.50 per lb.
Bread (24 ounces)—34 cents per loaf.

Rib roast—$1.60 per pound.
Pork loin—$2.00 per pound.
These are food prices thousands of Detroiters are actually paying in restaurants, according to the Detroit Journal.

While a test case against the fair price commission hangs fire in the Supreme court, restaurateurs continue to wax fat under prices which rival those of European nations where money values have sunk to unheard of low levels.

Investigation discloses that restaurants in Detroit are charging as much as 1,500 per cent more for staple food stuffs than their cost in the market, while increases of 300 to 700 per cent between market and diner are common.

Prices at which the more common of these articles are sold in many Detroit restaurants are those tabulated above. Despite the report of the federal reserve board and other government agencies that since February there has been a marked lowering of prices on foodstuffs generally throughout the United States, restaurant proprietors appear not to have realized it.

They maintain that with gross profits ranging from 200 to 2,000 per cent, "overhead" absorbs all but a "fair" net profit.

LEWIS PURCHASES VANPELT PROPERTY

Deal Includes Postoffice, Levinson Store and Courier Buildings

A real estate deal of considerable importance, which has been hanging fire for some time, was closed last week when Rollie L. Lewis became owner of what is known as the VanPelt property, consisting of the post-office building, store occupied by M. A. Levinson & Co., the building now occupied by the Charlevoix Courier and the former Courier building, occupied by Loren A. Hart.

The property is well located on Bridge street or adjacent thereto, and are modern, well built buildings. Mr. Lewis took possession September 1st.

Use a Fairbanks-Morse gas engine to pump the water for that herd of stock. Saves time and worry. We have them in all sizes. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 2916.

INN CLOSES ON SEPTEMBER 10

House Filled to Capacity Throughout Season

The Inn, under the efficient management of A. I. Creamer and staff, closed its 1920 season Friday morning after the morning meal has been served.

During the past week guests have been leaving rapidly, not only at this popular hostelry, but others in the city, and with the end of the present week, the season will be about closed at the larger hotels.

The Inn has enjoyed a wonderful season this year, more guests being in the house at one time than during any year since it opened. The month of July was better than years, with August following, the house being filled to capacity.

When in need of packing, and farm belting, see Benj. Brown.—Adv. 2916.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3, 30 x 3½ and 31 x 4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure
Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $23.50

30 x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.50

George Wilson, formerly of Williamsburg, who was arrested last week at Traverse City charged with stealing 18,000 cigarettes from a Pennsylvania freight car, is now charged with having the best equipped still ever found in the Grand Traverse region. The plant was found by the officials in the rear of an Alden barber shop, set up and ready for operation in making the "moonshine" product.

The Lapeer Gas Electric Co., advertises: "Attention, automobile drivers should be careful not run into the boulevard lighting posts, as you are liable to put the whole system out of commission. The posts and globes are hard to obtain and expensive." It certainly does seem that after a polite appeal like this drivers would be willing, for sake of the common good, to forgo some of their own pleasures.

Having read the report of that western Michigan man who dug 3 potatoes from one hill, a Grand Traverse county man reports that he has just dug one of his smaller hills—it had died off early from the blight—but he don't know how much he will get for it, yet, as all his tractors are busy on the farm, and he can't spare one to haul it to town.

An Alpena doughboy brought back from Europe some potatoes which he planted near a patch of American potatoes, and while the latter have been badly damaged by bugs the tops of the European vegetables still grow high and green and are absolutely bugless, it is said. The bugs are thoroughly patriotic, and have declared a perpetual boycott on foreign goods, following the example of certain other bugs.

AT THE MOVIES

Can you imagine peppy Dorothy Gish suppressed for life in a sleepy Southern town that closes up shop every evening at nine o'clock? In "Mary Ellen Comes to Town," Palace Theatre Thursday the vivacious comedienne starts out as chauffeur at the local soda fountain and plays checkers with the "hicks" who congregate there. But, of course, that's too slow for Dorothy, and when a pretty actress lady gets stalled near town in the one single train that runs daily, Dorothy gets the inspiration to go to New York and make a hit in dramatics. She doesn't score the expected sensation, but she does encounter some exciting adventures and wins herself a rich husband, who by the way is a native of the drowsy town from which she herself springs. Ralph Graves is leading man in the picture and Rhea Haines and Raymond Cannon are also in the cast. It was directed by Elmer Clifton.

Holworthy Hall and Hugh Kahler recently wrote a screamingly funny story about Prohibition called "The Six Best Cellar." It proved so popular that it was brought out in book form. Now it has reached the movies and, with Bryant Washburn as the star, the picture will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday afternoon. Mr. Washburn has the role of a leading member of a fashionable social set of young married people. To keep in the swim he is pretending to possess a big private stock of choice drinkables. On the eve of a big dinner which he is giving, he unexpectedly locates several cases of wine bottles at the home of a Prohibition aunt. At the crucial moment at the party he is horrified to discover the bottles empty. He saves his face by launching into a fierce diatribe against drinking for drinking's sake, which lends him into complications too rich to tell about here.

Wanda Hawley is the leading woman in this funny Paramount-Artcraft comedy. It was directed by Donald Crisp.

HATCHING EGGS FROM PEKIN

Young Fowls to Be Marketed Should Be Fattened for Two Weeks Before Killing—Fish Aid in Reducing Feed Bills.

Ducks may be fed on the ration recommended for fowls and chickens, but better results are usually secured by feeding more green and vegetable seeds and a larger proportion of mash. Eggs from Pekin ducks are used largely for hatching, and the profit is secured in producing green ducklings; therefore these ducks are fed a maintenance ration after they stop laying in the summer until about December 1, when a laying ration is given and the amount of mash increased.

Runners for Eggs.
Indian Runner ducks have been introduced as producers of commercial eggs, so they should be fed laying rations throughout the year if kept for egg production.

The ducklings to be marketed should be fattened for two weeks before killing on a ration made of three parts, by weight, of corn meal, two parts of low grade flour or middlings one part of bran, one-half part of beef scrap, with 3 per cent fish meal and 10 per cent green feed. Feed this mash three times daily, or use a mash of three parts corn meal, one part low-grade wheat flour, one part bran, 5 per cent beef scrap, and 3 per cent oyster shell, with the green feed and grit added.

Large Duck Farm on Long Island.

Influence of Feeds.

The green feed is sometimes left out of the ration during the last seven days of fattening, as it tends to color the meat and may produce a slightly fishy rather than a firm flesh; however, it is easier to keep the ducklings in good feeding condition on a mash containing green feed. Boiled fish may replace the beef scrap, but should only be fed up to within two weeks before they are killed, as it may give a fishy taste to their flesh. United States department of agriculture specialists suggest. A considerable quantity of boiled fish is also fed in the mash to laying ducks in sections where the duck farms border on the water and where fish is available at a very small cost. This fish aids materially in reducing the cost of feeding.

NEVER KICK HORSE ON FOOT

Lateral Cartilage Is Liable to Be Bruised, Causing Inflammation and Lameness.

When examining the foot of a horse or mule never kick the foot to make the animal lift it off of the ground. In kicking the foot you are liable to bruise the lateral cartilage causing inflammation and deposit of bone cells. This deposit of bone cells is the starting of a side bone, which will cause lameness. This lameness once started is extremely hard to stop. So never kick the horse on the foot.

SUPERIOR FALL VEGETABLES

Radishes and Lettuce Are Appreciated and Are as Easily Grown in Autumn as in Spring.

Radishes and lettuce are appreciated again, as the hot weather has made their growth difficult and their quality poor. In the fall they are as easily grown as in the spring and as good. A little frost does not hurt them, and they last over a long season. The large varieties of radishes planted late in the summer will make immense roots that can be stored and kept over winter.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't say gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.
Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

was calculated to arouse the ire of every one of our neighbors to the south and imperial our relations with them. The State Department was so convinced about the matter that it hurriedly issued a denial of Mr. Roosevelt's blundering remark.

WAITING FIRST NOTE

Several weeks ago it was stated that, while the President's health might prevent his going upon the stump for the Democratic candidate, he would materially contribute to the campaign by his writings. Wonder when the public is to be given the first installment.

There is not a doubt in the world that the Republican party will gain the great majority of the women's vote. Even more than the men they are for peace, and will never cast their support for the league of nations that means practically constant war for the United States.

Governor Cox wants to know what Jesus Christ would say about the Wilson League of nations. That is something anyone has a right to guess on, but it's pretty certain what any self-respecting, sincere Christian will say about Governor Cox's attempt to take the Redeemer's name in vain in a political stump speech.

The statement of Secretary Baker that American boys dying on the field of battle in Germany were consuled in their last moments by the thoughts that they had given up their lives for the league of nations is just about the most asinine bit of political bunk yet exploded in the Coxonian pillage burrage.

President Wilson has decided to sell the sheep that have been grazing on the White House grounds. A Republican administration, he realizes, will not need to raise wool to pull over the people's eyes.

The Democratic presidential candidate says he will never, as President, order American troops abroad without the consent of Congress, even after he has signed a contract agreeing to do so. But there are many, many things Governor Cox will never do as President.

Imitators of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign strenuously should keep in mind that fact that the colonel's strenuousness was not confined to his jawbone.

Governor Cox has been appealing to the vets, or, perhaps, as was remarked to Samuel Welliver, it should be "spelled with a 'we'."

Farmers in western Michigan are letting their apples rot because the price is so low. There is a whole lot of difference between western Michigan and a fruit stand.

At least the howl about expeditures relieves the Democratic orators the necessity of discussing the real issues of the presidential campaign.

Events in Silesia seem to show that in spite of the Russian invasion the Poles have not yet had enough trouble.

FEDERAL STANDARDS PREVENT INEQUALITY

Cause of Considerable Dissatisfaction Removed.

With Passing of Misapprehensions Increasing Sentiment Being Manifested in Favor of Purchase and Sale by Grade.

Misunderstanding as to the application of the federal grain standards and as to the benefits to be derived from the sale of grain upon a grade basis, have been the cause of considerable dissatisfaction among producers and country elevator operators, but with the passing of these misapprehensions an ever-increasing sentiment is being manifested in favor of the purchase and sale by grade at country points.

The old system of basing the price on which wheat or other grain was bought from the farmer upon the average quality of the crop in any community or section was totally unfair to the producer of good grain. Under the "mole-run" basis of purchasing grain the producer of good grain received no more for his clean, heavy wheat than did the producer of light weight and otherwise inferior grain. Instead of a premium upon heavy grain, a premium was paid upon inferior products.

The application of federal grain standards is calculated to prevent such inequality, and as experience is being had under the grading system growers are finding that the purpose sought is being accomplished.

DON'T FEED DEAD CARCASSES

Careful Examination Should Be Made to Find Traces of Tuberculosis—May Infect Herd.

Don't feed dead carcasses of cattle to hogs until after a careful autopsy has shown that they are not affected with tuberculosis. You may infect your whole herd by feeding the carcass of a cow that has died after a lingering illness. Such carcasses should be burned or buried deeply.

It's a man's job to keep up with Michigan.

In the passing of a decade, almost, Michigan, by a phenomenal growth, has leaped from comparative industrial obscurity to a commanding place among the commercial centers of the nation.

Hand in hand with this expansion, has grown the demand for telephone service in Michigan. Some idea of the problems confronting the Michigan State Telephone Company as the result of this advance in industry and population may be gained from consideration of these facts:

In 1910 the state had a population of 2,810,000, served by 143,300 of our telephones, or one for every 19½ persons.

In 1920, it is estimated from the available census returns, the population is 3,210,000, a growth of approximately 400,000, and is served by 292,851 of our telephones, meaning one for each 11 persons.

Therefore, while the population has grown 14.2 per cent, the number of telephones has grown 104.3 per cent. The company has, in the face of war conditions, material and labor shortage and skyrocketing costs, more than kept pace with Michigan's growth.

It has been necessary, in order to meet the myriad problems confronting the telephone service, for the company to make surveys and estimates, years in advance, of the volume and direction of population and industrial growth in order to intelligently build to meet it. All this company's resources and efforts have been used to meet Michigan's requirements, as indicated in these surveys.

Had the 14.2 per cent increase in population been evenly distributed the problem would have been simplified, but this growth has been greater at some points than at others. There have been times, therefore, when the engineer's estimates could not be met.

But the telephone people, facing these and many other obstacles, carried on and are still carrying on, determined that their future efforts shall exceed even those of the past.

They are anxious to have the people they serve know what they are doing to solve these problems and that despite all difficulties they are determined to make Michigan's telephone service the best obtainable anywhere.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR IN GRAIN-GROWING REGIONS STILL ACUTE

Type of Volunteer "Shock Troops" That Helped the Farmer Hold the Line in 1918.

With a shortage of farm labor, acute this year as in the critical war year of 1918, threatening a curtailment of food production on the farms, especially at the trying season of harvesting, the United States department of agriculture is endeavoring to stir up the interest of city men in spending their vacations in the fields, particularly as harvest helpers.

Everyone remembers the now famous "shock troops" of the war years, who went into the harvest fields of Kansas and other large wheat-producing states and lent a hand at gathering in the nation's bread supply. They included men in many walks of life—college students and city men, including bankers, lawyers, doctors, clerks and state and city officials. These veterans, together with other volunteers to swell the ranks, are urged to mobilize again this year to help relieve the present shortage and so aid in combating high costs of food products.

Rendered Good Service in 1918.

In making this appeal it is recognized that, at the onset at least, such labor is not as efficient as experienced farm labor, but the excellent results secured in 1918, when city men in large numbers came to the aid of the farmers leave no doubt as to the success of the present canvass if the men respond.

The present labor shortage has arisen in spite of the fact that farm wages are 15 to 25 per cent higher than last year. The situation, unremedied, cannot fail to have an unfavorable effect on production, according to observers of the department, who are watching the condition closely. It will tend, they say, to prevent any reduction in the prices of farm products. While the total acreage undoubtedly has been reduced as a result of the present situation, it is not in so large proportion as the reduction in the labor supply, because the farmers with their families exerted themselves to the utmost to overcome the handicap. Cultivation this year was less intensive than formerly. More land was put into grass and such crops as required a minimum of labor, and the tilled fields consequently suffered.

Grain States Need Help.

From many of the harvest centers are coming appeals for help. In some of the big grain-producing states of the West, such as Idaho and Nebraska, the demand for labor for planting the crops and tending them was fairly well met. Harvesting and thrashing, however, means more help, and it is this that the farmers in those areas are worrying about. Help must come from the cities, and it is to arouse the interest of city men and obtain their aid that the department and other agencies of the government and the states are directing their efforts.

Persons who are desirous of responding to the appeal should get in touch with directors of agricultural extension at the colleges in the various states. These directors are prepared to supply the names of county agents having farmers in their respective counties who need farm labor. By this means anyone wishing to help can get in direct communication with the farmer. In the grain-producing states local employment headquarters are established at various centers.

DAIRY

DETAILS OF COST OF MILK

Department of Agriculture Has Been Collecting Facts and Figures for Several Years.

What does it cost to keep a cow for a year or to produce 100 pounds of market milk? To answer this question in terms of labor, feed, and other cost factors the dairy division of the United States department of agriculture has been collecting for several years facts and figures from various sections of the country. The results for northwestern Indiana, typical of many farms supplying the Chicago market, are now available in bulletin form. In collecting the information the department worked in co-operation with Purdue university.

To give permanent value to the figures, the investigators determined the cost of milk production chiefly in terms of feed, labor, and other important factors. Thus by applying current values to any of the items a dairyman, or anyone else interested, may compare his present costs with those published by the department. Practical farms owned or handled by resident farmers were used in the investigation.

Among the outstanding results are the following:

The milking requirements for keeping a cow one year were: Concentrates, 1.02 tons; dry roughage, 3.64 tons; milking and milking concentrates, $1.53; bedding, 0.14 tons; pasture, 1.34 acres; human labor, 164.5 hours; horse labor, 16.2 hours; overhead and other costs, $27.11. Credits other than milk: Manure, 6.8 tons; calves, 0.87 of one calf.

Feed and pasture comprised 57.8 per cent of the total cost of production; labor, 19.5 per cent; overhead and other cost, 22.3 per cent. The total cost was offset 22.3 per cent by calves and manure. A different percentage relationship would exist, however, if present prices for the various items were used.

The extent to which cows of high production save labor was shown clearly by comparative figures for the 25 herds studied. The owner of one herd of cows averaging 9,200 pounds of milk annually had to feed and milk nine cows to obtain the same quantity of milk as that given 12 average cows in other herds.

The results mentioned, together with other details, are given more fully in the new publication department Bulletin 858, "Requirements and Cost of Producing Milk in Northwestern Indiana."

FLY PROTECTION FOR STOCK

Destroy Larvae or Maggots, Remove Breeding Places and Use Fish Oil Repellent.

There are three ways in which animals may be protected from flies. One is by destroying the larvae or maggots from which the flies develop; another is to keep the stable or barn dark and cool, as flies do not usually bother the animals under those conditions, and the other way is to apply an oil or spray to the animal which acts as a repellent. The breeding places for the flies are the decaying straw and manure piles, where the flies live over the winter and where they propagate during warm weather. The minimum amount of these around the barns will help to minimize the number of flies. An oil preparation which can be used as a repellent on the animals can be made as follows: One gallon of fish oil, two ounces of all of pine tar, two ounces of all of kerosene, one-half pint of kerosene.

And Not Be Blue.

When you know a man to be yellow it is just as well to draw the color line.—Cartoon Magazine.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its antiraging research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the insanitary organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness, others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

SCIENTIFIC FEEDING IS BEST

Supply Food in Right Proportions to Meet Requirements Without Waste of Nutrients.

To supply food in the right proportion to meet the various requirements of the animal, without a waste of food nutrients, constitutes scientific feeding. It is by carefully studying the composition of feeding stuffs, the proportion in which they are digested by different animals and under different conditions, and the requirement of animals for the various food nutrients when at rest, at work, giving milk, producing wool, mutton, beef, pork, etc., that the principles of feeding have been worked out. In applying these principles in practice the cost and special adaptations of different feeding stuffs must, of course, be taken into account.

SIRE TO AID FUR BEARERS

"Better Sires—Better Stock" Campaign Indorsed by Breeders and Fanciers' Association.

The National Breeders and Fanciers' Association of America has indorsed the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement. Through its secretary the association has notified the United States department of agriculture of its aim, through better sires, to improve the quality of fur-bearing animals raised in confinement.

In addition to raising animals kept primarily for fur, members of the association also breed such creatures as rabbits, cavies, and mink used for pets and scientific purposes. The value of pure-bred sires is especially great for classes of animals like those mentioned because of their profligacy.

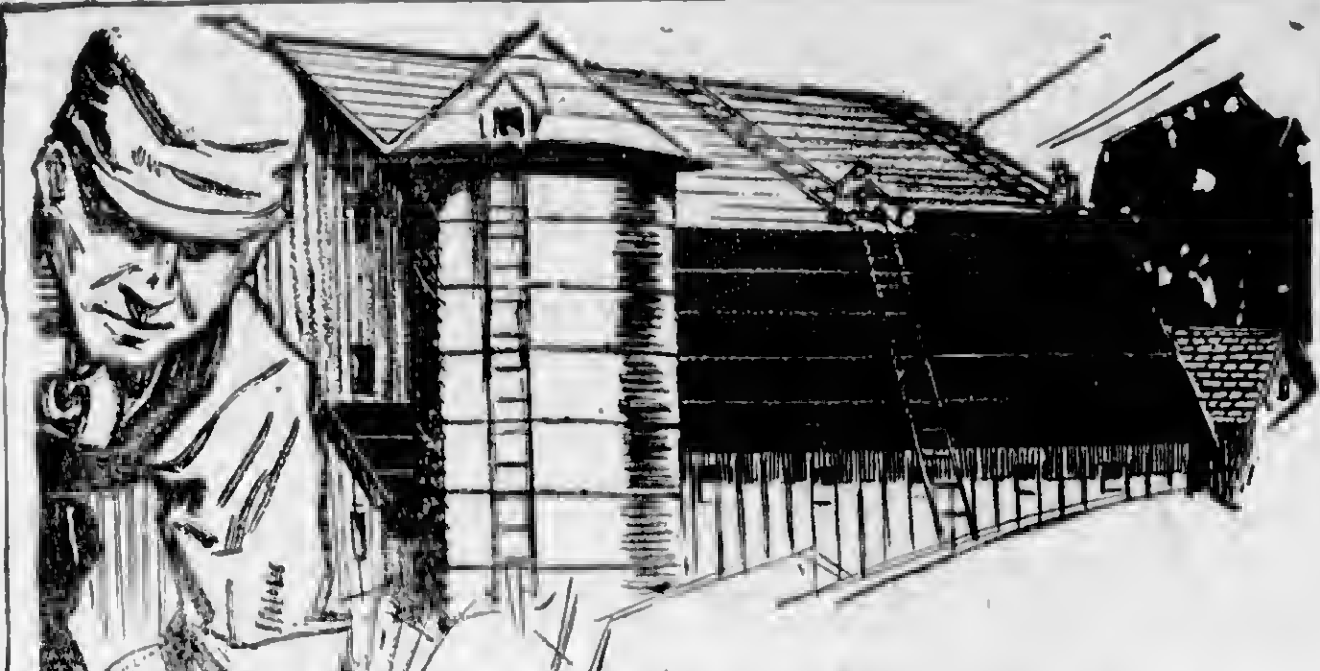

DECLINE IN BREEDING SOWS

Decrease of 9.9 Per Cent Is Noted by Bureau of Estimates—States Affected.

Breeding sows declined 9.9 per cent during the year ending April 1, 1920, according to investigations of the bureau of crop estimates. The same number of those animals for both years is reported for South Carolina and Georgia, and increases for Florida, Texas, and New Mexico. The heaviest declines were found in Massachusetts, Illinois, Missouri, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, Utah, and Idaho.

The Certain-teed Guarantee as a Basis for Estimating Roofing Cost

The Certain-teed guarantee provides a basis for estimating the approximate cost per year of your new roof. Certain-teed Roofing, Number 3 Heavy, is guaranteed for fifteen years. It usually lasts longer.

Taking fifteen years as the assured life and dividing the unusually low cost of Certain-teed, as compared to most modern types of roofing, by this figure, you readily see how economical Certain-teed is.

The light and medium weights of Certain-teed are also guaranteed, five years for the former and ten years for the latter.

In addition to its durability, Certain-teed is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

And it costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

See a Certain-teed dealer about roofing. If he hasn't enough of the weight you want in stock he can quickly get more from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or distributing center.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Economic and Industrial Health
If Washington has any finger on the public pulse at all, the throbbings that are perceptible at the National Capital indicate that the country is thoroughly alive to the desire to stop the foolish expansion that has been going on for a long time. The Federal Reserve Board has been discouraging the reckless expansion of credit, and speculators everywhere have been feeling the pinch. The result has been particularly noticeable in the stock exchanges where purely speculative transactions have shown a decline. The tightness of the market here has been due to the determination on the part of the Federal Reserve Board and the banks to use their money in helping the legitimate industrial situation, while they have curtailed the loans of speculative interests.

In consequence of the changing conditions there has likewise been a diminution of the attempts to buy up all the farms in the country by paying for them with a little cash and tremendous mortgages, and the Department of Agriculture finds that the farmers of the Middle West are letting up on their feverish anxiety to get rid of the old farms and buy new ones. The Farm Loan Board has been discouraging these speculative tendencies that prevailed last spring in the richer agricultural regions of the country.

In the larger cities there is also a noticeable let-up in the buying and selling of homes on mortgage payments and long-deferred contracts. It is likewise worthy of notice that people are beginning to recognize that they cannot build more houses than there is material for, or hire more men than there are and do more business than the railroads can handle. In this connection it is to be noted that the railroads have to a large extent relieved the congestion of freight in the yards and terminals. The plan to get a much greater mileage out of every car that can be pressed into service, has resulted successfully. Therefore the railroads have been able to supply an enormously increased amount of cars for taking care of the crops and for other purposes. Industrial conditions so far as they affect the railroads and the employees are in the best shape they have been since the signing of the armistice. The whole railroad situation seems to have cleared as a result of increased rates sufficient to meet correspondingly increased wages of more than 2,000,000 railroad employees and to furnish a sufficient return to investment to stabilize the finances of the railroads. There appears to be a general feeling of relief over the fact that the railroads are passing from the predicament which made it necessary for them to be "kept" by the government, which assumed the burden of "support" which in turn collected from the taxpayers. The new arrangement that has been worked out through congress and the different Federal and State Commissions, has re-established the stability of our transportation system, which has been in the throes of many hard struggles for more than a dozen years.

Owing Money to the Bank
In June, 1914, the loans and discounts of all national banks aggregated $6,430,069,000. Today more than $12,000,000,000 represents the bank loans, which have grown over $4,000,000,000 in the past year. Thus it appears that there has been a perfect riot of money filling people's pockets, and a large part of it has represented "borrowings." Liberty bonds have furnished the necessary security for a great deal of this. "Expansion" and "inflation" are thus traced to the banks and their operations, and since this way of getting easy money has necessarily about run its course, there are tens of thousands of people who must get back to work. The sooner this period gets under full swing just what much quicker will the country begin making up for all its lost construction of war-time. Gradually it appears to be dawning upon the entire population that shorter hours and longer spending is not the true road to industrial and economic prosperity and progress. An old truism worked over might be made to read: "A part of the people can fool themselves a part of the time, but all the people can't fool themselves all of the time," and for that reason the population will have to return to the old-time custom of working for their daily bread.

"Cutting Down the Force"

A representative of the National Federation of Federal Employees has issued a statement to the effect that 124,000 employees have been dropped from the swollen war lists of the government. At the same time purely partisan claims are being made that great numbers of unnecessary clerks are employed in the government.

One can hear most anything nowadays, but the facts are that during July, which was supposed to be a big month in laying off the war workers, the separation in the government service totalled 4,908, and an addition was made of 2,905 employees. The war department showed the largest net reduction, which reached 1,729. The total reduction made in the employees of the Navy Department was 151. The Post Office Department showed an increase, as also did the Department of Interior and the Department of Commerce.

The proved facts of the case are that the government machinery is growing very rapidly and while there are no good many reductions in the force, still these are offset by actual requirements for additional help, which supplemented by the usual number of jobs doled out as the result of "political pull," keeps the number of Federal employees unnecessarily high, resulting in the usual burden which the taxpayers must bear.

The Methods of Profiteering

Raising the prices of goods on account of "the increased freight rates" is a process that doesn't hold water. According to the statement of one of the big railroads companies, flour shipped in carload lots from Minneapolis to Philadelphia on which the forty per cent increase is paid, will amount to 33 cents a barrel of 200 pounds. On a 24-pound sack of flour this will be just a little less than four cents. The increased freight on a pair of shoes shipped from Boston to Philadelphia would amount to six mills; on a crate of thirty dozen eggs from Chicago to Philadelphia, twenty cents, or three-fourths of a cent per dozen; on a bushel of potatoes from Exmore, Virginia, to Philadelphia, 5.5 cents. These representative instances indicate that the dealers who attempt to raise prices on "account of the increased freight" are pretty apt to be found doing an inartistic piece of profiteering.

Road Building on 50-50 Basis

A federal bulletin on the subject of roads says that $633,000,000 is being spent on "main road construction" in the United States this year. The government has apportioned $266,750,000 of its funds on which roads are built on the 50-50 basis—that is, where one-half is paid by the government and the balance by the state or local authorities. The new roads will increase by 7,600 miles the total of 14,000 miles of hard-surfaced roads in the country. In the past four years the government has spent more money on its roads than it put into building the Panama canal.

In these brief four years there has been greater progress in road building than in all the previous history of the country. It all goes to show that joy-riding must be maintained, and the "good roads" which the farmers were unable to secure in order that agriculture might be successful, are now being laid down as fast as the cement mixers can get around to the different places where motorists and "tourists" wish to go.

Who Serves "The People"

The issue has been drawn very sharply in all parts of the country between politicians who claim to serve "the people," and public utilities that actually are in the business of serving "the people." A prominent writer, Floyd W. Parsons, puts it this way: "Let us beware of those politicians who seek popularity through loudly protesting that they are 'agin' this or that proposed adjustment because they are protectors of the people. Most of the public utilities are the people, and they have had the purest deal that has been handed out to any line of business during recent strenuous times."

The Great Cost of Automobiles

Careful estimates reveal the fact that the public is spending over $6,000,000,000 a year, or $280 per family, for operating and riding in automobiles, 87 per cent of which are passenger cars. With the road-building and maintenance cost added to the above, automobilism will likely foot up as great a sum to the American public as the operation of the railroads.

SCHOOL BEGAN ON TUESDAY LAST

Prospects Bright for Another Successful School Year

School began on Tuesday of this week and prospects are bright for another splendid year. Mrs. Taisey will again have charge of the upper grades and Miss Smith of the primary room. These two need no introduction and their past work in the Ellsworth school is its own recommendation. Both the board and the parents of pupils deeply regret their inability to retain Mrs. Patterson in the intermediate room but, we believe her place will be ably filled by Miss Klebe, who comes highly recommended. Miss Klebe has had six years experience as a teacher and although she has never before taught in Michigan, her former home being in Montana, passed an excellent examination at the recent test at Bellaire. Now all that remains to insure a good school is for parents, pupils and teachers to pull together.

FISCHER'S ORCHESTRA AT COUNTY FAIR

Well Known Orchestra to Play Entire Fair Week

During the years of the war the County Fair Association was a number of times placed in a very embarrassing situation, owing to the fact that free attractions which it had advertised found that at the last minute they must cancel their engagements because of railroad conditions and a substitute had to be procured.

It has always been the policy of the association where it found substitution necessary, to endeavor to secure an attraction with more merit than the original act.

This year it has been found necessary to secure an orchestra to take the place of the New Metropole Orchestra of East Jordan for the dancing in the Educational building. And the association is carrying out its policy, and has secured Fischer's Orchestra of Kalamazoo as a substitute. This will be a six piece orchestra and needs no introduction to the people of Northern Michigan.

Fischer's orchestra is famous throughout the middle west for the quality of its music. It has played for the Detroit State Fair for three years and at many other fairs for from three to five years. Every afternoon it will play in the grand stand throughout the races. Each evening, commencing at 7:00, it will play in the Educational building for dances. It is costing the association a big sum of money for this orchestra and it is hoped that you will avail yourself of the opportunity to hear it. Should there be rain any afternoon, the orchestra will play in the Exhibition building.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Baptismal service and reception of new members will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Junior Epworth League at 3 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Candler. Evening worship with sermon at 7:30. There will be no meeting of the Senior Epworth League. As this the last Sunday before annual conference it is hoped that as many as possible will attend the services of the day.

Last Thursday night the last of the semi-weekly Epworth League's socials was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bowditch. A very happy time was enjoyed, games were played, vocal and instrumental music added to the evening's enjoyment after which the hostess served a delicious luncheon. The services of the League are held during the summer at 8:30 for the convenience of our summer visitors. This season large numbers of young people have enjoyed the services and have attended the socials which were given every two weeks throughout the summer.

This year's income has been well above the average for this church but almost seven hundred dollars having been expended upon the improvement of church property a special effort is necessary on the part of the members to meet all expenses for the conference year. It will be greatly appreciated if all members will pay in full, as soon as possible, their obligation to current expense and also to the Centenary Fund.

Mrs. P. D. Campbell has been chosen as delegate to the layman's conference which meets at Battle Creek during the session of the annual conference, Earl Shapton was chosen as reserve delegate.

The pastor, Rev. Henry Candler starts for conference September 11.

Attention, Odd Fellows The Charlevoix County Odd Fellows' Mutual Benefit Association will hold a business meeting Saturday evening, September 11, at Odd Fellows hall, Charlevoix. CONDITION OF MICHIGAN CROPS

ARE WELL ABOVE THE TEN YEAR AVERAGE

State Will Have Good Crop of Corn if Frosts Keep Off—Beans Hit By Blight

The condition of all crops, except spring wheat, harvested during the past month and yet to be harvested is well above the ten-year average. Weather conditions have been generally favorable and the excellent prospects of August 1, have been maintained throughout the past month for nearly all crops. Abnormally large yields of oats are being reported, and the prospects for potatoes, sugar beets, and truck and fruit crops are especially good, according to the September 1, crop report for Michigan prepared jointly by Verne H. Church, Agricultural Statistician, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates and Coleman C. Vaughan, Secretary of State.

Corn: If no severe frost occurs within two weeks, Michigan is assured of another good corn crop. It is earing well in most sections, and the condition is good except in a few southwestern counties where a severe drought has prevailed since early in the season. The outlook is for a crop of 60,258,000 bushels, about 40 per cent of which will undoubtedly go into silos. The percentage of condition is one point above last year, and 12 per cent above the ten year average.

Wheat: The spring wheat prospects are much lower than early in the season. The yield is disappointing, and the grain is badly shrunken. The estimated production is only 540,000 bushels.

The amount of wheat marketed at mills and elevators in the state during August, estimated from the reports of grain dealers is 1,428,000 bushels.

Oats: The condition of 93 per cent at harvest time forecasts a total production of 54,464,000 bushels as compared with 36,875,000 bushels raised last year. The volume of the crop exceeded expectations, and the quality is very good, except in some eastern counties where those standing in the shock were discolored by heavy rains.

Barley: The crop was harvested under generally favorable conditions, except in a few eastern counties where some were discolored by rain while in the shock. The condition at time of harvest was 99 per cent, as compared with a ten-year average of 57, and 61 per cent one year ago. The forecasted production is 6,966,000 bushels.

Buckwheat: Buckwheat has made very satisfactory growth under generally favorable weather conditions, except in the extreme southwestern counties where the weather has been too dry. Reports indicate that the crop is filling well. The condition of 88 per cent is ten per cent better than one year ago and nine per cent better than the ten-year average. The estimated production is 681,000 bushels.

Potatoes: The condition is nine point lower than last month. While the crop in general is in excellent condition and promises a large yield, late blight has made its appearance in a number of counties and the extent to which the crop will be injured by it is not yet known. The condition of 91 per cent is 22 per cent better than one year ago and 18 per cent better than the ten-year average. A report from the agricultural statistician for Maine states that there is considerable blight in Aroostook county.

Beans: Beans have declined from 90 to 84 per cent in condition during the past month, mainly as the result of an attack of bacterial blight which is quite prevalent in the Saginaw valley and some other localities. Anthracnose has also made its appearance but it is thought the damage by it will not be great. The crop is ripening and harvesting in general in many sections. The present outlook is for a crop of 3,340,000 bushels.

Hay: The estimated production of all tame or cultivated hay is 3,149,000 tons. This is based on an average yield of 1.2 tons per acre; last year's yield was 1.15 tons per acre. The crop of wild hay is estimated at 58,000 tons. The yield of alfalfa from all cuttings is placed at 2.3 tons per acre, as compared with 2.0 per acre last year.

Clover Seed: Clover seed is filling well, and the outlook is for a good crop, and somewhat larger acreage than last year. 129,000 bushels is the estimated production from present condition.

Stock Hogs: An inquiry develops the information that the number of stock hogs on farms September 1, is four per cent less than one year ago. The estimated number is 1,214,000.

Wool: The total production of wool is estimated at 9,841,000 pounds, which is a slight increase over last year.

Sugar Beets: The condition of sugar beets is 90 per cent, four per cent better than one year ago and five per cent above the ten-year average.

Fruits: The apple prospects have increased to 89 per cent of a full crop, or 13,350,000 bushels. 49 per cent of this crop is considered as commercial, or 2,165,000 barrels. Nearly all varieties promise well, and the quality is very good except in some of the northwestern counties, where scab is quite prevalent. There is a large supply of early apples and the market is very dull.

The peach crop is generally good, and promises a production of 1,360,000 bushels. This is 80 per cent of a full crop. The quality is 91 per cent.

Pears also show an 80 per cent condition, which is equivalent to 880,000 bushels. The crop varies considerably in different localities and orchards.

The outlook for grapes is exceptionally good, being 91 per cent of a full crop as compared with a ten-year average of 78 per cent. The quality is excellent.

BATTLE FLAGS FEATURE REUNION

RED ARROW DIVISION MEN TO MEET IN MILWAUKEE

Michigan Colors to Have Guard of Honor of Three Officers and Twenty-five Men.

One of the greatest features of the 32nd Division first annual reunion at Milwaukee, Wis., September 19, 20 and 21, of this year, will be the presence of the battle flags or colors of all combat units of the Red Arrow division, which accompanied the units through the recent war. Practically all of them have seen hard service in other wars and actions, and have records well worth preserving. Noteworthy among these are the old 1st, 2nd and 3rd Wisconsin infantry colors having been in service since the inception of the Wisconsin national guard in 1881. The Spanish-American war and Mexican expedition gave them much wear but the late European war added real luster to previous records in the minds of the Red Arrow members. The Michigan regimental colors have no less a brilliant record and for the first time in Michigan and Wisconsin history the national guard colors of these two states will be grouped in one place for a brief period.

Proving the honor in which the regimental colors of the Red Arrow division are held by Michigan, it has been announced in an official order from the adjutant general of that state that the regimental colors of Michigan Red Arrow units will be accompanied to Milwaukee for the reunion by an honor guard of three officers and twenty-five enlisted men who will be on duty for the period of the reunion. Captain George L. Olsen, of Grand Haven, Michigan, will command the detachment which is divided into four sections to care for the colors of the 125th, 126th, 127th, 128th, 129th, 130th, 131st, 132nd, 133rd, 134th, All these colors have been cited for decoration with the croix de guerre but the 119th together with the 120th and 121st P. A. regiments of Wisconsin have not yet officially received the decoration. They will be decorated at the reunion in a patriotic ceremony on September 20, when it is also hoped that the 147th P. A. regiment of South Dakota will receive the same honors. The 147th P. A. was in all the battles with the 32nd Division and as part of the 57th Field Artillery Brigade it gave that brigade the honor of being one of the only, if not the only, brigade, to have four regiments as its designated strength all during the war.

Word from the adjutant general of Wisconsin, General Orlando Holway, indicates that the Wisconsin colors of the Red Arrow division will also arrive in Milwaukee with a large honor guard. These colors are at present at Madison in the care of the state authorities. At Milwaukee all regimental or unit battle flags will be shown in the window of a prominent Bennett S. Johnson and wife, Mary E. of Fairgrove, Michigan.

E. L. Johnson and wife, Charlevoix, daughter Mildred H. Lamphear, husband and daughter, Byrnie.

Tables were set on the lawn for the big dinner, but the heavy downpour of rain forced them onto the porch, where protected from the driving rain by rugs and carpets nailed to the sides of the porch, the dinner was served and enjoyed.

After the dinner had been served, a business meeting of the members of the Johnson clan was held. E. L. Johnson was selected as president for the ensuing year, Chas. H. Lamphear, vice president, Adolph Werth, 2nd vice president, and Mrs. Worth A. Johnson, secretary.

Members of the Johnson family hold reunions each year, either in northern Michigan, or in the Saginaw valley. These meetings are held in September, and are looked forward to by both old and young. Practically all of the visiting members of the family made the trip by auto.

WOOD BROTHERS BUY BROWN BATTERY SHOP

Will Take Over Entire Stock and Business Interests

A deal was closed the first of the week whereby Wood Brothers, the well known local dealers in electrical goods, will take over the stock, fixtures and business of the Brown Battery Shop, located at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets.

The stock and fixtures will be moved to the present location of Wood Brothers, and the building vacated will be utilized for other purposes. The deal gives Wood Brothers the open field in this line of business, and with the well selected stock they have on hand, they should be able to satisfy the demands of their patrons in a satisfactory manner.

LOOKS LIKE FISH LICENSES SOON

State Commission Needs Extra Money to Carry on Work

A Lansing dispatch says the chances are that fishermen will be called upon to purchase licenses next year in Michigan. The state fish commission is now seeking converts to the plan.

Great expansion is planned for next year by this commission and it is considered a practical certainty that the legislature will not provide sufficient funds to carry out the work that the anglers want to see completed. The funds from these licenses proposed by the commission would help stock the lakes and streams of the state.

It is pointed out that the money obtained from the sale of hunters' licenses does not contribute toward stocking the rural districts with game, but by devoting the money from the fishing licenses to planting of fish, it is believed that most anglers will favor the plan.

With its shipping season for fishery practically completed for this year, the state commission has more than 1,000 orders on its records which it was unable to fill.

U. S. BECOMES A GAME WARDEN

Federal Weather Bureau Determines Hour for Hunting Ducks

Duck hunters will be under the supervision of the U. S. Weather Bureau as well as subject to the game department wardens from the morning of Sept. 16 to the evening of Dec. 31. Inasmuch as the former will act as an adjunct in determining the exact time of sunrise and sunset in the interim of which ducks (except wood duck) may be legally shot under the provisions of Act 275, Public Acts of 1911, as amended.

Section 1093, compiled laws of 1915, fixes central standard as the determining time measure. The weather bureau gives 5:19 A. M. and 5:37 P. M. as the time for sunrise and sunset on Sept. 16. State Game Commissioner Baird states that prohibitions of earlier or later shooting will be strictly enforced.

DRAWN LIKE A GOLD STRIKE

HUNDREDS FLOCK TO IRON MOUNTAIN FOR WORK

Boom Has Started, But Laboring Men Should Stay Away for Some Months to Come

The following from the Iron Ore, a newspaper published at Iron Mountain, Michigan, contains some good advice and should be a warning to those contemplating making a visit in quest of work to the new boom city:

"The editor of Iron Ore took a look at the Ford purchase in Iron Mountain recently. It comprises a tract of land four miles square extending to the Menominee river from the town of Iron Mountain. For the most part this land lies high and dry, ideal for the purpose to which it is to be put, and is mostly farming land, farms having been tilled there for many years. The Ford interests are now beginning the construction of a spur railway over which supplies can be brought. Connection can be made with both the Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul roads without crossing a single mile of track. All this land was optioned some weeks ago and the Ford company bought it outright, asking for no bonuses. Ford doesn't need any help for such enterprises.

"In the preliminary work there will probably not be needed more than 200 men up to the beginning of the coming year, but the story of the deal has gone abroad, has swelled as it traveled, and we met men going to Iron Mountain on all roads we traveled in that section, many of them on foot, carrying their 'turkeys' over their shoulders and the most of them looking as if they had just left some lumberwoods job. All trains are bringing men to the city, and the advice for men to wait until word is sent out that they are needed is good, otherwise, they will find themselves out of jobs for some time and if they are also out of money, as many of them will be, they will not have a pleasant time. It is going to take a year or more before this plant will be ready for business. There will be the housing problem that will have to be met and it takes time to construct such immense buildings as are to be put there.

"After many years in which Iron Mountain was about as flat as a pancake it has suddenly sprung into life, its veins filled with the elixir of gasoline, and dirt has risen in value to great heights over night. We are told by one man who conducts a tire and automobile necessary shop that he was offered $27,000 for his business location and building that he recently purchased for $3,750. A business block near by that was bought for $4,000 last winter could now be sold for $39,000 this having been offered for it, and so it goes along the line. The town could have been optioned last winter for well we wouldn't like to say how much

With only six weeks of the danger period remaining, the Grand Traverse Region has established a record in holding forest fires to a minimum this season. In the five counties which comprise the district in charge of Warden Mark Crow two severe fires have occurred this year and the loss in forest products, according to the Michigan Hardwood association, comes to the surprising low figure of $6.

A resident of East Jordan was summoned before Justice Blount, Wednesday of last week, to answer to a charge of driving an automobile while he was in an intoxicated condition. The court found him guilty and assessed a fine $50.00 and costs, which he paid. Home brew and auto driving are not exactly a good combination, and those inclined to this sport should remember that the court assessed only the minimum fine in above case.

The publisher of the Coral News has begun suit against a candidate for congress to collect for advertising published in the candidate's 1918 campaign. What the publisher seems to have in mind is that he, as well as it, should pay to advertise.

Several boxes of cigars and a quantity of socks were reported stolen from a freight car at Jackson last Monday. No individual is under suspicion as yet, but it is said that all citizens sitting on the front porch evenings will be closely observed.

One mile of roadway in every 10 in Michigan is now improved reports Frank Rogers state highway commissioner. This would be pretty satisfactory if we could have it arranged so that when a man goes out to drive nine miles the improved mile wouldn't so often prove to be the tenth.

A Western Michigan woman complains that a motorist drove his car over her dog and when she looked for the animal afterward he was nowhere to be seen. These vacuum devices are pretty clever, but it seems unlikely they will ever come into general use until they are made large enough to receive a traffic cop.

MISTAKE IN FEEDING GRAIN

Common Practice of Many Dairyman to Feed Every Cow in Herd the Same Quantity.

Perhaps the most common mistake in feeding grain to dairy cows is the practice of feeding every cow in the herd the same quantity regardless of the amount of milk she is producing. Instead of regulating the grain according to the daily amount of milk produced.

Considerable waste of food may result from failure to balance rations. This is especially true if the ration happens to be in protein; for, while an excess of protein may be substituted for energy, energy producing foods can in no case take the place of protein in a ration. The milk flow, therefore, may be limited to the protein content of the ration, even the energy producing foods may be present in excess. An economical ration is a balanced ration.

AT THE MOVIES

Success depends a lot upon liking your job. That holds for motion pictures as well as business. It is one of the reasons why the new picture starring Wallace Reid, "Excuse My Dust," which is coming to the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday, is one of the best vehicles in which the handsome star has yet appeared.

Wallace Reid's chief delight is to act before the camera. But, next to that he likes a fast racing car and a journey at break-neck speed over the smooth highways of California. That's just what he did in "Excuse My Dust." The story, which is a sequel to the former Reid success, "The Roaring Road," presents him as "Toodles" Walden, manager of the Western branch of the "Darco" automobile company. In a wild race from Los Angeles to San Francisco with his firm's deadly rivals, "Toodles" is run off the road into a ditch, but gamely stays in the race and sees his competitors beaten.

Ann Little, Theodore Roberts, and Tully Marshall, are included in the excellent supporting cast. The story was adapted by Will M. Ritchey from an original by Byron Morgan. Sam Wood directed the picture, which is a Paramount-Artcraft.

DAIRY HINTS

"MILK COW" NOW PREFERRED

Advocates of Word Contended That It Was More Strictly English—Milk Akin to German.

Hereafter it will be "milk cow" and not "milk cow"—at least so far as the United States department of agriculture is concerned.

This decision marks the termination of a controversy in which etymologists in the department have had not a little interest. Those defending "milk" have pointed to scriptural use and certain of the classics as establishing precedence.

Liberal Feeding Must Be Practiced if a Profit Is to Be Obtained From Milk Cows.

deeds, while the opposition has contended that dairymen, ranchmen and farmers in general use "milk" instead of "milk" almost universally. The advocates of "milk" also favored that word because, they contended, it was more strictly an English word, while "milk" was akin to German. Since Americanization of language as well as ideals is an article in every patriot's creed, it is thought that this last sally of the "milk" defenders helped as much as any to decide the question in their favor.

COWS APPRECIATE KINDNESS

Animals Are Naturally of Nervous and Excitable Disposition and Resent Roughness.

In the hurry of getting chores done, a dairymen sometimes forgets that dairy cows are naturally of a nervous and excitable disposition, and that under conditions of excitement or fear the milk flow is lessened materially. Driving cows on the rim, chasing them by dogs and with loud shouting are not allowed on a well-managed dairy farm. In the stable all operations should be carried on quietly. When a cow kicks there usually is a reason for it; the teats may be hurt by the milker or the cow may be frightened. At such a time a little care in removing the cause and pacifying the cow often will prevent further trouble. Many good cows become confirmed kickers and consequently less profitable as a result of a lack of careful observation and kindness on the part of the attendants.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

One of the biggest drawbacks to the sheep industry is the stomach worm.

Pigs that have not been vaccinated should not be placed on infected premises.

Prolonged confinement upon a concrete or dry board floor often induces foot-sore lameness in heavy hogs.

The best results come in keeping the young calf in a clean place in the barn until about three months old.

Sheep ticks cause great annoyance to sheep of all ages, but more especially to the lambs after the older sheep have been shorn. In extreme cases they cause loss in body weight.

COMMON SCAB AMONG SHEEP

During Past Decade Great Progress Has Been Made in Eradication of Ailment.

Common scab was formerly the greatest drawback to the sheep industry of the United States, but during the past decade great progress has been made in its eradication. The system of grazing sheep on the open ranges of the western part of the United States was such that the flockmasters had great difficulty in keeping the flock free from the scab. The sheep were very frequently exposed to the disease by infectious ranges and trails, "picking up strays" from infected flocks, and in many other ways. It became desirable for the department of agriculture to extend aid to the

An Advanced Case of Scab, Showing Area Denuded of Wool.

Industry by controlling the interstate movement of sheep to prevent the carrying of the infection from one state to another.

Scab is exceedingly contagious and is transmitted by direct contact with animals or objects that are carriers of the mites. Although unable to propagate except on sheep, the mites may be harbored temporarily by animals other than sheep and may live on goats for a long period.

A flock of scabby sheep will infect the roads, trails, sheds, yards, hed grounds, pastures, ranges, and the ground around the watering places. It is therefore important that the flock receive proper treatment as soon as the disease appears, before the infection becomes scattered over the premises.

A SQUARE DEAL FOR TEACHERS

The reopening of the public schools affords a fitting occasion to bespeak a square deal for those who teach in them. In the past parents have often judged them unfairly and have been far too ready to blame them for conditions that are not blame-worthy.

The commonest and perhaps the weakest indictment against school teachers is that they do not make lessons interesting.

Most parents have heard the misquoted proverb to the effect that there is no royal road to geometry, and from it they have reasoned that all other branches of learning can be approached by royal roads, broad and easy and pleasant to childish feet. Thus they often argue, remembering only the pleasing and playful episodes of their own years in the schoolroom.

Is it not time to look the facts squarely in the face and to admit to ourselves, to our children and to their teachers that a large part of elementary schooling is, and from its very nature must be, sheer drudgery. Is it reasonable to suppose that a healthy young animal whose main interest is in battling averages and league standings can derive much real joy or pleasure from French verbs, or the Bridge of Asses, or the bridge that Caesar built? Is it not easier to believe that a youngster who really revels in such learning has a morbid streak that he would be better off without? And yet no school work is so dry or tedious that it is not commended to him in terms as flattering as he might himself employ in trading a Nick Carter thriller to the boy across the aisle.

Misguided attempts to make schooling interesting at any cost have done more than anything else to sap the vigor of our educational system. The truth is that a large part of the essential foundational work in the elementary schools is not only not interesting but cannot be made so. Sooner or later this fact must be recognized and taken into account. Drudgery cannot be so gilded or bespangled as to make it anything else; nor is this the fonest way to get it attacked and mastered.

Let us frankly admit that many common subjects abound in painful drudgery and hold little or nothing to appeal to a child's interest or imagination. They must be studied doggedly, not because they are pleasing or stimulating; but because they are necessary; and the only way to learn them is by the outlay of much hard work and intense concentration.

Leading a boy to believe that everything he is expected to learn is attractive and pleasant is a subterfuge that defeats its own ends. Soon enough the lad sees for himself that he had been misled and his natural resentment is thereby awakened. It is far better to admit at the outset that certain studies are difficult and irksome and must be laboriously mastered, because without such knowledge further progress is impossible, than it is to play them up as fascinating indoor sports for lusty youngsters who know perfectly well that they are nothing of the sort.

Foreign critics of our common school system are practically unanimous in charging that we are over-anxious to make education a pleasant diversion and refuse at any cost to allow it to become a hard, unceasing grind that most really learned men have found it. Our national tendency is to demand high voltage in teachers and teaching to spark through the high resistance of learners rather than high voltage study and application by pupils to overcome the resistance of this appointed task.

And yet schooling need not be an utterly cheerless desert. There are plenty of cases for those who know how to find them, plenty of studies rich in human interest that afford boundless play for all the teacher's skill in firing youth imagination, stimulating thought and implanting the desire to learn. Schoolmasters still repeat legends of the gentle Ascham and the means he used to win the attention and affection of his scholars; and college professors still remind us of that famous lecture on prehistoric beasts in which the great Agassiz was so moved by the imagined hissings and snorings of the monsters he was describing that long before his hour was up sheer exhaustion compelled him to dismiss his class.—The Saturday Evening Post.

Vice President Candidate Roosevelt says the opponents of the Wilson league of nations are "crooks." Cox and Roosevelt are drawing on the dictionary so heavily for epithets at this early stage of the campaign that before election day comes they are likely to run out of names to call those who do not agree with them.

Governor Cox's outcry against the Republican campaign fund is merely the barrage for the corps of gentlemanly hat passers who will not now wait upon the cost-plus contractors, the profiteers and the inter-national bankers who have been getting theirs under the new bleed'em.

Franklin D. Roosevelt says the Democratic appeal this year is to the mind and heart rather than to the stomach; but signs are not wanting that in some quarters the party's appeal is being made to the gullet.

Franklin Roosevelt says Governor Cox is the "Hiram Johnson of the east." Added to his own name this seems to make the affront to the Progressive national ticket of 1912 one hundred per cent effective.

For a man who has picked up a few millions quite quickly in public service and other corporate manipulations, Governor Cox does a pretty good job of demagoging against the rich.

The old-fashioned Democrat who used to cry "The tariff is a tax" is now engaged in solemn contemplation of the fact that there are also other kinds of taxes, too, maybe.

RESORT PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS

Prominent Summer Visitors Buy Beautiful Homes

Three beautiful Charlevoix homes have been purchased during the past week by summer visitors who have decided to make Charlevoix their future home during the resort season. In each instance the property itself is nicely located, and the new owners contemplate making extensive changes, either by remodeling or making additions thereto.

The Will E. Hampton residence on Michigan avenue was purchased by M. L. Hartman of Chicago. Mr. Hartman will make numerous changes in the house, adding greatly to its value.

William Bloch of Cincinnati, has bought the William Hawker property, on the Crouter addition, and contemplates the erection of a $30,000 summer home.

The best deal to be reported is the sale of the Harry L. Oldham property, on Park avenue to Harry Bloch of Chicago. Mr. Bloch will also make extensive changes in his newly purchased home.

A 3-h. p. Fairbanks-Morse gas engine will take the place of the hired man you cannot get. Ask Benj. Brown about them.—Adv. 29tf.

Strawberries a Treat

Once in a great while the editor and his family have the opportunity of enjoying a fine basket of grapes, peaches, plums, or something along this line that is considerable above the average in size, quality and lusciousness. Last week W. A. Tyndall of Boyne City, left us a fine sample of his Everbearing strawberries. Mr. Tyndall is an expert in producing strawberries and each year markets hundreds of quarts of this fine fruit.

MARKET FOR CHEESE TO GROW AS PEOPLE LEARN ITS EXCELLENT FOOD PROPERTIES

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Thanks largely to the traditions of Boston and vicinity, the people of the United States have come to know cheese—their food value and all that—but there remain other opportunities, doubtless those to be found in popularizing cheese, to win fame by the food-products route. Attention is called to cheese particularly, because Americans have long neglected it in spite of its excellent food properties, and only recently have signs of growing interest in this product appeared. Dairy interests, as well as dietitians, would like to see the day when the United States will be known as one of the greatest cheese-eating nations of the world.

Small Per Capita Consumption.

Visitors at the national dairy show in Chicago were surprised to learn from a government exhibit what a very small amount of cheese (one eighth of an ounce) each person of this country eats daily. Cheese makers, and dealers are just beginning to realize that the cheese demand can be increased tremendously if the merits of this food are properly brought to the attention of the public.

Eight countries have learned to know cheese better than we have. Denmark leads with a per capita consumption of 123 pounds; the United Kingdom, according to the latest figures available, comes next with 112 pounds per capita. Then France, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Italy, and Australia are listed in the order named—all ahead of the United States, which has a per capita consumption of only 3.8 pounds a year. Three-fourths of a century ago the people of this country seemed in a fair way of learning the value of cheese, and by 1850, their per capita consumption had risen to four pounds and 12 ounces, but this figure has never been reached since. The cheese consumed in this country has been principally American Cheddar, although foreign varieties have been increasingly popular, and furnished in 1918 practically one-fifth of the cheese consumed in this country.

Greater Variety of Uses Urged.

Attempts to develop a larger market for cheese should take into account the fact that practically all the cheese now consumed is eaten as purchased. A very large proportion of it is used with bread or as a filling for sandwiches. Cottage cheese in some form is consumed in large quantities. Dietitians have no criticism of America's manner of eating cheese, save that they urge its use in a greater variety of ways, and more regularly.

Everyone interested in enlarging the market for cheese should understand clearly its food value. It contains over 25 per cent more protein than the same weight of an average cut of beef as purchased. So far as its composition is concerned cheese is comparable with meat. There are a great variety of ways of using cheese in the same way as meat, and these can usually be readily learned by consulting the average cook book. In planning menus in which cheese is given an important place, the housewife should bear in mind that, being rich in both protein and fat, cheese may replace such foods as fish and eggs, as well as meat, rather than cereal foods characterized by a large amount of starch, or succulent foods such as vegetables and fruits.

How to Increase Demand.

Every interest concerned in enlarging the market for cheese should join in preaching the gospel of "more cheese in the daily menu," say dairy specialists. There are many ways in which this education campaign can be carried on. Advertising is one effective medium. Attractive displays of cheese and cheese dishes, with well-worked placards, in grocery and delicatessen stores help materially.

"BULSHEVICS" OF LIVE STOCK

New Title Applied by Wisconsin Farmer to the Reactionaries of Bovine Society.

From a farmer in Wisconsin comes a new word for use in the "Better Stock—Better Stock" campaign now being carried on by the United States department of agriculture in co-operation with state and local agencies. He applies a new title to the reactionaries of bovine society, and cites the indisputable fact that scrub bulls are the enemies of good production; that they levy upon the milk, cream and butter checks and compel the farmer to keep cows, where the cows should keep the farmer.

With these charges in mind and with his eyes on the international situation this farmer suggests that the scrub bulls be known hereafter as the bulshevics.

SHY AT REGISTERED CATTLE

Poor Appearance of Some of Get of Pure-Bred Bulls Tend to Discourage Small Breeders

One of the biggest reasons today why more farmers are not cashing registered cattle is because many of them have seen the get of some registered bulls which they have observed are not much better. If any better, than some calves sired by a good grade bull. If more breeders of registered cattle would use the knife as needed instead of sending out scrub pedigreed bulls just because they can put the papers on them, there would be more satisfied little breeders and eventually more satisfied big breeders.

Horse's Decorations.

The brass decorations frequently seen on the harness of a work horse are a direct survival of the armlets which decorated the horses of the time of Julius Caesar and the ancient Egyptians.

CAPACITY OF COW'S STOMACH

Not Enough Nutrition in Pasture Grass to Make Maximum Production of Milk.

The bulky nature of pasture grass places a positive limit upon the capacity of the cow to take feed. In other words, the cow's stomach cannot contain grass enough to supply the required nutrients for maximum milk production; therefore a part of the ration should be of a more concentrated nature. Good pasture contains an abundant supply of succulent palatable and nutritious grasses.

EGGS IN SEPARATE PACKAGES

Some Markets Favor White-Shell, While Others Favor Brown—Throw Out Defects.

Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages. Eggs irregular in shape, those which are unusually long or thin-shelled, or which have shells otherwise defective, should be kept by the producer for home use, so that breakage in transit may be reduced as much as possible.

And Hardest.

It has been our observation that it is the ripe scholar who fills the quickest. —Dallas News.

FEEING OATS TO CHICKENS

Fowls Will Take to Them Readily If Sweet, Clean and Heavy—Dislike Long Points.

Oats make good summer feed if you can get the fowls to eat them freely. Most fowls will take readily to clean, sweet, heavy clipped oats weighing 40 pounds per bushel, while they would refuse that which has long points or is light in weight or musty. A bushel of oats contains only half as much nutrients as a bushel of corn or wheat.

WASTE STEAM MADE USEFUL

Utilization is Economical on Account of High Prices of Coal and Electric Power.

The practical value of using exhaust steam in various creamery operations is being demonstrated by the dairy division, United States department of agriculture. Last year 45 creameries installed exhaust-steam water heaters and hot-water boiler-feed pumps, assistance being given and, in some cases, plans furnished by government specialists. Equipment for use log exhaust steam to pasteurize cream was installed by six creameries and a number of others introduced similar economies.

The result of such efforts, it is pointed out, makes possible more economical operation. The high prices of coal and electric power have given added importance to the utilization of steam formerly wasted.

FLIES TORMENT DAIRY COWS

Mixture Recommended by Minnesota Expert to Keep Pests Away During Summer Season.

By preventing flies from tormenting the cows much greater flow of milk is secured during the summer months and the remainder of the lactation period. The following home made mixture has given good results at the college dairy farm. It is better than several other mixtures tried and quite as effective as the prepared sprays costing a dollar per gallon. It is made as follows:

- 1½ quarts of any standard coal tar dip.
- 1½ quarts fish oil.
- 1 pint of oil of tar.
- 1 quart of coal oil.
- ¾ pint of oil of Eucalyptus.

Mix in ten gallons of lukewarm soft water in which a bar of laundry soap has been dissolved.

Spray twice a day, in the morning after milking and in the afternoon when cows are brought in for stanch or green feed. When a half barrel cart with spray nozzle attachment is used two men can spray a herd of forty cows in ten minutes. This mixture is not perfect and does not keep off the flies away and, furthermore, it leaves the coat rather harsh and causes dust to adhere; however, it is very beneficial and practical and results in more milk and greater comfort. H. H. Kildee, University Farm, St. Paul.

CALF-FEEDING RULES

1. Do not overfeed.
2. Give feed in a clean, wholesome condition.
3. Have the utensils scrupulously clean.
4. Feed regularly and in small quantities.
5. Always feed at a temperature of 85 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Use a thermometer—do not use your finger.
6. Give the calf water to drink.
7. Be regular in everything.
8. Give the calves exercise in the open air during good weather, but do not expose them during cold, rainy weather.
9. Provide clean, well lighted pens with plenty of bedding.
10. Gradual feeding may be continued after the fourth month if desirable or it may be discontinued at three months of age, and the calf be put on a hay and grain ration.

Proper Pride Necessary.

Pride, like lameness and other poisonous maladies, is beneficial in small, though injurious in large quantities. No man who is not pleased with himself, even in a personal sense, can please others.—Frederick Saunders.

CAREFUL HANDLING OF MILK

All Vessels Should Be Freshly Scalded to Remove Bacteria—Cover Will Exclude Odors.

No matter how well milk has been handled up to the time it is delivered to the consumer, it cannot be expected to keep well if it is carelessly treated thereafter. It should be poured into pails, cans, or other vessels—freshly scalded to remove any bacteria or mold spores—and kept in a cool, clean place free from dirt, flies, etc. New milk should never be mixed with old, unless it is used at once, as the bacteria in the old milk will, of course, be added also, and the mixed milk will not keep as well as the fresh milk alone.

Bacteria are thickest where there is dirt and decay, and milk should therefore be stored only in clean, sweet places. It is safer to keep it covered, to exclude not only dirt and bacteria, but also the fumes and odors which it so easily absorbs. If kept at a temperature of 54 degrees Fahrenheit or less, good milk should remain sweet for 12 hours at least, after it reaches the consumer, and ordinarily for 24 hours or more, dairy specialists of the United States department of agriculture say. Sometimes in very hot weather housekeepers complain that in spite of all precautions it sours quickly, even in the ice box. This is often due to the fact that the air of the ice box, although it seems cold in contrast with the heat outside, is really not cold enough to check the growth of the bacteria; if a thermometer placed inside registers more than 54 degrees Fahrenheit, the milk is almost surely in the temperature of the ice box, and not in the milk.

In large cities, where most of the milk comes by morning trains from a considerable distance, it is often in-possible to deliver fresh morning's milk in time for breakfast, and that milked the morning before must be given to patrons who insist on an early delivery. They would get their milk from 12 to 18 hours fresher if they would take it in the afternoon instead.

AIR-TIGHT WALL IS NEEDED

In Building a Silo Protection Must Be Provided for Silage to Prevent Molding.

It makes little difference what material is used in building a silo as long as the silo is practically air tight all around the walls and bottom. Wood, cement, tile, iron, and plaster silos have been used with success. Protection against mold is largely dependent upon the exclusion of air, and for this purpose an air-tight wall is required and the sealed material should be properly packed in the silo. Silage will keep equally well in any one of the silos mentioned provided the walls are properly made, are air and moisture tight, and the material is correctly ensiled.

REINFORCING INSIDE OF SILO

Where High Winds Prevail It Is Good Insurance to Place Wood Hoops at Top and Bottom.

Where high winds prevail it is good insurance to reinforce the inside of a stave silo with wood hoops at the top and bottom. Pieces of thin, narrow lumber, usually weather boarding, are nailed to the staves so as to form a hoop of 4 to 5 thicknesses of the weather boarding, care being exercised to break joints. The strips are 8x10 feet long and they may be soaked in water so as to bend easier.

Vehicle Cheapens Cost of Haul, Speeds Up the Delivery and Saves Valuable Time.

Dairymen everywhere have found the motortruck a great help in delivering their products to their patrons. It cheapens the haul, speeds up the delivery, and saves much valuable time and labor. It also insures the delivery of the dairy products in much better condition which will insure better prices and better satisfied customers. The only wonder is that more dairymen have not purchased motortrucks.

Know Cow's Profitableness. Test your cows and know whether they are eating up your profits as well.

Transports are Increasing Farm Profits

The above illustration shows how farmers are making use of Transport trucks in threshing work. They find that Transports will go right into the stubble fields and haul grain from separator direct to market, thus saving the immense amount of time and labor consumed in double handling where temporary storage is necessary.

The number of Transports on the farm is constantly increasing as farmers come to realize that Transport service means the accomplishment of more work with less effort—greater haulage economy—bigger profits.

Transport's advanced engineering has reduced friction to the lowest possible point. This is accomplished by exacting standard of accuracy in measurements—proper balancing of parts and a lubricating system far ahead of anything yet developed.

Transports are equipped with the Clark Internal Gear Drive Axle, which transmits the power in the most simple, direct manner to the driving wheels—near the rim—where best results are assured. This explains in a large measure the surprising display of power so often given by Transports.

The use of nickel steel wherever practicable is largely responsible for the added strength of Transport Trucks—their ability to stand up under heavy loads and keep everlastingly on the job.

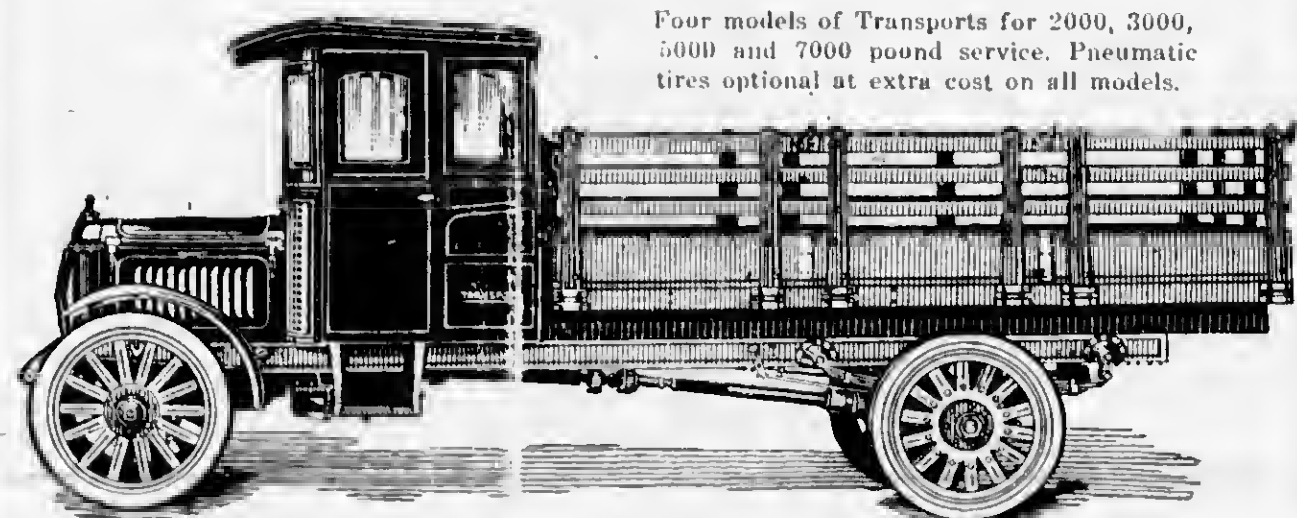

The Battle Auto Co., Transport distributor at Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, is an organization of high grade motor truck men—men well able to make an intelligent study of your haulage requirements and to help you select just the size truck that will serve you most efficiently and economically. Our knowledge and experience is at your command.

Carrying an unusually complete parts stock and located less than a mile from the Transport factory, quick service is assured—always.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Condition of Street Railways
The Commission appointed by President Wilson more than a year ago for the purpose of investigating the electric railways situation of the country, has returned its report. The commission calls conditions by their proper names, and it says that the financial credit of the street railway industry has been lost, and that in many localities the railways are not performing their public function. This condition is ascribed to the increased costs of labor and material, early over-capitalization and financial mismanagement, in the past; public distrust and antagonism, failures of the fixed five cent fare to meet existing conditions, extensions into unprofitable territory in furtherance of real estate speculation, and failure of employers and employees to properly cooperate. The report estimates that from $175,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually will be required to properly carry out the future needs of the industry and it emphatically declares restoration of public confidence is one of the vital necessities of restored credit.

Assuming that the ailments of the street railway industry have been very clearly diagnosed, according to the above summary of conditions that are generally recognized, it is hard to understand how these utilities are going to be able to keep pace with the growth of their communities and the country, and raise the hundreds of billions of dollars that will be required as the years roll by, unless they actually regain public confidence, and get their affairs running along smooth and easy lines.

Commission Points the Way

The President's Federal Electric Railways Commission has made a unanimous report, and in view of the fact that it presents an agreement among men of strong personality whose interests are entirely divergent in the every-day affairs of their lives, it is no more than could be expected that President Wilson should have extended to the Commission his "sincere thanks for the very able and valuable report," and at the same time state his appreciation "of the self-sacrificing efforts of the commission members in so freely devoting their time to the task undertaken at my request. But I cannot but believe," says the President, "that the results achieved will prove to be full compensation for their efforts."

This splendid acknowledgment of approval by the President seems to be fully justified by the thoroughness of the investigations made by the commission, which held extended public hearings in Washington, and which in every other consistent manner obtained the views of all manner of interests and people in every part of the country. Among the recommendations is the plan now in operation in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dallas, Montreal, and other cities, which provides "service at cost." Primarily, the plan provides for furnishing rides at actual cost, which shall govern the rate of fares, and for protecting the investors by guaranteeing a fixed return on an agreed valuation of his holdings. The controlling element in favor of such a plan according to the commission, "is the restoration of public confidence in the corporation due to the removal of those elements of friction which have so frequently engaged the attention of the public." Speculative gain on the part of the railways gives way under such a system to "a commonsense business basis where the people pay for the service they get and where the opportunity for large profits no longer exist, since economies and lower operating costs are reflected in reduced charges for service." The commission adds: "When the contract once is established, the opportunity for municipal corruption is reduced to the minimum."

Three Parties to the Situation
Management must meet their duties to the public with the highest efficiency at the lowest cost; public supervision and control of electric railway properties must safeguard the public interest and protect the investor; and employees should have a proper wage and good working conditions, guaranteed by the right of the employees to deal collectively with their employers, through committees of their own selection, and finally "all labor disputes should be settled voluntarily or by arbitration and the award of such board should be final and binding on both parties." These are features in the report of the Federal Electric Railways Commission to the President.

The commission finds that public ownership is, as a rule, undesirable, but legal obstacles against such a course should be removed in order that the system may be invoked in special instances. The mooted question of fares is discussed, and the commission recommends that if at a given rate of fare, more than a fair return of profit results, it should go neither to the private corporation nor to the city, but should be reflected back by the automatic reduction of the fare paid by car riders.

"Unless the usefulness of the electric railway is to be sacrificed," says the report, "public control must be flexible enough to enable them to secure sufficient revenue to pay the entire cost of service rendered, including the necessary cost of both capital and labor."

The Right to Strike
The majority report of the anthracite coal commission added approximately $85,000,000 to the wages of the miners. A minority report suggested a further increase in the rate of pay, but very fairly stated the majority report should "have the full practical acceptance" of the miners, in accordance with the obligation assumed when the method for obtaining the wage award was agreed upon. Thereupon an energetic group of labor leaders started in to repudiate the vote of the men direct from the mines who accepted the original proposition for settling their wage grievances, and they are now reminded by President Wilson that "by all the laws of honor upon which civilization rests, that their pledge should be fulfilled."

Thus again, disaster has been threatened the country, through cutting off the anthracite coal supply, after a plain business agreement within the industry was submitted to an investigation and determination of an official body—which gave the increases in wages that had been asked for.

Collective Bargaining
The term, "collective bargaining," means that wage-workers shall have the right to organize, and through their chosen representatives, make bargains with their employers concerning wages and other phases of their work. During the war this method of governing employment gained full official recognition, and former President Taft was chairman of the War Labor Board that put teeth into the enforcement of the principle in industry.

Railroad employers and wage-workers reached the progressive viewpoint that the government should be taken into consideration as the logical protector of the public interest, and more than two million railroad men agreed with their employers to an adjustment of wage relations by the federal government. Other industries have been asking the government to adjudicate their affairs, and through the plan of collective bargaining, the process has been making rapid progress.

The coal miners have been persistent in their demands upon Washington, and the government has been rendering the fullest assistance in settling the troubles that have arisen. However, it appears to be up to the coal miners to rid their organizations of anarchists, bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s, since that element is prominent in leadership among them. And public opinion has passed the point it will sustain such leaders.

KILL STABLE FLIES QUICKLY

Ten Per Cent Solution of Formalin in Milk Sprinkled in Gutters is Recommended.

A quick and sure method of killing stable flies is to make a 10% solution of formalin in milk and sprinkle it on the cement floors and gutters. The flies are attracted to it and are killed in 30 minutes. Then the floors are washed and the stable is clean for the day. This operation is repeated each morning as long as necessary. At the beginning of the campaign it will take several mornings to clear out the flies, but after that it will be necessary to do it only as often as they become bothersome. Their breeding place in the manure pile outside the stable should be done away with, and the manure drawn out daily to the fields or placed in well-tight pit.

Sound Qualities of Horse

First Consideration of Buyer and Breeder Should Be Soundness—Examine Thoroughly.

The soundness of a horse is one of the first considerations of the buyer and should be of the breeder, according to the United States department of agriculture. If the animal is not sufficiently sound to withstand the use for which he is intended, the best thing to learn of this is before the purchase.

Selection must be based primarily on a thorough, systematic examination, the examination should be based on a clear knowledge of desirable and undesirable qualities.

Not only the presence of unsoundness, but also the condition or seriousness of the unsoundness should be noted.

Temporary unsoundness should be distinguished from permanent unsoundness.

A hurried examination is likely to prove a disappointment.

Observe gait, vision, faulty conformation, unsoundness and general characteristics.

Common blemishes are scars from old wounds, poll evil, scratches, shoe boils and small ruptures.

Common vices are halting, pulling, cutting back, stall walling, weaving and biting.

Common faults of conformation are straight shoulders, crooked, weak, or improperly set legs, ewe neck, long weak back, and drooping croup.

Common unsoundnesses are splints, thoroughbred splints and extreme blemishes.

SCHOOL MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Outside Pupils Below Eighth Grade Will Not Be Accepted

The special school meeting held at the school house on Tuesday of last week smoked out the largest attendance of any meeting in recent years. The meeting was called to reconsider the question of accepting pupils below the eighth grade from other schools.

At the regular meeting held in July it was voted to bar all outside pupils below the eighth grade and at the meeting last Tuesday night this decision was sustained by a vote of 35 to 19.

It was, however, voted to allow pupils from No. 10 to attend for a period of thirty days to enable the tax payers of No. 10 to take action in regard to disbanding their district.

HOW TO FEED CALVES

Feed the calf only small amounts of milk for the first few days.

Do not overfeed. Scours, stunted calves and deaths are caused largely by overfeeding. A pint of milk weighs a pound. Measure or weigh the milk for each calf. Do not guess at it.

Feed regularly twice a day. Have the milk warm, sweet and fresh. If the milk is poor in quality, feed less of it, and more.

Feed grain and milk from clean boxes and buckets. Buckets should be washed and scalded every morning.

WEIGHING AND TESTING MILK

Only Way Dairy Farmer Can Determine With Any Certainty Which Cows Are Profitable.

The weighing and testing of milk is not yet practiced by the general farmer. It will be, however, as soon as the farmer realizes that only in this way can he know the profitable cow to keep and whether his herd is improving or deteriorating.

TRAINS AND CARS IN SUNDAY SMASH

Passengers Escape From Car Stalled on Track

Three automobile accidents and two exciting boat situations in which no one was injured, occurred at Petoskey late Saturday evening and Sunday.

The auto of a party of five from Cheboygan, enroute to Charlevoix, was struck at the Bay View crossing by a north bound suburban train, and the car humped end over end and badly demolished.

With one wheel over the rail, and the train approaching, the passengers made a hurried exit, leaving the auto on the rails. Motorists approaching after the wreck expected to hear of casualties, and many expressed satisfaction that the passengers were unharmed.

Late Saturday a north bound train struck a car on the crossing south of the brewery, driving it against a nearby telephone pole. The car was smashed, but aside from a few cuts from glass, the occupants were not injured.

A party of fishermen, whose launch was anchored about three miles out on Little Traverse bay were caught in the storm and had an uncomfortable three quarters of an hour after water, washing into the boat, stalled the engine.

The Steamer Manitou was forced to abandon landing at Petoskey owing to the heavy rainstorm, and hurried across the bay to Harbor Springs. Many spectators watched the maneuvers of the boat in the attempted landing.

Group No. 2 Hold Annual Meeting at Beach Hotel

Group No. 2 of the Michigan Bankers' Association will hold their annual meeting at the Beach Hotel, Friday evening, September 17. The meeting was originally planned for September 22, but was changed to the 17th, to suit the convenience of the majority of bankers attending.

This group includes Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Manistee, Wexford and Missaukee counties and it is expected that at least 100 delegates will be present. The meeting opens at six o'clock and a banquet will be served at seven at which banking topics and the Farm Bureau are to be discussed. A musical program will also be furnished.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. J. J. Howe, who lives south of the city, has just returned from an enjoyable trip to Chicago with her son and daughter, Mr. Milo J. Riemann of that city. She made the trip in a motorcycle side car, which is quite remarkable for Mrs. Howe is 70 years old and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The Charlevoix Public Schools opened September 13th, and if a good beginning signifies a good ending, we shall finish with "colors flying." The faculty is now complete, Mrs. Clinton Cooper taking temporary charge of the fifth grade and Mrs. Mason Rose assuming charge of the History Department. A larger number of students are enrolled than in any previous year, those in the senior and junior high school number 208. At present there are seven students enrolled in the County Normal Class. The outlook of the students, summarized, is, "A Great School Year!"

Mr. Rice promises some excitement in athletics at an early date. He is to coach the football team, and, as far as to coach the football team, we have one of the finest bunches of players in the locality. We confidently hope to see the 1920 championship banner hanging in our session room. Watch for announcements of the games!

Wednesday of this week was Charlevoix Day at the county fair, and schools were closed in order that students and teachers could attend. Charlevoix sent a very commendable exhibit to the fair this year, worthy of the attention of all school patrons. Miss Guscatt was in charge of this work and with her corps of assistants spent some time in arranging the Charlevoix exhibit in a prominent place on the fair grounds.

The Senior English Class will have charge of the publication of school news for the coming year and will endeavor to keep the patrons of the school in touch with all matters of interest in connection therewith.

Unstable Sugar Market Prevents Cannery Taking Care of Large Crop of Fruit

While not one of the principal money-making crops of northern Michigan, the yield of apples this year is enormous and with better market conditions, farmers would realize handsomely on their orchards. This is the summary of the condition of the early fruit situation.

"There are too many apples this year," said Leo Schmeling, sales manager of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange of Cadillac. "Last year the crop was hardly adequate to supply the demand and consequently the prices were favorable. This year the farmers are loath to sell their apples under last year's price, but as the big markets are swamped the price must drop accordingly."

The Potato Exchange is now sending quotations to western points in an effort to dispose of some of the surplus Michigan crop, but the fact that apples have been a large crop in all sections of the country, Michigan will have to compete with western fruit and freight charges will cut into the profits.

In the east, apples are selling for around one dollar a bushel. Eastern points also are gorged with apples.

The canneries and preserving factories are not handling the crop of apples as rapidly as normally owing to the uncertain status of the sugar market. Sugar is selling in many cities as low as 15 cents a pound and with no knowledge of where the price will go the canners are not taking the chance of having high priced goods in their stocks.

Reports from Traverse City say the situation is far from gratifying to the average farmer.

From the time the orchards were laden with bloom until the branches have broken under the abnormally heavy yield, he has speculated on the possibilities of his apple crop. Now, owing perhaps to the credit situation or the prevalent fear of business conditions, there seems to be a shortage of buyers and apples are bringing a very low figure.

A large share of the Traverse apples are going to the cider mills where they bring but forty or fifty cents.

The peach crop also is too large for profit, declared Mr. Schmeling of the Potato Growers' Exchange. The sugar situation is affecting the market for the fruit and with wages for pickers away up, the orchard men will not realize very heavily on their fruit.

Potatoes will not go very high this year, says Mr. Schmeling. The present predictions of the government crop forecasters is that there will be approximately 113,000,000 bushels of potatoes this year compared with the forecast of a month ago of 402,000,000 bushels. This yield may be further increased as digging continues.

The average yield of spuds for the past five years has been 382,000,000 bushels. Potatoes are now selling for slightly under a dollar and the indications are that the price will remain around that figure for several months, says Mr. Schmeling.

WOOD BROS. LEASE NEW SALES ROOM

Will Occupy Masonic Building as Soon as Vacated

On account of their present quarters being inadequate for their rapidly growing business, Wood Bros. have leased the store room in the Masonic building, about to be vacated by A. E. Mason Grocery store, and about the fifteenth of October will transfer their stock and equipment to the new location.

The room leased is one of the largest salesrooms in the city, with entrances both on Bridge and Mason streets. At the Mason street entrance, the show windows will be converted into doors, thus allowing cars to be driven into the work shop for electrical and battery repairs.

The room adjacent to the Bridge street entrance will be utilized as a display room for electrical fixtures, vacuum sweepers, washing machines, and other lines handled.

Wood Bros. have enjoyed a wonderfully successful business and with the added floor space and new equipment about to be installed, will be the most complete electrical shop in Northern Michigan.

ADMIT YOUTHS OF 18 IN ORDER

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS REDUCES AGE LIMIT

Great World War Demonstrated That Young Men Under 21 Are of Real Service

In conformity with its general program and policy of expansion by which it is proposed to carry the principles of the order into the fields of Pythian endeavor, the Knights of Pythias at the recent biennial convention of its supreme lodge at Minneapolis adopted an amendment to its organic law reducing the minimum age limit of membership in the order from 21 to 18 years, the effort of which will be to open the door of fraternal hope to thousands of youths of 18, 19 and 20 years of age felt the touch of human sympathy and who long to enlist under the banner of brotherhood achievement.

Since the order was founded, membership has been restricted to white male persons not less than 21 years of age and under 50, except that persons over 50 might be accepted as members by dispensations. But out of the great World War many lessons come to nature calculated to change the old order of things, not the least of which was the idea born of the tremendous struggle and was participated in by the best blood of the nation's young manhood that youths of 18, 19 and 20 years of age capable of meeting responsibilities and discharging life's obligations with a fidelity equal to those of a few years their senior. The alacrity with which the younger boys of the nation sprang to arms at the call of country in defense of its honor and for the preservation of its institutions affords incontrovertible proof that one does not necessarily have to be of legal age in order to be of real service in times of stress and need.

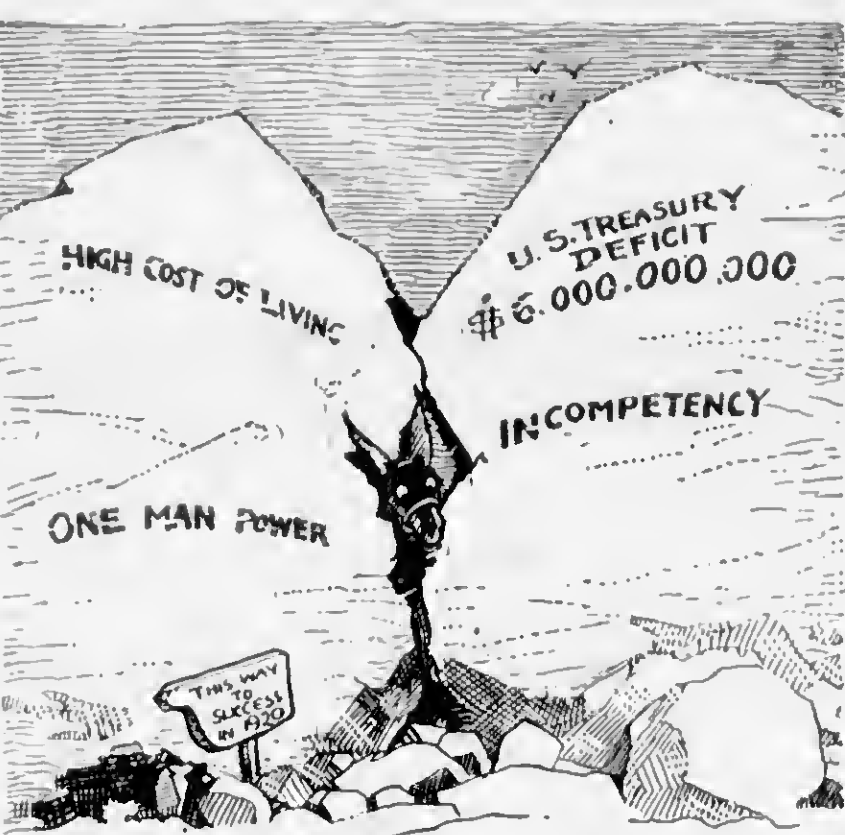

Inspired by thoughts of service performed and sacrifices made by the boys of the land and being deeply sensible to the convictions that if a boy of 18 years is man enough, strong enough and patriotic enough to serve his country in time of war, he is competent physically, mentally and temperamentally to participate in the settlement of the problems of peace that came to us as a heritage of the war, in which he fought.

The Knights of Pythias in common with other fraternal organizations are not unmindful of the obligations the duties of the hour impose. It proposes to perform its full share in the great work of reconstruction and rehabilitation, that civilization may speedily recover from the shock to which it was subjected and that the blessings of peace, softened by sentiments of fraternal love may find permanent abiding place in the hearts of men. And in this magnificent endeavor it has invited boys and men of 18 years and over to enlist under the tri-colored banner of Pythian Knighthood in the movement designed to banish discontent and discord and make the world brighter and happier.

BANKERS MEET AT BEACH HOTEL

Members of Group Two Enjoy Social Evening

About one hundred twenty-five members of the Northern Michigan Bankers' Association, Group 2, met at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel Friday evening, for one of their regular meetings, bankers from the principal towns of this section being present.

A. F. Bridge, chairman of arrangements, called the meeting to order, and then called upon Frank Welton, of Cadillac, chairman of Group 2, to take charge the balance of the evening. Welton accepted the invitation with remarks that were both clever and witty.

Several numbers on the program were especially good, among them a violin solo by Wm. G. King, concert master of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and readings by Mrs. Edna Rutert, principal of Charlevoix High School.

Mr. Mertz, of the First and Old Detroit National Bank, manager of the foreign exchange department, gave an interesting talk on the foreign exchange and how the present situation came about. He also explained in a few words how Ponzi made his start and the subsequent publicity concerning his dealings.

W. A. Miles of Mancelona, was elected chairman of Group 2 for the next year. The event was a most enjoyable one and the expressed sentiment was that Charlevoix was a good place to come.

WINNERS AT THE COUNTY FAIR

JUDGES HAVE DIFFICULTY IN MAKING AWARDS

In City School Exhibits East Jordan Won First Place, Boyne City, Second, Charlevoix Third

The judges had a difficult time at the County Fair in the Educational Hall. They agreed that the point system was surely necessary in arriving at decisions on the general display and complimented the schools and the teachers in the county on the splendid amount of work and the fine quality of work being done in the county. Chairman of the board of judges for city schools was Supt. Beadle of Harbor Springs, and his assistants were: Mrs. Beadle, Principal Bailey and Mrs. Bailey of Harbor Springs, Commissioner of Schools, Mr. Washburn, of Petoskey, Supt. Sisson of Bellaire, Supt. Payne of Frederic, Supt. Fischer of Alhambra, Principal of the County Normal, Miss Pitcher of Kalkaska. They found that every school had excelled in some one line and that pupils in each had done work better than any other child in the county had done in that particular piece of work.

In arranging the summary they found that East Jordan had first place, Boyne City second and Charlevoix third. The points by grades and departments will be mailed to each editor and superintendent at a later date.

Among the two and three room schools, Ironton won first place, Charlevoix second and St. James third. The St. James school was able to bring only half an exhibit due to the loss of the primary exhibit in the absence of one of the teachers last spring. The small school at Sunny Side on Big Beaver was a very close fourth.

Horton Bay was first among the one room schools, the Robinson school second, and Advance third. All of the exhibits were splendid and special mention should truly be given every one of the exhibitors. Murray, Marion No. 5, East Chandler, Miles, Knop and Norwood all vied with the winners, making them earn their place and coming close to carrying away honors. The teachers should surely be commended on their splendid work in behalf of the boys and girls and their public spirit in bringing their work for display at the county fair.

A separate committee handled the two room and rural school work. Of this committee, Mrs. M. R. Keyworth of East Jordan, was a very able chairman. She was assisted by Supt. A. A. Metcalf and Misses Martin and Bailey of Boyne City. Misses Florence Maddaugh and Brown of Charlevoix, Supt. Keyworth and Mrs. Maud Blount of East Jordan. Due to the fact that Miss Maddaugh was an interested party in the one-room school exhibits, she judged in the two room display only. They agreed with the board of judges for city schools in saying that it is a big job to judge the work piece by piece in so large a building but were unanimous in the opinion that the work is immensely worth while and that the exhibits should continue to grow in size and improve in quality. Our deepest gratitude should be extended to them for their hard work in judging the display and in offering suggestions for the improvement of the Charlevoix County Schools.

Our deepest gratitude should be extended to them for their hard work in judging the display and in offering suggestions for the improvement of the Charlevoix County Schools.

ORGANIZE DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

Grangers of County to Renew Activities

If plans already made materialize, there will be a big increase in grange membership before the close of the present year.

At the recent meeting of Pomona Grange, resolutions were adopted to start a drive October 1, to revive the dormant granges and secure new members. For this purpose a committee was appointed, the master of Pomona Grange to be chairman, with power to select the balance of the committee. Also that a like committee be appointed from each subordinate grange, the masters to be chairman, with power to select other members of the committee.

The county committee will arrange for a special meeting of each grange to secure a state speaker for the occasion. The following schedule of points was adopted, to be used in determining the banner grange for each quarter:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Per cent new members	50	35	15	10
Per cent members lost	50	35	15	10
Per cent visits other granges	25	20	10	5
Per cent attendance	25	20	10	5
Meetings lost 20 per cent off.
Meetings held 10 plus.

It is expected that a large increase in membership and grange activities will result from the drive.

STRAW VOTE ON FOR PRESIDENT

Rexall Drug Stores Open Preliminary Campaign Efforts

Previous to the presidential election four years ago the 8,000 Rexall drug stores throughout the United States conducted a straw vote in which over 1,000,000 votes were cast. As a result of this vote the election of President Wilson was forecasted days in advance of the regular election.

Every voter male or female is asked to deposit his or her ballot in a box prepared for that purpose and with the assurance that every ballot will be as secret as though cast at the regular election.

The campaign is running in every state in the Union and as fast as the results can be tabulated they will be sent to the stores throughout the country and posted. The Ivy Drug Store will announce the results of votes cast in the city.

The venture four years ago was watched with interest and will probably attract more attention this time because women voters have been included and it is one of the most pretentious straw vote campaigns ever undertaken.

NOTE PICKED UP AFTER 13 MONTHS

DRIFTS IN BOTTLE FROM NEAR HARBOR SPRINGS

Brings Letter to Miss Florence Tripp From Young Canadian Who Demands Photograph

The following article from the Petoskey Evening News will be of interest to Courier readers, and we reproduce it as published.

"Miss Florence Tripp, of Grand Rapids, who arrived Thursday afternoon for a two week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Edward E. Webb, 410 West Jefferson avenue, brought with her an answer to a note which drifted about in Lakes Michigan and Huron for more than a year.

"The note was written and bottled by Edward E. Webb and dropped overboard in the expectation of involving the then sixteen-year-old Miss Tripp in a romance, and the nice little letter that it elicited was written on September 8, 1920, thirteen and one half months after the bottle note was dropped into the water while Mr. and Mrs. Webb were enjoying their mid-summer vacation in 1919.

"The first note read as follows: 'This bottle dropped from steam-er Manitou between Harbor Springs and Mackinac Island at 1 p. m., July 24, 1919, by Miss Florence Tripp, age sixteen, Number 10 West Pleasant street Grand Rapids, Mich. Finder please write.'

"The reply is dated Spanish Mill, Ontario, Can., Sept. 8, 1920, and is signed by John Noon, who says he is twenty-two and wants a picture of Florence immediately, which proves that boys will be boys, even in Canada. His letter reads as follows:

"Well, Florence, I got your letter all right—the letter you put in the bottle. I found it in Georgian Bay and read it and thought I would write you one quick.

"I saw the bottle while I was eating my lunch on the beach and I picked it up and saw something inside, and I took it out and it was your letter. Well, Florence, I haven't much to tell you except that I was fishing when I found your letter and that I am working at the mill now. I enclose your letter and will write a longer letter next time. This will be all for this time. I hope to hear from you, and please send your picture so I can see you.

"Yours truly, John Noon."

MASON MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

Will Occupy Building at Corner of Bridge and Clinton Streets

The A. E. Mason Grocery store, for the past eight years located in the Masonic block, is about to be moved to the building formerly occupied by the Charlevoix Hardware Co., corner of Bridge and Clinton streets.

Preparations are under way now for the removal of the stock to the new location, and by the middle of next month Mr. Mason expects to be settled in his new quarters. On account of the large stock carried, special prices are being made to reduce the stock before moving operations are commenced.

The new location is situated in the heart of the business section and is well adapted for a store of this kind. The dry goods department will remain in its present quarters indefinitely.

Phone your orders for apples, pears, plums, peaches, and crabapples to the Charlevoix Co-Operative Association. Orders delivered for next thirty days. 3811.

When in need of packing, and farm helping, see Benj. Brown.—291f.

PLAN FOR SUMMER PRUNING

Trees of Succulent Growth Should Be Treated Severely in Order to Check Growth.

When a young tree is becoming unbalanced or unsightly in form, we can often correct this fault by pinching or cutting back the several shoots that are causing the fault. Trees of very succulent growth should be summer pruned rather severely in order to check the growth and thus promote the vigor and development of the fruit buds.

Briefly, the principles of summer pruning are the removal of undesirable

branches and shoots which tend to make the head too dense and exclude the sunlight and the cutting back or topping of shoots so as to retain the desirable low-spreading form. The benefits derived from summer pruning are:

1. The amount of winter pruning is lessened.
2. Correct form of tree is more easily secured and retained.
3. Fruitfulness is encouraged.
4. A more vigorous and harder growth that will resist winter injury to a great extent is secured.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Ten days of deer hunting and seventeen days of squirrel shooting are included on the season's bill of fare for Michigan sportsmen this year. Squirrel hunters can go gunning for fox-squirrels everywhere except the counties of Macomb, St. Clair, Genesee, Oakland and Ionia, from October 15 to 31 inclusive. The sport was permitted last year after several closed seasons and as was the case a year ago, there is no limit on the number of squirrels that can be taken. The deer season has been reduced to ten days—November 13 to 22 inclusive. The season was formerly November 10 to 30, but was shortened under Act 5, which is a special act giving the game commission authority to abridge the hunting seasons. Each hunter is limited to one deer. Fox-squirrels are reported as plentiful in many communities and many hunters will be out after them.

NEW RECORD FOR FAMOUS CAR

Overland Light Car Wins Race Against Clock Hand

A new citation badge has been pinned on the famous Overland stock car that ran 5,452 miles over Indiana country roads early this year. The new citation is for a remarkable performance in a race against the hour hand of a clock on the hard riding Indianapolis speedway.

The Overland car, after being used in road work for 2,000 miles, made its record of 5,452 miles in 168 hours continuous driving over frozen country roads, early in March. It then went back into service as a passenger car for road salesmen and then covered some 6,500 more miles. On top of this it was sent out at noon, August 24th, on the Indianapolis speedway in an effort to travel 1,000 miles before the hour hand of the clock could complete its cycle. The car not only ran 1,000 miles, but it did it in less than the 24 hours allotted.

The Indianapolis speedway is considered one of the hardest race courses in the world. It is constructed of brick and few repairs have been made to the roadbed since it was laid ten years ago. In that time the element have roughened it and today the car that travels over it undergoes more racking vibration than would be received upon the ordinary country road.

The Overland, however, came through with flying colors. It was driven by four amateur drivers who took turn about, driving two hours each and then resting six hours. To cover the 1,000 miles it was necessary for the car to maintain a much higher average rate of speed than is ever exacted for any period of time from any car by the average car owner.

But with muffler open, the car responded nobly to the test. Throughout the day light hours it sped around the great two-and-a-half-mile oval and when the evening hours came the speed was increased.

No more dramatic sight was ever witnessed on the scene of the world's most classic automobile contests than was the sight of the light car, guided by two spot-lights, roaring past the great empty stand which seemed to throw an even more intense blackness of shadow upon the night-shrouded course. The car in this remarkable run proved that the stamina and stability which gave a hardihood necessary to negotiate 5,452 miles in 168 hours gave also that extreme flexibility of motor which permitted its power plant to hold the car to the high speed necessary to cover 1,000 miles in less than 24 hours.

It was an expression to the union of economy and stamina on the American highway.

The run was observed by secretary Scroggin of the Hoosier Motor Club and other officials.

AT THE MOVIES

One of the most fascinating detective stories ever put upon the cinema screen is "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," an Emil Chautard production based upon the novel by Gaston Leroux at Palace Theatre next Tuesday.

The mystery is the story of this Realart picture takes place almost before the eyes of the auditors. The daughter of Prof. Stengerson shrieks for help at midnight, and, when the door to her room is opened, the criminal cannot be found and the manner of his impossible escape cannot be understood. The basis is genuinely confusing. In the process of ascertaining the identity of the criminal, a second crime, robbery, is discovered and a murder committed, until finally the newspaper reporter, at variance with the theories of a famous detective, brings the culprit to justice.

Some fine photographic work has been done in this film which is a Realart picture. William S. Walcott as the professor, Ethel Gray Terry as his daughter, Edmund Elton as her fiancé, George Cowl as the detective and Lorin Baker as the newspaper sleuth, are the principal players in the film. The balance of the large company, including many well-known players, is capable.

DESTROY 3,500 GALLONS OF TARVIA

Unknown Persons Tamper With Valves of Loaded Car

About three thousand five hundred gallons of tarvia, belonging to the B. Barrett company, of Chicago, was destroyed some time Wednesday night at Petoskey, when some unknown person opened the valves in the tank car in which the tarvia was stored and let it run out onto the ground. The car was stationed on the siding at the Petoskey city waterworks plant, from which institution steam was secured to heat the car.

The Barrett company was putting the material on the Emmet county roads and had used about two thirds of the tank or six thousand five hundred gallons and was each day using more tarvia from the car.

The county contract called for payment to be made at the price of eighteen cents per gallon for the tarvia after it had been spread on the roads. The loss is estimated at more than $500. Not only is there a loss of tarvia but the crew of men here to spread it on the road are thus thrown out of work.

The Emmet county highway department reports that efforts will be made to determine who is the blame, and to bring the guilty parties to justice.

PETOSKEY PLANE IS SMASHED UP

Machinery and Gear Had Been Tampered With Maliciously

In a spectacular misadventure, the Rosenswift airplane, which has been carrying passengers over Charlevoix and Petoskey all summer, was wrecked Thursday afternoon in a cornfield adjoining its flying field southwest of Petoskey.

Lieut. S. E. Gane, who has succeeded Pilot Bishop in charge of the plane, and "Frenchy" Michelson and Joe Van Dyke, who are associated with him in the work, all insist that they have discovered positive proofs of foul play in the gear and machinery, which they assert were tampered with late last week before they made a trip to the East Jordan fair. They claim that supports had been loosened and that the running gear had been fouled so that the plane had to be operated wrong in order to hold to any given course.

In the accident Thursday there were two men in the plane when an effort was made to start from the field. The machine failed to fly over the barbed wire fence that separates the starting ground from the corn field, and it bumped several times and then, bounced over the fence and tore its way through the corn breaking one of the supports of the upper plane, shattering the propeller and ripping a wing. Corn was mowed down as the machine crashed through it, but neither of the men was injured.

The machine was scheduled to make flights at the county fair at East Jordan each day, but on account of the accident, did not make its appearance Thursday or Friday.

HAMM HAS PUREBREDS ONLY

South Dakota Farmer Asks Enrollment in "Better Sires—Better Stock" Movement.

Declaring that not only all his sires but likewise all his female breeding animals were purebred, Charles P. Hamm, a South Dakota farmer, applied for enrollment in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign conducted by the United States department of agriculture in co-operation with state agencies. He is a breeder of Short-horn cattle, Percheron horses, Duroc-Jersey hogs, Rhode Island Red chickens, and Bourbon Red turkeys.

The better-sires movement is aimed particularly at the use of superior purebred sires, but the majority of those enrolled also keep some female stock. Mr. Hamm, however, is the first person officially listed as keeping five classes of live stock in which all the animals—both male and female—are purebred.

Obsolete Word.

What has become of that good old word "earn"? Folks are "getting" are "paid" and are "making" so much a day. But nothing is said about anybody "earning" anything.—Los Angeles Times.

KILL OUT PERENNIAL WEEDS

Quack Grass and Canada Thistle Are Most Troublesome and Offer Greatest Resistance.

Perennial weeds offer the greatest resistance and require more thorough and persistent effort to destroy them. Two of the most troublesome of our common weeds are quack grass and Canada thistle. The former may be distinguished from other grasses by its characteristic festoons and the latter by its characteristic fern-like leaves. Whatever method will destroy quack grass will also kill Canada thistle or any other perennial weed.

Fallowing or cultivation without a crop is the most certain method of eradication on large areas and may be used to good advantage except on sandy soils and those continuously wet or very porous. Success depends upon the depth of plowing and frequent cultivation. The prevention of all leaf-growth in weeds means their certain death. Certain cropping systems will usually be successful with quack grass.

A Garden Cafeteria

By GENEVIEVE ULMAR

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

There was a flutter in the Dale family when a letter arrived from the son and brother, Walter, announcing his marriage to Miss Hetty Perkins.

He had left his mother and sister on a month's vacation heart free.

"He can't mean it!" gasped Maud, who was proud of her handsome, high-spirited brother and had always counted on his restoring the old family prestige by wedding an heiress.

"And a bride from Greenville!" observed Flora. "That's where he had been staying. The very name has a flavor of huy and potatoes. And Hetty and Perkins! Plebeian enough to please the most democratic."

"Don't sneer, daughters, and discuss it or spread it until we meet Walter's choice," chided Mrs. Dale. "It is certainly a matter of free will with him; self alone as to whom he chooses to marry, and I have too much confidence in his sound common sense and judgment to believe that he would select a wife whom we could not respect. Since poor father died we are in a measure dependent upon his bounty, and we must give this newcomer the best welcome we can."

They were born aristocrats, were these two exclusive young ladies—at least they believed so. John Dale had cared well for his family while he was alive, but the extravagance of the loved ones he indulged as to every want and caprice had involved him at last.

"Land poor," Walter had pronounced the situation when he found himself facing serious debts and responsibilities. For two years the family practically lived on what was sold of their realty at a sacrifice. Then, after a sensible talk with his mother and sisters, Walter got down to the practical issues of life and attempted to influence them to do the same.

"There is only one piece of realty left clear of incumbrance," he said, "and that is the flat iron tract. It had some prospects five years ago, but since two railroads have encircled it, shutting it in like a back yard, no one would think of using it for residence purposes, and the only hope is that it may eventually sell for a factory site. Meantime I have secured a good position, so we can retain the old home here and live at least comfortably. You dear people shall be my care, no matter what comes."

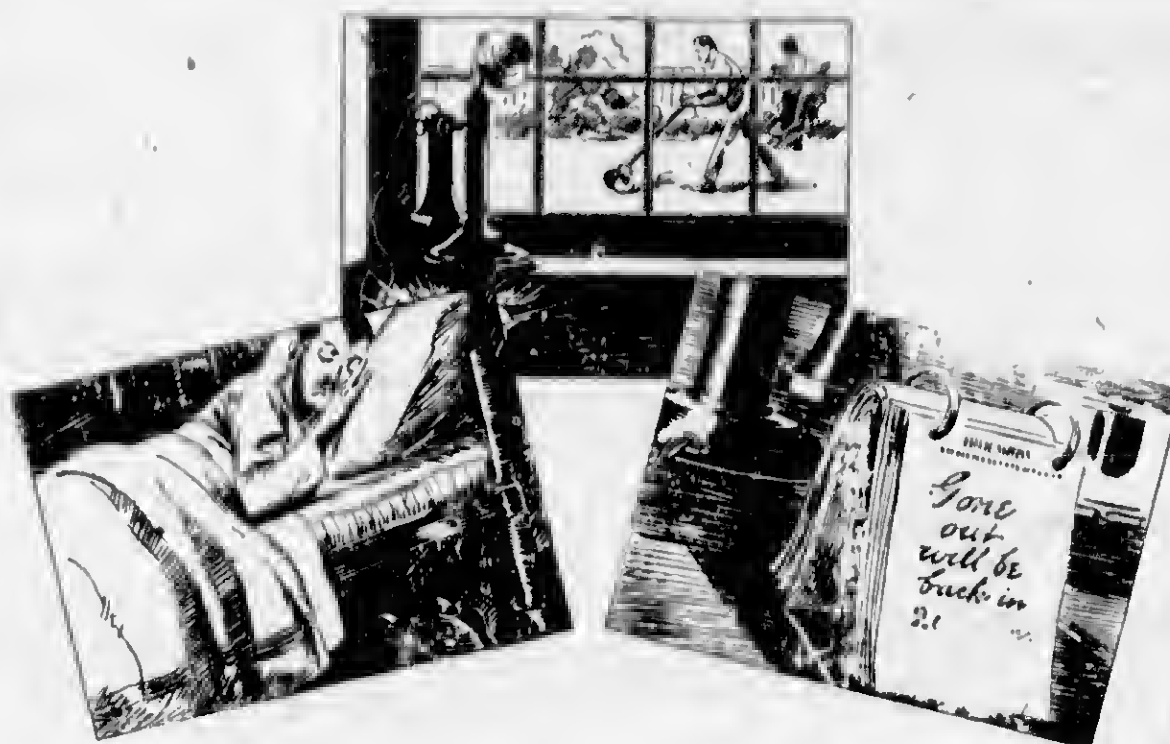

And now a casual vacation had changed the whole current of his life. It was a case of love at first sight, the day he met Hetty Perkins. She was an orphan living with a married sister; attractive rather than beautiful, sincere, unpretentious and with a warm heart for everybody she met. The day she arrived at the Dale home, within an hour Flora and Maud were placated by her gentle, appealing ways, and Walter's mother, viewing his happiness, was content. Hetty had been brought up to strict adherence to household duties, and by the end of a week she was cheerfully assuming a due share of the domestic responsibilities of the household. Somehow she soothed the rancor and dissatisfaction of the sisters and encouraged her mother-in-law to hopefulness for the future, when she dined on the certainty that Walter was the man to make a grand success in business.

"I am going to make a cottontail of you, sister," said Hetty to Maud one day. "We all wish to help Walter, of course and make his burdens lighter, and I feel certain that you will co-operate with me in a plan to effect that end. I went out to look over the flat iron tract this morning. Of course the two railroad embankments that inclose it, except for the bonlevards cutting under them, make it valueless for building sites, but there is thirty acres of the best soil I ever saw. You see, I know a good deal about farming. I have noticed people around us cultivating a little patch of garden space, and raising a few stunted onions and radishes as if they were inestimable treasures. That shows the city hangers for something fresh and green. What do you think—it has given me an idea for a garden cafeteria."

Maud looked puzzled. "I don't think I understand what you mean, Hetty," she said.

"Why, just this: You know when I married Walter I had two thousand dollars I inherited from my mother. I offered it to him, but he refused to take it. Now I see a chance to invest it. You, with your splendid education and smart, quick ways at figures, shall be the manager of my great scheme. I understand how to direct hired workers to plow and till the flat iron tract. They will cut it up into blocks—this one planted to cabbage, that one to onions, another peas, and beans, and lettuce and tomatoes, and so on. And we'll try berries the second year. Well, we will inaugurate a new fad. The tract is right in the city and accessible to residents for miles around. A thousand automobiles pass through it daily. Rich and poor will be invited to visit the gardens with baskets, cut the heads of cabbage, uproot their own choice of onions, load up their baskets, and pass along to where our sweet and pretty cashier, Flora, collects the money for their purchases."

And Walter Dale never realized until six months later what a helpful, practical wife he had, when she revealed the secret of the family speculation and handed him a bank book showing balances in four encouraging figures.

"They Don't Answer"

Perhaps you, too, have received a "They Don't Answer" report from central when you feel certain that the party you called is at home and your operator is simply neglecting you.

When you do, consider, for a moment, the many, many reasons why a subscriber may not answer—his temporary absence from the telephone—his inability to answer its call—the possibility of the telephone bell or other delicate mechanism being out of order without the operator's knowledge.

The operator, too, is human and may make errors—but she is never willfully neglectful of your service. It is much easier for her to complete your call than to make a "They Don't Answer" connection—for such connections involve additional work.

Your kindly consideration will go very far in assisting her to provide that better type of telephone service which we are all striving to give to Michigan.

RECORD IN CATTLE TESTING

Federal and State Authorities Have 537,240 Head Under Supervision in Many Sections.

From time to time the bureau of animal industry publishes a "compendium" showing conditions along the wide battle front where the allied forces of federal and state authorities are fighting cattle tuberculosis.

The latest report indicates that since the beginning of the movement in 1917 the owners of 500,000 cattle have placed their herds under supervision.

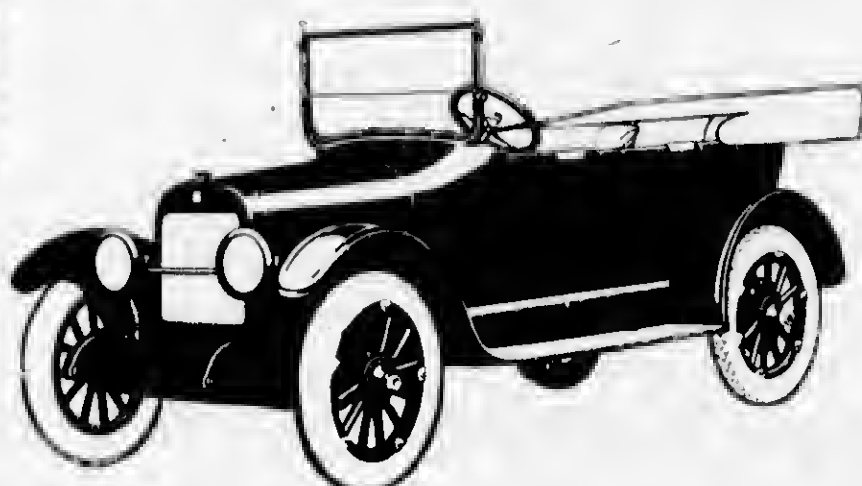

On April 1, 1920, 25,703 herds scattered throughout the United States, with a total of 537,240 cattle, were under the co-operative supervision of the department of agriculture and state veterinarians. There were 2,330 accredited herds—60,237 cattle known to be free from the plague.

A Typical Native Scrub, and Obstacle to Progress in Live Stock Improvement.

Over 115,000 cattle were on the waiting list to be tested as soon as the veterinarians can work with them. Still another lot of 258,331 cattle have passed through the first stage of the test without showing any dangerous symptoms. The least optimistic estimate indicates that two-thirds of this number will conclude the test satisfactorily, and add 170,000 cattle to the accredited group.

The Fulfillment

By GEORGE ELMER COBB

(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

They were a tumbled pair, and both Darrel and Elinor Isham recognized the fact before they had been married a month. As Elinor Dawes she had been left penniless and alone by the death of her father. Isham and he had worked side by side at a desk in a large wholesale house and Isham had often spent the evening at the Dawes home. He had been very kind and thoughtful in seeing that all due respect was paid to her dead father and had considerably relieved her of many distressful details accompanying the funeral. Then, alone with her in the silent house, a great wave of pity had swept over him and she, desolate, caring little for life or its rewards just at that moment, longing only for consolation and sympathy, they drifted into the mistake of believing their destiny to be mutual. They were married and settled down in the old humble home.

They were dissimilar in temperament and mold in every way. Isham was not fitted for continued work at the desk and dragged himself home evenings well nigh at the point of exhaustion. Elinor never flinched from strict duty. She realized that her husband would never be hardy and strong, and gave herself up to solicitous care for his health and comfort. She never complained of the monotonous life they led. Only once did her thoughts revert to the past. They expressed their polynomy in seven words, the agonizing cry of a wounded soul trying to forget:

"Oh, why did not Herbert Wake speak?"

He was a young lawyer, a close friend of Isham. For a time both had come to the Dawes home, but as time went on Wade conceived the idea that his friend and Elinor were attached to each other and reluctantly ceased to call.

About a year after Isham had married Elinor he came to the Wade office one day looking pale and careworn. "Wade," he said, "I am not regulating my health, and I fear I shall be unfit for work. A relative has left me a thousand dollars, and I want you to take charge of it and invest it."

"Very well," replied Wade, "I have had a proposition to take some bonds in a new industrial concern at eight per cent and a bonus of stock which looks very promising. Suppose we go in jointly?"

"I shall be glad to follow your direction," said Isham, and Wade gave a receipt for the money, specifying the fact of a mutual investment.

At the end of six months Isham was able to work only a part of the time. He was compelled to draw the principal in installments until it was all gone.

"I am sorry I have to use it," he said, "but I am forced to do so. I don't know what will happen when I die. Elinor will be left penniless. Look after her as far as you can, won't you, old friend?" The tears stood in his eyes as he spoke, and silently Wade extended his hand.

Wade was away when Isham died. He had been telegraphed to from the city offering him a large amount for the stock he had purchased in the industrial company, and was tendered over $8,000 for the $2,000 investment. The funeral was over when he returned to town. He hastened at once to Mrs. Isham. Kindly, as though he were a brother, he told her of his pledge to her husband. He asked her to let him plan.

"I shall go to the city," she told him. "If I had means I would take up the training of my voice. That was always my ambition. Perhaps I can do that, also, if I can get a good paying position."

"It costs money, Mrs. Isham, but I am glad to inform you that a co-partnership your husband and myself entered into two years ago has resulted in a joint profit," said Wade. "I shall deposit half of it—$4,000—to your account at bank," and he recited the primary details of the co-partnership, but said not a word of Isham drawing out all his investment long before he died.

It was a year later when he received a letter from Mrs. Isham. She stated that she was coming to see him on a matter of business.

He had heard of her success as a singer in the city churches and with choral societies, and a portrait in a musical journal had shown her more beautiful than ever. The evening that he called her enchanting beauty fairly dazzled him.

"I have come to return to you the money you so kindly loaned me," she said. "Mr. Wade, you are the noblest friend a woman ever had! Only last week I found some old papers that belonged to my husband—this."

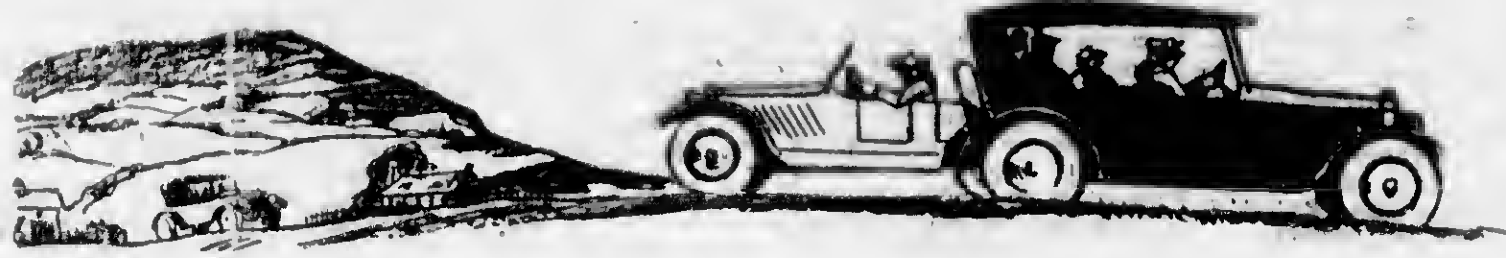

It was the co-partnership memorandum, and upon its back were the indorsements made by Darrel Isham, showing that he had drawn all the money he had invested.

"I used only a part of what you so generously gave me," said Elinor, "and I have made a great deal by my singing. True to the dead, true to the living, how I bless you for the courage you put into my life at its darkest moment! If ever I can brighten yours—"

She paused wistfully. Their eyes had met and, it seemed to both that, after all the years, in that mutual glance love, cherished, love ineffable and undying, had found its final consummation.

Moving Done by Porters.

In Towns there are no moving vans nor cars, many of the narrow streets being impassable. Household belongings are changed from place to place by porters, who most any day may be seen staggering under chests of drawers and other heavy pieces of furniture. On occasion the porters will even transport in huge baskets, persons who may be sick or otherwise incapacitated.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

II

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

III

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

IV

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

LESS HOGS AND CATTLE

Hogs have been reduced to about 5 per cent during the first four months of this year on the farms of the United States as compared with the trend during the first four months of 1919 reports the bureau of crop estimates, and there has been a relative reduction of 6 per cent in cattle during these four months of this year in comparison with the same time last year.

VEGETABLES GROWN IN FALL

Some of Pickling and Canning Stock Missed in Spring or Summer Can Be Produced.

After the hot summer weather is passed when the autumn rains have begun one should plan for the fall garden. There are many vegetables that will mature in a short time that are welcome additions to the fall fare, and some of the pickling and canning stock that we failed to get in the spring or summer can yet be produced.

WELL SELECTED CORN SEED

Supply Should Be Set Aside at Time Crop Is Being Husked—Store in Dry Place.

The corn for seed should be selected and saved when it is being husked. Save no ears for seed which are not of medium size, fair, rows straight even and of the standard color and borne at least two on the stalk. Seed corn should be spread out in the granary or on the top floor of the barn where it will keep dry.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL
By J. E. Jones

The New Epoch in Railroad
Some idea of the extent of economic and industrial changes in the United States is shown by the fact that under the rearrangement of wages for railroad workers that the payroll this year will aggregate $3,- 610,000,000. In 1917 the total operating expenses of the railroads of the country were about $2,860,- 000,000.

The ordinary mind finds it difficult to understand this great difference in the cost of railroad operation;
but some kind mortal has figured out the per capita increase due to the fact that the passenger fares on American railroads have been raised $300,000,000 a year. On the basis of our population this will amount to only $3 per capita, or less than one per cent per day per head of population. There isn't anybody going to go broke on that basis.

Passenger rates as well as freight rates, when analyzed, show that the tremendous increase of railroad workers' pay and the consequent advance in passenger and freight rates are easily absorbed. W. Jett Lauck, economist and statistician of the railroad labor organizations says that "there is no occasion for alarm in the prospect of an addition of one and one-half billion dollars to the annual transportation bill of the country, provided this item is not multiplied four or five times before it is presented to the people for payment. For instance," observes Mr.
Lauck, "by no possible computation could the increased freight rates be made to justify an increase of even one cent per pound in the price of meat, or one-quarter of one cent in the price of a loaf of bread."

"Hence the public should be informed, and the forces of government should be on guard to see that no unjustifiable burden is imposed on the people as a result of the Interstate Commerce Commission's solution of the financial problems of the railroads."

The National Security League, has also issued a statement upon the same question. It says: "Taking shoes as an example, the increases in freight rates might possibly justi-fy an advance of from 5 to 16 cents a pair. Assuming that the entire movement of hide, leather and shoes was in a district where the freights had been advanced 40 per cent, instead of 25 per cent, the increased cost would be about 8 cents on a pair of shoes. If this sum is doubled to cover increased freight on coal, new machinery, and other things which are used in a shoe factory, the maximum increase on a pair of shoes would be in the neighborhood of 16 cents a pair, or 2 per cent on an $8 pair of shoes."

The same principle applies to meat, eggs, butter and practically everything else in which transportation by rail enters to any extent.

The Traveling Congressmen
The group of Congressmen who went to the Philippines and other places in the far East are gradually drifting homeward. Naturally they bring back conflicting opinions concerning the Filipinos, and Congressman Randall has achieved fame by fairly railing against independence for the Islands. He is just as certain that they are incapable of self-government as Washington was in different in the early days, about leaving Oregon out of the Union.
It was with tremendous difficulty that the legislators were put wise to what they were overlooking.

And then Cuba, according to reactionary Congressmen, was incapable of self-government. But with the right moral support of Uncle Sam the Island has progressed rapidly—and grown rich at the same time. There was Porto Rico, too, which has demonstrated that it can manage its own affairs. Likewise we have our poor little rich possession, known as Alaska, which has turned its cornucopia of wealth into to the lap of the United States for years—and we have taken all from her—and given little in return.

Congressman Randall was among the earliest arrivals home, and he stole the thunder of the rest of the party by getting to the newspapers first. He has a notion, quite common among America's great, near great, and not great at all, that the people of the United States have a clinch on knowledge concerning government, and that other races, like the Filipinos, will flounder into wreck and ruin if left to their own resources. But the truth will disem-bark as the later boats come in; and it may be confidently expected that the Filipinos will have the ear of the next session of Congress. Apparently no political group in the United States is opposed to Philippine independence. Every investigator admits that the Filipinos have introduced the very best of educational methods and institutions into their country. In addition thousands of young men and women from the Islands have received their education in the United States. They almost always show that they are an alert, progressive and intellectual race,
and every one of them is a living illustration of the validity of the claims of their people for self-government.

More Power

If this democratic nation of ours is to be made safe for cold weather, more power, and more economical power, will need to become a reality instead of mere conversation. Once or twice each year a group of coal miners go into cohorts with Jack Frost, with the result that half of the people in cities cannot get their proper coal supply, and the other half are lucky if the landlord doesn't take advantage of the excuse that the situation offers him to economize on stoking his furnaces.

What's the answer. Water power development, that will raise the present development of less than ten billion horse power to several times that amount. Every pound of steam cuts into a coal pile, and when the pile goes down it will never renew itself. On the other hand every tub of water that shoots through a water wheel is thereby rejuvenated by the process, and after having furnished its renewable power, it dashed off down the stream singing merrily:

"Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever." The next day this same tub of water may be seen forming into a little black cloud in the upper skies, and the following day it will renew the youth of a bedrouthed daisy field. Third day the tub of water is still traveling, and when it gets back again to the water wheel it has more pep than lightning gas running through an old Johnson carburetor. It churns out on the underneath side of the wheel still gay with the triumphs of "babbling brooks."

With the revival of normal business activity and the passage of water power legislation at the recent session of Congress, the only little remaining thing to be done, is to twiddle a few millions of American capital into water power development. Water power development no longer deals with the affairs of the "jolly old miller" who has his plant at the side of the dam, but it concerns the fortunes of industry over a vast area of adjoining country, for poles and wires and dynamos enter into the great distributing scheme of hydroelectric plants, and fire by wire is doubly efficient over the method of carrying coal back and forth over the country in order that it may be consumed in a fire box in some identical spot. Conservative estimates figure that a billion dollars a year can be saved to the American people if they will only use their renewable water power and leave more of their

COVER CROPS HELP GREATLY

Rye, Vetch, Clover or Oats Will Produce Heavy Growth to Be Plowed Under in Spring.

Cover crops planted during the late summer in orchards have been found to aid materially in producing plant food for trees and keeping the orchards in good condition in the Ohio experiment station. Under the cover crop system, rye, hairy vetch, crimson clover or oats are sown during the latter part of August, so that they produce a heavy growth and then are plowed under in the spring. The cover crops have been found to take up the excessive moisture, which allows the trees to better withstand a severe winter. The legume cover crops also add nitrogen to the soil, which is valuable for producing fruit the next season.

SPRAY FOR CHICKEN HOUSES

Farmers Who Have Been Using Lime-Sulphur on Trees Can Afford to Treat Hen Coops.

At this season of the year a good many people have an opportunity to thoroughly clean and spray their poultry houses, and thereby destroy the lice and mites. Orchardists who have a spray and are using lime-sulphur for their fruit trees run very well afford to use the same spray in a rather stronger mixture to thoroughly disinfect and deodorize their chicken houses. If this is not available, thoroughly spraying with kerosene or a strong solution of stock dip will kill the mites. Sodium fluoride if dusted into the feathers of the birds will destroy many of the lice. It is quite inexpensive and may be purchased at practically all drug stores.

BLIGHT, RUST AND MILDEW

Fungous Diseases Are Effectively Controlled by Spraying With Bordeaux Mixture.

Bordeaux mixture is a well-known spray which effectively controls fungous diseases. When only a small quantity is needed it is made by dissolving one tablespoonful of copper sulphate in one-half gallon of water, mixing this just before the spray is put on with one-half gallon of water to which one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lime, previously slaked, has been added. The two liquids should be strained as mixed. Be sure to wash the sprayer thoroughly after using this mixture.

DEMAND FOR NURSERY STOCK

Those Wanting Trees, Shrubs and Vines Should Get Their Orders In Before the Rush.

There will be more demand for trees, shrubs and vines than can be supplied by reliable nurserymen. Those who are intending to put out ornamental, shade or fruit trees, shrubs or vines should get in communication with growers of known reliability and place their orders early.

Beliefs Concerning Teeth.

There are curious fancies about teeth. To dream about teeth was held to be a warning that sorrow was at hand, and it was still more unlucky to dream of one's teeth falling out. Many people still throw an extracted tooth into the fire for luck, and this is observed specially in the case of young children to ensure that the remainder of their teeth will come properly. Teeth wide apart is said to be a sign of future prosperity and happiness.

From Wood to Silk.

Whole forests have been cut down to supply the world with pencils, but there is still larger quantities now required for the manufacture of silk stockings and other attire made of artificial silk, for which wood is the raw material.

Will You Vote for Harding or Cox?

The answer is: You will vote for neither! For the American voters, even with all the fine additions to their numbers by Tennessee's net-results, do not vote directly for presidential and vice-presidential candidates. The forefathers had an idea that the best scheme would be to pick out a sort of Jury, made up of the best men of the country, who would get together and weigh the merits of the different candidates, and give the country the benefit of their profound deliberations. The electors are placed on the different tickets, and they always carry out their pledge to vote for the candidates whose names they represent. So, the names of Cox and Roosevelt will be on the top of the ticket, and Harding and Coolidge at the top of another—but their names merely indicate that the bunch of unknowns underneath have the party okeh. A cross in the square at the top of the column is "the idea." "Vote 'er straight, boys (and girls); vote 'er straight—then you can't go wrong!"

It requires 266 electoral votes to put the candidates across this year and usually the electoral votes settle the election. However, in the case of Thomas Jefferson, his election over Aaron Burr was decided in the House of Representatives. Andrew Jackson was also the choice of the House. In both these cases the candidates had a plurality but not a majority in the electoral college. Hayes had a minority of the popular vote, but a majority of the electoral college, and Harrison beat Cleveland in the same manner. Lincoln and Wilson each received less than a majority of the popular vote of the country, but each had a majority in the electoral college.

LOCATION OF FARM HOME

When planning to build a farm home, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture, select a location near good trees, so that their shade may be used and enjoyed by the family every day during the summer. It takes so long to grow good trees that existing ones should be cherished and utilized to the fullest extent.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

The preliminaries of the school opening being over progress is reported throughout. The freshmen are beginning to realize that they can't talk, so there is a semblance of order in the Assembly room.

The various H. S. classes have elected officers for the year. The Senior class, believing in the old maxim "The Last is the Best" have deferred their election until later.

Those who will make an attempt to maintain order at future Freshman Class meeting are: President, Albert Widdifield, vice president, Fay Otto; secretary and treasurer, Margie Swinton. Honorary member, Miss Genett.

The Sophomores have elected officers as follows: President, Billy Paddock; vice president, Jean Swinton; secretary and treasurer, Bertha Smith. Hon. member, Mrs. Rice.

The superior intelligence of the members of the Junior class resulted in the following: President, Earl Coulter; vice president, Helen Mason; secretary, Hilda Hyers; treasurer, Carrie Meggison. Hon. member, Miss Gardner.

The Charlevoix foot ball team is to play the Soo there Saturday. We are scheduling games with teams from larger cities this year, perhaps the size of the captain and coach have something to do with that. Our record of other years is enough to keep our hopes bright for an encouraging score at the Soo.

The assembly dictionary is in constant use and we fear it will be necessary to purchase others in view of the rising need. Why has Webster's become popular over night? Miss Catton's spelling contest. For the member of each class who has the best spelling record for the year is to be given a prize. To the one of these four with the best record another prize is to be given. But woe to our poor spellers, for those who cannot spell correctly every word that they have misspelled during the year get no English credit. Of course we all want to learn to spell but we all want our credits, too.

Miss Stewart, county school commissioner, addressed a meeting of the faculty, Tuesday evening, outlining plans for the county teacher's institute to be held in October.

The newly organized chorus class has enrolled two members of the faculty. Mr. Hatch and Mr. Tuttle seem to be musically inclined.

We are indebted to the generosity of one of our summer visitors for the many fine plants that adorn the class rooms in the central building.

The first and second grades are holding an "Absent and Tardy Contest." All those neither absent or tardy each week will have their names listed in these columns.

Miss Harrington extends a cordial welcome to the parents and friends of the kindergarten children to come and observe the work in her department.

Mrs. Rotert spent the week end with friends in Oden.

Mrs. Schultz of Battle Creek, was in the city last week visiting her sister, Miss Bowman, County Normal Principal.

Cost little to run, practically no upkeep, and saves time and worry over the farm work. A Fairbank-Morse gas engine is the kind to buy. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 291f.

DROPS DEAD AT HOME OF BROTHER

Heart Trouble Cause of Death of Henry Black

Henry Black, age 60 years, a resident of this section for a number of years, died suddenly at the home of his brother, Albert Black of Marion township, early Wednesday morning last.

Mr. Black had been in ill health for some time, but up to the time of his death had been able to be up and about the farm. About five o'clock Wednesday morning Mr. Black awakened, suffering severe pains in his arms and chest. He called to his brother, Albert, who came to his assistance and retired from the room for the purpose of obtaining some hot water. He was out of the room but a few minutes, but upon returning, found his brother had died during his absence.

Deceased was a single man and is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Beers of Eveline township, Mrs. William Withers of Marion township, and brother Albert, with whom he made his home.

Funeral services were held from the home of his brother Friday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. A. G. Pontius, officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

Phone your orders for apples, pears, plums, peaches, and cranberries to the Charlevoix Co-Operative Association. Orders delivered for next thirty days. 381f.

Certain-teed Roofing Costs Less to Lay

You will appreciate the low cost and convenience of laying Certain-teed Roofing.

Skilled labor is not required to lay it properly.

You save much of the expense of hiring trained workmen and avoid delays because of a scarcity of such men.

But this is only one of the Certain-teed economies. It also costs less to buy and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

In addition, Certain-teed roofing is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It is guaranteed for five, ten or fifteen years, according to weight. Experience proves that it usually outlasts its guarantee by years of satisfactory service.

See your dealer about Certain-teed Roofing. If he can't fill your entire order from stock, he can get what you want quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

They are willing to make the sacrifice in order to bring business back to a going condition as quickly as possible and maintain the momentum of the buying power of the country. Henry Ford says: "The war is over and it is time war prices were over. There is no sense or wisdom in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values. For the best interests of all it is time a real practical effort was made to bring the business of the country and the life of the country down to regular pre-war standards."

We are at your command with regular Ford efficiency in service and eagerness to fill your orders. To still further reduce the cost of operating a car, we make this offer:

IN EVERY WAY BUT ONE—THE OFFICIAL SCORE

Local Boys Outplayed in Every Respects By Opponents—Schedule of Games for Season

The Charlevoix High School foot ball team journeyed to the Soo last Friday to spend the week end as guests of the Sault Ste. Marie foot ball team. They were received and royally entertained by the various members of the Soo team. Saturday morning they were conducted on an inspection tour of the Soo locks and at 2:00 p. m. were escorted to the Athletic Park for their first and hardest game of the season.

It looked like a fair day for Charlevoix during the first five minutes of the game. In a rapid series of well executed end runs and line smashes they advanced the ball to the Soo's five yard line, but at this point those sturdy Irishmen decided it was time to stop moving backward.

At four other times during the game our boys came dangerously close to the Soo's goal, only to demonstrate that they lacked the winning punch.

The notes on the rest of the game are not suitable for the Charlevoix fan to read, and are therefore condensed. The final score was 41-0 and the only consolation that the boys brought back was that they bettered the former Charlevoix-Soo record of 72-0.

The playing schedule of the C. H. S. team for the season, which is not quite complete at present, is as follows:

October 1, Traverse City, at Charlevoix.
October 9, Boyne City, at Charlevoix.
October 16, Cadillac, at Charlevoix.
October 23, Manistee, at Manistee.
October 29, open.
November 6, Petoskey, at Charlevoix.
November 13, Boyne City, at Boyne City.
November 20, open.
It should be noted that this is the heaviest schedule that has been booked for some time, the entire list of opposing teams coming from Class A. high schools.

CRASHED INTO TREE DURING STORM

Norman Shanahan Suffers Severe Cuts and Bruises

Sunday afternoon's storm is responsible largely for a serious auto accident, besides other losses reported. Edward and Norman Shanahan, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Shanahan, who during the summer months have lived in their cottage at Pine Point, had taken their father's car and driven to the farm home of John Martin, a short distance west of Pine Point.

The boys were on their return trip when the heavy down-pour of rain started, and blinded by the driving rain, could not see the entrance to Pine Point.

Edward, who was driving the car, told his brother to watch for the entrance, not being able to drive the car and watch for it. Norman suddenly exclaimed, "there it is," and his brother made the turn, but the speed of the car carried them beyond the entrance, and they crashed into a tree on the east side of the entrance.

Neither of the boys can tell just exactly what happened after the crash. Edward was not hurt, but Norman was either thrown through the windshield or against it, and received a deep gash from the right car to just below his eye, his upper lip was nearly cut off, a deep gash in the right side of his head, besides his right foot being cut and right and left arm bruised and sprained.

He was immediately taken to the Charlevoix Hospital, where his wounds were dressed, it requiring nearly two hours to render the aid needed. The force of the collision drove the front wheels of the car under the roots of the tree in a manner that a team could not release them the following morning. The front axle was bent upward so that both wheels lay nearly flat on the ground. The damage to the car will amount to over $200.

MAY CLOSE STATE TO BEAVER TRAP

Price of Fur Has Caused Trappers to Clean Out Beaver

Michigan trappers may find their favorite trapping ground, the upper peninsula, closed to them this season as far as trapping beaver is concerned says the Petoskey Evening News. David R. Jones of that city, chief deputy state game warden, has gone to Marquette where he will hold a hearing to determine whether or not to close that part of Michigan for several years, in order to give the fast disappearing beaver a chance to propagate more rapidly.

Chief Jones says that the high prices paid for pelts have caused trappers to be more busy than for many years and that as a result there are few beaver left in Michigan, and that there is a very good chance, should present conditions continue, of every beaver being killed off in this state.

"I cannot state at this time just how strong sentiment will develop for or against the closing of the upper peninsula territory to the trapping of beaver, but believe that it will be overwhelmingly in favor of closing. I believe that trappers will see that it will be to their advantage to leave beaver alone for a few seasons. Trapping will be much better when the territory is opened again."

BOY POISONS ENTIRE FAMILY

ADmits PLACING ARSENATE OF LEAD IN SUGAR

Mr. and Mrs. Mills of Boyne City Are in a Serious Condition From Eating the Poisoned Food

Roberts Mills, superintendent of the tannery in Boyne City, is in critical condition at his Boyne City home from poisoning from eating arsenate of lead, placed in sugar by an adopted son, James Mills. Mrs. Mills is also in critical condition from the same cause. Today it is said they are slightly improved. Mr. Mills was partially paralyzed by the poison.

John is the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mills, 447 Elm street, and it is claimed that about a month ago he purchased arsenate of lead at a local drug store with the avowed intention of poisoning potato bugs. This poison it is claimed he confessed to have mixed with a can of sugar and soon thereafter all members of the family were taken violently ill.

As the family continued to grow worse and visitors became sick all the family food supply was replaced—with the exception of the sugar—and the water supply was analyzed. Then a physician was called in and pronounced their illness due to arsenic poisoning.

The house-keeper of the Mills household became suspicious of John and after talking to him for sometime reported having secured a confession. Prosecuting Attorney Rueggesser was notified and the young man was taken before him where he again pleaded guilty and was brought here to the county jail.

Robert Mills, who is superintendent of the Michigan Tanning and Export Company took John into his home when he was about six years old. The boy is not considered bright and it was out of pity that Mr. Mills adopted him. In his confession John claims another man "put him up to the job" but this is not generally believed. All members of the Mills family are still in a serious condition due to the poison but it is expected they will recover.

FARMER CRAZED BY INSECT POISON

Albert Beeman of Horton Bay in State Hospital

A state dispatch says Albert Beeman, Horton's Bay farmer, is in the state hospital at Traverse City, his health and mind broken from the effects of inhaling grasshopper poison, while mixing the poison for use on one of the big Horton's Bay farms. He became ill soon after working at the poison, white arsenate of lead and paris green. He entered a state of coma and his family was unable to rouse him. He was taken to Petoskey for medical treatment, but slowly lost his reason. He finally was adjudged insane in Emmet county probate court and taken to Traverse City at the request of Charlevoix county authorities, his home being in Charlevoix county.

Later—Mr. Beeman died at the state hospital September 24, and the remains were brought back for burial. He was 33 years of age and leaves a wife and five children. The funeral was held from his home near Horton Bay under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., of which he was a member.

STATE AID FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

COUNTY TO GET ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT FREE

Ask for Basket Balls, Baseballs and Volley Balls—Has 3,695
School Pupils

All Michigan counties that desire free athletic equipment from the state are going to get it, according to Floyd A. Rowe, state athletic director, in the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

Many counties have already replied to a questionnaire which was sent out by Mr. Rowe. Approximately $45,000 is to be spent for the equipment for rural schools, the money coming from the fund provided by the state boxing commission, which has already totalled $75,000.

"We are asking the schools to agree to use this equipment in regular athletic instruction," says Mr. Rowe. "We are only asking supervision of thirty minutes a day, which would barely consume the recesses when the children would naturally be at play."

Several counties have not replied to the offer sent out by Mr. Rowe. Cheboygan and Monroe counties being numbered among these. Alpena county with 1,181 students, has applied for bats and equipment for Newcomb games.

Berrien county has 6,000 students and requests special equipment for the school at Eau Claire. This county will receive 137 indoor baseballs, 133 indoor bats, 25 soccer balls, 10 volley balls and 5 footballs.

Branch county is to receive 130 indoor baseballs, 127 bats, 10 basket balls, 10 soccer balls, 5 volley balls and 3 footballs. There are 2,675 students reported in the county's schools.

Calhoun county with 5,846 students, is to get 190 indoor balls, 168 bats, 25 basket balls, 25 soccer balls, 10 volley balls and 5 footballs.

Cass county with 2,000 students is to get 110 indoor balls, 110 bats, 10 basket balls, 10 soccer balls, 5 volley balls and 3 footballs.

Emmet county has 3,695 students and asks for basket balls, baseballs and volley balls.

Grand Traverse reports that much of its athletic supervision is conducted by the county Y. M. C. A. The county asks for basket balls, baseballs and swings. Two thousand students are reported.

Van Buren county with 10,000 students reported asks for basket balls, bat balls, volley balls, soccer balls and swings.

Washtenaw county has 2,700 students and requests teter balls, baseballs and boxing gloves.

Wexford county requests basket balls, baseballs, volley balls, soccer ball and swings.

Mason county reports that it is to have a county athletic meet, under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. and asks for anything in the way of equipment.

TRAVERSE CITY HERE SATURDAY

Meet High School Foot Ball Team on Home Grounds

Coach Rice of the Charlevoix foot ball team has made final arrangements with Traverse City's coach for a rip-roaring foot ball game here Saturday.

Word was received from the Traverse City Record-Eagle here Wednesday that Traverse was intending to reverse last year's score by a game that gives promise of being one of the fastest of the season. Coach Rice is bent upon offering serious objections to this idea of theirs, so look for a good game.

The lineup will probably be as follows: L. E. Halverson; L. T. Brown; L. G. Swartout and Jacobs; Center, Ackert; R. G. Paddock and Todd; R. T. Burns; R. E. H. Hallett and Cunningham; quarter, Gallows; R. H. Hammet, L. H. Jones; F. B. J. Hallett.

The team's average in weight is 158 pounds. Come out and see that 158 pounds ramble.

TEACHERS FOR ENTIRE COUNTY

BUT FOUR SCHOOLS NOW LACK INSTRUCTORS

Prospects Are That All But One Will Be Opened Within the Week

Three weeks ago it looked as if Charlevoix county would have a number of schools closed for lack of teachers. It is no uncommon thing in Michigan this year or in the entire United States, for that matter, to find children out of school because a teacher can not be found. We may rejoice, however, that the prospects are brighter. Four schools are now waiting for teachers, but the outlook is that at least three of these schools may open Monday morning with a teacher, fully qualified to begin her work with the children.

The wage question last spring was so unsettled that very few new teachers were convinced that it would pay to teach. For this reason there were fewer beginning teachers in the county. This fall the wages increased definitely and a number of our last year's teachers were encouraged to return to the profession. The question as to whether we can keep them with us for the years to come, or whether the wages will remain stable enough at the present salary scale to encourage new teachers to enter each year, remains to be seen. One third to one-half of the rural school teachers enter college, begin teaching in town or leave the profession each year. In order to keep the number of available desirable teachers even with the demand, high school and college and county normal graduates must be encouraged and must feel that it pays to teach school.

This year at least Charlevoix county will be able to keep the school all in running order, and Miss Stewart begins her fall round of visits with the knowledge that nowhere is there to be a bare foot boy without the chance of an education.

WILEY ATTORNEY GENERAL NOMINEE

SOO ATTORNEY WINS PLACE FROM CANDIDATE

O. B. Fuller Renominated for Auditor General, and Gorman for State Treasurer.

At the Republican state convention held at Saginaw last Thursday at which nominations were made for state offices, Merlin Wiley, of the Soo, was nominated for attorney general. Nominations made were as follows:

For Secretary of State—Charles J. Deland, Jackson.

For State Treasurer—Frank E. Gorman.

For Attorney General—Merlin Wiley, Sault Ste. Marie.

For Auditor General—Orramel B. Fuller, Ford River, Delta county.

For Supreme Judges—Nelson Sharp, West Branch, and George M. Clark, of Bad Axe.

Charles Deland was unopposed for the nomination for secretary of state, other candidates having withdrawn before the nominations opened.

Frank E. Gorman, present state treasurer, defeated Hugh A. MacPherson for the nomination, the vote being Gorman 821, MacPherson 527. Orramel B. Fuller, present auditor general, was renominated, defeating William J. Lambert, of Bay City, by a vote of 857 to 489.

For attorney general Merlin Wiley, of the Soo, was nominated on the second ballot, defeating a large field of candidates. Wiley had a big lead on the first ballot and on the second there was a landslide to his standard.

The vote on the first ballot for the various candidates for nomination for attorney general was:

Merlin Wiley, Soo.....486
H. E. Galpin, Muskegon.....324
G. E. Nicholas, Ionia.....259
H. E. Chase, Grand Rapids.....222
W. H. Porter, Hastings.....57
There was no opposition to Nelson Sharp, of West Branch, and George M. Clark, of Bad Axe, for renomination for members of the state Supreme bench.

Assailing the administration of President Wilson, the candidacy of Gov. James M. Cox, and his running mate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the League of Nations covenant, United States Senator Charles E. Townsend of Michigan, temporary chairman of the Republican state convention sounded the keynote of the Republican campaign in Michigan.

"Political and business morality never were at such low standards as is the case now," the speaker asserted. "This apparent deterioration has occurred during the last seven years more rapidly than in any other period of our history. While respect for law, order and morality has been lessened, agitation by theorists, timorosos and professional reformers has been most pronounced and the legal and constitutional safeguards of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness have been openly attacked or illegally disregarded. What our country needs today is a rebirth in honesty and patriotism."

MUCH DAMAGE BY ELECTRIC STORM

Heavy Downpour of Rain Floods Streets and Roads

Charlevoix has experienced several severe storms during the present season, but none were equal to the one Sunday afternoon, which was the most severe in several years.

The high wind and rain, accompanied by severe lightning caused much damage throughout the section, more so in the north end of the county and Emmet county. The streets were flooded with water and cellars quickly filled.

The big barn on the Albert Bathke farm, south of Bay Shore was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, as was also the barn of Herman Billeau, north of Bay Shore. Lightning struck in several places about the city, but no damage resulted. The damage to crops is estimated at thousands.

Low-Cost Mileage—in Goodyear Tires for Small Cars

There is no economy in buying so-called bargains in tires offered at sensationally cheap prices when a well-made tire delivers mileage at a considerably lower rate of cost.

Add the time and trouble occasioned by frequent replacements and it is fully apparent why tire users, seeking real mileage economy, are not attracted to very cheaply priced tires.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they are built to deliver exceptional mileage at low cost and consistently do so.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dort or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires—for true Goodyear mileage, value, economy.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50
30 x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.70

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many a Charlevoix Household.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Charlevoix readers.

Mrs. Delorn Cutler, 101 W. Garfield St., Charlevoix, says: "My back ached something terrible. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. I purchased Sloan's Kidney Pills at Metcalf's Drug Store and they rid me of my troubles in a fine way."

The Backward Bird.

The homing pigeon performs a number of its daily duties in a backward or upside-down manner. When the bird goes down, it rests its head in the mud on the bottom of a shallow stream, and while it sniffs the insects out of the water it takes both a backward and an upside-down view of the world about it.

GAME LAWS OF MICHIGAN

PARTRIDGE KILLING STARTS WITH NOVEMBER 1

Open Season for Rabbits Starts Friday of This Week—Ten Days for Deer Hunters.

The Courier has been repeatedly asked to publish the Michigan game laws on account of some of the recent changes made in them, and for the benefit of our readers we reproduce the laws as they stand:

The deer hunting season limits for the coming hunting period were fixed September 3rd, by the state public domain commission to run from Nov. 13 to Nov. 22. The open season this year covers both the upper and lower peninsula. There was some difference of opinion among sportsmen as to the dates which should be adopted, but it was finally agreed that these dates give as late a season as possible and still get the hunters home in time for Thanksgiving. Following are the outlines of the various laws protecting game animals and birds this year.

Rabbit and hares—Open season November 1 to March 1 inclusive. North of town 20 north range, October 1 to March 1 inclusive. Number that may be taken is unlimited. Those legally killed may be transported and sold. Unlawful to use ferrets or other rodents in hunting. Farmers and fruit growers may use ferrets to hunt rabbits on their own land.

Beaver—Open season November 1 to April 15 inclusive. Special license required. Unlawful to destroy houses or dams or to have in possession without license seal attached.

Otter, fisher, marten and mink—Open season November 16 to February 14, inclusive. No limit in number.

Raccoon—Open season October 15 to December 31 inclusive. No restriction as to number.

Muskrat—Open season December 16 to March 31, inclusive. North of range 20 north, October 16 to April 14, inclusive. Unlawful to destroy or disturb house or hole.

Partridge—Open season, upper peninsula October 1 to October 31, inclusive except in counties closed by public domain commission. Lower peninsula, November 1 to November 30 inclusive. Limit five in one day, 10 in possession at one time, 25 in season.

Ducks and coots—Open season September 16 to December 31 inclusive. Limit, 25 in all in one day; 25 in possession at one time; 50 in the calendar week.

Wilson and jacksnipe and gallinules—Open season September 16 to December 31 inclusive. Limit, 15 in one day 25 in possession at one time, 25 in one season.

Geese and brant—Open season September 16 to December 31 inclusive. Limit six in one day, 25 in one season. Six in possession at one time.

Woodcock—Open season October 1 to November 25 inclusive. Limit, six in one day, 20 in possession at one time, 25 in one season.

Black breasted and golden plover and yellow legs—Open season September 16 to December 15 inclusive. Limit, 15 in all in one day, 25 in all in possession at one time, 25 in one season.

Rails—Open season September 16 to December 15, inclusive. Limit 35 in one day.

It is unlawful for a hunter to have partridge, ducks, coots, geese, brant, woodcock, rails, plover or yellow legs in his possession 30 days after the close of the open season.

There is no open season this year on the following game animals and birds: Moose, elk and caribou, Mongolian, English or any other pheasants, quail, black fowl, capercaillie, hazel grouse, spruce hens or Canada grouse, prairie chickens, wild turkey, killdeer, wading shore and meadow birds, homing pigeons, mourning doves and wood duck.

CITIZENSHIP OF MARRIED WOMEN.

Now that all adult citizens, regardless of sex, are to enjoy the right to vote, the civic status of married women is of more general concern than it has been considered heretofore. The present method of naturalizing married women needs constructive revision.

The League of Women Voters adopted a resolution urging independent citizenship for married women.
Both of the leading political parties have come out in favor of a similar plan. It is quite likely that the next congress will give this subject active consideration.

As our laws stand today a married woman's citizenship is determined by that of her husband. This oddly assumes that an alien man, taking the oath of allegiance to this country for himself can also take it for his wife.

One of the problems that will face the Michigan legislature at its next meeting will be the disposition of more than 100,000 quarts of various kinds of liquors confiscated by the state and now stored in Lansing under the guard of Fred L. Michigan farmers will get about $5 a hundred-weight for beans this year and at present costs connected with farming, a nickel per pound is not going to furnish much of a profit, say officials in the farm crops department at the Michigan Agricultural college. In most localities the yield is not heavy enough to bring much of an income at this price. Threshing is well under way and it is said that twelve bushels to the acre will be a big yield.

Upper peninsula farmers are going to sell 2,500 cars of hay co-operatively this year. This report comes from the Michigan State Farm bureau which claims a membership of 5,000 in the upper peninsula counties. In Chippewa county 1,200 members voted to sign collateral notes and a two-year contract to sell all their hay co-operatively, according to the farm bureau.

The spines of a porcupine, in the usual position, lie nearly flat, with their points directed backward, but when the animal is excited they are capable of being raised. The quills are loosely inserted in the skin and may, on being violently shaken, become detached, a circumstance which probably gave rise to the purely fabulous statement that the animal possesses the power of actually ejecting its quills like arrows or darts at an enemy.

Chas. M. Smith Was Respected By All Who Knew Him

Chas. M. Smith, a resident of Michigan since 1856 and of Ellsworth, since 1903, died at his home here Saturday morning, September 19, after an illness of nearly three years.

Health Found in Sun's Rays

Sunshine has its influence on health resorts in Europe. In France, medical specialists have recommended the resorts of Brittany and Normandy for a long time instead of the hot and glaring sands of the southern coasts. This is the choice especially for children and for persons over fifty whose sight is growing dim. Less attention has been given the matter in England, but preference for places on the east and west coasts instead of in the south is growing for people with weak eyes.

Winged Expresses.

Blue rock plovers fly from 23 to 26 miles an hour. Pheasants at their best cover about 33 miles an hour, and partridges from 26 to 34 miles an hour. Carrier plovers have been found to do as much as 50 miles an hour.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

To Be Held in East Jordan October 20, 21 and 22

Supt. Thomas E. Johnson of Lansing, has appointed an institute for Charlevoix county to be held in East Jordan, October 20, 21 and 22. Instructors are O. T. Corson of Ohio, and Prof. Ward Giltner of Michigan Agricultural College. Conductors are president E. C. Warriner for October 21, 22, and Miss Stewart of East Jordan for the 20th. President Warriner of Mount Pleasant, is well known in this part of the state and needs no introduction to our teachers. He is preparing a good collection of addresses for assistant instructors and we know that their topics will be timely. Miss Stewart has been requested to make Wednesday at least in part a visiting day for observation work among the East Jordan school teachers. The recreation workers of Grand Rapids will no doubt be with us to introduce the recreation work of the public schools and the practical value as well as the methods of application of such work. Complete program will be published later.

Section chairmen are busy getting live topics for discussion in their particular sections. Supt. Metcalf of Boyne City, has charge of the good time program for the Teachers' Get-together-meal and we shall hear from him soon.

J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be here for the last time this year, on October 11 and 12, as he is going to spend the winter on his ranch near Buhl, Idaho.—Adv. 39t2.

CHEBOYBAN BOY WINS HIGH HONOR

Named on Michigan Team for Stock Judging at Big Show

Rev. Stowe, Cheboygan, is to be one of the team of Michigan young men who will go to Chicago for the boys' stock judging contest at the International Live Stock show in that city. Other members of this team will be Carl Johnson, Ironwood, and Don Shepard, Charlotte. These boys won the state championships in their events at the Michigan state fair judging work for club boys.

At the National Dairy show, Chicago, October 7 to 16, a team of Michigan boys will fight to uphold the honors of their home state in general stock judging events of boys' clubs. Walter Ball and Pearl Baker, of Charlotte, and Clifford Layher, of Jackson, with Leonard Nylund, of Ironwood, as alternate, are the boys chosen for the dairy show judging team. These boys won the state Boys' club championship at the Detroit fair, after coming up through a series of successful contests in their local districts.

Michigan's representatives won fourth honors at the Chicago International last year, when they entered the first of the annual contest, and this year's team will make a great effort to make an even better showing. The teams from the other states have all won their own state championships, before entering the international.

The International show is to be held in December.

The third grade is studying legends from "Redman of the Forest."

A knock was heard at the door of the Mathematics room. Mr. Hatch (to his Geometry class,) "Well, well, here comes another little girl late for class. (Open door) Oh, come in, Mrs. Rotert."

The Soo High School is as good at entertaining as at football playing. All's well that end well, and this is only the beginning.

Some exceptionally good tackling was seen on the ferry and it is remarked that Mr. Paddock has a wonderful smile.

Each English class has organized a literary Society.

The Juniors are studying Franklin's Autobiography. Interesting contributions are being made to the Franklin bulletin in the class-room.

The County Normal has recruited four more prospective teachers. The class roll now numbers eleven.

Several of our freshmen are enjoying the improved atmosphere of back seats. We certainly hope that being transplanted won't take away that nice fresh look.

The set of books, "Library of Entertainment" which has just been purchased by the Board of Education, will be a fine addition to our school library and a great help in the English work.

More Heat—Less Fuel

With the "Underfeed" method the smoke, gas and soot are consumed

If you want to get away from the disagreeable feature of the smoke rushing out into your face every time you put soft coal on the fire, try the

"Renown" Underfeed Heater

The coal is fed under the fire and the smoke and gas are forced up through the red hot coils, where they are mixed with highly heated air and consumed. Don't smother your fire by putting soft coal on top of it.

You will positively save 25% or more on your fuel bill and get more heat

We will guarantee that this stove will not puff or explode, if operated according to our instructions.

RE-REGISTRATION NOT NECESSARY

NEW LISTING OF VOTERS IS NOT NECESSARY

Newly Qualified Electors, However, Must Register Before Voting at Presidential Election

There will be no general registration of voters in Charlevoix city and Charlevoix county previous to the coming presidential election. It will be necessary, however, for all newly qualified electors to register before they are eligible to vote at the general election, but those who are already registered need not be listed.

Some confusion has arisen as to the registration requirements for the coming November election. Reports have been published in several of the smaller cities of the state that complete re-registration has been made necessary by decision of the state Supreme Court.

"At the recent session of the legislature, an act was passed seeking to change the time for re-registration in presidential years, but the Supreme court held the amendments defective and unworkable," said Dennis E. Alward, clerk of the state senate, at Lansing, in a statement intended to clarify this misunderstanding. "Therefore, the provisions of the registration law as it stood previously are still in full force and effect as follows:

"In cities or townships of more than 10,000 population, every voter must re-register or lose his vote. In cities or townships of less than 10,000 population, re-registration may be ordered by the legislative body of the city or the township board of the township, but unless such order is made the old registration still holds good voters now registered will be entitled to vote at the November election without re-registering.

"Voters may register or re-register by personal application to the city or township clerk, or by filing affidavit, or such application may be made any day (except Sunday) up to the third Saturday before election in cities and townships of 10,000 population or over; and up to the second Saturday before election in cities or townships having a population less than 10,000.

"The safe way is for every voter to ask his city or township clerk for instructions."

Double Birthday Surprise
A surprise party was given Audrey and Dorothy Staley Saturday afternoon, the occasion being to fittingly observe the fifth birthday of Dorothy which occurred on September 25, and the seventh birthday Audrey, which occurred on October 5. Eleven boys and girls friends were present and the afternoon was one the youngsters will long remember. Refreshments were served and the hosts received several nice presents.

The Congregational ladies will hold a Rummage Sale in the vacant store opposite the Hotel Charlevoix, Friday and Saturday of next week, October 15th and 16th.—Adv. 10-1

The Bottom Drops Out

FARM BUREAU WORK EXPLAINED

Business Men Given New View of Activities

The regular monthly meeting of Charlevoix Association of Commerce, held at the Masonic Temple last Friday night, while not as well attended as former meetings, proved to be one of the most interesting and instructive held during the year.

Howard C. Rutherford, extension specialist from the M. A. C., in a half hour talk gave more information about the work of his department than one could obtain from extensive reading on the subject. He covered the work from all angles and explained many matters that had not been clear to the average business man.

Harold L. Bedford resigned as secretary on account of leaving the city and Robert Bridge was chosen to succeed him. It was also suggested that if aid was needed by farmers in harvesting their crops, that the association co-operate to the fullest extent. The matter was left with the president of the association who will deal with the situation as circumstances demand.

The ladies of the Eastern Star lived up to their reputation as experts in catering to an event of this kind and the lunch was all that one could ask for.

CROPS BENEFIT BY LATE FROST

OLD TIMERS MARVEL AT ABSENCE OF COLD SNAPS

Reports From State Show Wonderful Prospects in All Kinds of Farm Crops.

With no heavy frosts to date, this region has experienced a full most beneficial to all of its agricultural interests. Pioneers of the region know of few years when the frost has held off so long as the present one. Throughout the entire state the same absence of frost has been inated, and the results to Michigan 1920 crops are unusual.

The following state report is of interest: Michigan is assured of another good corn crop. The outlook is for a crop of 60,258,000 bushels, about 40 per cent of which will undoubtedly go into silos. The spring wheat prospects are much lower than early in the season. The yield is disappointing and the grain is badly shrunk. The estimated production is only 540,000 bushels. The condition of 93 per cent at harvest time forecasts a total production of 54,460,000 bushels of oats as compared with 36,875,000 bushels raised last year. The barley crop was harvested under generally favorable conditions, except in a few eastern counties where some were disclosed by rain while in the shock. The condition at time of harvest was 90 per cent as compared with 61 per cent one year ago.

The condition of potatoes is one point lower than last month. While the crop in general is in excellent condition and promises a large yield, late blight has made its appearance in a number of counties and the extent to which the crop will be injured by it is not yet known. The condition of 91 per cent is 22 per cent better than one year ago and 18 per cent better than the ten-year average.

Beans have declined from 80 to 84 per cent in condition during the past month mainly as the result of an attack of bacterial blight which is quite prevalent in some localities. Anthracnose has also made its appearance but it is thought the damage by it will not be great. The crop is ripening and harvesting is general in many sections. The present outlook is for a crop of 3,440 bushels.

TEACHERS RECEPTION A SUCCESS

Delightful Entertainment at High School Friday Night

The reception given by the school board to the teachers of Charlevoix high school and grades last Friday evening in the high school building was well attended and without a doubt will result in a better understanding between the teachers and the public, not only in a social way, but better co-operation between teacher and parent.

The early part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted and talking over the school work. Punch and wafers were served by a number of the high school girls, after which A. F. Bridge, president of the school board, invited those present to meet in the assembly room, where the following program was given:

Song, Dr. F. H. Wilkinson.
Readings by Mrs. Edna Rotert, principal of Charlevoix schools.
Song, Miss Irene Flueneau.
This was followed by short addresses by A. F. Bridge and Supt. C. E. Rice.

ROSE TO MOVE BARBER SHOP

Will Occupy South Half of Opera House Block

Mayor S. M. Rose will soon move his barber shop from its present location in the Odd Fellow block to the Opera House block, recently purchased by A. Mussalam.

He will start moving within the next week and after settling in his new quarters will either lease the shop or close it until spring, and spend the winter with his wife in the south.

The removal of the shop from its present quarters will seem rather strange, not only to all year-around residents, but summer people as well, as the building has been utilized for this purpose for the last 20 years or more.

Cold weather is here, prepare for it. We have just the Mackinaw of Sheep-skin Coat you need. Benj. Brown—Adv. 39tf.

TIME TO SAVE YOUR SEED CORN

DANGER IN WAITING AS A FREEZE MAY COME

Frozen Seed Means Big Loss—Select Best Ears From Best Fields; Hang Up in Attic

Every farmer in this county who has not already gathered his seed corn, should not put it off another day. Every day's delay now adds to the danger of the seed corn's being frozen.

It does not cost any more or take any more time to harvest seed corn right now than it will to do it later. Everything is to be gained and nothing is to be lost by harvesting it now.

Corn is in fine shape. Since the first of August it has gained rapidly. Government reports give its condition on September 1 as 91 per cent, as compared with 86 per cent on August 1. It is in still better shape now.

August and most of September furnished ideal weather for corn. Cold weather has held off; it was abnormally hot during many days even after the middle of September, but we do not know how soon we may have a heavy freeze.

Because of unfavorable weather early in the growing season, there is still considerable moisture in most of the corn, and if there should come a sudden freeze, much seed corn will be ruined.

In the Corn Belt seed corn should be harvested not later than October 6. In the more northern states it should be gathered earlier than that. It is getting late and we cannot afford to longer put off gathering our seed corn. We cannot afford to take any chances.

Corn is the most valuable crop grown. Our own prosperity, the prosperity of the country, depends more upon the corn crop than upon all the other cereals combined, and we cannot afford to depend for seed upon the occasional good ears we find during the husking season, or to select our seed from the crib in the spring.

Frozen seed corn costs the country millions of dollars every year. It means poor seed, a poor stand, useless labor, reduced production. We should go into our best fields before freezing weather sets in and select the best ears from the most vigorous stalks. Six bushels of seed corn will plant about 43 acres, but to provide for all ordinary emergencies, we should save 15 or 20 bushels for every 40 acres. This will enable us to plant only the best and strongest ears.

It will be wise to save enough seed to last two years. Next year's crop may fail to mature and we will be hard pressed for seed the following year, unless we have some good corn left over from this year.

As soon as the seed corn is harvested it should be husked and hung up in an attic or some upstairs room where the windows can be opened and the air can freely circulate around the corn.

One of the best methods is to tie the corn up with binding twine and suspend the strings from horizontal wires or from nails driven in the rafters. No two ears of corn should touch, and the strings should be hung in rows at least four inches apart each way.

PAULO GRUPPE CO. HERE OCTOBER 15

First Number of Lecture Course a Musical Number

Paulo Gruppe and assisting artists who will appear here, in recital October 15, on the Lyceum course constitute a genuine musical attraction.

Paulo Gruppe, the eminent violinist, is one of the distinguished artists of the present day. He has had a wonderful successful musical career in both Europe and America. As an artist, he is first of all, a natural born musician, intellectually and emotionally admirably balanced, and is then the astonishing instrumentalist whose beautiful tone and clear cut technique have enabled him to give such brilliant expression to the public as an unusual concert violinist.

His many appearances have tested his popularity both with a musical public and the critical authorities. In certain characteristics of his art he can hardly be surpassed by any cellist of the present age.

Paulo Gruppe will be assisted by Robert Monaghan, tenor; Mlle. Camille Pihnschaert, violinist, and Corey Williamson Smith, pianist.

ORIGIN OF POMACEOUS FRUIT

Pomology Enlarged to Mean Fruit-Growing in General—Several Varieties Included.

Apples are described as pomaceous fruits. From the botanical word "pome" we get our word pomology, which is enlarged to mean fruit-growing in general, but which was first understood to mean pomaceous fruits only. Other pomaceous fruits are pears, quinces, hawthorns and mountain ash. Some berries. Systematic pomology is the classification of pomaceous fruits of this character.

GOOD DEMAND FOR BERRIES

They Must Have Proper Attention at Right Time to Make Them Highly Profitable.

Judging from the scarcity of strawberries and raspberries on the market the last few years, they should be good crops for interested growers to try. However, they must be given attention at the right time and in the right way to be a success.

SUPPLY CHICKS GREEN FEED

Young Fowls Thrive Much Better With Daily Allowance—Dandelion Tea Is Useful.

Chicks will thrive much better with a daily allowance of green food. Dandelions, leaves and roots, are good for them. A tea made of the dandelion roots and used to mix the mash is a good tonic, and the dandelion greens chopped fine are useful.

PROPER SELECTION OF FARM

Of Vast Importance in Choosing Site for Home to Consider Various Features Carefully.

The wise selection of a farm is vital to the success and satisfaction of farm life. Choosing a farm often means choosing a place in which to live and work for a lifetime. It is important, of course, to decide wisely in buying for investment, but in making a selection for a home it is of double importance that one consider the various features that may have a decisive bearing on the farm business or that may affect the home life.—United States department of agriculture.

TRUE ARMY WORM DESCRIBED

Genuine Article Is Nearly Naked, Smooth, Striped Caterpillar, 1½ Inches Long.

The true army worm should not be confused with the "overflow worm," the "fall army worm," or the "grass worm," say the federal entomologists. The genuine article is a nearly naked, smooth, striped caterpillar about 1½ inches long. His greenish body is marked with three dark stripes, which run, one down each side and one down the back, for the length of the body. The head is greenish brown, speckled with black.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The police records of the city of Detroit show that between January first last and the middle of September 184 murders were committed and hundreds of shootings; that there were 782 holdups; 462 stores and 595 dwellings were burglarized. The property loss amounted to more than a million and a quarter dollars. Detroit has gained and is maintaining the reputation of being the wickedest city on earth.

John Cherry, about fifty-five years of age, a farmer and a resident of Boyne Falls, was struck by an automobile reported to have been driven by Frank Reinbabbage, who also lives at the Falls.

The accident occurred about noon Sunday, September 26 when Mr. Cherry was crossing the street near the Catholic church in Boyne Falls. In attempting to avoid a carriage he is supposed to have dodged directly into the path of the approaching car, he was knocked down and sustained a broken shoulder and internal injuries.

Mr. Cherry was rushed to Boyne City and from there to a hospital in Petoskey.

Sheriff Dunsmore and deputy sheriff Sherman took several gallons of whiskey mash from the farm of Joe Horn south of town Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Horn were taken into custody but were released on bail of $1,000 which was furnished by local people. They will have a hearing in court here Friday on a charge of making and selling booze. There is no doubt but what they had planned on doing a big business, but their hopes were shattered when the officers found the liquor in the granary. The family are aliens, never have taken out their papers, nor shown respect for our laws at any time. They have been in court a great many times on various charges and this is the last straw.—Mancelona News.

Last Sunday afternoon while on scouting duty the State Police, located at Gaylord, discovered a still and some mash located north and west of Frederic and they placed one of their men there on watch and have kept a man there ever since. Wednesday morning of this week they saw two men go into the building and after waiting for them to get to work they went in and found the men in the act of manufacturing some moon shine whiskey, they arrested the two men and confiscated the outfit.

The two men were taken to Bay City to the Federal court where the warrants were sworn out for them. They had two stills working and about two quarts of fresh whisky which the men were just making. They had two stills working and the outfit is claimed to be worth about $500.00.

The State Police hereafter will take all moonshiners they get to Bay City before the Federal court for trial. The mash was made of apricots and molasses and it is claimed that they had a fine outfit to work with.—Gaylord Herald & Times.

AT THE MOVIES

After playing a variety of roles ranging from a member of the Salvation Army to actor Fatty Arbuckle has again come forward, this time in the role of a fireman, in his latest Paramount-Arbuckle comedy, "The Garage," which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

In this picture, one of the funniest yet produced, Fatty and Buster are employed in a garage, which incidentally, is also the town lock-up and fire house. Fatty is desperately in love with Molly, the daughter of the owner, Rube. He has, however, a rival in the person of the town dude, Rube favors the dude, and forbids his daughter to have anything to do with the fat man. The girl protests and is locked in her room. And then happens a series of events that would take all the joy out of the picture if they were told here. Suffice to say, Fatty saves the girl from a fire and Rube consents to their marriage.

"The Garage," is said to be one of the best Paramount-Arbuckle comedies to date, and young and old alike will be delighted with the foolish antics of the famous comedian.

Robert Warwick in "An Adventure in Hearts," a screen version of Anthony Hope's well known novel, "Captain Dieppe," will be the attraction at the Palace Theatre for two days Saturday and Sunday. The story is of the same romantic-adventure type which Mr. Hope made famous in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Haulage Service that Means $$$$ to You

"Since purchasing my Model 50 Transport truck in March, 1919, I have run it every day in the service of the Standard Oil Co., covering an average daily trip of approximately sixty miles, and have become better satisfied with my purchase every day," writes Mr. Frank Bryson, agent for the Standard Oil Co. of Mt. Pleasant, Michigan. "It is an economical truck to operate, and therefore a good money-maker. I have owned other trucks, but have never had anything in a class with the Transport."

Transport superiority is the result of the adoption of high standards in every phase of manufacture—extreme accuracy of measurements—proper balancing of parts—close attention to all details. Transport engineering assures proper equalization of load and driving strains, less liability of damage, less wear.

The sale of Transport trucks by this company is in line with our long established policy of giving the buyer greatest possible value for his money. This is the chief factor in winning for us the public confidence which we now enjoy—and this confidence is being constantly strengthened by records of Transport performance similar to that reported by Mr. Bryson.

We have unsurpassed facilities for quick service. Our mechanics are the very best—our parts stock embraces everything ordinarily called for—and we are located less than a mile from the Transport factory.

Let us help you to select just the proper size truck for best and most economical service. Our extensive motor truck knowledge and experience is at your command. Drop in and talk the matter over with us, or shall we send a representative to see you?

Charlevoix Land Mark Changes Hands Friday

The building known as the Charlevoix Opera House block, one of the landmarks of Charlevoix, was purchased on Friday of last week by A. C. Mussalem, who for a number of years has occupied a part of the lower floor with his art and tapestry store.

Just at the present time Mr. Mussalem will make no changes in the building, but plans at a later date to remodel the building tearing down the west end which is at the present time the stage to the opera house, and converting the entire second floor into suites of modern rooms.

He will also make extensive improvements on his present quarters as well as the store room adjoining.

CITY OF DEATH IS TRANSFORMED

AMERICAN PHILANTHROPY ACCOMPLISHES WONDERS IN SHORT TIME, NURSE REPORTS.

"American charity is transforming Armenia from a land of destitute, abnormal people, dying by the hundreds from starvation, into a nation of sturdy, normal, well fed citizens," Miss Blanche L. Knox, a Philadelphia nurse, told officials of Near East Relief on her return recently from a year and a half of service to Transcaucasia.

"The transformation of Armenia is best illustrated by that of Alexandropol, its largest city," she said. "When we arrived there early in 1919 conditions were horrible. More awful than the city itself were its inhabitants. Their grain-bag clothing was mud dyed. Along the streets half-mad creatures were digging in the mud for something they could eat, or else laid down to the mud to die. Before we arrived there seemed to have been little or no attempt to bury the bodies of the dead.

"Alexandropol was a far different city when I again passed through it on the way home. The streets were cleaned and the people were well clothed in old American garments or in suits made at the Near East Relief industrial shops. The ragged, abnormal orphans had been gathered in Near East Relief asylums. The mud-colored town that had seemed death itself a few months before was hardly recognizable.

"To make this improvement permanent relief activities must be continued until the political situation clarifies."

Miss Knox's work overseas was not without its thrills. Once she was aroused at midnight by Kurd machine gunners firing on the city of Igdir, and was compelled to flee with the orphans under her care in that city. Last May, in the Caucasus, her train was held up for six hours by Bolsheviks.

Miss Knox served during the war with the Red Cross.

TENNESSEE URGES THAT GOVERNMENT AID ARMENIA

The general assembly of the state of Tennessee, at its recent extraordinary session, adopted the following resolution endorsing the work of Near East Relief:

"Whereas, the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee has had brought to its attention the serious condition now existing in Armenia and other Near Eastern countries which menaces the peace and good will of the world; therefore be it

Resolved, That we urge upon our Government the necessity of immediate affirmative action in bringing to an end the suffering and wrong that still continues within the borders of these Eastern countries and that we express our deep and earnest sympathy for the unfortunate people of Armenia, and that we believe that our Government, consistent with its constitution and principles, should render every possible and proper aid to them in their efforts to establish and maintain a government of their own, and that we heartily approve the work which has been and is conducted by the Near East Relief Committee in relieving these suffering peoples.

"Adopted by the Senate, August 16, 1920.

"Adopted by the House, September 4, 1920."

A full grown partridge flew through a window at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George DuBois, on Clinton street, Sunday forenoon, break the glass in a thousand pieces. The team has made a wonderful record during the entire season, and to add the finishing touch to it, defeated northern Michigan amateur "champs," Boyne City, Sunday, by a score of 5-4.

Games were re-played, good and bad scores explained, and the evening thoroughly enjoyed.

FRANCE TO MAKE CLEAN-UP

France drove a fine bargain with the profligate Pansy when she took over the American war stores in that country. Materials worth billions were sold to France by the American secretary of war for $100,000,000. France now pressed uncommonly hard for money, conveniently finds that much of the stuff she brought is not exactly suited to French needs. American underwear, for instance, is not cut according to the approved French patterns and the fastidious sousculottes don't want 'em. Nor do the French take readily or kindly to our tinned goods, our implements and tools and other items of the American war supplies purchased from Pansy Baker for a few cents on the dollar.

And so France is going to sell out her second-hand American war stock. Where? O, in the United States, among other places offering an attractive market. That is the announcement. France is to make a resale of a large part of the invoice purchased of Pansy. No; not back to Pansy at all. The government at Washington will not figure in the transaction. A firm of Chicago agents will handle matters for the French government. Our goods will come back to us to be sold at several times what France paid for the materials. Nothing is said, however, concerning the millions of pounds of sugar that were sold to the French government for two cents a pound about the time the great sugar squeeze began in this country.

The now notorious reason why Baker would not bring home these American army supplies to be sold to the American people was that he did not want to disturb business here. So he gave them away or at any rate sold them at so low a figure to the French government as to make the deliveries almost a gift and now enables France to reship to America, where she will reap a profit on the resale. No danger to American business now. The people have been trimmed on the war supplies deal and everything is all set and serene for the invasion of the French second-hand merchants and junkers. Directly we shall probably have a few shiploads of American automobiles and motor trucks that were scrapped by Pansy in France to bolster things here. The French are thrifty and handy at making over.

"Can the Republican party afford to win an election with a deliberate falsehood," whines the New York World, Coxwiltson organ. No party can afford to do that. Four years ago the Coxwiltson party got into power on the slogan "He keeps us out of war," and is in a fair way of being destroyed as a result.

The Democratic national committee claims to be poor, but with Barney Buruch beating the bushes on the outside there will probably be money enough for all "legitimate" purposes, even if the committee's reports do not show its receipt or expenditure.

Two-thirds of the war emergency measures are unconstitutional, and were endured by the people of war time only because of the emergency. But the repeal of these measures, worthy, some of them, of Turkey or Russia at their worst, has been prevented by President Wilson.

The Democratic national committee ought to be compelled to report among its receipts and expenditures the millions that were filched from the public treasury by the administration for Wilson propaganda that was a steady violation of the fake advertising laws.

Colonel Bryan declares that after working for Democratic candidates for forty years he thinks he is entitled to a vacation. Evidently he believes that Governor Cox, too, is entitled to a rest after his retirement from the governorship of Ohio.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation naming October 9th as Fire Prevention day. November 2nd is the day the American people will use to prevent deserving Democracy from burning up any more of their money.

Governor Cox says that Senator Lodge will be lucky if he isn't classified with Benedict Arnold by future American historians. As for Jimmy, he is satisfied to go rattling down the ages as the twin spirit of Ananias.

"On a certain morning in November," said Democratic National Chairman White in commenting on the news from Maine, "our time of rejoicing will come." You will notice that George didn't mention the year.

A moving picture of Cox's profiteers contributing money to beat the Democrats for what this administration has done to them would have a Charlie Chaplin feature backed off the boards.

Something is wrong. Governor Cox hasn't called anybody a liar or perjurer or threatened to put anyone in the penitentiary for a couple of days at this writing.

Since Candidate Cox's claims and proofs have been compared, it becomes evident that he is going to go rattling down the ages as the Doc Cook of American politics.

As a means of achieving the Presidency of the United States mud-slinging is going to be considered, after this campaign, more impossible than ever.

Colonel Bryan is an eloquent man when he talks, but the eloquence of his this year's silence surpasses that of his utterances.

Evidently Jimmycox thinks that "great and solemn referendum" is something an "the order of a bar-room fight."

If Governor Cox's voice is strained after his recent campaign speeches, imagine how fearfully the man's imagination must be stretched.

STRIPED CUCUMBER BEETLES

Clean Garden of All Forms of Vegetation in Fall and Burn It to Destroy Harmful Pests.

The best way to handle the striped cucumber beetle is by cleaning the garden in the fall of all forms of vegetation and making a bonfire of it. The adjacent plots to the garden should also be raked and the rubbish burned. In this way many species of insects will be killed that would otherwise live through the winter. Many small gardeners leave the garden standing until spring and then wonder at the numerous forms of insect life. One day of cleaning and burning in the fall saves several days of insect picking during the spring and the loss of a number of plants. Some observers make the statement that one day in the fall is equal to ten days of fighting the young in the spring. Among the birds that have been seen eating the cucumber beetle on several occasions are the quail, English sparrow, wren, grosbeak and oriole.

Age of the World.

John Von Muller, a historian who spent much time in research work on the age of the world, arrived at a conclusion which in 1920 would make the world 7,642 years old. His figures are generally accepted, because they are based on Biblical references and facts.

"These Rats Wouldn't Eat My Best Grain," Says Fred Lamb.

"It's hard to keep rats out of a feed store. Tried for years. A neighboring store sold me some RAT-SNAP. It worked wonders. Gathered up dead rats every morning. Bought more RAT-SNAP. THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL
By J. E. Jones

The country has been thrilled by the news that Miss Mabel Boardman has been appointed by the President as one of the three commissioners of the District of Columbia. Former President Taft has been particularly joyful in commending the appointment. Miss Boardman was at the head of the American Red Cross Society for many years, and her fame has not been increased by the fact that she has been designated as a Commissioner of the District. The appointment is, however, a fine recognition of Miss Boardman's sex, all of whom outside the District of Columbia will be entitled to vote. But Miss Boardman is the same kind of a political exile as are all the other residents of the District of Columbia. There are little less than half a million inhabitants of the small area, which has been set down along the shores of the Potomac to be used as a "capital" for more than a hundred million people. By some extraordinary method of reasoning all residents of the District are disfranchised from voting, and although they may see their President riding about mostly any day, still the price of living in this little spot known as the District of Columbia means that one must forego all political rights.

The three commissioners take the place of a mayor and common council such as are provided in ordinary cities, and they have broad powers with reference to the local government. They appoint most of the subordinate officers, including police heads, assessors, and the dog-catcher. They are, however, separate from the school board which has special powers, and their members are appointed by the President. Taxpayers, public utilities and others who have grievances take them to the District Commissioner, and if the commissioners do not give them a fair deal they have no redress, as there are no electors or public tribunals to appeal to. The commissioners are most always friends of the President, or some member of his family, and while they are usually high type of citizens, yet they are not responsible to the public which they are supposed to represent. None of them take the active part in civic matters that falls to the lot and duties of a mayor.

Notwithstanding the Tennessee legislature and the appointing powers of the President of the United States, Miss Mabel Boardman hasn't any more vote than a man in her old home town, even though she is one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia. However, she has distinction and renown, which is in striking contrast to another appointment to a commissionership of a man almost unknown to the residents of the Capital. How this latter appointee secured his job has not been explained. The Washington newspapers could find nothing to print about him except that he was an enthusiastic club member and an ardent devotee of golf.

This living in Washington, "the purloin of the Nation," is a very poetical existence—but the meter is disjointed in a good many ways.

Railroads Meeting the Situation
The Car Service Division of the American Railroad Association has published figures showing that the railroads of the United States during August handled a greater volume of freight traffic than ever before in that month, even in the war years of 1917 and 1918. As the grain moving season progresses, the demand for cars is increasing, and the pinch of a car shortage cannot help but manifest itself through the coming months.

The extent to which the railroads are regaining their efficiency as the congestion and other effects of the labor troubles which were acute in April are being overcome, is indicated in the large increases being shown in the statistics of revenue freight car loading, compiled by the Commissioner on Car Service. There is, throughout the entire railroad industry, a greatly improved situation. This is not only important to the railroads, but it is even more important as it reflects the welfare of the country.

The railroads are the most highly organized, or unionized, of any of the country's industries. The railroad brotherhoods have demonstrated time and again that they are able to protest the interest of railroad wage workers. Railroad managers have in recent years treated with the brotherhoods, and although there have been a lot of disagreements, each situation has smoothed itself out. But during last Spring the yard men in Chicago precipitated the "outlaw" railroad strike. This extended to other parts of the country, but the brotherhoods joined with the railroad managers in suppressing the revolutionists, and the "outlaws" were emphatically defeated. A similar situation has occurred in the strike of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit employees. In the latter instance, as in the situation with reference to railroad employees, a serious condition was brought on through a minority of the employees attempting to overturn the contracts made between the employers and the employees. The responsible labor element in unions throughout different industries are insisting that contracts made in their behalf shall be carried out. In order to enforce this rule they are, themselves, riding their membership of "outlaws" who do not recognize their moral responsibility in living up to their contracts.

The situation with reference to the coal industry emphasizes the conditions stated above with reference to other industries. All official circles in the National Capital are determined that the wage awards to coal miners cannot be repudiated, and it still remains to be seen whether the "outlaw" element will be strong enough to prevent the country from getting coal this winter.

Senator Tom Watson
Political circles are keenly interested in the coming of Tom Watson as Senator from Georgia. Mr. Watson has been a political tornado in the south for a good many years. His election is on the Democratic ticket, but he starts in decidedly at outs with his party upon their National issues.

It is recalled that Senator Tillman roared around the south until he got into the Senate, where he roared some more for awhile; but finally he became as tame as a kitten. Jeff Davis from Arkansas roared a good deal at first, but he subsided like the rest of them.

The Senate has many great minds, and no one has ever made any headway against its methods by processes of roaring, or barnstorming. Senator Watson is said to be a very able man, and if he can introduce a strong personality in the Senate, backed by a determination to look a little closer to the public interest than the average Senator has been doing, he may "fill a long felt want." There is a well-founded conviction in Washington that the Senate is long on political interests and short on consideration of the public welfare. The fiery Watson may help put the reverse action on this state of affairs. If he does he will be a fortunate acquisition to the upper legislative body. On the other hand if he is only coming to Washington to roar, he won't last long.

The United States at Sea
The United States Shipping Board continues to be a sort of one-man affair, and an Admiral of the navy is running the big-transportation organization, while the commission supposedly in charge is still waiting to be appointed by the President. The government has 2,000 ships on the high seas, and the Shipping Board like all other government institutions is gradually growing top heavy with superfluous officials in Washington. The government's ships have been making only an indifferent success in the carrying of cargoes. Hundreds of other ships have been offered for sale, and the manner in which some of them have been bought is not entirely free of suspicious gossip. Our seamen's laws call for a much greater rate of wages than are paid by other countries, and it is said that our ships are having a hard time in competition. Nevertheless, the American flag is floating on the high seas, and even though the experiment may be fraught with many failures and disasters the waves have been cut for the eventual triumph of American shipping.

Alaska Has the Pulp
The Forest Service has issued another statement to the effect that all pulp wood that is needed for paper is to be found in Alaska. "Paper manufacturers who go to Alaska can count upon the supply of raw material indefinitely," says a statement by Colonel W. B. Greeley, Chief of the Forest Service.

PAULO GRUPPE COMPANY.

One of the strong musical attractions to be heard here next season will be the Paulo Gruppe Company, consisting of Paulo Gruppe, cellist; Camille Hasselbert, violinist; Robert Monaghan, tenor; Corey Williamson, South pianist.

Paulo Gruppe is first of all the natural born musician—intellectually and emotionally admirably balanced—and is then the astounding instrumentalist whose beautiful tone and clear cut technique have enabled him to give such brilliant expression to the pulse as an unusual concert violinist.

His many appearances have tested his popularity both with a musical public and the critical authorities. In truth, in certain characteristics of his art he can hardly be surpassed by any cellist of the present age.

Robert Monaghan, whose beautiful and cultivated tenor has made him a pronounced favorite whenever he has appeared, is indeed a delightful artist. He is richly endowed with a lyric tenor or voice of excellent quality and shags with authority, poise, elegance of style and much temperamental warmth.

Camille Hasselbert of Belgium and French descent, is the daughter of the famous Belgian sculptor, Henri Hasselbert. She is another one of the many geniuses of the violin that Belgium has sent forth to America. Corey Williamson, South pianist,

Choosing the Girls at Central

We cannot afford to be disappointed in the choice of a telephone operator. Upon her efficiency is staked our reputation and the high standard of service which we are trying to give Michigan.

Even during the post-war period when girls were so hard to obtain, we stood by our standards—selecting, carefully, girls into whose personality and character have been built those qualities of cheerfulness, even temperament and physical and mental alertness that will qualify her, after a period of careful training, to become a truly efficient operator.

How wisely we have chosen is reflected, today, in the ever increasing efficiency of the service rendered by these girls—a service which we can now state is fast approaching its pre-war efficiency.

ARMENIAN REPUBLIC NOT TAINTED WITH BOLSHIEVISM

Reports that bolsheviks are penetrating Armenia, based on the recent establishment of a soviet government in the provinces of Karpabak and Zangezor, are misleading, according to a statement issued by Near East Relief. The two provinces in question are inhabited largely by Armenians, but are not a part of the Republic of Armenia. They consist of a mountainous region, the richest mineral district of the Near East, known to possess gold, copper, sulphur, iron and zinc mines, but which is cut off from the Armenian Republic by lack of roads.

The Armenians, the statement goes on to say, have been opposed bitterly to bolshevism from the start and are now calling all men from 18 to 45 to arms to fight the advance of soviet troops, should any campaign against Armenia be attempted. A brief bolshevik revolution in Alexandropol, Armenia, on May 1 was put down by the government within a few days. The only danger of bolshevism in Armenia lies in the possibility of a cessation of the relief work now being conducted by the Near East Relief in Transcaucasia, with its resulting starvation of the inhabitants of that country, which might conceivably force them into the arms of Soviet Russia.

As there is no intention on the part of the Near East Relief to cease its activities, this prospect is considered very remote.

The Army Sky-Pilot Service

The high moral tone achieved by the United States Army during the world war made such a hit with Congressmen who had been used to having "the regulars" crowd them off the Washington pavements in the olden days, that they provided for approximately 250 new Chaplains in the new Army Reorganization bill. Major General P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the Army, says that "in recruiting the chaplain has an unusual opportunity for service with the induction of raw men into the service," and it is his purpose to carry out the policy of the War Department to make soldiering a clean job for clean men. Instead of a rough-and-tumble existence that appeals to tough-guys and ne'er-do-wells.

Colonel John T. Axton has been appointed Chief of the Chaplains, and it is said that he is broad enough to look for salvation for the boys, without particular attention to supplying it by route of sect or creed upstanding Catholics, three-fourths Protestants, and 100 per cent upstanding American is the division set in arranging for the new Army Sky Pilot Service. It is an epoch-marking period that the requirement of moral training has become an actual branch of the War Plans Division of the General Staff, and we are told that the moral and spiritual guidance will have "just as much place in the program for the new peacetime Army as ballistics or close-order drill or personnel hygiene."

Amen, no more it be.

A Huge Industrial Effort
Several weeks ago the Association of Railway Executives laid their cards on the table, and told the American public that the railroads had come out of the war short on equipment, and somewhat the worse for wear. They asked the public to cooperate with them in getting a greater amount of service per car out of the railroad equipment. New cars were out of the question, and the railroads asked the shippers to join with them in a huge industrial effort to overcome the car shortage.

"What has been accomplished," says American Railroads, the official publication of the association, "is important, but it is noteworthy that in no case do the roads express satisfaction with what they have done; on the contrary, they regard the advance to date merely as a step toward higher goals."

"The amount of freight handled by the railroads of the United States in August, 1918, was 7 per cent greater than had ever been handled in that month. But in August, 1920, the railroads moved more than 4,000 carloads in excess of the 1918 record."

"In July, the last month on record, the average mileage per freight car increased to 25.7 miles per day,

"This, in the fewest possible words, shows the result as a whole of the individual effort recorded in the reports herewith presented."

"What makes the railroads realize that they must go on breaking transportation records is the fact that in the first week of September car requisitions in excess of the number that the railroads could supply were a little more than the figure for mid-August. This fact indicates no diminution in the present demand for transportation. It will be met by an undiminished effort on the part of the railroads."

The Cost of Government

In 1914 the United States Treasury was disbursing about $2,000,000 a day, and the country was finding a lot of fault with this high rate of expenses. But now the treasury is disbursing approximately $15,000,000 a day. Many causes have contributed to swell the expenses of government, and the interest on a debt of some $25,000,000,000 is by no means an insignificant item. But since 1914 we have the War Risk Bureau, the Federal Reserve system, the increased work of the Internal Revenue, the enforcement of prohibition, the Farm Loan Banks, the Shipping Board and a hundred other new activities.

The question of the reduction of government expenses will confront the next congress, and if the usual after-election processes are in work order there will be considerable cheese-parings on small but spectacular appropriations. The average man will infer from the figures printed above that expenses are growing faster than the country itself, and any and all talk concerning economy in government is very timely in the pre-election period. It is a good thing to impress on Mr. Congressman while he is at home.

Investing One's Money

If all the widow's and old men's tears that are shed over losses in fake stock schemes were spilled in one place there would be another great salt lake in the United States. If a small percentage of this money was invested and put to work at home, every city and town in the country would be a better place to live in and the investors would reap better returns. A man does not advertise his bad investments, so very little is really known of the vast amount of money which pours into the "get-rich-quick" rat hole every year and enables visionary promoters to ride around in high-priced automobiles. The same money invested at home might enable the city or town to have more electric lights, better gas and telephone service, better transportation, enable small industries to enlarge their operations and bring more people to the city, which would benefit everybody. And the money would be working at home, where the thrifty man or woman could watch it work.

Learning Foreign Languages

A woman from Texas with two weeks to spend in the National Capital devoted several hours daily to studying the French language. It was one of the objects of her visit to Washington, and she knew that she could drop into the Berlitz School of Languages and brush up on her self-instruction course, and then after returning home reap further benefits from the short period of personal contact she had obtained from this world-wide school. Mr. M. D. Berlitz founded the Washington institution and he is now back from war-swept Europe, where he has spent several years in reestablishing his schools that were in many cases numbered among the "casualties of war." Mr. Berlitz returns to America to find that there is an overwhelming demand among educators for the study of the foreign languages. A Washington citizens' association has recommended that Spanish be taught exclusively in the public schools, giving as its reason the belief that Spanish should be mastered by the rising generation because it is growing into favor as a commercial language. French, German and Italian are referred to by this same association as languages that belong more to "social affairs." This viewpoint will likely be disputed by thousands of overseas men, who believe that their "parlor vogue" need to be buttressed by a fuller knowledge of the French language or perhaps Italian—and maybe German. So it is interesting to know that a great many of these boys and men are studying their Berlitz textbooks at home, and some day they all expect to go, like the woman from Texas, to the big city where they can get into more intimate contact with teachers of their selected foreign language.

Are Prices Skidding?

The Department of Labor says that twenty-seven out of forty-three articles going into the family market basket have decreased in price within the month. The same Department found that ten out of fourteen representatives industries showed a decrease in the number of employees last month. Wheat, flour, cotton, textiles, automobiles, leather and even sugar, has moved downward. Most of the readjustments are arriving gradually, and there is evidence that the country is returning to the sanity of normal periods. Many leading manufacturers have reached the conclusion that they can help in getting things back to normal, by pocketing a loss on supplies on hand. They believe that this policy will eventually work out to their own good, and that of the country.

When Cleaning Leather.

Don't use gasoline to clean leather unless you want to crack it. Plain water with a few drops of ammonia will remove the dirt, after which the upholstery should be rubbed briskly with a soft cloth. An excellent leather dressing is made by combining two parts of linseed oil to one of turpentine.

BEST SOIL FOR STRAWBERRY

Field Which Has Produced Good Crop of Corn Is Favored—Manure Is Beneficial.

Strawberries will thrive on a great variety of soils, but a very fertile soil brings the best results. For an average field which has produced a good crop of corn about ten loads of manure per acre, evenly spread this fall with the manure spreader, would be beneficial to the growth of strawberries. Then the field can be plowed early next spring and disced and harrowed until the manure is thoroughly worked into the soil.

Manure should be placed on the strawberry ground as soon as possible after leaving the stables as this helps to keep down the development of the white grubs which eat off the roots of strawberry plants.

Pest Works Its Will.

The Mediterranean fly (kurmititt) has for several years caused considerable damage in Greece to the fruit and vegetable crops. Oranges, apples, pears, peaches, apricots, plums and tomatoes have been especially affected. No remedy has yet been discovered, and there seems to have been little attempt to prevent the spread of this pest.

PLAN TO MAKE YARD FOR POULTRY FLOCK

South Side of Building Is Favored by Experts.

Height of Fences Will Need to Be Regulated by the Variety of Fowls—Hexagonal Wire Netting Is Not Expensive.

If convenient, it is well to have double yards, for then one may rotate green crops. Small yards may be sown to oats, wheat, rye, rapeseed, etc., but if large yards are available they can be kept in a permanent sod of bluegrass, alfalfa, or clover. While the fowls are using one yard the green feed in the other is getting a fresh start.

If the yards are to be on only one side of the house, they should be on the south side in order that the fowls may have the benefit of the first dry ground in early spring. It not infrequently happens that in localities where snow is abundant the ground on the south side is dry many days before that on the north side.

If the yards are to be in permanent sod and are to furnish green feed for the fowls, 70 to 80 square feet should be allowed for each bird. If part of the green feed is to be provided for other use, and the yards used mainly for exercise grounds, 35 to 40 square feet for each bird will be sufficient, poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture say.

Hexagonal wire netting, 2-inch mesh, is suitable for fencing and can be bought cheaply. Where several runs are adjoining, the fences may be boarded up at the bottom to a height of 2 to 2½ feet, or 1-inch mesh wire can be used in place of these boards, to prevent the males fighting one another. Height of fences will need to be regulated by the variety of fowls. The heaviest breeds, like the Brahmas, may be restrained by a 4-foot fence, while most of the other breeds can be kept in by a 6-foot fence. Some of the Hamburgs and Leghorns, however, need a 7 or 8 foot fence. By clipping the flight feathers on one wing they can be kept in without much trouble. Gates should be provided in order to permit access from one yard to the next.

Shade of some kind should be provided, and this can often be advantageously furnished by planting fruit trees (such as pear, plum, peach, cherry and apple) in the yard.

Democratic National Convention Rule.

The two-thirds rule was established by the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1832 that nominated Andrew Jackson for a second term. His running mate was Martin Van Buren of New York. The rule has been famous and inflexible ever since, though efforts have been made to destroy it. Republicans operate under a majority rule. In the Baltimore convention Jackson was nominated on the fourth ballot. His running mate four years before had been John C. Calhoun of South Carolina.

Tuesday p. m. the high school organized an athletic association for the ensuing year. Mr. Rice acted as temporary chairman and officers were elected as follows: President, Ernest Gallowsay; secretary and treasurer, Marjorie Myers.

Thursday morning Mrs. Carl Vrooman, one of our summer visitors, gave the high school a very interesting talk.

On Friday evening the Board of Education gave the public an opportunity to meet the teachers of our schools by giving an informal reception at the H. S. building. A short program was given.

 Reading from Paul Lawrence Dunbar—Mrs. Edna Rotert.
 Vocal Solo—Miss Irene Finucan.
 Mr. Rice, our superintendent, responded to president Bridge in a short talk, urging the cooperation of parents, students and teachers. Light refreshments were served in the Domestic Science room.

The Athletic Association held a "pep" meeting Friday afternoon in the H. S. assembly. Our new yell-master, Mr. Hamilton proved himself thoroughly competent.

50-0 looks bad doesn't it? But in looking over the sporting page for last Saturday's score we find over 70 per cent of the losing teams (and strange to say, one team in a game nearly always loses) lost by heavy scores. We wonder if in each of these towns fans are grumbling. "Football has gone to the dogs in this town—fight and pep all gone, everything rotten, etc. etc."

After the game everyone went to the Junior waffle supper served at the H. S. building. The Juniors owe Miss Gardner a vote of thanks for due to her competent leadership, the waffles were good the supper a success. The proceeds will be placed in the Junior class treasury.

The H. S. entertained our Traverse City visitors at a dance given at the bank hall.

The sixth grade of the Training room and the county normal class accompanied by Miss Wright, Miss Oliver and Miss Bowman went on a field geography hike. They enjoyed a picnic supper out by Mt. Me-Saub.

Miss Jarvis and Miss Catton spent the week end at Pine Point.

The enrollment of the fourth grade has increased from twenty-seven to forty since school started.

HERE'S THE DOPE ON SPUD CROP

BETTER STOCK UP WHILE SUPPLY IS AT HAND

Year's Crop Is Big But Increase Is Less Than a Peck Per Capita Is Report

A most remarkable potato crop will be harvested this fall. It is remarkable in many ways. While 15,000 less acres in the United States were planted in potatoes this year than in 1910 the total yield will be about 45,000,000 bushels in excess of last year. This greatly increased yield per acre is almost phenomenal as the crop grew and increased in production under apparently unfavorable conditions when all elements are considered.

The planting season in most places throughout the United States was two to four weeks late, and when the seed did go into the ground conditions generally were favorable. In some regions there was too much rain, in others not enough. This peculiar condition was noticed in Menominee county. Some local farmers were confronted with replanting because of dry weather, others feared the seed would rot because of too much moisture. But somehow nature came to the rescue, balanced the weather so that rain seemed to fall over those particular areas that needed it most and clouds floated over the wet areas without losing a drop. Similar freak conditions were characteristic in many sections of the country.

Potatoes got a late start everywhere. In Maine, which is the leading potato state and supplies a large portion of the eastern market, the farmers were not only confronted with unfavorable weather but absence of fertilizers due to car shortage. But priority orders at an elevated price delivered fertilizer and Maine will have a bumper crop.

Freek, Drought Appears
During the past two or three years Michigan and Wisconsin have been close competitors with Maine for honors in potato production. Six weeks ago it seemed as if these two neighboring states would outdo Maine. Just then a freak drought hit a large portion of the potato section of northern Wisconsin, with lent hopper following in its wake and what the dry weather and insect pest did not do to the potato crop in that region was accomplished by a heavy frost late in August. These conditions cut the Wisconsin yield by about 5,000 car loads, or 21,300 cars compared to 20,900 shipped last year. The decrease in bushels is about 2,000,000, leaving the crop around 29,000,000 bushels.

Michigan fared a little better than Wisconsin this year, drought, insect pest and frost doing little damage, except in a small area in the upper peninsula. The Michigan crop this year will be about 33,000,000 bushels compared to 28,638,000 bushels in 1919, or an increase of approximately 4,000,000 bushels.

The entire potato crop of the United States this year is estimated at 492,134,000 bushels compared to 353,501,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 382,000,000.

The problem now confronting the farmers is the market. And the market problem is equally important to the consumer.

Be Wise and Stock Up
The big potato crop this year does not necessarily mean that potatoes will be much cheaper this year than last year, and for several years past. The crop this year is not big enough to glut the market unless extremely heavy shipments are made at digging time, and the market can not possibly be glutted in mid-winter and early in the spring. After the harvest and shipments a large part of the nation's big potato crop will be in the hands of speculators and from that time on the consumer will pay the bill unless he has used wisdom and stored his winter supply in the basement early in the fall.

Last year the spread in price of potatoes ranged from $1 and $1.50 a bushel to $6 and $10 a bushel, depending upon the locality. The spread in prices may not be so wide between this harvest and the next but big as the crop is, it is not big enough to forestall abnormally high prices before another harvest.

No fortune is made by storing the family supply of potatoes at harvest time, but enough money may be saved to buy an extra suit of clothes or an extra coat or an extra dress or two, or enough shoes for the family for the entire year, or new furniture for a room, or all sorts of things that other wise might have to be denied.

There is scarcely a family that can not lay in their winter supply of potatoes this fall. It may mean a little denial for the time being but it will provide ready cash in the winter when it is most needed.

The potato crop is big compared to last year, but last year the crop was short 25,000,000 bushels of the average. The increase above the average this year is about 20,000,000 bushels which is less than a peck of potatoes per capita increase over the average—not such an enormous increase after all.

The foregoing is not an attempt to analyze the market and forecast prices, but it is an analysis of potato production and consumption based on government and state figures.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The church school meets every Sunday at noon. Mrs. S. A. Correll and Mrs. E. E. Cross are representing the school this week at the State convention at Muskegon.

CALLED SUDDENLY BY DEATH FRIDAY

Home of George Parson Saddened By Loss of Wife and Mother

Today the husband and three young children of Mrs. Inez Stafford Parsons, wife of George Parsons mourn the loss of a wife and mother, who was called suddenly by death Friday morning, October 8.

Almost without warning death entered this happy home and took from it the mother of three children, the youngest but eight months old. Mrs. Parsons had been ill but a short time and death came from hemorrhage of the brain before the seriousness of her condition was realized by members of the family.

Inez Stafford was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stafford of Norwood. She was 38 years, nine months and 4 days of age. Her marriage to George Parsons took place April 2, 1907. To this union were born four children, George, William, Adelia and Sarah, Adelia dying at the age of three months. Those who mourn her loss besides the father, three children and a host of intimate friends are her father and mother, brother, Harold and sister Grace, and to these the sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended.

Funeral services were held from the Norwood M. E. church, of which she was a member, Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. E. Clark. Interment in Norwood cemetery.

HEALTH SURVEY NOW BEING TAKEN

Many Diseased Children Found in County

At the request of A. E. Barden, executive chairman of the American Red Cross Chapter of Charlevoix county, the commissioner of schools is making a survey of health conditions and health habits of the children of the county. All teachers were asked to report by return mail. There has scarcely been time to get a return from the distant parts of the county, as this goes to print, but the following have already been reported:

Four cases of uncleanness, seven cases of eye trouble, four cases of decayed teeth, sixteen cases of adenoids, one of deafness, three cases of contagious and infectious diseases, one gottle.

In response to the question as to the habits which a public health nurse could help establish in the school, four reported the bathing habit, three cleaning the teeth, four the finger nails, two washing the hands and face, three deep breathing, one sleeping with the windows open, two regular sleeping hours, two regular meals, one good food, and four chewing the food carefully and thoroughly.

Further reports are coming in at every mail.

WOLVERINE MURDER MYSTERY

BODY FOUND UNDER PILE OF HAY IN A BARN

Harry Leffler Had Been Missing for 48 Hours—Face and Head Badly Bruised

Wolverine has a murder mystery that has stirred the country for miles around. Harry Leffler, real estate dealer at that place, was found murdered in the barn in the rear of his home Saturday afternoon. The man had been missing for forty-eight hours and neighbors began a search of the village which resulted in finding the body beneath a pile of hay on the first floor of the barn. The face and head showed bad bruises, evidently caused by blows by some heavy instrument.

It is reported the man had withdrawn $300 from the bank a short while before but no money was found on the body. Wolverine people believe the man was murdered for his money.

On Thursday of last week the sheriff placed Paul Harker in the county jail pending a hearing. The sheriff has also in custody a woman, Mrs. E. Counsellor, who is thought to be able to throw some light on the murder mystery.

When Harker was arrested he had on a new suit of clothes and when asked about his old ones stated he had left them in the woods. Later the clothes were found. It is alleged they were blood stained. Harker is an ex-service man from that county. He was sent to Camp Custer but later returned on account of physical disability, still later he was re-examined and reinstated.

LICENSE ORDINANCE KNOCKED OUT

Judge Charles B. Collingwood Renders Decision

Charlevoix's ordinance taxing hack, auto and bus drivers a certain amount per passenger, is invalid. Such is the decision passed down by Judge Charles B. Collingwood, who has had the matter under advisement for some time.

The case was first tried in the justice courts last August where the ordinance was held valid. The case was then carried to the circuit court where an adverse decision has been rendered.

Three years ago a Charlevoix jitney driver was arrested for non-payment of the regulation license fee. The case was carried to the circuit court where Judge Mayne, in the decision he rendered held the ordinance valid.

In the last case, along practically the same lines and facts, Judge Collingwood says the ordinance is invalid. One cannot help but wonder what another decision would be if a similar case should be tried again.

Charlevoix Grange
Charlevoix Grange will meet in regular session at the I. O. O. F. hall, Monday evening, October 18. Pot luck supper. Members are requested to attend. Visitors always welcome.

POPULATION OF STATE 3,667,222

NATION HAS 105,683,108 ACCORDING TO FIGURES

Michigan Shows Steady Increase in Each Government Census—Leading Manufacturing States.

Michigan's population, according to an announcement issued by the census bureau, moved considerably past the 3,000,000 mark during the past decade when it added 857,049 souls, bringing the grand total to 3,667,222. This represented an increase of 35 per cent over the 1910 figures.

The 1920 population of the continental United States is 105,683,108 an increase since 1910 of 13,710,842 or 14.9 per cent, the census bureau announces.

Michigan's transition from an agricultural state to one of the greatest manufacturing commonwealths in the Union is revealed by the 1920 census.

There are fewer persons on the farms and in the villages of less than 5,000 inhabitants than there were in 1910. Thousands of men and their families have forsaken the business of farming and have gone to the various cities of the state to assume urban life. More than half of the state's population now is located in the cities.

While the population of Michigan's agricultural districts has declined steadily during recent years the number of those in the twenty-five largest cities has increased more than 800,000. Ten years ago the majority of the state's citizens lived either on the farms or in the towns and villages. The greater number of the counties in the state that have no large cities have shown a decrease in population.

Since 1837, when Michigan was admitted to statehood, a steady growth in population has been shown by each United States census. The census figures for the various years are as follows: 1837, 174,619; 1840, 212,267; 1850, 397,654; 1860, 749,113; 1870, 1,184,059; 1880, 1,636,937; 1890, 2,093,889; 1900, 2,420,982; 1910, 2,810,172.

Less than a century of state history has seen Michigan spring from a sparsely settled and heavily forested area to one of the leading manufacturing states in the country.

In 1837 wagon roads were few and those of which the commonwealth boasted were poor. There was no completed railroad, postal arrangements were exceedingly inconvenient and letter writing was a luxury. There were no cities. Schools, churches and newspapers were few and the privations of pioneer life were many and severe.

Today Michigan is one of the most important states in the Union in the matter of manufacturing and finance. Good roads have been built and farms made in what once was a wilderness. Steam and electric railroads now form a network of communication that has welded the entire state into a single industrial unit. The school system of Michigan is said to be one of the best to be found anywhere. Every community boasts of one or more churches and hardly a city or village can be found that does not have its own newspaper.

CHARLEVOIX LOSES THE THIRD TIME

Boys City Foot Ball Team Are Easy Winners

Charlevoix high school foot ball lost its third consecutive game on the local grounds on Saturday last to Boys City by a score of 46 to 0.

Boys City not only outplayed the local boys, but pulled off plays, one an old fake pass, that the writer distinctly recalls having taken part in when he played on the old home team when a kid. One instance was most remarkable. A Boys City player was surprised by having the ball drop into his arms. He didn't know what to do with it, but finally ambled the fifty yards to the goal, Nuff said.

However, we have hopes of a better showing at future games. Athletics in our public schools gives evidence of being on the decline.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give one of their good chicken pies on Wednesday, October 20. Reserve that date for a good supper. Adv. 41tf.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

A. Cummings, aged Wolverine man struck by the Michigan Central afternoon passenger train Sunday was badly injured. Mr. Cummings is very deaf and did not hear the approaching train. He was thrown from the buggy in which he was riding and landed on top of the locomotive just in front of the cab. He was carried in that position until the train was halted.

A rather serious car accident occurred Wednesday night of last week about ten o'clock, on the Boyne Falls road, just a few rods beyond where the cement paving ends. A Ford coupe driven by Roderick Davis of East Jordan and occupied by Paul Faultz, Mrs. Minnie Walker and Miss Laura LaTarte, of this city, while returning from a pleasure trip to the Falls, was met head-on by another Ford car, and after turning a complete somersault landed on its radiator end in a shallow ditch.

Too much head-light is claimed by the occupants of the coupe to have been the cause of the accident. The names of those in the other car are known but as none of them came forward with an explanation, or could be located for an interview, only a one sided version of the mishap can be recorded.

Mr. Peter Doyle, who was passing, took the occupants of the coupe into his car and rushed them to this city and a physician was summoned. It was found that Mr. Faultz had sustained a badly bruised eye, finger and hip; Mrs. Walker had one of her limbs so badly cut that it took six or seven stitches to draw the wound together; Mr. Davis received a slight cut on the head; Miss LaTarte escaped scot free. That some one was not killed is considered a miracle, the coupe was a total wreck. The Ford car reported to have sported the bright lights lost one wheel, while all of its occupants escaped without injury.—Boyer Citizen.

Certain-teed Roofing is Spark-Proof

Certain-teed will protect your property against fires due to sparks dropping on the roof from passing engines. It also helps to prevent fires spreading from building to building by means of sparks and burning embers.

Where fires have started in other parts of the building, Certain-teed Roofs tend to smother them and thereby prevent serious damage to other property.

This type of protection is appreciated by all property owners and particularly by those who are outside of the zone of inadequate fire-fighting apparatus.

But Certain-teed Roofing is more than an aid in the prevention of fire. It also protects from rain or snow and is guaranteed for five, ten or fifteen years, according to weight.

It costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

See a Certain-teed dealer about roofing. If he can't fill your entire order from stock, he can get what you want quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

AT THE MOVIES

Girls. Would you pay a dollar for a chance to win handsome Wallace Reid, the motion picture star, for a husband? Of course, he's happily married and has a little Wallace, Jr., and it's only in his latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Lottery Man," which is coming to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday that he offers this unusual opportunity to the ladies. And 300,000 of them jump at the chance.

Mr. Reid has the role of breezy Jack Wright, who, being young, good looking, in debt, and jobless, started a lottery with himself the prize, offering to marry the woman who drew the lucky number. It was too late to stop these rash proceedings when he fell in love with a pretty girl. To cap the climax, a homely old maid held the winning coupon.

The manner in which the star finally extricates himself from the mess and wins happiness and a fortune furnishes side-splitting entertainment. The picture was adapted from Rida Johnson Young's play of the same name. Wanda Hawley and Harrison Ford are included in the cast, and James Cruze was the director.

STATE BACK ON CENTRAL TIME

Proclamation By Sleeper Sets Date For Change As Oct. 17

Michigann will officially revert back to Central time Oct. 17, according to a proclamation issued last week by Governor Sleeper.

There are many cities where municipal action will keep the city on eastern time, but the state's official time after Oct. 17 will be central time, one hour slower. The text of the proclamation follows:

"In a proclamation issued March 30 last, I requested our people to adopt eastern time for the spring and summer months. In my judgment the time has now arrived when it would be well to return to central time."

"Therefore, I Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan, do issue this my proclamation and I respectfully urge all communities, which have not already done so, to take the necessary action to re-

SINGLE TAXERS PARTY QUALIFIES

New Party is Seventh to Gain Place On General Election Ballot

The general election ballot in the state of Michigan will have seven parties represented with the advent of the Single Tax party.

County Clerk Lewis has received a notice that the Single Taxers had held a state convention according to law and would present the names of ten presidential and vice presidential electors on the ballot in November.

The state convention of the Single Tax party was held in the Hotel Griswold, in Detroit, September 28, and the presidential electors selected were from Detroit and Addison, eight being from the metropolis and two from the smaller town.

The symbol of the Single Tax party is a star enclosed in a square with the words "Single Tax Party" above the star.

Ray Robson, of Addison, is chairman of the state organization of the new party and Elmer Letourneau, of Detroit, is secretary.

The Single Tax party is the second new party to be initiated on the general election ballot, the other being the Farmer-Labor party.

ORCHARD INFORMATION

OLD ORCHARDS REJUVENATED

Apple-Producing Qualities Return to Old Trees After Several Years of Treatment.

"Give the old orchard a chance." This is a slogan put out by the department of horticulture at the Old experiment station which points out that many of the old orchards now discarded or neglected can be rejuvenated.

Experiments show that the apple-producing qualities return to old trees after several years of treatment in which they are carefully pruned, headed in, and sprayed for disease and insects.

It is also necessary to fertilize apple trees. For this soils an application of five pounds each of nitrate of soda and Apple Orchard Killed by Scales.

and phosphate per tree has proved very profitable.

Many old orchards still contain standard varieties, but it is advisable to dispose of worthless seedlings and plant new trees in their places.

Extra care is needed in working over an old orchard as the growth in the trees must be pruned out carefully and slowly over a period of time so as not to injure the trees.

A DEATH-BED REPENTANCE

"The eleventh-hour drive on the part of the Democratic administration to reduce the high cost of living, will not be received by the American people with any degree of assurance that the Democrats mean to deal fairly by the people, declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., in the following statement:

"The question naturally arises, Why was not something done before if the efforts now pursued are calculated to bring about a reduction in prices. Why have the Louisiana sugar barons, and the seaboard refiners, for example, been permitted for two years to gouge the public unmercifully while in the very last month of the campaign an anticardic procedure of the Federal Reserve Board forces down the price of sugar after the barons and the refiners have unloaded their stocks onto the middlemen? Secretary Houston recently announced that 'the government would not be a party to undertaking to hold commodities off the market for speculative purposes to maintain war prices.' Should he not have put it, 'the government would not longer be a party' etc? Why did not Secretary Baker order the return of the mountains of army food materials for sale in this country of their origin, instead of disposing of nearly two billion of dollars' worth of goods in France for something like $400,000,000 in cash? These food stuffs quietly sold in the American market would have done much to annihilate high price conditions in America, but Mr. Baker gave as his excuse for unloading them in France at 20 cents on the dollar his fear that the American market would be unsettled if they were sold here. At that time the administration was looking forward with confidence to a return to power.

"For nearly eight years the Democratic party has been promising a reduction in the cost of living. They made that the chief issue in the campaign of 1912, blaming the protective tariff for the high cost of necessities. Following the passage of their tariff bill, food prices began to advance until today they are more than 100 per cent above the 1913 figures. When the Democrats found food prices were ascending despite free trade, they sought to camouflage the fact by arbitrarily adopting 1914 for the base year in tabulating index numbers showing food prices. Today we are importing foodstuffs at a rate six times that of the days of protection, but all we get is a month before election sarcease, accomplished by a supposedly non-partisan Reserve Board seizing dictatorial powers and compelling a vulgarian of the cost of living, with a view to cajoling votes for Mr. Cox.

"Cost-plus contracts, inflation, criminal waste on the part of the Democratic plunder band, graft, fatuous legislation, setting aside good legislation, one-man-government, rank partiality to favored persons and sections, too much solicitude for people of other nations and not enough for our own, failure of Democrats, while in control of Congress, to enact reconstructive legislation, and inability of the Republicans, since they have been in control, to pave the way for such legislation because Mr. Wilson insists we are still at war and will not relinquish his vast war powers—all these have done much to aggravate abnormal conditions growing out of the war and to create a period of demoralization in which the profiteers and Wilson favorites have found unlimited opportunities to clean up by price extortion. The election of Cox would mean the continuance of the ordeal until such time as economic law itself would put a stop to it, but a Republican victory will mean that economic law will find a safe and sane government to speed its anchorage into a state of normalcy."

THE RETAILERS AND PRICES

While the consumer is rejoicing over the many signs of a general recession in prices it will be well for him to remember that in nearly all lines retail dealers are now in a ticklish position.

It is an easy matter for a Henry Ford who controls both raw material and finished product to send a telegram to all the agencies handling his output to reduce prices offhand, but the retail merchant is in a very different situation. He has to constantly maintain a stock of goods to meet the day by day wants of his customers and so his shelves are filled with articles necessarily purchased when all costs were at their peak. In many lines orders had to be placed months in advance. He cannot drop prices abruptly to coincide with manufacturing cuts without dropping into bankruptcy.

The automobile owners who discover that the resale price of his car has been reduced a quarter or a third between noon and night can comfort himself with the thought that his bus is just as valuable to him for service as ever but the retail merchant has no such consolation. He must sell and at a margin that will enable him to continue in business as well as buy new stock at lowering prices.

There seems no doubt that the general readjustment process is now under way. But the way to help it is not to stop buying. The public can best help the movement by buying sanely and intelligently for its needs because it is not until present stocks can be disposed of without serious loss that there can be a general and permanent reduction in prices. If that thought is carried in mind there will be a gradual and steady easing of costs without violent dislocation or business wrecking. By helping the dealer dispose of his goods bought earlier we shall, in reality, be helping ourselves.

Of course we need not expect prewar prices for a long time, if ever. The sweat shops have been abolished. All workers are now receiving a fairer compensation than ever before. We want to maintain that condition and that fact in itself is bound to leave the price recession (Continued on page six.)

A FAVORITE MODEL

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

ARE YOU PROUD OF THE APPEARANCE OF YOUR HOUSE?

The appearance of a house is always influenced by its surroundings. A building that is beautiful in itself will lose a great deal of its attractiveness if it does not have the proper surroundings and the house that is only moderately good architecturally will lose what good points it does have if care is not taken to emphasize them by appropriate and harmonious environment.

A structure that is extremely simple or one that is even poorly proportioned may be improved wonderfully by artistic planting of trees and shrubs. It is also true that improperly planted grounds detract from the appearance of some houses to the extent that their value is lessened financially.

Why take the chance of decreasing the value of your property by hit or miss planting. Engage a reliable landscape gardener to lay out your work for you. Don't make the mistake of buying the trees and shrubs and either setting them out yourself or leaving them to the tender mercies of the hired man.

You would never think of buying elegant material for a suit of clothes and giving it to a cobbler or a carpenter to make up for you. You put it in the hands of a tailor.—A man who is a professional in his line. A man who has made a study of the business of making clothes, and upon whom you can depend to turn out a satisfactory job, one that has style and fits as well as neat workmanship. You would not, you could not expect the cobbler to get the results of sewing that the experienced tailor does.

Why not take the same pride in the appearance of your home that you do in yourself? Why not treat it as well as you treat yourself? Its appearance reflects upon you.

Go to any experienced and reliable landscape gardener. There are several of them right here in Charlevoix. Let him look over your place and suggest to you what is appropriate. Get the stock from him and allow him to do the planting. Take his advice about the placing of the trees and bushes. He knows about the various heights and what the effect will be when the shrubs are in full bloom and when the foliage is turned by frost to a riot of color.

Don't begrudge the slight additional cost of having a professional man lay out your garden. It is a true form of true economy. Don't waste your money by buying poor stock. Don't kill good stock by wrong method of planting. Don't lose its value as an ornament by planting it in the wrong place. Here it is true as in many cases. "THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."

EDITORIAL

at a higher level than in the old days with their lower standard of living. So do not ask the retailer to bear the burden unassisted nor look for a price millennium over night.—Grand Rapids Press, Thursday, September 30, 1920.

Sam Gompers, speaking in the capacity of a Democratic politician, says if Governor Cox is elected, he will "go forward." Sure thing; he will go right on giving us more of what we've had,—and that's one reason he is going to be asked to go away backward and sit down by the voters on November 2nd.

The New York World has made the terrible discovery that the Moonshine interests of the South are for Harding. That in view of the fact that the Democratic campaign this year is mostly moonshine, seems a bit unnatural.

The refusal of Homer S. Cummings to accept the nomination for senator in Connecticut proves that the former chairman of the Democratic national committee knows an earthquake is approaching when the political seismograph begins to shimmy.

There has been some discussion as to the real middle name of the Democratic presidential candidate, but since the western trip most people think he ought to be called James Poppy Cox.

Make the approaching Republican landslide such a huge one that the whole world will know that no President who trades off American rights, interests and ideals can deliver the goods.

his close friends Arnold Sherman frankly stated that he was in no way an heir apparent to his uncle's millions, not even a protégé.

"Mr. Marchmont has a large family of his own, most of them girls," he explained. "The boys are all young and because I inherit from my father a certain liking for construction, Mr. Marchmont generously offered to put me through college, provided I would qualify as a structural engineer. Then I shall go to work in some one of his big foundries, I suppose, earning my living by hard, practical work."

By a very close margin Arnold Sherman graduated creditably, for the reason that he had worked double day-times and stayed awake half the nights to aid a young fellow named Pierce Arden, in whom he had taken a great liking. For a month after the term was over Arnold lay prostrated from his arduous efforts, but he had a grateful and a faithful nurse, young Arden postponed accepting a lucrative position until his friend was fully on his feet again.

"I'd nurse you the remainder of my life if it was necessary," he declared. "Never was there a friend like you! I owe you everything. I wish I had saved to show you the letter my sister Genevieve wrote me when I told her that you had risked your own chances and your health to help me get my diploma. That is her picture," and Arden extended a photograph. "She is smiling there, but she was crying when she wrote about my noble, self-sacrificing friend, for the letter was stained with tears. I shall not be back home permanently until toward the end of the year. Then you've got to come and see the folks. They'll greet you with open arms, I tell you!"

Arnold smiled and whimsically wondered if Arden included also the open arms of the lovely girlish original of the picture. Two hours later he sat down and wrote a long letter to his uncle. In it he told John Marchmont that he would not report at the mills for some months to come.

"I remember," a part of the letter ran, "that you once told me that the really successful man in your line of business was the one who, aside from his office and technical ability, had been through the practical end of it. I wish to prepare myself in this way."

I have a large iron works running to your own in view, intend to enter its services under an assumed name, hope to glean at least a fair surface knowledge of the details of the different mechanical departments and come to you something better than a theoretical engineer."

The plant Arnold had selected for his initial training was located at a distance in a section where he was not likely to be identified. He added to his new stock of clothing various suits adapted to rough shop work and he smiled to himself as he glanced down at his white, smooth hands. A few weeks would do considerable hardening and transforming them. He settled down where the mills were located and was appointed to a task as helper of a foreman.

There was a transfer to the casting room a week later and then to the shipping department. All this was the kind of education Arnold desired, to know just how things were done, and evenings he would read the various processes he had studied and figure out estimates of weight, tensile power, chemical attributes and waste and cost.

One evening Arnold had taken a stroll beyond the limits of the town and was returning along a lonely road when he came upon a stalled automobile containing two ladies. He recognized at once that they were in trouble and went over to the machine and suggested that he might be of some assistance. He soon restored the auto to working condition and the older, fearsome and thund, asked him to drive them into the town. When he surrendered control of the wheel and alighted, the spot light crossed his face, he fancied that he caught the echo of a sharp exclamation on the part of the young lady. Then a passing machine flooded her own face with the radiance of its headlights and he knew her at once—the original of the photograph Pierce Arden had shown—the sister, Genevieve.

Several times during a month he passed her in the automobile. She always smiled and bowed and one afternoon halted the car at the curb. She was consciously flushed and embarrassed as Arnold approached.

"My mother is anxious to see you, Mr. Sherman," she said.

"You—you know my name?" exclaimed Arnold, coloring up.

"My brother's friend—oh, yes!" replied Miss Arden. "He sent us your photograph."

There were mutual explanations and that was the beginning of a perfect understanding. A month later John Marchmont sent word for his nephew to prepare to take charge of a large department of his plant. Then young Arden came home and Arnold Sherman was indeed greeted with open arms—and an open heart on the part of Genevieve when he confessed his love for her.

AMERICAN RELIEF REACHES 100,000 IN THE NEAR EAST

The Near East Relief work is divided into three branches, with offices in Beirut, Alexandropol and Constantinople. The latter station, having a personnel of 200, is caring for 32,000 orphans, 12,000 hospital cases and 9,000 in industrial work, giving direct aid in money, clothing and soap to temporary refugees. The committee here visits needy homes, arranging employment and other aid affecting 12,000 people.

In the Caucasus the work now is concentrated at Alexandropol under a personnel of 20 Americans, where 24,000 orphans are fed and lodged. Refugees from Cilicia, on account of banditry in the French zone of Syria, have greatly increased. Col. Coombs, managing director at Constantinople, commends the spirit of sacrifice among American relief workers, which more than offsets the lack of some in experience.

When Americans became beleaguered in the bandit-infested interior, Col. Coombs wrote a circular letter informing the personnel that they were free to leave when they felt conditions warranted it, but only three former soldiers quit their posts. Even after Adana was surrounded Miss Doris Nevin, the late composer's daughter, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Ruth Henry, of Amherst, Mass., voluntarily braved a journey through the Turk lines to take charge of that branch. This was only one of several similar incidents.

GREECE OFFICIALLY THANKS NEAR EAST RELIEF

Washington.—The Greek legation is in receipt of a report from the Greek High Commissioner in Constantinople that the American organization, Near East Relief, is spending about 3,000 Turkish pounds per week (approximately $3,000) in western Asia Minor, actively helping the refugees of that district, which is under the control of the Greek government.

The Greek charge has written the executive committee of Near East Relief that "it is a very gratifying feeling to know that so many innocent victims are relieved from their sufferings," and expressing his thanks to Near East Relief for its work in Asia.

Anger Poison.

"Advancing years have caused me to forego the luxury of temper," a middle-aged woman said. "The slow wrath might well be one's guide at every period of life, but it is absolutely essential in the middle years, when fits of anger set up a positive poison in the system. Twice in the last year I have been made seriously ill by giving way to my temper. Now, for my health's sake, I endeavor to restrain it."—Exchange.

ELLSWORTH

Ellsworth
Dear little home town, land of my birth,
How little you know of your value and worth!
Calmly, serenely and peacefully you rest
Out of all the world's greatness, I chose you—you're best,
Dear little village, you're just the right size
How many have found you and claimed you a prize
May the day be far distant when a city shall rise
From the peace of the valley, where your beauty now lies Sa dear little home town, I love your calm shores,

Miss Julia Jensen has gone to Detroit to enter the nurses' training school of the Harper hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donaldson and family, were recent callers at the home of Mrs. A. B. Lawton.

Potatoes and corn are turning out well in this community and the weather is ideal for securing the crops.

School closed last week Thursday on account of the serious illness of Miss Boyle's grandmother, and will not reopen until the conclusion of potato digging.

PRUNING FARM APPLE TREES

Regulated More in Accordance With Owner's Conditions Than in General Orchard.

Pruning of apple trees on the general farm is regulated more in accordance with the owner's farm conditions than where orcharding is the main occupation. The trees must be shaped to enable the farmer and his team to make satisfactory progress with plow, cultivator and harrow. When quite young, the trees are trained to grow straight and tall for several years, until the lower branches can be spared and the tree assumes a permanent form. This can generally be accomplished within a few years after planting. No permanent limbs are allowed to form closer to the ground than 4 feet, and many at that height will have to be sacrificed. Three to five main branches are generally sufficient. It is wise to cut these back to within a foot of the tree, leaving a terminal bud where the branch is removed, so that an elbow forms, pointing upward, giving great strength to the branch and spread to the tree. The limbs receive like treatment in a year or two. A tree thus started will have little use for a central stem which excludes the sunlight so necessary for the fruit. We find that too severe topping of the tree is apt to induce sun scald on the branch or body of the tree.

Having given the tree its foundation shape, the next care is to keep that shape. Each year attention is given to removal of winter shoots or suckers, branches that cross each other or shut out the sunlight and interfere with spraying.

Perhaps 20 feet is the limit to the height of an apple tree with these general form conditions in view. March is a good month in which to prune.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

About that foot ball game--well "we may be down, but we're never out." To create a good feeling between Charlevoix and our old enemy Boyne the Sophomore and Senior classes gave a supper to the two foot ball teams and the faculty after the game.

Thursday morning the High School held a "pop" meeting led by Mr. Hatch. Captain Hallett reluctantly consented to make his bow and "say his say." We have hopes for John as a future orator. We also listened to the eloquence of Alfred Jones and Lyman Brown and we regret very much that Mr. Tuttle has confined the benefits of his brilliant oratorical genius to the art of school teaching.

John Hallett is advancing rapidly as an orator. John (in public speaking class) I have spent great deal of time rehearsing this talk. No one but God and I know what it is about. (Pause) I must have forgotten it. Now only God knows.

Dick Hammett told a good joke too but it is censored.

The Juniors have organized a "little finger brigade." They seem to think they are the only ones who have gold rings. Their conversations sound like this: "Oh girls, aren't they adorable?" Mine is a perfect fit. I'm just crazy about mine."

Patrons of the Charlevoix Lecture course are promised a number of the highest order Friday night. Paulo Gruppe is one of the "big men" of the musical world. The entertainment is to be given at the Palace Theatre. Give the course your patronage and the lyceum committee your co-operation. Charlevoix needs the lecture course and the lecture course needs you.

The pupils in Miss Berg's room gave her a fruit shower last Friday.

Following are the names of the second grade students who were neither absent nor tardy during the month. Robert Atchison, Lloyd Baxter, Clare Hardy, Lilace Johnston, Walfred Meggison, Susannah Metcalf, Richard McCann, Freda O'Neill, Otto Russell, Mary Simmons, Clara Smith, Iris Ther, Eloise Tillotson, John Walker.

The High School football team is not the only team in the city.

The following boys from the training room, Miles Russell, Theodore Powell, Harold Taylor, Donald Swinton, Reuben Hull and Bradley Atchison assisted by Theodore Cooper, John Clark, Glenroy Iken, Ralph Cross, Arthur Cross and Peter Scott from the regular sixth grade, have organized a football team which is worthy of notice.

Last week Thursday these Juniors played with the boys from the Catholic school. The score was 20-7 in favor of the Junior team. Saturday they played the Junior High winning with a score of 20-0.

The schedule for this week is as follows:

Thursday--Junior High (7th grade.)
 Friday--Catholics.
 Saturday--Junior High (eighth.)

The second grade won in the attendance contest. The winners are mentioned in the notes above.

Those in the sixth grade, who were neither absent nor tardy are: Alfred Gill, Bradley Atchison, Alice Thier, Pearl Harrington, Anna Shearer, Bessie Murphy and Gwendolyn Genett.

The pop-corn sale given by the Normal students and pupils of the training room proved a great success. The sixth graders sold the corn at the game Saturday and the money taken in amounted to $7.88. The money is to be used for project work, supplies and books for a library. We will have another pop corn sale in the near future and we will be willing to accept all pop corn donations.

NOTES SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S

When the Courier last week published as list of counties that were to receive playground equipment from the state funds, the commissioner of schools immediately called up Mr. Usher to find at where the article published was found. Why did it leave out Charlevoix county? The editor explained that his article was an exact copy from a state paper and that he would advise investigation. A letter to Mr. Floyd Rowe, State Physical Training Director as to why Charlevoix county did not appear in this list received a very favorable reply. All counties responding to his questionnaire of last winter would receive a proportionate amount of playground equipment. He acknowledged receiving Miss Stewart's response to his questionnaire on March 10, 1920, and said that Charlevoix county would receive base balls and bats. He had published the names of counties who were the first to be served, and the list will grow from day to day, just as fast as the packing and shipping can be cared for.

COUNTY OFFICIALS NOW IN SESSION

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS HARD AT WORK.

Appropriate $2,000.00 to Help Out in Fair Expenses—Other Measures Passed.

The Board of Supervisors, now in session at their regular October meeting at the county building, are in the midst of heated arguments as to the welfare of the county's affairs.

We are listing aside from the regular routine of the work, a few of the important movements that have taken place and have been passed on and approved of by the board.

In accordance with a motion put before the board by Supervisor E. B. Ward of Charlevoix, $2,000.00 was appropriated toward the work of the Charlevoix County Agricultural society. This will enable the organization to continue their work, also to carry out plans they now have in mind.

Among the appropriations made by the county was one of $250.00 to the Michigan Children's Home at St. Joseph, to assist in the caring for the homeless children of Michigan. This is a movement that is doing worlds of good and is well worthy of assistance.

One of the important measures passed was that demanding from any bank in the county with which county money should be deposited, a bond of not less than $10,000.00 to serve as protection in case of bank losses.

A motion whereby the commissioners of the poor will receive $4.00 per diem and their clerks be paid on the basis of $100.00 was also passed by the board.

Among the elections made by the board for the coming year were the following: H. A. Craig of Charlevoix, was elected school examiner for a period of two years. L. E. Benton, Wm. F. Tindall and Wm. A. Pickard were elected to serve on the county canvassing board for the next three years.

County Treasurer Charles Emroy was allowed by the board, twenty cents for each dog license issued by him in the past year.

EXPRESS RATES BOOSTED IN STATE

Increase of 13 1-2 Per Cent Took Place Last Wednesday.

Increase of 13 1-2 per cent in express rates became effective in Michigan October 13 in accordance with special permission for new tariffs granted by the public utilities commission following the decision of the interstate commerce commission.

This increase in rates follows closely on the recent increase of 40 per cent in freight rates. That the public has become accustomed to high rates and high prices is shown by the fact that there have been very few complaints over the higher freight rates.

Original action of the interstate commerce commission granted an increase of 12 1-2 per cent to the American Railway Express Co. with the exception of certain rates on milk and cream. After this increase, however, the labor board gave the employees a bump in wages and later in the same case the rate increase was advanced 13 1-2 per cent.

The increase of 12 1-2 per cent was effective Sept. 1, making a total increase of 26 per cent in general express rates and 20 per cent in milk and cream rates.

BAD FIRE TAKES BARN AND CATTLE

Lightning the Cause of Early Morning Blaze.

Farmers a mile north of Atwood were aroused at an early hour Tuesday morning to discover that the barn of Paul Veenstra, a farmer of that neighborhood, was in full blaze, having been struck by lightning during the early morning storm.

The barn was a total loss as was 10 head of cattle and five calves. The horses and two cows were saved but the entire contents of the building, comprising a goodly portion of this season's crops, was a total loss.

The loss will be a severe one to Mr. Veenstra, as very little insurance was carried and the property destroyed represents the labors of nearly a year and in many respects the efforts of years of hard work.

We will handle the Soo Woolen Goods line this year. When you buy, ask for them. Benj. Brown—Adv. 391f.

PARTRIDGE A GROWING MENACE

What Redress Has a Citizen if Attacked by One.

Charlevoix residents are beginning to want to know what protection they have against wild and vicious birds and beasts. For instance if an erring and misguided partridge attacks a citizen, what can the citizen do about it? If a partridge in a terrible hurry to get some place smashes a window out of a man's home, where is the man to look for reparation?

It's against the law to kill partridge just now. And yet the birds are so numerous and have become so assured of their domination of the situation that they are becoming very annoying if not positively dangerous.

Friday morning a partridge crashed into the screen door at the home of Harve Campbell. The bird was found dead on the porch. We related an instance about a week ago where a bird smashed a window glass. Saturday morning several were seen perched in the trees about the city. And if they fly, and a window should happen to be in their line of flight, they usually go right through it.

And so it comes about that the people are wondering how they are to prevent these invasions of their sacred rights, and to whom they may look for damages when a burly partridge in the midst of and orgy of destruction, seeks to crash down the side of an otherwise peaceful dwelling.

A number of us like to get out and walk about our own yards and in the park, but we are fearful that a maddened partridge may swoop down upon us and do bodily harm. And the law says "thou shalt not kill."

FARM PROFITS ARE SMALL

U. S. FIGURES SHOW AVERAGE
IN 1918, 7 PER CENT

Specialists Studying Situation for Last Five Years Have Just Made Report.

Figures on farm profits covering seven years in two areas and five years in a third, just made public by the United States department of agriculture show that comparatively few of the farmers in the groups studied have been making large profits during the recent years of comparatively high prices. The figures indicate chiefly:

That the farmer's average return on investment increased from about 4 per cent in 1913 to 7 per cent in 1918.

That most of them are making less than $500 each per year over and above the things the farm furnishes toward the family living, which, however, constitutes a very important factor.

Specialists of the office of farm management and farm economics, who have conducted these investigations, say while the results will not justify making generalizations as to what farm profits are for the country as a whole, they believe they should have weight in consideration of the general problem, as indicative of the trend of farm returns in representative farming sections.

The three groups of farms studied are located, respectively, in Washington county, Ohio, (25 farms, hill country, 7 years); Clinton county, Indiana (100 farms, corn belt, 7 years), and Dane county, Wisconsin, (60 farms, dairy region, 5 years). Representatives of the department visited the farms year after year.

Of the 185 farmers in the three areas, none made a labor income of $1,000 for every year of the study, but eighteen in the Indiana area and seven in the Wisconsin area made labor incomes averaging more than $1,000 a year for the period.

Fifteen per cent of the farmers failed to make any labor income at all. Ten per cent failed even to make 5 per cent interest on investment in any year of the study.

Double Birthday Party.

A double birthday-party was given Friday, October 15th, the occasion being to observe the 13th birthday of John Sharrow and the 9th birthday of his sister, Elizabeth. A large number of their school friends were present, also Miss Verduin and Miss Geneit. Refreshments were served and various games played, after which they departed for their homes leaving many tokens of remembrance.

FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY DEAD

Mrs. William Campbell Passes Away at Flint.

Mrs. William Campbell, a former resident of this city and very well known in this locality, died at her home in Flint last Friday evening, October 14th.

Mrs. Campbell, formerly Una Cram, was born at Undine, Michigan, April 24th, 1881. Later she was united in marriage to William Campbell, April 15th, 1899, and made their home in Charlevoix for a number of years where Mr. Campbell was employed as one of the rural mail carriers. About seven years ago they moved to Flint, where they have made their residence since.

Mrs. Campbell had been in ill health for the past year or so, and about seven months ago there came a change for worse, which rapidly led up to her death.

She leaves to mourn her departure her husband, two children, Alton of Flint, and Mrs. George House of Wolverine. Also two brothers, Nelly Cram of this city, and Morris Cram of Bellingham, Washington; three sisters, Mrs. Lillian Bancroft of Charlevoix, Mrs. Alta Hale of Bellingham, Washington, and Miss Eva Cram of Detroit.

The remains were brought to Charlevoix for burial, arriving here Monday, and were laid to rest in Brookside cemetery.

LAST OF GOOD TIMBER GOES

Arthur Beattie Woods Sold to a Lansing Firm.

For a number of years the timber standing on the farm of Arthur Beattie, located on the Barnard road, four miles south of Charlevoix, has been the only piece of good standing timber left in the vicinity of Charlevoix. Offer after offer has been made for this timber, only to be refused by the owners.

It has at last been announced that this desired property has changed hands. The land has been owned by Elizabeth Beattie, widow of the late Arthur Beattie, who died about two years ago. The timber has been purchased by the Gorham Bros., a veneering company of Lansing, and it is understood that the company will start operations of removing the timber this winter. The tract consists of 60 acres and is covered with an excellent growth of maple and beech.

TRANSFERRED TO CLEARWATER, FLA.

Fred A. Butler Will Continue His Work in the South.

Word has been received that Fred A. Butler, for years one of the R. F. D. carriers from the Charlevoix post-office and a resident of this city, has been transferred to Clearwater, Fla., where he will continue his work with the postoffice department.

Mr. Butler is very well known in this city and has a host of friends having been actively connected with lodge work in the city. The Courier and his many friends join hands in wishing him the very best of luck in his new field.

RECEIVES STATE AUTO TAX MONEY

$888.04 is County's Share of Quarterly Receipts.

County Treasurer Charles Emroy received Thursday, October 15th, from the state Charlevoix county's share of the third quarterly settlement from the state automobile tax moneys.

The check for the quarter ending September 30 amounted to $888.04, and undoubtedly this sum will be applied toward the county road fund.

GATHER SPUDS ON CITY LOTS

A Bumper Crop is Reported by E. L. Johnson.

There may be a scarcity of some article along the line of food supply this fall, but potatoes do not seem to be among the list of missing.

E. L. Johnson of this city brings in reports of a bumper crop raised on three city lots on the Ward addition, located on the south terrace. An amazingly large crop amounting to 104 bushels of potatoes were dug from this small portion of ground. Five hills were found to yield five pecks and several spuds tipped the scales at two pounds and better.

The variety planted by Mr. Johnson was the Mortgage Lifter and the abundant yield reported should prove one of the biggest factors in making northern Michigan farming a financial success this year, regardless of the low market price quoted at the present time.

The average yield in this section is from 170 to 240 bushels per acre, and the acreage throughout northern Michigan is unusually high.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN MEDICOS MEET

Society Entertained by Charlevoix People.

On Monday of this week twenty-four doctors, members of the Northwestern Michigan Clinical Society, met in Charlevoix for a good time. They came from Maple City, Cadillac, Petoskey, Traverse City, Lansing, Boyne City and Alpena.

The party was entertained by H. L. Oldham on board the Steamer Bruce, leaving here at 11 o'clock and going to Nine Mile Point, near Little Traverse Bay. A very fine luncheon was served at the bay, after which the boat returned to Charlevoix.

The business meeting was held on board after luncheon. Addresses were given by Dr. Kinying of the skin department of the University of Michigan, and Dr. Williams and Dr. Bell of Alpena.

Upon returning to Charlevoix they took a trip up Pine Lake toward Boyne City, and came back to Charlevoix near evening, where they visited the hospital. Refreshments were served at the hospital, after which the gathering broke up.

JUVENILES ORGANIZE FOOT BALL TEAM

PHONE RATE CASE HEARINGS OPEN

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE
CO. ASKS INCREASE.

Declare Returns Are Not Sufficient to Pay Dividend and Take Care of Depreciation.

Hearings on the application of the Michigan State Telephone company was begun at Lansing last week for a temporary increase of 25 per cent in telephone rates in its 180 exchange outside of Detroit before the Michigan public utilities commission. The company asks the increase be made effective from now until the final readjustment of rates for the whole state which is to be made up on completion of the commission's appraisal of all the company's properties in Michigan. This appraisal will not be completed this year.

George M. Welch, Grand Rapids manager of the company, presented exhibits to show that the revenues of the whole company under the present rates falls $1,274,906 short of meeting the expenses of the company and permitting a return of 7 per cent on the investment. This deficiency is increasing, he declared, so that for the year beginning May 1, 1920, it will be $1,655,321.

The company's claim regarding value of its property is that it is worth $11,901,200 after deduction of the depreciation fund. Revenues last year were $3,738,294, according to Mr. Welch's figures, while operating expenses alone amounted to $3,322,035. This would leave $416,258 for depreciation and return on investment. The depreciation alone, according to the company's claim, would amount to $806,174 at 6 per cent. A return of 8 per cent on investment would amount to $952,096. Of these figures the net deficit is $1,274,906.

W. F. EMPEY PASSES AWAY

ONE OF EAST JORDAN'S EARLIEST SETTLERS.

Was First Postmaster When Office Was Established—Business Houses Close.

W. F. Empey passed away at his home on State St., in this city Sunday morning, October 10th, 1920, the cause of his death being a complication of diseases coupled with old age.

William Fletcher Empey was one of East Jordan's earliest pioneers. He was born near Kingston, Ontario, January 26, 1840. He came to Michigan in 1866 and located at East Jordan in 1874 when this region was a wilderness and the place as yet unnamed. He built and conducted a general store and was the first postmaster.

Mr. Empey was the first settler at this point. For several years he was connected with the lumbering interests and had traveled over this part of the state locating pine land for a Toledo firm. In 1874 he built a store on the eastern shore of the south arm and the following year began putting up the first building on the present site of East Jordan for a store. About this time a blacksmith named John Voto came along and Mr. Empey induced him to locate here.

In June, 1877, a postoffice was established and Mr. Empey was appointed postmaster. When the office was about to be established the question of a name for the settlement came up. Mr. Empey sent a number of names to the department but they were rejected on account of there being other offices of the same name; at last he sent among others that of East Jordan, which was adopted. Mr. Empey carried on his store, also handled wood and bark and engaged in farming. In the fall of 1883 his store building was destroyed by fire. He continued in business here until 1900 when he went to north western Canada for a few years, returning to East Jordan in 1904 in company with his brother, Joseph, (now deceased). They built the Empey block and conducted the Empey Bros. Furniture Store for years.

Mr. Empey was united in marriage to Ellen F. Brotherton in September, 1879, at Petoskey. She passed away April 17, 1898. In 1909 he was united in marriage to Hattie Smith of Illinois, who survives him, together with three brothers, Ephraim of Banks township, Antrim county, John of near Ellsworth, and Charles of Lansing.

Mr. Empey was a charter member of Jordan River Lodge F. & A. M. Funeral services were held from his late home Tuesday, October 12, at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. John Duncan, and under the auspices of East Jordan Lodge No. 379, F. & A. M. Interment at East Jordan cemetery. As a mark of esteem the business places in the city were closed during the funeral hour.—East Jordan Herald.

LITTLE WILL TO LOCATE HERE

Will Have Branch Store in the Odd Fellow Building.

Charlevoix will have a newcomer in its business section when the season opens next spring, as W. Z. Searle & Son of Petoskey have announced that they will open a branch store in the Odd Fellow building, now occupied by the S. M. Rose barber shop.

This concern and Mr. Searle is known throughout northern Michigan as "Little Will," and needs no introduction to the people of this city and vicinity. Mr. Searle has conducted a jewelry store and optical parlors in Petoskey for over 25 years and has made a host of friends in this section. The Charlevoix store will be conducted along the same line as the Petoskey branch, consisting of optical parlors and general line of jewelry.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Emmet county supervisors, holding their regular October session are considering the matter of taking up an organized fight against the grasshopper. This pest is said to have destroyed hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of farm crops in Northern Michigan during the past year, and the supervisors hope to be able to destroy many of the hoppers another year.

The matter was brought before the board in the form of a resolution by Supervisor Wagley, Brutus, that the sum of $5,000 be appropriated to be used in the purchase of grasshopper poison during the coming year.

The committee on ways and means will make some recommendation within a few days.

Joseph Grobaski clerk at McCabe & Boehm hardware and George Near, clerk in Fitchmen department store of Petoskey, are in the county jail facing charges of stealing several hundred dollars' worth of goods from these stores. Both were bound over to the circuit court for trial. A large amount of clothing and hardware was found secreted in the various rooms, attic, beneath the beds, etc., of the Near home. Goods included overcoats, suits, blankets, etc., from the Fitchman store, and fishing tackle, guns and general hardware from the hardware store.

Paul Stratten, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stratten, farmers in the Mackinaw City region, had one arm nearly shot off October 16, while duck hunting on Carp Lake. The young man was in a boat and in attempting to pick up his gun it was accidentally discharged. The shot entered the arm at the wrist and tore the flesh badly from wrist to elbow. Dr. James Brown, of Levering, hurried him to Petoskey hospital where every effort is being made to save the arm.

Investigation shows that in some places in this state you can buy what is known in private life as scrambled eggs at 35 cents per order; while in other places you can buy them under the name of "Scotch Woodcock," with a spray of parsley in its tail and a pickled snail on its side at $1.10. Thus, if at this late date any one should ask you what's in a name, you may reply, "There money in it, for those who know how to use it wisely."

Sure enough, it is autumn. The buckwheat stubble glistens redly in the rays of the western sun; the stripped sorghum cane in straight arm loads lies green upon the naked land, the brown, windrowed clover straggles crookedly across the lowlands and up the slopes; among frowsy and breaking weeds, the corn shocks are standing rich within, no doubt, but tightly bound up, and mummified, and quite permanently dead. This is autumn, surely. It suggests, some optimist tells us, the hope of another spring. Perhaps it does. And we are very certain it suggests the irrecoverableness of the last one.

Mackinaws, Sheep-skin Coats, Caps, Mittens, Overcoats and Wool Pants—just what you need for cold weather. Benj. Brown—Adv. 39tf.

AT THE MOVIES

In "The Deep Purple," R. A. Walsh's film version of Paul Armstrong's and Wilson Mizner's famous play, patrons of the motion picture will view something new in the way of crime depiction on the screen.

The photoplay will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday, and represents one of the best screen offerings presented here for some time. Suspense is well sustained, and Director Walsh, now an independent producer, has succeeded in developing a crook play from a new angle.

The story deals with the adventures of Doris Moore, an unsophisticated country lass who goes from her upstate home to New York City, to become emeshed in the evil designs of Harry Leland, a professional blackmailer. The part of Doris Moore is vividly portrayed by Miriam Cooper, whose compelling work wins unbounded sympathy from her audience. Vincent Serrano, who created one of the leading roles in Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," wins many hates for himself as the villainous Leland.

There are some very spectacular scenes in this picture, one of which shows a cabaret in which Bird Millman, celebrated aerial performer, does some thrilling work on a taut wire. If "The Deep Purple" is a criterion of the R. A. Walsh productions, it is well worth your time to see it.

The wiles of the "Badger Game" worker are exposed in "The Deep Purple" with the moral object of aiding to suppress that infamous swindle. The situations leading to the thrilling collapse of the plot are of a character that keeps the audience keyed up all the while the story is being unfolded. See this R. A. Walsh production at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Egyptian Mummy Cloth.
The extraordinary durability of the ancient Egyptian mummy cloth is believed to be due to the fact that it was finished with a vegetable glue derived from the African locust-bean tree.

HARDING ON LIBERTY BONDS
"The government should make its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them."

This is the language of Senator Harding to recent callers.

It means that Senator Harding believes the bonds the men and women and children of America bought in the war period and which have gone below 100 cents on a dollar should be brought back to 100 cents on a dollar.

Of the first Liberty loan your government bought in $25,115,000 of Liberty bonds for $23,841,677.60, with a profit clip of $1,273,322.40 from the fleece of the bond buyers.

Of the second Liberty loan your government bought in $371,215,000 for $353,346,965.55, with a clip of $17,868,034.45.

Of the third Liberty loan your government bought in $278,435,000 for $267,661,398, with a clip of $10,773,602.

Of the fourth Liberty loan your government bought in $368,115,000 for $348,513,485, with a clip of $19,601,515.

In other words your government has trimmed the purchasers of its promises to pay out of exactly $49,716,473.85, which is quite a tidy sum.

SUITS and OVERCOATS

Beginning Thursday, Oct. 14

WITH the first trend to lower prices, as indicated in the motor car industry, comes our voluntary reduction in the prices of our fall Suits and Overcoats.

The clothing market hasn't dropped yet; in fact fall clothes are higher -- we paid more for them. We are offering this reduction, which is a distinct loss to us, to protect our friends and customers who want clothes now, yet hesitate because of possible lower prices later.

Therefore, beginning Thursday, October 14 our entire stocks of fine Suits and Overcoats will be reduced from 20% to 30%

Housing Conditions at the Capital

courts of the District of Columbia, but still another court holds that tenants cannot be ejected. So it is a stand-off between the landlords and the tenants.

For the first time in a number of years Congress failed to renail in session most of the summer and when the lawmakers left here several months ago the greater part of them gave up their houses and apartments. The demand for desirable living quarters is as acute in Washington today as it was during the war, and as a result the congressmen will return here for the coming session of congress and find that they cannot secure suitable living quarters. October first was moving day in the Capital, as it is in all cities, and "the lides of October" arrived in moving vans. People who could, moved into the better places. And now the Capital is speculating regarding living quarters for the congressional contingent that will be showing up immediately after election. The only solace to be found is the distressing condition is that the congressmen will all be "boiling mad" when they find how they are shut out, and in retaliation for their own discomfort they may lay the scourge to the backs of the real estate profiteers who have made Washington as famous for their deals as was Milwaukee for another cause.

The Washington housing condition is so serious that Senator Kenyon has seriously proposed that a number of the branches of the federal government move to other cities. He would transplant the entire Department of Agriculture to the middle west, the Shipping Board to a sea coast town, the Federal Trade to Chicago, and other bureaus to places where they might be more accessible to the people whom they directly serve. It is a "bad idea," if you will believe Washingtonians, but Senator Kenyon proposes it only as a method for relieving the intolerable housing situation of the Capital; and he says the suggestion will be backed by a large number of Senators.

Government clerks on small salaries who are paying forty and fifty dollars a month rent, and officials who pay more than twice that sum, are hoping for drastic action when congress returns "all dressed up with no place to go."

The Nation's Coal Bins
During the war period there was a terrible row because the Government moved coal in the northwest in quantities while it left Ohio, Indiana and the middle west out "in the cold." From complaints that are reaching the Interstate Commerce Commission, it appears that history is repeating itself, and in consequence priority orders may be looked for that will direct the routing and shipments of coal, as was done recently in relieving the situation in New England. The coal miners are all at work, and for once there is no strike in that great industry. The recent wage increases among coal miners amounted to $85,000,000, or an increase of around twenty per cent. While the award was not satisfactory to the miners, they have nevertheless found that it was not well for them to carry out their "vacation" scheme, which was in effect a strike. However, they have already asked the President to call conferences of mine operators and miners "for the purpose of adjusting inequalities in the present agreement."

The railroads are handling their part of the problem in good shape, and the concerted effort of the different companies to give the public more transportation is meeting with splendid results. There has been but a small falling off of traffic due to the increased rates, and reports to the Car Service Division of the American Railroad Association show that the car situation continues to improve throughout the country. The different roads are gradually getting their own rolling stock back on their own tracks, returning them from the scattered regions where they were sent through government operation. And as the cars are returned home they are being put in shape for service, and they are adding their part to the equipment at hand.

Motor Trucks on the Farms
The Agricultural Department has been obtaining the views of farmers in the corn-belt, and 831 of them who have motor trucks are almost unanimous in the opinion that they will prove eventually a profitable investment. However, results show that the motor truck has not reduced farm expenses to any degree up to the present time, and were it not for the fact that the farmers agree that it "saves time," it is doubtful whether the new acquisition to rural activities would be in the popular class. It has been determined that the average truck used on a farm travels 2,777 miles a year, and the cost of operation is almost seventeen cents a mile, making the total cost of one these "pesky critters" about $470 a year.

Adjusting the Economic Law
The good news has been going round-and-round that prices are tumbling down, and everyone except someone who sees his own profits cut, is happy over the announcements that appear daily in the newspapers. If it were true that the sellers had this whole problem in their keeping, as may suppose, then we would find commodity after commodity being raised in price with the new freight rates being offered as an excuse. But it is a mistake to suppose that manufacturers and wholesalers control the situation, for they in turn have to deal with new labor problems, new methods of marketing, increased charges for their supplies, and conditions in industry that they could not have dreamed of when they engaged in business. The economic law is a good deal like the digestive apparatus of a human being, and no one will assume that the latter is able to function naturally when it is being stuffed to withstand trenches and service. But the economic law, like the digestion, usually adjusts itself some way or other, just now the country is witnessing the struggles of the economic law to regulate and adjust itself, and there is every evidence that the American people are coming out of the present era of high prices all right. In the process it behooves them to abide by the old advice to "keep their feet warm and their heads cool," and incidentally the more calamity howlers they swat day by day, the sooner will the country get back to an economic condition that is good for everybody.

Troubles in Governing Shipping
The Shipping Board is quite ready to adopt the custom that has obtained in paying commissions on cargoes. The privately owned ships have been giving the government a little the worst of it, and it is now proposed to meet them on their own grounds, and to grant commissions for obtaining cargoes. A rate below five per cent will likely be adopted. One of the big troubles that the government has had to face is the custom of ship officers to obtain "commissions" from dealers who furnish supplies to their ships. Captains and pursers, and other officers, have grown rich on these fees in the past. However, the government regards the custom as a species of graft that it cannot, and will not countenance. Private ship-owners who paid small salaries to their officers, winked at the custom, and accepted it as something they could not help.

The Shipping Board complains that American business interests are placing their marine insurance with foreign companies, in preference to the American Merchant Marine Syndicate, causing "the unnecessary flow of millions of dollars of marine premiums to the other side, and the use of marine insurance by our competitors as a commercial weapon against our interests, and inability on our part to properly safeguard commercial information."

LIGHTNING STRIKES VEENSTRA BARN

Heavy Property Loss Result of Disastrous Blaze.

The Paul Veenstra barn, one and one-fourth mile north of Atwood on the State road, was struck by lightning early Tuesday morning and completely destroyed, as were the chicken coop, granary and hog pen, together with 16 head of cattle, about 60 chickens, twelve or fourteen ton of hay, 200 bushels of oats and about $350 worth of radish seed.

The horses were saved, but the large grain separator belonging to the farmers of that section, which was standing on the barn floor, was completely destroyed. Very little insurance was on the property and the loss will probably be in the neighborhood of 65 per cent of the total value.

Coal Mine Gases.

The chief gases of coal mines are stated by Coal Age to be: Methane or marsh gas, sometimes called light carbureted hydrogen, carbon monoxide, the whiteclamp of miners and carbon dioxide, which, with nitrogen, forms the blackclamp. Hydrogen sulphide or sulphureted hydrogen occurs in limited quantities, as do the heavy hydrocarbons—ethylene or oilclamp gas, and ethane. Except carbon dioxide and nitrogen, these gases are all explosive.

FIRST NUMBER OF LECTURE COURSE

Given at Palace Theatre Last Friday Evening.

The first number of the local lecture course that is being conducted this fall and winter, was held at the Palace Theatre last Friday evening. The Paulo Gruppe Company presented the opening number and rendered a musical treat of such merit as would have done justice to the most critical audience.

Mr. Gruppe, an American by birth, is considered one of the natural artists of the country, and his work as celloist is unsurpassed. Robert Monaghan, tenor, pleased the audience with his selection and was ably accompanied by Miss Camille Plasschoret, a Belgian by birth.

The announcement for the coming number has not yet been received, but you may rest assured that it will prove to be the best obtainable and well worth listening to.

FIRE DESTROYS SEQUENOTA COTTAGE

Struck by Lightning Early Tuesday Morning.

A fire that could easily have been very serious, broke out in one of the cottages at the Sequenota resort about 9:30 this morning, and a probability of a great loss was averted by the prompt work of the local fire department.

The direct cause of the fire is unknown, but it is presumed by those on the scene that the blaze was the result of the building being struck by lightning during the short thunder shower of Tuesday morning.

The cottage burned was next to the hotel and with its contents was a total loss. Only the good work of the fire department saved the adjoining building from a similar loss.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

SUCCESSFUL MEETING HELD AT EAST JORDAN.

Different Problems Confronting the Schools of the County Thoroughly Discussed.

The Charlevoix County Teachers' Institute, held in East Jordan October 20, 21 and 22 was a success from every standpoint. The conductor, Pres. E. C. Warriner of Mt. Pleasant opened the Institute by adopting a motto: "Everything to help and nothing to hinder." This spirit prevailed throughout all sessions. The motto of the last day was "When wealth and land and all are spent, then learning is most excellent." Supt. O. T. Corson added the slogan, "All at it, all the time, all together." It is a wonder with such sentiment as this that every part of the program was carried out to the letter and even more added to suit the occasion.

President Warriner gave two addresses each day, the first three being professional and directed to the teaching class only. The fourth was inspirational and cultural and of general interest to all thinking people. His question box, opened twice daily, was conducted in round table fashion and aroused considerable interest. The teachers felt at home in his presence and responded freely in all discussion and group work. The success of the institute is due largely to his enthusiasm and quiet power.

Supt. O. T. Corson of Columbus, Ohio, gave two splendid addresses on the technique of teaching. The teachers sat breathless and spell-bound by the magic of his words, and lived with him through the days when he was young. N. E. A. critics tell us that there are but two men in the United States who are real institute specialists. The one, Dr. Bryan of Colgate University, he had in this county five years ago, the other, Dr. Corson, we have heard and his greatness speaks for itself.

Dr. Ciltner, bacteriologist from M. A. C. spoke on Hygiene and Agriculture. He is an authority not to be questioned, pleasing in manner and witty beyond comparison. He caused considerable excitement by asserting that the essence of good health is in "scrapping germs" and that this part of health hygiene is being entirely neglected in our present system. In agriculture his plea is for a conservation of our natural resources and he would "shoot anyone who burns up the leaves in his yard."

Miss Anna Vaughn, recreation leader, was exceptional in her line of work and taught numerous school games and community festivities. She gave each teacher a book on "School Morale" and "Games." Since this part of the program comes to us at no cost to the county, but as a refund for some of the war chest money, we feel truly grateful to the system that undertakes this form of reconstruction work after the war.

The section meetings were all reported helpful in content. President Warriner says that this part of the program must never be abandoned as it is most needed and meets the most exact need of each teacher. Miss Florence Maddaugh of Charlevoix was elected Chairman of the Primary Grade Section, Miss Mary Berg of the Grammar Grade Section and Miss Lona Catton of the High School Section; the latter two also being Charlevoix city teachers. Miss Maymo Scroggie of Boyne Falls was re-elected Chairman of the Rural School Section.

Supt. A. A. Metcalf of Boyne City was elected County Chairman for 1921. Miss Lois Bowman of Charlevoix was elected Secretary-treasurer and Mr. Speltz of East Jordan, Vice-Chairman.

Attendance? It was splendid—almost 100 per cent.

The banquet? More fun than ever before and more real get acquaintedness during the entire evening. The teachers sat in groups representing their alma maters and the college rooting was heard from every corner. As president of the association, Supt. Keyworth introduced Supt. Metcalf as toastmaster. Mr. Metcalf toasted all to a finish. Supt. Rice of Charlevoix, Prof. Giltner of Lansing and Pres. Warriner gave brief after-dinner stories. At least we think Mr. Rice's story would answer that description. A number of delightful musical numbers completed the evening program.

Mrs. Rotert and Mrs. Speltz delighted the teachers with readings both responding to appropriate encores. All schools furnished musical numbers well chosen and well rendered and—negd we say more than to repeat that it was one of the best institutes ever held in the county.

COUNTY TEACHERS PASS RESOLUTIONS

Eodorse Movement for Consolidation of Schools.

The following resolutions were passed by the teachers of Charlevoix county at the teachers' institute held in East Jordan last week.

Whereas, The teachers of Charlevoix county in annual institute assembled, are conscious of certain educational needs, do hereby resolve that:

First: Teachers should organize for better service in their profession.

Second: Because of recent awards of better salaries, teachers should expect to present better professional qualifications.

Third: We heartily endorse the action of the Michigan State Teachers' Association in initiating a movement for the equalization of school taxes and pledge our support to the movement.

Fourth: We believe in and heartily endorse the movement for consolidation of rural schools.

Fifth: We wish to go on record in favor of the Smith-Towner bill.

YOUTH IS SHOT IN LOVE QUARREL

YOUNG WOLVERINE FARMER KILLS HIS BROTHER.

Jealousy Over Affections of School Teacher Cause—Victim Said to Be Dying.

Gordon Babcock, age twenty-six, farmer residing at Wolverine, is being held in Detroit charged with shooting and dangerously wounding his brother, William H. Babcock, during a love quarrel.

He is alleged to have fired six bullets into his brother, after accusing him of having attempted to win the love of the teacher, whom he had wooed several years. Physicians at Detroit Receiving hospital say the wounded man will probably die.

Both men said the woman concerned in their argument was Miss Bernice Shook, a teacher in the high school at Owmdale, Mich.

The older Babcock said he had frequently been told by relatives that his brother had entertained Miss Shook while he was on the Mexican border and in France.

On his way to Detroit, Gordon stopped off to visit Miss Shook. He said she denied she had met the brother more than once, and her story satisfied him, Gordon said.

When they raised William from the floor, it was found one bullet had struck squarely in the center of his forehead, fracturing the skull. There were two in the back of his neck, one had cut his cheek, another his right thumb, and the sixth furrowed his right arm.

MICHIGAN PICNIC NEAR SAN DIEGO

Over a Hundred Present and Many From This Vicinity.

In renewing his subscription to the Courier, Glenn R. Dolberg, formerly of this city, now located at El Centro, California, writes about the annual Michigan picnic as follows:

"The annual Michigan picnic was held near San Diego on Labor Day. There were one hundred and thirty-five people in attendance. Many were from Petoskey and Boyne City, besides those from Charlevoix."

"I sang 'Michigan, My Michigan,' and we all wished we were back there again. We further agreed that California is about the finest spot we have found yet, 'barring none.' Viva Michigan and California."

SAVE THE RING-NECK PHEASANTS

Charlevoix Gun Club Issues Warning to All Hunters.

The open bird season will commence November 1st and many will avail themselves of the opportunity for a days outing in the woods. We wish to warn you to remember that Ring-Neck Pheasants have been liberated all about this section. This Club has gone to considerable expense and its members have spent a lot of time in this work. It is unlawful to shoot or molest them. The female bird somewhat resembles a partridge and all of the birds are very tame. No sportsman would kill one of them and the man who does is a law violator and deserving of the full limit of the law, and he will get it, if detected. No matter who he may be, this Club will exhaust every effort to convict the offender.

We hear the argument that it is hard to tell the difference between these birds and a partridge. That may be true, but it is up to the hunter to be sure. It is not a serious loss for a hunter to let a bird get away—better let the partridge go without a shot, than kill a pheasant by mistake.

Another thing. When afield, be a true sportsman—you will feel better. Respect rights of property. Don't tear down the fences. Don't go near sheep with your dogs. Don't frighten cattle and horses. Be decent. Don't kill everything you see. If you do, you are not a sportsman—you are a hog, and a menace to the community.

And remember the Pheasants. Charlevoix Rod & Gun Club.

MAJESTIC THEATRE CHANGES HANDS

Sold to Lou A. Moon, Manager of the Palace Theatre.

A business deal that has been hanging fire for some time was completed last week, whereby the Majestic Theatre, owned by A. F. Young of Detroit, became the property of Lou A. Moon, the present manager of the new Palace Theatre.

This theatre during the past few years had been operated by C. V. Miles, but with the opening of the Palace Theatre in 1919, the older theatre lost its prestige and at last was forced to close its door. Since that time the building has been unoccupied.

It is understood that this winter the building will be completely remodeled and improved to bring it up to the standard of a first class theatre, and will be operated the coming season.

There is ample room in this city during the summer months for two moving picture theatres, as was demonstrated during the past season, when the Palace Theatre was unable to handle the crowds, and under the skillful management of Mr. Moon, the new theatre should relieve this situation.

CHX. CO-OPERATIVE ASSN. ENLARGES

Has Established a Branch Station at Phelps.

The Charlevoix Co-Operative Association, which has been operating in Charlevoix for the past two years under the management of Earl Shapton, has prospered to such an extent that it has found it necessary to enlarge to properly handle a larger territory.

This association has secured the old Ralph Davis warehouse at Phelps and has organized a sub-station there under the management of Ennis Schaffer.

The new branch will be conducted along the same lines as the concern in Charlevoix, furnishing the very best market for the farmers of that territory. That the association is a benefit to the farmers has been proven by the advancement made by the local branch, and the establishing of the new station should tend to advance agriculture in that section.

The new ware house has a capacity for about 1700 bushels of beans, and pickers will be employed to handle the product at Phelps. A general line of seeds and feeds will be carried and the farmers are assured of the very fairest of treatment.

SEASONS GET THEIR DATES MIXED

Beautiful May Flowers Begin to Bloom Again.

From all appearance Spring and Fall must have gotten their dates mixed, for surely the weather of October must have been meant for June.

A second growth of many flowers and plant varieties this. May flowers have put in their appearance for the second time this season. One farmer in the state reports that one of his cherry trees is in full bloom the second time. Reports come from all over of a second crop of strawberries and raspberries and throughout northern Michigan there is a second crop of grasshoppers.

An open winter is predicted by those well versed in nature. Possibly a mild winter will result to counteract the frigid weather of last year.

HAS FINE DISPLAY OF APPLES

Grown on the Harry Coblenz Farm Near Sequenota.

A very fine display of northern Michigan apples were brought to the Courier office last week by Harry Coblenz, who lives near Sequenota.

He brought specimens of the following varieties: Wealthy, Northern Spy, Shinwas Beauty and Snows. The Spy and the Wealthies were about the best specimens of these varieties ever turned in here. The fruit crop of this season has proved to be one of the largest and best in history and will help hold up the reputation of western Michigan as a fruit growing district.

CHARLEVOIX PARTY VISITS MANISTEE

Speed Demons Hit West Michigan Pike Sunday.

We all know that appearances are deceiving, but who would have thought to see Frank Hines sauntering peacefully about the streets of Charlevoix, that he was a speed demon of the most advanced type.

Now Sunday when all good citizens of the village were at home peacefully enjoying the day of rest and presuming that the rest of the community were doing likewise, our friend, Mr. Hines, was burning up the roads along the West Michigan Pike. And now he comes back and tells the story.

The party, with Manistee as their destination, left Charlevoix Sunday morning at 5:30 a. m. Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines, Mrs. B. W. Miller, Mrs. Ava Smith, Miss Isabell Hines and Mrs. M. Eldred of Harbor Springs.

After a short burst of speed the party reached Manistee at 11:00 a. m. in time to participate in what they pronounced a "wonderful dinner" at the home of Otto Hines, formerly of this city, who is now connected with the Lyman Drug Co. with headquarters at Manistee.

After a five hour visit the party once more "stepped on her" and were back in Charlevoix in time to retire at the usual hour. Mr. Hines announces that no medical attention was needed during the entire trip.

HUNGER STRIKER DIES MONDAY

TERENCE MacSWINEY, LORD MAYOR OF CORK.

Irish Hunger Striker Passes Away After Seventy-four Days of Fasting.

Terence MacSwiney died in Brixton prison, London, at 5:40 a. m. Monday morning, October 25. The Lord Mayor of Cork died without regaining consciousness at the dawn of the 74th day of his hunger strike.

With MacSwiney as he died were Father Dominick, his religious adviser, and his brother John.

MacSwiney began sinking Sunday night at midnight. The lady mayor and MacSwiney's sister visited the prison at 9:00 Sunday night and were allowed to stay fifteen minutes.

MacSwiney was arrested August 12th and on being placed in prison went on a hunger strike immediately. He was convicted August 16th on charges of preparing and having in his possession seditious literature.

The lord mayor believed he would be a martyr to the Irish cause of freedom. He demanded his unconditional release and refused to take food until released.

His cause caused great activities throughout many countries, especially the United States, where many appeals were made that strong influence be used to obtain his release.

All Ireland are now mourning for the lord mayor and flags are at half mast over the entire island.

DEATH TAKES BOYNE POISON VICTIM

Mrs. Mills Dies After About Two Months Illness.

Mrs. Robert Mills of Boyne City, wife of Robert Mills, superintendent of the Michigan Tanning & Extracting Co., died at her home at 467 Elm street, Boyne City, after an illness of about two months.

Mrs. Mills had been a resident of Boyne City for about nineteen years and was very well known in that city. The direct cause of her death was arsenic poisoning. On Friday, September 17th, John E. Mills, an 18 year old adopted son of the Mills family, confessed to placing arsenate of lead in the sugar being used by the family. The boy is considered to be mentally deranged and after his confession was placed in the jail in this city. It is expected that he will be removed to the University hospital for observation.

Mrs. Mills leaves to mourn her departure her husband and a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Darby of Freemont. The funeral was held from the M. E. church, Boyne City, Thursday, October 21, Rev. R. W. Merrill, officiating.

BIG SUGAR BEET CROP IN STATE

RECORD FRUIT CROP IN MICHIGAN REPORTED.

Beans in Southern Michigan Yield Better Than Fifteen Bushels to the Acre.

A slight decline in the prospective potato yield and an excellent sugar beet crop are reported in the weekly report of Verne H. Church, agriculture statistician of the co-operative crop reporting service, for the seven days ending October 16. The report follows:

"The past week has been favorable for all kinds of farm work and silo filling, corn cutting, threshing and the harvesting of beans, buckwheat, clover seed and sugar beets is making rapid progress. Some seeding of wheat and rye still is being done."

"The corn crop is well matured and is an excellent crop in most sections. Silo filling is nearly completed, but there is considerable corn yet to be cut. Nearly every farmer has to spend from one to two weeks assisting neighbors with silo-filling in order that he may obtain the necessary help for his own work. This delays corn cutting and all other farm work."

"The early threshed beans in the southern part of the bean belt show an average yield of better than 15 bushels per acre. Later threshings are expected to lower this average as blights was prevalent in many sections in the central and northern districts, and this will lower the average for that part of the state, both in quality and quantity. Some damage by rain has occurred in east central and northeastern counties during harvest."

"The potato crop shows a slight decline in prospective yield in some sections. Reports from these counties indicate that the yield will be much lower than expected one month ago, and that a large quantity will run small in size and grade as No. 2 stock. This particularly is true in Kalkaska and Wexford counties, and to some extent throughout the northeastern district. Excellent yields are reported from many sections and from some parts of the northwestern district. Late blight has injured the prospects in a few localities, particularly in Oakland and other southeastern counties, and at scattering points elsewhere. The extent of the damage is uncertain, but it is not believed to be serious except to the extent that it will cause rot during the winter."

"Fruit is so plentiful that it may cause many to carelessly delay putting in their usual winter supply until too late. This will cause a strong demand later in the season. The harvesting of winter apples is beginning practically all of the fall crop having been taken care of so far as it will be. Much fruit has not been harvested because the price received was less than the cost of picking and marketing."

"Clover seed is yielding about 2.2 bushels per acre. All available acreage is being cut. An excellent crop of sugar beets is being harvested. The acreage is large."

DEATH TAKES AGED RESIDENT

Mrs. Elizabeth Goodyear Passes at the Age of Eighty.

Charlevoix county lost an old resident when Mrs. Elizabeth Burnett Goodyear passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Reuben Coer, Thursday, October 21.

Mrs. Goodyear had been a resident of Charlevoix county for 30 years. She was born in Devonshire, England, September 18, 1840, and moved with her parents to Bowman, Canada, where she resided until after her marriage to Thos. Rockery. To this union three children were born, Mrs. John C. Miller of Charlevoix, Mrs. H. C. Schrenk of Ludington, and the late Mrs. Minnie Crowell, who passed away seventeen years ago.

The deceased was married the second time and shortly after moved to Charlevoix county, taking up a homestead in Marion township, living there for seventeen years, after which she made her residence in this city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Reuben Coer.

The funeral was held Saturday, October 23, Rev. A. G. Pontius, officiating.

Dr. Hewitt, who recently purchased the Henry Wagner property, is having an electric light plant and water works installed. Mr. Hewitt will have all the modern conveniences of a city home when completed.

A spiritual wave has recently hit Norwood. A Sunday school organized with good attendance. Prayer meeting established with deep interest shown. A contract has been let for general repair work on the M. E. church. There will soon be an Epworth League organized, and somehow we feel sure there will soon be an old revival break out in Norwood, for everybody knows that the evangelist lives here and has brought the old fashioned Gospel along with him. Dr. Hewitt very recently told someone: "I am gaining physically every day and expect to soon be able to beat up the devil and bring the sweet peace and love of our Lord and Saviour into the hearts and homes of this entire community." Everybody come to the revivals when they commence. You will surely have some spiritual food to carry away with you.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Stocks of wheat in the United States on October 1 totaled 808,000,000 bushels according to estimates of the United States department of agriculture made public recently. This amount represents 477,000,000 bushels held by farmers, 102,000,000 bushels held at country mills and elevators, and 29,000,000 bushels held at points of accumulation on that date. On October 1, 1919, stocks of wheat in the United States totaled 747,000,000 bushels, representing 515,000,000 bushels held on the farms, 142,000,000 held at country mills and elevators, and 90,000,000 bushels held at points of accumulation.

The little old gray, weather beaten inconspicuous town of Pennville has a population of only 500, but it is the headquarters of a fruit exchange with 500 members which has shipped this year 60,000 bushels of peaches and 20,000 bushels of pears, and will soon have shipped 90,000 bushels of apples. Rome became famous for less. And to our mind, as we munch the Jonathan apple the manager gave us, Rome became less famous.

The farmers say they have been and are still paying war wages for help—$3.50 and up and board; that they have been and are still paying war prices for containers—35 cents for a bushel basket and from $1.20 to $1.60 for a barrel; but that when they ship, if the transportation system enables them, they receive not war prices, but pre-war prices for their product. However, we have explained to them that this is an economic law which always operates to the disadvantage of the farmer in a period of falling prices, and we fancy they will be alright now.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Luck of the Irish," the second Allan Dwan production for Roast Picture Corporation, will be presented at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. It is the screen adaptation of Harold MacGrath's best seller, by the same name. What the book gave to fiction lovers, the screen version offers to film fans—love, intrigue, romance and adventure.

Allan Dwan's production, "The Luck of the Irish," from the book by Harold MacGrath, which comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday, has all the qualities which have made his former screen subjects such popular successes. "The Luck of the Irish," is full of absorbing suspense, startling adventure, rapid action and irrepressible humor, and are so combined and blended that an unusual charm is added to the story which has been read by thousands of fiction lovers. James Kirkwood and Anna Q. Nilsson play the title roles and are supported by a selected cast of screen artists whose names and work are well known to photoplay fans.

Europe's Potato Crop.

In Europe potatoes are grown of different kinds for different purposes. Certain varieties are raised for cooking and others for starch making and distilling. Over there they have a so-called "stock potato," which is not used for human food at all. It is very large and coarse of texture and is utilized for feeding cattle. The yield to the acre is twice the ordinary, and the tubers being exceedingly rich in starch are great alcohol producers.

ANNUAL HUNT OF THE K. OF P.

WILL BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY,
NOVEMBER 3rd.

The Losing Team Will Cook the Supper—Lee R. Smith and Bert Carey Captains.

The members of the K. of P. lodge will hold a hunt and game supper next week, carrying out an event that has become an annual occurrence with the Charlevoix order of this lodge.

The hunt will be held on Wednesday of next week, November 3rd, and the supper will be given at the I. O.
O. F. hall the following evening. The losing team will, by agreement, cook and serve the supper for the winning team and their families.

In past years this event has been looked forward to by the knights as one of the most enjoyable events of the year. It is understood before hand that a goodly number of "bunnies" and birds will bite the dust.
The battle of the Marne will pass into history as a minor engagement after the barrage that will be laid down by the K. P.'s next Wednesday.
We are hoping that the casualty list will not be as large, but you never can tell.

The losing team will have a chance to live up to their lodge name on finding out that K. P. stands for Kitchen Police, as well as Knights of Pythias, and those boys who served in the army and know the real meaning of the word will shoot as they never shot before to evade this duty.

Lee Smith and Bert Carey will act as captains of the two teams. As yet the teams have not been chosen but every one will participate, so start oiling your guns and prepare now and be ready for an early start Wednesday morning.

BOARD ENDS ITS SESSION SATURDAY

October Meeting Closes at Late Hour in Evening.

The October session of the Board of Supervisors came to a close at the evening session Saturday. The evening meeting was called to complete the work, as the law allows the board but twelve days to complete its work with compensation.

During the last three days of the session the board named Jerome Cole of Boyne City, as poor commissioner for a three year term.

It was also decided to engage the services of a competent bookkeeper to take care of the books of the county road commissioners, as the volume of business has reached a stage where it will take practically all of one person's time.

County commissioners of the poor in the future will receive $3.00 per day in place of the $3.00 they have been drawing in the past years.

The county tax was fixed as follows: General, 6 mills; road, 3 mills, and sinking fund 3 mills.

The Red Cross nurse proposition was turned down twice. First, because the petition was not presented in a legal manner, and secondly, because by the time it was, the October appropriations were exhausted.

Word has been received from East

He enlisted when the call came during the recent World War, and while engaged in the service of his country contracted the dreaded disease of tuberculosis, which was the cause of his death. He was a draft-

DUAL TRAGEDY AT HARBOR SPRINGS

Man Murders Woman and Then Commits Suicide.

Harbor Springs and vicinity received a severe shock Tuesday, upon the discovery of a murder and suicide on a farm about seven miles north of that place.

Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, owner and operator of the farm, was shot and killed by John Lorado, who then set fire to the house and went to the barn set fire to it and then shot himself. Both bodies were nearly destroyed by the flames.

A seven year old daughter of Mrs.
Kennedy was shut in the burning house by Lorado, but managed to escape and was found some distance from the house by an ex-service man named Carl Cease, who was the discoverer of the fire.

The cause of the tragedy is a mystery, but it is known that Lorado has been a frequent visitor at the home of Mrs. Kennedy and that they had known each other for some time.

Sheriff Miller of Petoskey has taken charge of the case and an inquest will be held at Harbor Springs next week. The daughter is at present in the charge of Mrs. Miller in Petoskey.

BOYNE FALLS SCHOOLS HOLD MEETING

Agriculture Was the Topic Under Discussion.

The agriculture classes of the Boyne Falls schools spent a very profitable hour last week at the store of Herman C. Meyer, where Mr. Canning, repair expert for the DeLaval Cream Separator company demonstrated the principles of a separator.

He discussed the principles of the separator, the discovery of the process and the history of the invention, also how to take care of the machine and milk.

Mr. Canning's talk was very impressive and those present at this talk should experience no difficulty in caring for and operating a cream separator.

Needless.

"Can your little baby brother talk yet?" a kindly neighbor inquired of a small lad. "No, he can't walk, and there ain't no reason why he should talk," was the disgusted reply. "What does he want to talk for when all he has to do is yell a while to get everything in the house that's worth having?"—New York Evening Post.

Point for the Dog.

Do animals think? asks a scientist.
Well, a dog turns around three or four times before lying down to go to sleep, while a man, without giving the matter any thought, lies down, goes to sleep and then turns over several times waking himself each time.—Louisville

SUITS and OVERCOATS

Beginning Thursday, Oct. 14

WITH the first trend to lower prices, as indi-voluntary reduction in the prices of our fall Suits and Overcoats.

The clothing market hasn't dropped yet; in fact fall clothes are higher -- we paid more for them. We are offering this reduction, which is a distinct loss to us, to protect our friends and customers who want clothes now, yet hesitate because of possible lower prices later.

Therefore, beginning Thursday, October 14 our entire stocks of fine Suits and Overcoats will

"THE COLLAR CAME ALSO."
 There once was a person named Cox, Who wanted to wear Wilson's sox, But his friends made a holler When they found Wilson's collar Was wrapped in the very same box. —Nick West.

West is right. Cox has pledged himself to Wilson's policies on the League of Nations. That means that if Cox should be elected, we would have no league. There is not one chance in a thousand that there will be enough changes in the senate to secure a two-thirds vote for the Wilson league. Therefore, if Cox should be elected, we would continue in our unsettled state, unable to either complete peace terms with foreign nations or settle domestic difficulties.

A LEVEL-HEADED MAN.

The people who heard Senator Harding's speech on agriculture went away with the feeling that he is a reasonable and thoughtful man who fully appreciates the importance of agriculture and the absolute necessity of working out a sound agricultural policy. His speech was wholly free from political bunk. It was a clear presentation of the condition of agriculture in the nation today, and a sober, reasoned argument based on national needs.

Senator Harding recognized frankly the folly of the government undertaking to work out an elaborate system of agriculture and then trying to impose it on the farmers of the country. He said that such a course would be utterly repugnant to American ideals. He correctly interpreted the mind of the farmer when he said that the farmer requires no special favors, but that he does need a fair chance and "such just consideration for agriculture as we ought to give to a basic industry."

He then outlined certain things that the government ought to do, emphasizing the need for giving the farmer representation in government affairs, assuring to him the right to market his products co-operatively, pledging a study of price fluctuations, promising to put an end to price fixing on farm products and to government drives to beat down prices of farm products, etc. He emphasized the need of protecting the American farmer against unfair competition from foreign countries where agriculture is still being exploited and where farm standards of living are much lower than here.

This speech has received very much favorable comment from the agricultural papers. They look upon it as the utterance of a man who is in thorough sympathy with the farmer and the farm problems.

Poland is a member of the league of nations, and it has kept her out of war just like President Wilson kept us out of it in 1916.

The movement to get Governor Cox to retire from the Democratic ticket will not come to anything. The Democrats are afraid to make a switch and the Republicans could not have a candidate who would suit them better than Governor Cox does. President Wilson might at least have given to the Democratic campaign fund the amount of income tax he saved when a majority of the Supreme Court decided that he could escape payment of his share of the cost of war he kept us out of.

Governor Cox says he would sit down with the Senate and agree on "clarifying" reservations to the peace covenant. Discussion of the Wilson covenant has so thoroughly "clarified" it that what the people demand is not clarification, but rectification. World-wide free trade was proposed at a financial congress held at Brussels under the inspiration of the league of nations. Failure to put over this one of the Wilson Fourteen points seems to be quite disappointing to everyone who is more interested in other countries than he is in United States.

Governor Cox is the first candidate for President who ever thought to call the national chairman of the opposition party a "sneaking guerrilla." The effect of which has been to impress the public with the idea that Will Hays must have been getting under somebody's hide.

The candidate for President who claims to be poverty stricken has already spent fifty thousand dollars on a special train, while criticizing his competitor for staying on the front porch, which he is able to do for nothing.

This time next year some of the Democratic red shirts who are now preparing to secure out or count out the Republican vote in the solid south are going to be thinking it over in a federal penitentiary.

Carlyle said: "Your actions speak so loud that I cannot 'hear' your words." He must have been anticipating Mr. Wilson.

Elections are won by working every moment as if the result were in doubt, no matter what one believes as to the result.

The man who imagines he has grown too broad to be patriotic is too narrow, in truth, to know what patriotism in a land like this really means.

The Democrats have put the "con" in economy, and it will be up to the Republicans, after March 4th, to put the "ex" in extravagance.

Keep "cool" and work "hard" for Harding and Coolidge, a reader suggests.

A seat on America's front porch is worth a whole bench in Europe's back yard.

First it was Fighting Cox, then it was Floppy Cox, and now it is plain Poppy Cox.

NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL FOR MORE FUNDS FOR WORK

 MICHIGAN IS ASKED TO SUPPORT
 4,200 ARMENIAN WAR
 ORPHANS.

IS MOST POPULAR PHILANTHROPY

Near East Relief, the American organization whose tremendously successful work in Armenia, Syria, Transcaucasia and Persia has saved the lives of half a million or more people who were starving to death after the close of the world war, is making a new appeal to American philanthropy for funds to continue its work. Practically the whole task now left to it, thanks to the success of the work of the past two years, is the care of war orphans in the orphanages which it has established.

There were about 250,000 of these orphans in Armenia and neighboring lands who were found after the war in roving bands seeking food in the cities and the open country and in all stages of starvation. There are few now to whom some sort of aid has not been given, but there are many thousands who have only America and Near East Relief to look to for food, clothing and shelter. It is for the purpose of continuing to provide this support of these orphans and to prevent their again being brought to the verge of death by starvation, that the appeal for money to keep up the work has been issued.

The people of the state of Michigan have been asked, as their share of this orphan support, to provide for 4,200 orphans for a year. Near East Relief is able to feed an orphan for $5 a month and to provide food, clothing, shelter and education for $15 a month, or $180 a year for each. One half the 4,200 orphans have been assigned to Wayne county and the other half divided among the other 82 counties according to their wealth and population, so that each county of the state has a definite number of orphans for whom it is asked to provide for the coming year.

The month of October has been set as the time for the campaign in many Michigan counties to obtain the contributions which will support the orphans assigned to them. Every dollar contributed to this cause goes into actual relief work in Armenia and the neighboring Near East countries, no deduction being made for expenses, which are privately borne.

Near East Relief is a federal corporation, chartered by Congress. Its accounts are carefully audited by certified public accountants and reports made to Congress.

Near East Relief provides food for the hungry. For instance, a few weeks ago 150,000 refugees were being fed in one city in the Caucasus. This food had to be provided every day and if the funds stopped for a few weeks all of these people would have perished.

Near East Relief provides shelter for the homeless. There are 229 orphanages, with an enrollment of 54,600, and also 66,039 other children cared for outside of these buildings. There were recently acquired an additional 60,000 children from Russia, who came into the Caucasus ahead of the Bolshevik army.

Near East Relief provides healing for the sick. There are 63 hospitals in the various districts and countries of the Near East, with a large staff of physicians, nurses and helpers.

Near East Relief provides rescue for imprisoned women and girls. There are eleven rescue homes full to overflowing. If more funds were provided, more homes could be opened and filled immediately. There are more than 100,000 of these Armenian women and girls in Turkish harems, but their release cannot be demanded until places of shelter for them are provided or their relatives, if any, can be located.

Near East Relief is building up industrial life. There are employed 23,000 men, women and young people in Near East Relief factories.

Near East Relief provides repatriation for refugees, returning them to their homes as far as possible when it is safe to do so.

Near East Relief desires the co-operation of every American. The Armenians are suffering because of their religious convictions, their loyalty to principle, their adherence to the cause of the Allies, for which we are under obligation to them in sacrificing their lives and thus saving American lives by shortening the war.

Near East Relief is perhaps the most popular philanthropy in America because of these facts and also that of all the relief areas in the world the Near East is the only place where no government aid is available. The Armenians are surrounded by neighbors who would rejoice in their extermination. They are the remnant of a martyred Christian race, whose fathers and relatives have died for the Christian faith, but this remnant, and especially the thousands of orphans whom American dollars are now supporting, constitute the hope of the future of the Near East.

If we have hearts we will gladly sustain these people in their distress, save them from starvation and provide shelter and clothing, as well as food, for the many thousands of orphans who look to America for their very existence.

Circulation counts—we have it.

ORDER FRUIT TREES EARLY

Because it is Shipped Too Late Large Amount of Nursery Stock Falls to Grow.

Order your nursery stock early, advises C. V. Holsinger of the horticultural extension department at Iowa State college. The amount of nursery stock, which falls to grow is startling, more than 50 per cent in many cases, and all because it is shipped too late and not because it is inferior stock, as is often supposed.

In the fall plants and trees store reserve food from which the first growth in the spring is made before the roots start. When plants grow in storage, this reserve is wasted and after planting the stock dies before the roots get started. It is therefore essential that leaves and roots start together. Stored nursery stock will not start to grow until late, so it is possible to get it planted while still in the dormant condition.

Asbestos.

The earliest use of asbestos was for spinning and weaving, to make incombustible thread and yarn rope and cloth, and this has continued to be the most important use of asbestos ever since the days of the Greeks and Romans. Only the best grades can be used for this purpose, according to the United States geological survey, department of the Interior. Thread can now be spun so fine that it will run about 32,000 feet to the pound.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

STATE LUTHERANS FIGHT AMENDMENT

ORGANIZE TO DOWN PROPOSED LAW ABOLISHING ALL PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

APPEAL TO FAIR-MINDEDNESS

Conduct Campaign of Education to Show Citizens the Injustice of Its Passage.

The 110,000 confirmed members of the Lutheran Church of Michigan have been organized in opposition to the School Amendment.

The Lutheran forces are directed by a Campaign Committee headed by Reverend Henry Frincke of Monroe, Michigan, a well known figure in the Lutheran circles of the State of Michigan. The Executive Committee includes on its membership Rev. H. E. Hayn, Rev. E. G. Richter, Rev. F. A. Hertwig, Rev. O. J. Peters, Rev. R. H. C. Meyer, Rev. F. A. Kolch and Rev. E. C. Fackler, all of Detroit.

On Wednesday, October 13th, at the Hotel Tuller, Detroit, sixty leading Lutherans of the State, representing every part of the state, and serving as County and District Chairmen in the Lutheran Campaign, met to make final arrangements for the work to be done in the closing weeks before Election Day.

The broad underlying principles, on which the campaign was to be carried on by the Lutheran Churches of the State were made clear. These principles will obtain without change until the close of the campaign, and will be the guiding factor in every part of the work decided upon by the Lutheran Church.

The underlying thought of the Lutheran Church Campaign is to carry on a campaign of education in order to present to every voter of the State of Michigan the principles held by the Lutheran Church in regard to Christian Day Schools. "The issue is not an issue of expediency but of policy as old as the Lutheran Church itself," was the statement made at the Conference by the Rev. Harry Frincke, Campaign Manager.

Rev. F. Hertwig, of Detroit, member of the State Committee, touched upon the family and the home, as affected by the School Amendment. "The unity and authority of the home has always been a Lutheran ideal. Luther's home life has been proverbial in our Church. We have always believed in the authority of the home, and especially in its obligation for the religious and moral training of the child. This has been one of the highest ideals held by the Lutheran Church and we are indeed loyal, both on the basis of our history, as well as of our judgment and present day experience, to change from that ideal."

The opportunity and the right to teach religion was another principle brought out in the conference as part of Luther's faith to be upheld in this school fight.

It was the decision of the Conference to bring these principles held by the Lutheran Church to the attention of the voters of the State of Michigan, and to appeal to their spirit of fair play and to their good judgment, to uphold the justice of these principles and the free exercise of religious conviction by voting against the proposed School Amendment.

This is to be done through mass meetings covering the state, through folders and pamphlets that are being distributed in the remaining days before Election Day to every voter in Michigan.

The Conference emphasized its determination not to make this a campaign of personalities nor to engage in political controversy, nor intrigue. It was held that it would neither be proper for a great Church body to do, nor would it obtain the real issue in the campaign, namely, to establish the justice and the truth of the underlying principles that are involved.

The Conference established a detailed organization to cover the State of Michigan. In that organization the members of the Lutheran Churches are now enlisted in part for the work of distributing literature, in part for personal visitation, to present the cause upheld by the Lutheran Church. It is believed that the greater portion of the voters of the state can be seen personally, in order that the case may be presented to their good judgment.

Practically a whole printing plant has been engaged by the Lutheran Campaign Committee and is working day and night to print pamphlets and tracts setting forth the position of the Lutheran Church.

110,000 Michigan Lutherans Declare Against the School Amendment

The following Resolutions have been subscribed to by practically all the Lutheran Congregations in the State of Michigan:

"Resolved that we Lutherans of the State of Michigan declare our unflinching opposition to the proposed School Amendment as un-American, and unfair in principle, harmful in scope, and impossible and wasteful in execution.

"We pledge our unstinted effort to work untiringly and persistently towards its defeat at the coming election."

Wesley's Physical Toughness. Spare diet and constant exercise in the keen morning air helped to endow Wesley with that amazing physical toughness which enabled him, when eight five years old, to walk six miles to a preaching appointment and declare that the only sign of old age he felt was that "he could not walk nor run quite so fast as he once did." —W. H. Friebe in "Wesley and His Country."

NEW LAW HELP TO GROWING CITIES

EXCESS CONDEMNATION ACT, IF PASSED, WOULD BENEFIT EVERY COMMUNITY.

OF INTEREST TO EVERY VOTER

Several States Already Have Passed Amendments Similar to One Proposed in Michigan.

Every voter in the State of Michigan should become familiar with the facts concerning Excess Condemnation and know the real advantages which would accrue to any community as a whole if the Excess Condemnation Act is favorably voted upon by the people of Michigan and enacted into a State law.

"Excess Condemnation" means taking through the exercise of "Eminent Domain" more land than the actual requirements of the intended improvement. The proposed Constitutional Amendment permits the application of this principle by cities in Michigan.

Rapid growth and new traffic problems of large cities have in recent years developed an absolute need for comprehensive city planning which involves knowledge of existing conditions and study of the future growth covering the proper relation of improved thoroughfares, boulevards, parks and recreation grounds, etc. In securing such improvements through condemnation, the courts do not permit the taking of more land than is shown to be actually needed. This often results in leaving remnants of abutting parcels of land which are inadequate for proper building utilization, for which owners have been awarded damages to full value. With the right of "Excess Condemnation" any City could acquire sufficient abutting land to provide properly shaped holding lots. These would be resold or leased, with suitable restrictions. If required, to protect the improvement, and the City would derive the benefit of enhanced values resulting from the development.

Protection of thoroughfares, parks and public building sites from unsightly structures or neglected vacant remnants of land is one object of "Excess Condemnation." Another is recompense to the City for cost of improvements through sale of excess land.

It can be readily understood that many public improvements could thus be secured at little or no cost, and some improvements might be realized which without "Excess Condemnation" would be impracticable because of excessive cost.

Past mistakes of street widths and locations made through had planning can in some instances be corrected with the aid of excess condemnation.

It is not expected that Excess Condemnation will be used in every case involving the acquisition of land for City improvements, but it is desired that cities be permitted to use it where the best interests of the municipality make such procedure desirable.

New York, Ohio, Massachusetts and Wisconsin have already passed constitutional amendments permitting "Excess Condemnation." The Michigan Legislature, at its last session, adopted a resolution to submit to a popular vote of the people a proposed Constitutional Amendment providing for future legislation to this end. This amendment will be voted on by the voters of Michigan at the November election in 1920.

Senate Enrolled Joint Resolution No. 1 of the extra session of the 1919 Legislature provides that the proposed amendment shall appear on the ballot in the following form:

"Vote on proposed amendment in the Constitution relative to empowering the Legislature to authorize municipalities, subject to reasonable limitations, to condemn and to take the fee to more land and property than is needed in the acquiring, opening and widening of parks, boulevards, other public places and for any public use, and to make provision for the issuance of bonds to supply the funds to pay therefor."

"Amendment to article thirteen of the Constitution, empowering the Legislature to authorize municipalities to condemn more land than is necessary for certain public purposes and to issue bonds therefor; It being proposed that said article be amended by adding thereto a new section, to be known as 'Section five' to read as follows:

"Section 5. Subject to this Constitution the Legislature may authorize municipalities, subject to reasonable limitations, to condemn and to take the fee to more land and property than is needed in the acquiring, opening and widening of parks, boulevards, public places, streets, alleys, or for any public use, both within and beyond their boundaries, and after so much of the land and property has been appropriated for any such need of public purpose, the remainder may be sold or leased with or without such restrictions as may be appropriate to the improvement made. Bonds may be issued to supply the funds to pay in whole or in part for the excess property so appropriated, but such bonds shall be a lien only on the property so acquired and they shall not be included in any limitation of the bonded indebtedness of such municipality.

TO ERADICATE PEAR BLIGHT

Disease Shows Itself in Blackening Leaves and Shriveling Twigs—Must Be Got Out.

Pears are often troubled with blight. This disease shows itself in blackening leaves and shriveling twigs. The destroying germ works in the wood, so cannot be reached by any spray. Cutting is the only remedy. But blight is very contagious. So take the precaution to dissolve an antiseptic tablet in a quart jar of warm water, and after each cut and every cut, dip the pruning shears into the solution or paint the saw with a duster wet with it. Cut well below the infected parts. Immediately burn all wood and leaves. Pear blight should be eradicated at any time of the year it is noticed.

In the Fertile Caucasus. The richest part of Caucasia Armenia is the valley of Arax, which, with artificial irrigation, produces excellent grapes and other fruit and vegetables, as well as rice, cotton and corn.

Whales' Ages. Scientists say that an ordinary whale lives to the age of 500 years, while some whales have been caught whose appearance denotes them to have lived as many as 1,000 years.

Charlie Hamlin and wife, Mike Hamlin and family, George Holscheck and family and Mrs. Sarah Emrey spent Sunday at the Emrey cottage at Pine Point. They took a pot-luck dinner and supper with them and while the women were preparing the "eats" the men went hunting and succeeded in bagging four rabbits.

Dr. W. W. Mitchell returned from Benver Island Thursday where he has been for the past two weeks doing dental work. He left Friday morning for Ann Arbor where he expected to meet Mrs. Mitchell who is visiting in the southern part of the state, and attend the Michigan-Illinois football game. IMPORTANT SPEAKER HERE SATURDAY
Congressman Crampton on the League of Nations.

The citizens of Charlevoix and all good Republicans will have a chance to hear the League of Nations situation, one of the most important topics of the present presidential campaign, discussed thoroughly by a man who is well versed on the subject and knows exactly what he is talking about.

Congressman Louis C. Crampton, formerly state campaign manager for Senator Hiram Johnson, has just returned from Europe, where he has been studying the situation and is now prepared to put things up to the public exactly as they stand.

Congressman Crampton will speak in Charlevoix, Saturday evening, October 30th. An effort will be made to secure the Palace Theatre, but if unable to secure this building, the meeting will be held in some other suitable hall. This talk will be well worth hearing, so let as many of us as possible be there.

cheaper prices. There are a great many instances that bear out this theory. While the time has evidently arrived when the competition among dealers for goods at any price and among employers for laborers at any wage, has passed, it does not necessarily follow that there have been any revolutionary changes in values. The result is that the profiteers have less chance to sell their goods at unreasonable prices, while the jack-of-all trades can no longer buy a hammer and a saw and demand ten dollars a day as a carpenter skilled in his work. Apparently it is a sorry business for merchants in many lines to dispose of goods they have purchased at inflated prices at the new figures that are being found to be reasonable.

The most graphic instance in this connection surrounds sugar. The local merchants have made an awful fuss about accommodating themselves to the new conditions and the new prices even though the loss was slight. "Poor little Cuba" has grown so rich out of sugar profiteering during the war that its sugar growers are in the doldrums because the consumers of sugar in the United States and elsewhere have forced down their prices. One of the largest Cuban banks has suspended operations, and the rich islanders are just now realizing that their hey-day is over. On a less exaggerated scale these same conditions exist in a great many industries throughout the United States. Nevertheless, it must not be inferred that the pre-war prices will be restored. Mr. Ford with his fifty or sixty million dollars profits each year is doubtless able to sell "flivers" at the old price while paying the new rate of wages to his employees—and he can still keep out of the poorhouse. Other automobile manufacturers may do the same thing, but in most of the industrial lines, and in agriculture, this policy will be impossible.

It is obvious that the new readjustment is well under way, and the fact is being rapidly accomplished. It is just as clear that it will not be predicated on the plan which is possible for Mr. Ford and a few manufacturers like him who made abnormal profits both before and during the war period.

Hydroelectric Possibilities
It has been shown that a great power system drawing its electrical energy from steam and water generation would save 30,000,000 tons of coal annually, representing $150,000,000 the labor of more than 30,000 miners and the release of vast railroad carrying capacity for other freight. Such a project stretching from Washington to Boston and drawing its electrical energy from steam and water generation, is the new design of the Government, which is developing plans to meet the new era in power development which it is thought will result from the water-power legislation passed at the last session of Congress. Scientific men say that it is almost unbelievable that a progressive people like those in the United States should cling to methods that are as antique as the oxcart, by insisting upon digging and transporting coal, and robbing mother earth of all her natural mineral resources, when all that is needed is the development of waterpowers on streams which have for centuries awaited development.

The Great Lakes Project
For more than twenty-five years people along the Great Lakes have been agitating a waterways through the St. Lawrence to the ocean. Canada is thoroughly in accord with the project and has made extensive developments of the river to permit its use by vessels drawing twenty-five feet or more of water. The project has not been very active in late years though it is the subject of pending legislation in Congress. If opposition is the life of endeavor there may be something doing that will put the waterways project in the foreground. A plan has been worked out for a series of canals to make the lakes-to-ocean route an exclusively American project. It appears in some quarters that New York state regards the St. Lawrence as inimical to the Erie canal. Other broad minded people say that eventually the St. Lawrence route and the waterway through United States territory will both be developed. From an engineering standpoint neither scheme is as difficult as was the building of the Panama Canal. From the head of the Great Lakes there are coming stories at this time showing how easy it would be to transport the grain crops of the Northwest by water, if the routes were open to the Atlantic seaboard. Inasmuch as there is an admitted lack of transportation facilities, this argument is doubtless having its effect, and may influence Congress in bringing the lakes-to-ocean project to the front at the coming session of Congress.

Railway Recuperation
All traffic records were broken the week of September 25 when 994,687 cars were loaded. Shortage of cars meant shortage of goods, particularly of coal. Among the surprising turns in the railroad situation is the fact that in Chicago it has been discovered that there are from 10 to 15 per cent more men on the railroad payrolls, particularly in the clerical and equipment departments, than are needed. The Pennsylvania railroad is also understood to have found that they had a superfluous number of employees in some divisions of the work. Thus it appears that the railroads during the 16 months that they were under Government control, started to copy the inefficient methods found everywhere in Government employment, which results from stuffing the payroll in order to make places for somebody or other. The country has fortunately, perhaps narrowly, escaped from being committed to an experiment of running the railways for the benefit of the workers rather than that of the consumers of goods. This would have been as lamentable as the demonstration that some of the railways had been run in the past for the benefit of security manipulators. The new pages in the history of the railway promise to be brighter than the earlier ones.

The Record Corn Crop
The Agricultural Department counts on a yield of 3,216,192,000 bushels of corn this year which beats all records by more than 90,000,000 bushels. Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri have the bumper crops that swell the big total. And while quantity looks fine in print the farmers are disappointed by the fact that the price of corn which in the middle of June was $1.80 a bushel has fallen for December delivery to less than $1.00 a bushel. It is the first time since February, 1917, that corn in Chicago has sold under $1.00 per bushel. The high point was $2.36 in August, 1917.

Production figures on agricultural crops of the world, assembled by the International Agricultural Institute at Rome, show a greatly increased yields in most every country. The nations whose people suffered from lack of food during the war are about to be fed-up, and Mother Earth has provided bountifully of foodstuffs for all her children.

The warehouse of the Marketing Association has been in the carpenter's hands for the past week and the result is a new office, new cream room and a room for bean picking machinery.

Fred Reamsma, who recently purchased the old Ellsworth creamery property here, is busy at work remodeling for a home and a blacksmith and wood-working shop. The east section of the building is being moved about eighty feet east and will be changed and rebuilt into a residence while the balance will be used as a blacksmith with one section to be used for wagon work. Mr. Reamsma expects to be ready to start business about December 15.

The action of the township board in dividing Banks township into two voting precincts and the notices of same making Atwood a voting place at the November election is held up for the present at least by reason of the fact that there are election supplies for but one voting precinct in the township. The law is very plain that no township may be divided into precincts within sixty days of a regular or special election and in this case action was taken too late in the game to allow for the printing of necessary supplies.

Farmers of this vicinity are busy harvesting and marketing their bumper potato crop. Last week's average was over eighty pounds a day to be brought into town. Several farmers have produced upward of three hundred bushels an acre and in some cases the yield has reached the four hundred mark. Both warehouses are filled to capacity and the Co-operative Association has leased the Blue Store basement for storage purposes. The Ellsworth Produce Co. are filling the basement of the Klooster store. In addition about twenty cars have already been shipped.

Watch Us Grow

The population of the United States increased 14.9 during the past ten years. This was considerable; nevertheless the ten year period ending in 1910 showed an increase of 21 per cent. The Director of the census has been explaining the slackening off of our growth, and he attributes it to the curtailing of immigration during the war, the influenza epidemic and the casualties of the war. His conclusions have been resisted by a good many writers, all of whom seem to overlook the pet topic of a former president who talked in good deal about race suicide.

HINTS FOR SUMMER WEATHER

Extra Care Should Be Taken to See That Young Chickens Are Not Injured by Hot Sun.

In hot weather, special care is necessary to prevent chicks from being overheated by exposure to the sun, confinement where ventilation is bad, or overcrowding. The brooder should be under shelter, with good circulation of air around it, and the number of chicks should not be greater than it will accommodate comfortably under hot weather conditions.

Boosters Now Amazed.

Good roads boosters, who a few years ago were puzzled to find some method of arousing public interest in bond issues for road improvements, are amazed at the ease with which appropriations are passed by city and states authorities.

Poor Roads Isolate.

Poor roads mean isolation, which in turn means fewer possibilities for education, fewer opportunities for wealth, lower real estate valuations as well as increased costs of supplies.

ARMENIANS HAIL AMERICAN PEOPLE AS THEIR SAVIORS

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS ARE LIVING TODAY BECAUSE OF U. S. AID.

MAKE BRAVE FIGHT THEMSELVES

New York.—Charles V. Vickrey, secretary of Near East Relief, has sent the following cable message from Constantinople to Near East Relief headquarters in this city:

"Have just returned from a thorough inspection of conditions throughout Armenia. The premier, president, governors, mayors and all authorities agree that Armenia was saved last year by the flour and other foodstuffs sent from America. Hundreds of thousands are living today who would be dead had it not been for American relief. They are devoutly grateful to their saviors in the United States.

"The Armenians are thrifty, hard-working and industrious. Considering their handicaps they have made remarkable progress towards self-support. Hundreds of thousands of them are still homeless refugees from Turkish Armenia.

"Without modern agricultural implements, with an insufficient number of oxen and with an inadequate supply of seed wheat they have succeeded in raising food supplies that will carry them until mid-winter. Supplementary supplies must be provided until the recently signed peace treaty with Turkey can be made effective and security given under which they can return to the site of their ruined homes and regain full self-support.

"Everyone joins in high praise of the magnificent life saving—if not nation saving—work of Col. Haskell in the flour distribution of last winter. Since the withdrawal of Col. Haskell and the American military mission last August the relief work is being continued under the civilian direction of Capt. Yarrow and Strong.

"The American civilian personnel of Near East Relief operates one orphanage at Alexandropol that contains approximately ten thousand Armenian war orphans. Another orphanage at Kars accommodates six thousand orphans. There are three thousand at the Erivan orphanage and smaller orphanages at other centers.

"These orphaned boys and girls constitute the hope of the future for the Near East. American philanthropy, through Near East Relief, is rendering an inestimable service in promoting good will and international friendship. A few millions of dollars today in the form of food, education and industrial training for these orphans may save billions of dollars tomorrow in warfare and international strife."

TRAVERSE CITY GETS HATCHERY

Building to Be Located on the East Bay Road.

Through the efforts of the Grand Traverse Resort association and the chamber of commerce of that city, Traverse City is to have a state park and a state fish hatchery.

Negotiations that have been under way for some time with the state game and fish commissioner have come to a successful conclusion. At the same time that negotiations were begun to secure a state park, the resort association and the chamber of commerce, working in co-operation, took the initial steps to interest the state game and fish commission in a site adjoining the proposed park located on the northeast part of the Mitchell mill site on the East Bay road, for a fish hatchery. Members of the state game and fish commission examined the site. With them was Dwight Lydell, who largely directs their work and who is recognized as the greatest fish expert in the United States. He was much impressed and on behalf of the state commission accepted the property.

RELIGIOUS BODIES FIGHT AMENDMENT

United in Concerted Fight Against School Amendment

Stimulated intensely by the recent action of the state supreme court in ordering the so-called anti-church school amendment placed on the ballot for consideration at the November election, Seventh Day Adventists in all parts of Michigan have launched a tremendous drive against the proposed legislation.

All the resources of the denomination, which is a world-wide institution, with conferences in every country on earth, have been placed at the disposal of Elder S. B. Horton, formerly of Kalamazoo, who, as secretary of the state religious liberty department, is directing the campaign from the Adventist headquarters at Grand Rapids.

In addition to the Seventh Day Adventists, other religious bodies that operate their own schools are fighting the amendment, including the Lutheran and Dutch Reformed bodies. The proposed amendment was advanced by the Wayne County Civic Association, and reads as follows:

"Section 16. All residents of the state of Michigan between the ages of five years and 16 years shall attend the public school in their respective district until they have graduated from the eighth grade. Provided, that in districts where the grades do not reach the eighth, then all persons herein described in such district shall complete the courses taught therein.

"Section 17. The legislature shall enact all necessary legislation to render section 16 effective."

An advertisement concerning the amendment appears on another page of this issue.

HERE IS WHERE THE TAXES WILL GO

Senate Clerk Issues Table Showing Division of Dollar.

Possibly it will take some of the sting out of paying those state taxes if taxpayers know what the money is to be spent for. Dennis E. Alward, clerk of the senate, has just completed a graphic chart of a silver dollar showing the slices that will be devoted to various branches of state enterprise.

Here's where each dollar spent will go:

Educational departments, 27 cents. Care of the insane, 16.9 cents. Highways, 12.7 cents. State boards and commissions, 8.3 cents.

Penal institutions, 8.2 cents. State departments, 7 cents.

Miscellaneous funds, 6 cents. Charities, 3.4 cents.

Legal departments, 2.7 cents. Military departments, 2.7 cents.

Health work, 2 cents. Legislature, 1.3 cents.

Agriculture, 1.1 cents. Fee boards, such as barber, medical, etc., 1-5 of a cent.

The total tax to be collected this year is $17,225,528.35, so from this percentage it is possible to figure approximately the amount that will be devoted to the various departments of state activities.

TEACHER GIVEN FAREWELL SURPRISE

Will Soon Leave to Locate in the State of Colorado.

A farewell surprise party was given in honor of Miss Edith M. Cary, Saturday evening, at her home near Central Lake.

Miss Cary has been a teacher in the Charlevoix rural schools and is now changing her location from Charlevoix county to the state of Colorado. Her many friends wished her all kinds of success in her new undertaking, also a safe journey. She leaves Monday and will visit at Grand Rapids and Chicago en route for Colorado.

Notice. My wife, Lois, having left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, I hereby give all warning not to extend her credit to my account. Dated September 21, 1920. Signed, William Banks Adv. 3846.

ENTERTAINED AT THE LOEB FARM

Ladies of Eastern Star Entertained by Mrs. Otto.

A goodly number of the members of the order of the Eastern Star were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Otto at the Loeb Farms last Friday and report a grand and glorious time.

The afternoon was spent under the guidance of Mrs. Otto in viewing the grounds and stock, and those present were properly impressed by the pedigree stock and the wonders of mechanical milking. The beautiful grounds, artistic buildings, groups of ducks, turkeys and geese wandering placidly along; and the snow-white swans sailing majestically on the little river, are scenes which will not be forgotten.

With the dusk of evening came a number of the sterner sex and a bounteous picnic supper was served, after which an enjoyable social evening was spent, politics being only incidentally mentioned. The party was graciously entertained by the hostess and her family with music and departed at a seasonable hour much delighted with their enjoyable outing and the hospitality extended to them by Mr. and Mrs. Otto.

Teacher: "What do you know about Rex Beach?"

Miss Mason: "Oh, it's a winter resort in Florida."

A party was given by the Sophomores Wednesday evening in the high school building. The refreshments which were served were absolutely in keeping with the laws of prohibition. The cider was sweet. Two of our worthy teachers acted the part of bears in the portrayal of the old fairy tale, "The Three Bears." (Practice makes perfect.)

Senior's advice to the Freshmen: "Give thy books no thought." Nor anything of learning any time. For in thy head the room is limited. The brains thou hast, by thine own study gained.

Pinlock them in, for sure thy need is great.

But do not waste thy time in further learning.

From each gilt-edged, dried-up text book. Beware.

Of entering late to class, but, being late,

Be still, for teacher may not notice thee.

Give every class thine ear, but few thy voice.

Take teacher's censure, but reserve thy judgment.

Soft be each answer as thy voice allows.

But neither eurt nor length, truth, not falsehood.

For softest answer turneth away wrath.

Neither be a borrower, nor a lender be.

For thou wilt lose all that thou hast without.

No need waste time in giving it away. This above all—respect a Senior most.

And it must follow by the law of life.

Thou wilt gain honor in thy high school course.

Selling of Tires

by a dealer, and the purchasing of tires by the consumer combines two interests and ambitions; that of the dealer to unload his stock at the highest margin of profit possible, and that of the consumer to buy a good tire at as low a price as possible. However, here are some facts that must be borne in mind when purchasing a tire. It is not always the lowest priced tire that is the cheapest to buy, but the cheapest tire always to buy is the tire that gives the most mileage for the amount of money invested in it. Now here is absolutely the cheapest tire for you to buy; it is lowest in price of any good tire sold and has more mileage in it for the money than any other tire made. Fox, the Tire Man, sells them direct from factory to consumer, at 303 Antrim street, Charlevoix, Michigan.—Adv. 432pd.

ON THEIR TRIP TO CLEARWATER, FLORIDA.

Fred A. Butler Writes of Trip to the Sunny South—No Punctures and One Blow Out.

The Courier reproduces a letter from Fred A. Butler, former R. F. D. carrier on Route 1 out of this city, who left several weeks ago for the sunny south, and who is now located at Clearwater, Florida. The letter is very interesting and without doubt will have the tendency of creating a desire among some of our citizens to make the trip in a like manner. The letter follows:

Clearwater, Oct. 23.

"Friend Usher—At last Mrs. Butler and myself are really located in the sunny south, and so far think we will like it very much, especially when we both become adapted to the ways and usages of everything here. We have certainly seen a great deal of the good old U. S. A. since leaving Charlevoix, and it was a trip we will both remember for a long time. We spend many happy hours talking over our trip, especially the ups and downs we experienced.

"We left Leo at New Orleans, where he secured a good job with the government, surveying the Mississippi river bed about a hundred miles up from New Orleans.

"We were very much impressed with Dallas, Texas, as we considered it the busiest city on earth outside of Chicago, and for beauty and quaintness, New Orleans have them all faded. We surely enjoyed every minute of the trip, although we had all kinds of roads and weather, (but no snow), and I surely hope none this winter. It rained a lot while we were crossing Illinois and Mississippi, but after leaving these states it was quite dry and we had no trouble at all. One of the most interesting parts of the trip was the drive of over 100 miles down the Red and Mississippi rivers, just back of the levees. At first it was fine, but it began to get tiresome after the first hour or so, as all one could see on one side was a big bank or wall of dirt and on the other a lot of low land and a continuous row of negro shanties. It seemed to us that all the "niggers" in the south lived, or rather stayed there. In many instances they just exist. They recalled that old saying of Topsy in the Uncle Tom's Cabin show, "never was bawn, just dropped down."

"But we finally arrived here on the 12th of October, after being on the road since the second of September. I mean by this, of course, besides the time we spent at Valparaiso, Indiana, Dallas, Texas and New Orleans. We drove over 4,000 miles without a here on the -8th, and as the roads The average on the trip was 23 miles to the gallon of gasoline. Had on one of those little gas savers of Hart's and think them O. K.

"I commenced on my new route here on the 12th, and as the roads and people were all strangers, it has kept me pretty busy getting acquainted and my work organized.

Frank Lamphear and wife and Mrs. Butler and myself were out along the gulf coast for a long drive this afternoon, and I only wish that you and your wife could have been with us. The climate and scenery, especially the beautiful trees and foliage, make drives of this kind beautiful and enjoyable here. And the grape fruit and oranges. The trees are loaded and remind us of Michigan apples.

"With the best of regards to you and other Charlevoix friends, I am sincerely, F. A. Butler."

STATE PHONE

The State Public Utilities Commission at Lansing Tuesday granted a fifteen percent increase in rates to all telephone companies operating in the state outside of Detroit. The new rates are effective as of November 1 and will be effective until the new and permanent rates, based upon a survey made by the commission, are made public. The companies asked twenty-five percent increase.

LOSE THEIR CLOTHES WHEN HOUSE BURNS

Nat Burns and Family Victims of Disastrous Fire.

Nat Burns, wife and two children, Hazel and Ralph, and their married son, Bernard and wife, lost practically all their clothing in a fire that destroyed the Albert Holmes cottage at Port Orange, Florida, about two hours after they had taken possession of it.

The Burns family drove through by auto from Charlevoix to Port Orange, arriving there shortly after the noon hour last Wednesday. They were to occupy the Holmes cottage until they had found suitable quarters.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Burns, who had gone to the Calvin Price cottage, a short distance away, for a short visit. In a few minutes the entire structure was a mass of flames, and only a settee and rocking chair, which were on the porch, were saved. The traveling equipment of the party, including their clothes, were in the house and were a total loss.

The loss of the cottage is estimated at $2,500, with $1,000 insurance. The fire is thought to have been caused by the explosion of a small oil stove.

STATE PROVIDES UNIFORM SYSTEM

NEW SYSTEM INSTALLED IN BUT FEW COUNTIES.

Only a Matter of Time Before System Will be Used in Every County in State.

No steps will be taken by Auditor General Oramel B. Fuller until after the first of the year to require the counties of the state to install the uniform accounting system that has been outlined by the state.

At present the system is in operation in only twenty-six counties and is being started in about half a dozen more. Many counties have not answered the notice sent out by Auditor General Fuller and some of these counties apparently do not intend to willingly comply with the auditing system.

"After the legislature meets we will take steps to extend this auditing system to every county," said Mr. Fuller. "It is probable that a time will be fixed for all counties to be ready. Then if any county refuses to join in the plan, its case will be turned over to the governor."

Though there is nothing to require any county to start at once on this auditing system, Mr. Fuller says that it will only be a matter of time before the measure will be enforced. The audits will eventually be taken whether they are started now or not, it is stated.

Of the counties where the uniform system is now operating are included the following, together with the date that the system was established in each county: Branch, June 4; Coss, July 1; Grand Traverse, August 14; St. Joseph, June 14; Van Buren, July 17. Charlevoix county has not yet adopted the system.

Auditor General Fuller explains that the entire state will be greatly benefited by this new uniform system which will enable all counties to handle their finances in better shape. Several county treasurers have been reported short in their funds, but it is considered that this is due more to faulty methods than any dishonesty. One thing the new system prohibits is paying out money from funds which do not show a balance.

At six o'clock a bounteous supper was served to which the husbands of the Lady Maccabees were invited, and later all enjoyed several good old fashioned dances.

MICHIGAN GOES REPUBLICAN BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

Late Reports Indicate His Majority Will Reach Close to Two Hundred Thousand—Entire State and County Ticket Elected—School Amendment Killed.

Returns obtainable up to the time we go to press indicate that Senator Harding of Ohio will carry the state of Michigan by a majority close to two hundred thousand votes, and the entire country by one of the largest Republican victories in the history of the party.

In the state Groesbeck for governor run close to Harding, it being generally conceded that he will defeat his Democratic opponent by almost a two to one vote. The balance of the state Republican ticket carried with handsome majorities.

While nothing is definite as yet, it is thought that the school amendment will be defeated by a safe majority, some going so far as to estimate its defeat by a two to one vote.

Returns were slow coming in, and were from widely scattered points, making it hard to make a conservative estimate, but it is safe to say that the reign of the Democratic party is over and the Republican will take charge of the country's affairs with a safe majority, both in the senate and the house.

The Vote in the County.

Fourteen precincts in Charlevoix county gave Harding 2062, Cox 375, Groesbeck 1184, Ferris 506. On the school amendment the vote from 14 precincts show the following figures: Yes 812, No 770. The precincts heard from are Charlevoix township, yes 49, no 14. Eveline, yes 86, no 72. Hayes, yes 67, no 67. Marion, yes 86, no 45. Melrose, carried by a majority estimated at 30. Peaine, yes, none, no 117. St. James, yes 7, no 140. Boyne City, four wards, estimated majority of 200. Charlevoix, 1st ward, yes 46, no 58; 2nd ward, yes 162, no 138; 3rd ward, yes 108, no 120. In the city the vote was a tie, the result being 316 for and 316 against the amendment.

Vote in the City.

The City of Charlevoix gave Harding a majority of 645 over Cox, and Groesbeck a majority of 346 over Ferris. The vote in the city by wards is as follows:

1st Ward: Harding 99, Cox 13, Groesbeck 91, Ferris 29.

2nd Ward: Harding 279, Cox 39, Groesbeck 253, Ferris 73.

3rd Ward: Harding 260, Cox 41, Groesbeck 173, Ferris 69.

The entire county ticket, which had no opposition, carried by the usual Republican majorities.

How the States Go.

Returns so far obtained give the following states for Harding: Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Idaho, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Washington, Oregon, California, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Mississippi.

Doubtful, Maryland and Arizona. A close fight in Kentucky.

All Republican senators have been returned with the exception, possibly, of Lenroot of Wisconsin. The fight here is close between Lenroot and a Independent Republican candidate.

One Republican senator was gained in California and Oregon.

It is questionable if Ohio will elect a single Democratic congressman.

Every county in Michigan, from returns already in, indicate a Republican majority.

ARMISTICE DAY NOVEMBER ELEVEN

Second Great War Anniversary to Be Observed.

The eleventh day of November next will be the second anniversary of the signing of the armistice in the Great War, and, inasmuch as the Michigan legislature in the session of 1919 passed an act making it the duty of school officers and teachers to have said day observed with appropriate commemorative exercises, it is fitting that the day should not be allowed to pass without attention being called to its significance.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan, do issue this proclamation and hereby request a proper and appropriate observance, on the part of the people of the state, of Thursday, the 11th day of November, 1920.

Following the proclamation of President Wilson, I further request that on Sunday, November the 14th, 1920, memorial services be held for our heroic dead, for the soldiers, sailors and marines who gave up their lives in our cause in the World War, and that on this day flags be displayed at half staff.

AUTO COLLIDES WITH A BUGGY

Occupants Thrown Out But Escape With Minor Injuries.

What might easily have resulted in a serious accident occurred Saturday evening near Orlowski's store, on South Bridge street, when a car driven by Edward Shapton ran into a buggy. The occupants of the buggy Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ager and their two children, Ellen and Esther, were thrown into the street. No one was seriously injured, although they were badly shaken up, and Mrs. Ager received a cut on the face. Mrs. Ager and the children were taken to the home of George Ager on State street, for the night, and Mr. Shapton drove them to their home near Barnard the following evening.

The whole affair was purely accidental, but had the car been going any faster, some of the party would undoubtedly have been killed or at least seriously injured.

SUBMIT PLAN TO BUY FAIR GROUND

Emmet County Wants to Purchase Present Site.

A proposition to call a special election to vote on the question of bonding the county for $2,500 to be used in the purchase of the present fair grounds was adopted unanimously by the supervisors of the county at the fall session which closed Thursday afternoon of last week says the Petoskey Evening News.

The board has secured from the owners of the grounds no option for the sale of the property for $2,500, the option being good until June 1, 1921.

The special election is called for the first Monday of April, the time of the regular township elections.

Under a recent state law counties may own and maintain their own fair grounds, operating the county fair through an agricultural society, or through some other organization. It appeared to be the idea of the supervisors that the board of supervisors would control the fair through a secretary appointed by the board or through a committee named by the board.

MASON'S STORE BEING MOVED THIS WEEK

Will Occupy New Quarters in Stockman Building on Bridge St.

A crew of men are busy removing the stock and equipment of the A. E. Mason Dry Goods and Grocery store from its former quarters in the Masonic block to the Stockman building corner Bridge and Clinton streets.

The new store building has been remodeled and placed into excellent condition for the new tenant. The dry good department will occupy the front part of the store, and the grocery at the rear of the building, each department, of course, being connected by a doorway.

Mr. Mason has gone to considerable expense to place his new quarters into proper shape, and will within the week be nicely settled in his new quarters.

MILES-WILLIAMS NUPTIALS FRIDAY

Young People will make Their Home in Muskegon

A wedding which came as a surprise to friends of the contracting parties took place at the M. E. parsonage at high noon Friday last, when Miss Eva Williams and Mr. Walker Miles were married by the Rev. Henry Candler.

The bride has held the responsible position as chief operator at the local telephone office, having been promoted last spring as a reward for faithful services and ability. She is the daughter of Mrs. Roswell Williams, and has lived in Charlevoix since her birth.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Miles, former residents of the city, now located at Muskegon. Walker is a graduate of the Charlevoix High School, class of 1919, and has a good situation in Muskegon. He left on the afternoon train for his home, and Mrs. Miles will join him as soon as she is released from her position in the telephone office.

The Courier with other Charlevoix friends of the newlyweds extends congratulations.

Ripe Tomatoes and Blossoms

N. W. Smith brought to the Courier office last week a peck of tomatoes that we believe will be hard to beat or even equal. With the ripe tomatoes was a branch off the same vine covered with blossoms. No doubt if the present cold snap had held off a few weeks—Mr. Smith would have had a second crop.

MANY TEACHERS IN ATTENDANCE

FROM CHARLEVOIX COUNTY AT STATE INSTITUTE.

School Questions Thoroughly Discussed by Teachers From All Sections of the State.

The superintendents of schools, the county commissioner of schools and a number of Charlevoix county teachers attended the state institute at Grand Rapids during the past week. All report a splendid time and a most profitable one. The general sessions were intensely inspirational and the section meetings very practical and clear cut, better than ever before. Those who heard Dr. Burton on "Being Alive," came back to their work with a new vision. Those who heard Dr. Driver tell the wonderful story of the consolidated schools of Randolph county, Indiana, learned the message of life dedicated to a specific task. The section meetings can not be commented upon separately, in a limited space—there were nearly thirty of these section programs. Each teacher attended the ones most helpful for her own line of work.

Business sessions were given over to a study of needed school legislation which should be brought to the attention of the next legislature. Every problem was thoroughly discussed from every angle and from the view point of representatives of every part of Michigan. Every teacher is pledged to support the proposed measures during the session of the legislature and to acquaint the patrons of her school with the merits of each bill as proposed by the committees in charge and accepted by the convention. Topics concerning which helpful legislation is proposed, are as follows: Increased aid and amendments to present consolidation law; lengthening of the school year to meet the requirement of the state course of study; an optional county unit bill; state equalization of school tax; employment of county commissioners of schools by county board of education on a plan similar to the employment of city superintendents, with duties added to the office of the present commissioner and assistance provided for; provisions for transportation of schools with less than twelve pupils enrolled; adequate salaries for teachers with demand for higher professional training for all teachers, recommending that all new teachers have at least one year of training by 1925 and two years of training by 1929.

It is one of the most remarkable legislative programs ever presented by the legislative committee of the M. S. T. A., and is a compliment to the business ability of the committees in charge. The program presented is net work, every part of which helps to work out every other part and the program must stand or fall as a unit. It has already been endorsed by many of the men's clubs throughout the state, by the State Federation of Women's Clubs, by many lodges and through the work has scarcely been out of the hands of the committee, it has the hearty endorsement of every educator in Michigan.

LITTLE DAMAGE TO CITY PROPERTY

Halloween Celebrators Break Window in Levinson Home

Charlevoix enjoyed one of the quietest Halloween celebrations in many years, and little damage to property has been reported.

The usual stunts were pulled off such as soaping windows, ringing door bells and church bells. A few scattering wagons were found about the city, and the lawn of the Carnegie Free Library was decorated with bread crates.

The celebrators started in Friday night and continued through to Sunday night. Residents were awakened from their slumbers by the ringing of church bells at several different times during each night.

About the only real damage reported was the breaking of a large plate glass window at the home of M. A. Levinson on Clinton street. Investigation shows the damage to be intentional and the culprit was forced to settle to the full value of the window.

Bankers Hold Annual Pow-Wow

Secretary of the Treasury Houston told the American Bankers' Association at their Washington meeting that there should be a repeal of the excess profits tax, with a suitable substitute. The Secretary voiced the opinion that the "menace of uncertainties," should be removed from the taxpayers. After excusing the present indiscriminate tax laws of the Federal Government because they were rapidly assembled to meet the emergencies of war, Mr. Houston urged the wiping out of the irregularities existing in the present credit and financial schemes of the Government. He advocated a prompt re-survey of all tax laws. This sentiment was heartily applauded by the bankers of the nation who were assembled in great numbers.

Secretary Houston cited many instances to prove that genuine progress is being made in the industrial and financial affairs of Europe, as well as in our own country. He told the bankers that the foreign investments of Great Britain amounted to $15,000,000,000, of which $3,000,000,000 is invested in securities in the United States. Even "bleeding France" has $8,000,000,000 invested abroad, and a small portion of this is in Russia. As Uncle Sam's big banker, Secretary Houston's statements showing how "the world is getting on her feet," was received as good news by America's captains of finance.

Farm Interests and Free Seeds

A cabinet officer who made a bit with the nation's bankers at the Washington convention, was Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, who emphasized the fact that "the farmer must secure his cost of production plus a reasonable profit." He described agriculture as the basic interest of America, and declared that individual bankers in every community must use their strongest endeavors to promote the welfare of the farmers. Mr. Meredith told of the constructive work done by the Department in preventing wheat rust, checking the cattle tick, the boll weevil and other pests. He denounced the false economy of Congress which put several divisions of the Department of Agriculture practically out of business, while $250,000 was voted for "free seeds" for Congressional distribution. The Secretary said that he was sorry that he could not say that "free seeds" are "good seeds." He explained that at the close of the season that the Department of Agriculture purchases the "left-overs" from the big seed houses of the country. These institutions will not guarantee the seeds sold to the Government, which in turn are distributed throughout the country. A good many people have believed that the Government seeds have special merit, and think that they come from experimental farms and places that insure their quality. The head of the Agricultural Department dispels that illusion. He describes the free distribution of seeds as a custom unworthy of being continued, and as a piece of wanton waste of public money.

Bankers are Wise Men

John Skelton Williams is Controller of the Currency, a position he holds without having been confirmed by the senate. He seems to be the prickly brier bush of the Administration. Just as the bankers were about to assemble for their Washington conference Williams broke loose in one of his periodical outbursts and charged that excessive interest rates of New York banks have been "a potent influence in depressing seriously the prices of all investment bonds and standard shares." His statement was promptly challenged by bankers who pointed out that money is a commodity, and viewed in that light it has increased less in the rates charged for it than any other commodity.

The bankers of the country are in constant touch with the Federal Government, because the national bank control, the federal banking system, etc. Therefore when a noisy individual like Williams tries to put over a sensational charge, he is promptly asked by the bankers of the country whether the fact that money is being loaned for the most

YOUR PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE
The Alma Record of last week closed a splendid editorial, "Your Philosophy of Life," with the following paragraph:

Many years ago a teacher lived for a short span of years upon this earth.
And among his teachings, all designed for the betterment of the human race, was one which has ever since been designated as the Golden Rule.
It is simplicity itself, couched in words so plain that a child can understand it. But in it is found a principle so broad and comprehending that it can be made to fit any life if followed. The Great Teacher laid down his philosophy of life in these terms,

"Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

As appropriate as is this much quoted biblical philosophy the thirteenth chapter of Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians in the unfolding of this centuries old creed. No human "platform" compares with it for logic and comfort. When in doubt turn to Paul.

THINK IN TIME.
A word of caution even to the wisest is not amiss at times.
The season is approaching when all people will be making their Christmas purchases.

The fact that money has been plentiful for the past few years has not removed the element of caution from our home people, and neither has it blunted their desire for economy.

Caution dictates that we buy from a house that is known for its honesty and its willingness to guarantee the quality of its goods.

Economy requires that quality be proportionate to price.

The home dealer is known to you.
He cannot afford to sell you a shoddy or inferior article because it would come back to him. He cannot afford to gouge you because it would put him out of business.

Both his honor and his business safety compel him to give you a square deal.

Think this over before the rush is on.

People who think twice before they buy once seldom make a mistake.

INEFFICIENCY OR WORSE.

If you write an important letter and do not get a reply within a reasonable length of time, do not be too hasty in charging the delay to your correspondent. He and you may both be the victims of a crippled postal service.

A Chicago concern recently shipped a car load of freight to its warehouse in Detroit. At the same time a letter of instructions was sent to the warehouse by first-class postage under special delivery stamp. The freight arrived first.

Postal employees are quitting their jobs because congress is too "economical" to pay them a living wage.

Inefficiency is about the best we can expect from the service under such conditions.

The wonder is that it is not worse.

NOT ALWAYS A MAN.

It is estimated that one-half of the women in France can never hope to become wives because the men have been killed off in the great war.

We have a few of the male persuasion in this country whom we could ship over to our disconsolate French sisters without material loss. But they would probably be fired back by the first boat.

A male is not always a man.

A kind word costs nothing. But perhaps the absence of a proflitering value is the reason why some people are so sparing in their use in these days of skyrocketing.

When prices come down to earth again it is to be hoped Cupid comes with them. Wedding bells are becoming rusty from too much idleness, and the county clerk and the preachers need the fees.

Editors as a rule have very little to say of themselves. But that is probably because their critics have left nothing unsaid.

And just to keep your mind busy, why does a ball bounce? An interesting question which many people cannot answer.

Yes, little William, when you reach the point where you "know it all" you will still have much to learn from the fool.

Many a gem of wisdom comes from the lips of a fool. But we are not referring to any one in this community.

Any brainless nut can tell a lie, but only a wise man can slide out of it without getting caught.

A man, we might remark, is always interested in his wife's clothes—when the bill comes in.

Every man is born free in this country, but some do not long remain so after marriage.

Wool goods for winter, you will need them now. Just what you need in stock. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 44tf

The Misses Fitch and Swinton Entertain at a Party.

Miss Margaret Fitch and Miss Margie Swinton entertained thirty of their friends at a Halloween party Saturday evening at the log house back of the Fitch cottage on Michigan avenue.

From all reports a very "witching" time was had, the proper Halloween atmosphere being considerably added to by the presence of three paper-mache skeletons.

A basket lunch was served and the evening was spent in playing games and having a good time generally.

Practice Kindness Now.

There are kindnesses, hospitalities, public and private duties, and fellowship in the civic and social life of one's calling and station which help to make our sojourn here satisfying and gratifying. These should not be postponed nor stifled. "I expect to pass through life but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show or any good thing I can do to any fellow-being, let me do it now, and not defer or neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again."

tributed to William Penn.—Humphrey

French Guiana.

French Guiana is the penal settlement of France. Its surface rises gradually from the unhealthy coast to the mountain border on the south.
Only a small part of the country is known. Fevers, particularly yellow fever, decimate the region and have proved so fatal to French convicts that white prisoners have long been sent elsewhere. The Ile du Diable, off the coast, became famous through the imprisonment of Alfred Dreyfus.

For winter goods in wearing apparel, you will find the best assortment at Benj. Brown's.—Adv. 44tf.

Millions in Salmon.

Since the Columbia river salmon canning industry was started by pioneer fishermen in 1876, a total of $130,000,000 worth of salmon has been taken from the 100,000 acres of fishing territory in the river from Cascade locks to its mouth.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Duration of Lightning.

A flash of lightning lights up the ground for one-thirtieth of a second, yet it seems to us to last ever so much longer. What happens is that the impression remains in the retina of the eye for about one-eighth of a second.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Law of the Yukon," which comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday is full of high adventure and breath-taking situations. No angels, no arch-fiends move through the story—but average men and women. These include strong men who make mistakes; good men with their little streaks of bad; bad men with their little streaks of good; shielded women who know discontent; town women with strange strength and tenderness; ordinary human beings with their complex hates and loves and purposes. Since there is nothing in life so interesting as men and women (which is one reason that the best of us enjoys gossip) the novelist's, the dramatist's, the picture director's task is merely to show us ordinary men and women in unusual situations. When these men and women live before our eyes the dramatic moments we sometimes dream, we may feel that we have learned something new about human life.

In "The Law of the Yukon," the rugged background of the north country, the primitive conditions of life in a mining town, the strange little dramas of dance-hall and saloon and mining shack, the odd problems and quarrels and jealousies of the little shut-in community, all go to make a picture that one should not miss and that one cannot forget.

The story is based on the Robert W. Service poem of the same name and adds fresh laurels to Director Miller whose second snow picture this is. A carefully chosen cast intelligently impersonates the population of the isolated gold boom town.

Other numbers on the program are Hank Mann in "The Bashful Blacksmith."

We expect to ship a car load of cattle soon. Report what you have at once. Charlevoix Co-Operative Association.—Adv. 44tl.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

part at from 6 to 7 1-2 per cent does not in itself practically refute his claims.

Bankers are wise men, and they know what the folks back home are thinking. Perhaps they direct most of the industrial and economic thought of their communities more than any other class of people, unless it may be the newspaper editors. It is certain that the bankers who visited Washington knew most of the defects in the Federal system of taxation, and they did not hesitate to point them out. Some of the foremost members of the Association went so far as to suggest that there should be more business in government and less government in business. This popular belief is doubtless predicated upon the mistakes that are made in government policies. The Federal Government is in such close working unison with the bankers of the country that the latter have become thoroughly familiar with the financial policies of the Government. It therefore developed that Secretary of the Treasury Houston found a receptive audience when he acknowledged the gross defects of the existing tax laws.

Seek Freedom of Action

Philip H. Gadsden, Chairman of the Emergency Committee of the American Gas Association, says that many gas companies are unable to obtain contracts for oil even at the prevailing high prices. It appears that the automotive industry is getting the lion's share of the available oil supply in the way of gasoline. Mr. Gadsden expresses the belief that freedom from too rigid legislation, both as to standards and to rates is the chief need of the gas interests. By giving the companies freedom to regulate their own prices in accordance with their costs, will, he believes, enable them to buy oil and other necessary supplies for manufacturing their product on an independent basis, without asking unnecessary favors from anybody. This would enable the gas companies to sell their products to the public at the same reasonable margin of profit that is required in every other industry.

Midnight Rides

The "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere" had nothing on a couple of representative business men who had a brief but exciting adventure in Washington, on a moonlight night. These men, visitors in the Capital, hired a big touring car at midnight, and started out to see the town. Espying a couple of attractive women walking on Pennsylvania avenue, they ordered the driver to stop, and invited the women to join them. The invitation was readily accepted, and one of the women, as soon as she was in the car, ordered the driver to "go to the first precinct." A few minutes later the party was landed at a police station, and the business men found to their consternation that their companions were none other than the superintendent of women police and her assistant. They were charged with "mashing" and "disorderly conduct" and bail was fixed at twenty-five dollars apiece by the desk sergeant. The unfortunates gave fictitious names, and then failed to appear in the police court the next morning.

Disposing of the Ex-Presidents until Colonel Roosevelt "objected" and showed the country otherwise, the ex-presidents were usually "has-beens." The question of what to do with them has been debated since General Washington retired to Mt. Vernon, almost crushed in spirit because of the ingratitude and abuse of a large part of his fellow-countrymen. Washington, as an ex-president was about as popular as a wet night among campers in the Adirondacks.

The long line of presidents who followed him returned to private life and permitted themselves to be tucked away into comparative oblivion. But Colonel Roosevelt set a new style, and the American public welcomed the change. They continued to listen most respectfully to the counsel of ex-President Taft. Very shortly the society of ex-presidents will receive Woodrow Wilson as a new member, and doubtless before the country gets around to wonder what to do with him, he will have settled the question for himself. Already it is assumed in Washington that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home in the District of Columbia, and it is known that they have been examining some of the fine residential properties with a view toward purchasing. When the President was in Paris it was made known that he would devote his time to writing histories, upon the completion of his term. It is taken for granted among Washingtonians, that he will take his typewriter and settle down in a nice suburban home, and dispose of himself in the above manner. However, it may be expected that he will feel that he belongs quite as much to the public as Mr. Taft, and the two of them will doubtless be considered as our great unofficial national counselors.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! Read this statement:

Mrs. Leo Allard, 210 W. Upright Ave., Charlevoix, says: "There was a constant, dull, heavy ache in the lower part of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Metcalf's Drug store, cured me."

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead for 3 Months

"I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Sykes, Butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a cake of RAT-SNAP behind a barrel. Months later my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by CENTRAL DRUG STORE CHARLEVOIX HARDWARE CO.

A record hard to equal by one so young was made recently by little Harold Boss, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boss, living one mile north of town, when he picked up one hundred bushels of potatoes in nine hours. Harold says he could have picked up more, but his daddy made him quit work.

Miss Blanche Boss entertained about thirty of the young people at her home last Saturday evening at a Halloween party, and an enjoyable time was had by all. Among the features of the entertainment furnished was an impersonation of Miss Annette Kellerman in one of her celebrated diving stunts. The young lady who did the diving does not care to have her name made public, but allows us to state that she is a primary teacher in the Ellsworth schools.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Metcalf gave a Halloween party for the second grade at the Central school last Friday afternoon. Ice cream, cake, candy and pop-corn were served. The little folks had a merry time.

Miss Manson—"Can someone tell me what 'phonics' means?" Little Boy—"Oh! They are pills the doctor gave me when I was sick."

The sixth grade had a Halloween party last Friday. All the pupils were dressed in costume. Leona Smith's costume was judged as best and Glenroy Iken's as the funniest. The seventh and eighth grades are making posters for "Better Speech Week."

The school day has been lengthened an hour for the benefit of those who decorate the weekly posters with red ink.

The Freshmen had a class party in the high school building Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Rice were chaperones.

The Sophomore Literary Society gave a very interesting program last Thursday. The subject was Handel. A special feature was a study of Handel's most famous oratorio, "The Messiah." The use of the Victrola in connection with this made the program one of unusual interest.

On Friday morning the Mathematics door opened and someone limped painfully out. We said, "Another poor victim of Geometry class." He turned—it was Mr. Hatch. Football is a rough game.

The Faculty, Freshmen and Seniors lost to the Sophomores and Juniors in a football game last Thursday. Score 19-0.

The Senior Literary Society enjoyed an unusual and exceptionally interesting program last Thursday. Early in the week invitations were sent to the members of the class to accompany an Alaska-bound expedition led by Beryl Meggison. The expedition was made realistic by pictures and conversation. After the cold journey the explorers were led to the Domestic Science room where a warm lunch was served by Miss Cinton.

The whole high school participated in an efficiency test last Wednesday. Annabel Comfort had the distinction of having the only perfect paper.

Several of our worthy high school boys are contemplating taking a course in Birdology.

SINGS PRAISES OF "CHARLEVOIX THE GOOD"

"Charlevoix Heaps Up New Claims" Writes a Summer Resident.

That Charlevoix-the-Beautiful is well deserving of its musical appellation is accepted without argument everywhere; but to have its praises sung as "Charlevoix-the-Good" strikes a new note and should be gratifying indeed to the residents of our city. We prefer to believe that it is not mere coincidence which gives Charlevoix, the city, a place in the hearts of men along with that of the Jesuit missionary whose name it renders immortal.

Read the following letter from Rose M. Cody, a summer resident of Charlevoix for many years, and when you next greet your neighbor it will be with a new heart interest:

Charlevoix-the-Beautiful
Charlevoix has easily heaped up new claims for her title during this marvelous October, but who shall tell the unwritten story of Charlevoix-the-Good. Surely none is better fitted than one who, delayed by disastrous illness when on the very threshold of departure has been helped through three long weeks of waiting by constant thoughtful attentions and loving remembrance.

I have always believed that living in Charlevoix ought to make men better, broader and nobler. It seems to me that no one can walk down Bridge street without being helped by the clear, uplifting vision of lake and sky that greets one at every crossing.

But now I know more; I know that living in this dear place must make people kind and tender. Day after day, taking the mind from the thought of suffering, have come glorious branches of autumn foliage, great bouquets of late flowering blossoms—wonderful varieties of phlox; brilliant waving cosmos; brave glowing little pinks—a cheering handful time after time; and even dainty pink roses, one after another from the same bush.

And all this without mentioning the goodies sent to persuade the inner man. Delicious October strawberries; tempting little puddings; plums "from our own trees"; grapes "from our own vines"; fresh eggs "laid by our own hens"; firm little fish just out of the lake and brought to the door all ready to cook for supper; steaming little pitchers of chicken broth and beef broth; appetizers of every sort from the canned-fruit shelf—these are only a few of the many.

And then to cap the climax, in the last hurried hours before train time a delightfully cooked dinner, served on hot dishes, is slipped in through the kitchen door by friends who not only do this kindness; but do it with glee—as if it were the greatest fun they could possibly have.

Oh, if you don't believe in Charlevoix-the-Good, write to me and I will tell you more about it.

Rose M. Cody.

We expect to ship a car load of cattle soon. Report what you have at once. Charlevoix Co-Operative Association.—Adv. 441.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Seventy boys and girls, members of the Junior Epworth League and their friends, had a jolly time at a Halloween party given at the church last Friday night. Much merriment was caused by the grotesque costumes in which some were dressed. Most of those present wore masks. The old witch was the center of attraction until the discovery was made that the witch was none other than Mrs. Candler. The young folks certainly had a merry time for several hours, ending with a real Halloween feed.

Dr. R. J. Slee preached two splendid gospel sermons last Sunday and assisted the local church in raising the larger part of sixteen hundred dollar debt. The church needs about two hundred dollars more to clear off the entire amount. Perhaps those reading this notice would like to assist in this matter.

Service, next Sunday as usual. Miss Anna Wagenaar will have charge of the Epworth League Sunday night at 6 o'clock.

Choir practice Thursday evening following the prayer meeting. Pay money pledged toward the church debt to Mrs. Auld who is our financial secretary.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

An automobile driver arrested on the Gratiot Avenue road to Mt. Clemens tells us that the motorcycle cop's speedometer really registered three or four miles too slow. And it was a great cause of chagrin, the driver says, to be publicly charged with running only 45 miles an hour when he thought he had her up to 60.

Out-of-state tourists have passed a rather pointed criticism upon the highway department of Michigan for its methods of laying out state roads. The roads they say usually follow the most direct route between centers of population. Often the most direct route has proven to be the least attractive one. And tourists, who would generally avoid centers of population entirely if they could, but who are eager to enjoy everything accessible in the way of scenery, complain that in not a few instances they have been cheated out of the main object of their tour.

Thus near Saugatuck the West-ern Michigan Pike runs for several miles directly through the peach and apple belt, well inland from the coast—a route pleasant enough, no doubt, and one which serves admirably for the transportation business of the community. But a mile or two to the west, overlooking the expanse of Lake Michigan from the top of the cliffs, lies the peninsula drive which is of a beauty hardly excelled anywhere in the country. And this drive remains as it always was, a sand road, passable indeed for an automobile, but seldom entered without anxiety, and often not finished without trouble. If this road had been surfaced with cement instead of the one chosen, the journey through the region would be incomparably more enjoyable. As it is, a few travelers brave the road and fail to observe the scenery in their efforts to steer the car; and most of them miss the road entirely, driving along within a mile or two of it in ignorance of its existence.

Here is an opportunity neglected. If the straight road was wisely selected for its utility, and if for that reason it must be preserved, this side road should at any rate be also improved at an early date as a supplementary scenic route. To have it so would be not only good aesthetics, but, from the standpoint of the tourist traffic, good business.—Detroit News.

FACTS ON OUR NEW PRESIDENT

MADE SPECTACULAR RISE FROM OBSCURITY

Was 55 Years Old on Day He was Made Chief Magistrate of United States

If Warren G. Harding, now president-elect of the United States, had only been born in a log cabin—but he wasn't and any truthfully intimate story about him must begin with the bald statement that he was born in a small frame house at Blooming Grove, near Marion, of poor but thrifty parents, his father being a struggling country doctor who rolled his own pills and treated horses as well.

The log cabin story was killed by Harding himself shortly after he was nominated for the presidency and the incident reveals more about the man who is to be the next president of the United States than could be told in a book. It illustrates the absence of any "front" about Harding and his simple sincerity, one of the outstanding traits of the man.

Not Born in Log Cabin
Just after the Chicago convention nominated Harding some of his ever-enthusiastic workers started the story that he was born in a log cabin. It was getting a good running start when newspaper correspondents were called into Harding's office at Washington one day and given a short typewritten statement signed by the candidate, denying in toto the log cabin story.

"I don't like to spoil a good story for you boys," Harding said in explanation, "but the truth is I wasn't born in a log cabin at all. I wish I had been but alas it was only a frame house."

But there is a good story in Harding's spectacular rise anyway. Born in the obscurity of a struggling village in central Ohio, exactly fifty-five years ago election day, Harding, doing business on a shoe-string most of the time has now reached the pinnacle to which only twenty-eight other men in the entire history of this nation have climbed.

Plain Ordinary Folks
It will be difficult for anyone to really believe that the man and woman whose names are on millions of lips today are just plain, ordinary middle western Americans who have spent their lives in a small town struggling for a place among the substantial citizens of the locality.

Nevertheless they are the people novelists seek to describe as the typical Americans, prosperous in a small way and fairly well educated, though not so well read perhaps, knowing a little about many commonplace matters, extremely conventional, regular attendants at church and lodge meetings, fond of fried chicken and of sitting in rocking chairs on the front porch afterward.

There you have the Hardings. They haven't changed much with the good fortune that has recently come to them. It is true that Mrs. Harding used to work in her own kitchen and that now they have a cook, but her husband still has his clothes darned to make them wear longer, shaves himself with an old-fashioned razor, his shirt cuffs are turned when they get frayed on one side, and Mrs. Harding herself wears a hat clear through the season and sometimes longer for she was wearing her last summer straw hat in October this year.

How They Live
The Hardings live in a big green house with a large white front porch on Mount Vernon avenue, a quiet shady street. It is a good street but not in the most exclusive section of Marion, if a town of thirty thousand could have an exclusive section.

There is nothing fancy about the Harding home, inside or out. It is far less pretentious than those of most Marion merchants or citizens of similar standing. The Hardings do not "dress for dinner," nor have tea in the afternoon. Harding likes waffles for breakfast and a well done beefsteak for dinner. There is refinement at their table, but not "style" and no stranger would ever be embarrassed by a confusing array of forks and spoons. They live just like other Americans of moderate means. Mrs. Harding looks after her potted plants and the senator makes frequent rounds of inspection after breakfast or lunch to see that there are no loose boards on the backyard walk or to examine the screen door hinges that have been squeaking for several days.

Not a Stern Man
One thing every visitor to Marion discovers the first thing—the Hardings are just what they are, as Mrs. Harding puts it.

Harding's closest friends have often expressed regret that the campaign photographs of the candidate showed a rather stern visage. They probably portray quite faithfully the features of Harding as he appears in the midst of an earnest speech. But there is another Harding that shows far more warmth sitting around the dinner table while political troubles are left outside for the moment.

Then the genial, easy going, good humored Harding holds sway. Pushing back his chair a little from the table, he will light one of his favorite long rough stogies and look reminiscent.

"Warren, why don't you tell them how you got fired from your first newspaper job," Mrs. Harding will say turning a twinkling eye on her guests.

And Warren, rather reluctantly begins by saying, "Oh, they would not be interested in that."

First Job as a Reporter
Then he tells about his first job as a reporter on the old Marion Mirror, a zealously Democratic paper. Harding, just eighteen, wrote up births, (Continued next week.)

FORTY BUSHELS TO THE ACRE

ESTIMATED CORN YIELD FOR STATE OF MICHIGAN

Potatoes Yield an Average of 107
Bushels an Acre and Buckwheat
About 16 Bushels.

The joint crop report for November 1, issued by Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state and Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates, indicates a slight increase over earlier estimates in the volume of the corn crop, and a slight decrease in the potato, clover seed and buckwheat crops. The month of October was exceptionally favorable for harvesting the late fall crops, and the greater part of the work is completed.

There is considerable corn yet to be husked and some fall plowing and threshing to be done. Recent rains are aiding the growth of fall-sown wheat and rye, pastures and seeding.

The estimated yield of corn is 40 bushels per acre. This is one of the largest crops on record and one bushel more than last year. The quality is unusually good, being 92 per cent, or 15 per cent better than the average of the last ten years.

The yield of potatoes is found to be 107 bushels per acre. This is the largest yield per acre since 1914, but owing to a considerably less acreage, the production is about 10,000,000 bushels less than in that year. The yield is variable. Some counties in the western half of the state reported as low as 80 bushels per acre, while some eastern and upper peninsula counties average as high as 150 and 175 bushels per acre. The quality is generally good, the average being 94 per cent against a ten-year average of 87 per cent.

The yield of buckwheat is 16 bushels per acre, making a total crop of 672,000 bushels, or slightly more than was produced in 1919.

The harvesting of sugar beets is nearly completed. The lifting and hauling of the beets was done with unusual speed because of the favorable weather conditions that prevailed during the time. The condition of the crop at time of harvest was 93 per cent as compared with a ten-year average of 86 per cent.

A special inquiry relative to the quality of the bean crop shows the average to be 96 per cent, and that the average pick is 3.5 per cent, which is equivalent to 2.1 pounds per bushel.

HELD-UP AT POINT OF GUN

BANDITS PULL OFF STUNT IN DAYLIGHT

R. L. Kelly of Boyne City, Held-up Near Greenski Hill and Robbed of His Money

R. L. Kelly of Boyne City, was held up by two armed bandits shortly after one o'clock Tuesday, near Greenski Hill, on the Boyne City-Charlevoix road, and relieved of his pocketbook containing between six and seven dollars.

Kelly was on his way to Charlevoix, driving a Ford car, and on account of the rain, had his side curtains up. He noticed two men in the road ahead of him, and upon being requested to stop, thought the men wanted to ride with him. He told them to get in, but was informed they did not care to ride, but if he knew what was best for him, he would deliver his roll at once. Kelly did so at once without further argument or invitation.

The bandits then informed him to drive on to Charlevoix, and not to stop, as they would watch him until he was out of sight. Kelly, in an interview with the Courier, said his little 'ol Ford rambled right along without a stop until he reached this city, where he at once informed Chief of Police Weikel of his troubles.

The description of the two bandits given by Kelly is rather hazy. He said they were both young men, one with a week's growth of whiskers, and the other a younger man. They were armed with a shot gun and a rifle. The last he saw of them they were walking down the road the same direction he was traveling.

Within a half hour, Kelly, accompanied by Chief of Police Weikel and Under-sheriff W. T. Driggett, were at the scene of the hold up, but no trace of the men could be found, nor had anyone seen two men of their description in that vicinity.

Officers are still at work and may yet apprehend the hold-up meff. A short time later, it is said another attempt to hold up a car was made by two men answering the same description, but the driver of the car paid no attention to them and drove by.

FINE SAMPLES OF TEXAS FRUIT

Sent to Charlevoix Friends by Former Citizen.

The Courier is indebted to Mrs. Mary Prevost for a small basket of fruit containing fine samples of lemons (in fact, the largest lemon ever had handed us), oranges, kumquats and pomegranates.

We readily confess our ignorance as to what the two latter taste like, but have been told they are excellent eating when ripe. The lemon is a monster, the largest we have ever seen, and Mrs. Prevost tells us she had several at home that were even larger than the one she presented to us.

The fruit was grown in the yard of a former Charlevoix resident, Mr. Henry Fox, who left this city some twenty years ago and has lived at Palacios, Texas, for the past sixteen years. Mr. Fox, we understand, owned the land at the east end of what is now the Loeb Farms.

FISH INDUSTRY IS THREATENED

LACK OF FUNDS GREATLY RETARDS WORK.

Legislature to be Asked to Pass
Angler's License Law—Industry Faces Ruin.

Believing that the supply of fish in Michigan's inland lakes and rivers is endangered because of the lack of state funds with which to keep the supply equal to the demands of the fishermen, the Michigan Fish commission will ask the next legislature to pass an angler's license law. The law would provide a license fee of probably not more than one dollar for each fisherman. The sum collected would be used to replenish the lakes and streams with fish fry and thus keep the supply plentiful.

W. J. Hunsaker, president of the fish commission, with headquarters in Saginaw, is active in behalf of the proposed legislation. In a signed statement to The Associated Press Mr. Hunsaker has outlined his reasons for desiring the license law and detailed the benefits that he believes would result to the state at large. His statement follows:

"The alarmingly rapid decrease of the food and game fish of Michigan's inland waters and the threatened ruin of one of the state's most noted attractions for tourists and summer visitors is a fact that must be faced at once. The fish are being taken from our waters faster than they are being put in.

"Despite the fact that hook and line angling was good in the state the past season there is a distinct danger for the future. An unusually favorable season and the increased planting by the fish commission during the past few years, especially of trout, bass, perch and bluegills, accounts for the better fishing.

"Each year for the past six or eight years the commission has planted more fish than in the immediate preceding year, but it has become obvious that with its present facilities and revenue the commission cannot possibly keep up with the 'out-go,' in other words, the fish are being taken from the waters faster than they can be put in. Expert fishermen declare there are 25 per cent fewer fish in our waters now than there were a year ago. This condition is likely to be evident to anglers next year. Unless some radical advance is made in the work of restoring fish life in Michigan lakes and streams the reputation of the state as one of the most prolific 'fish states' in the country will be lost, and one of its most valuable attractions as a summer resort center, an asset that fairly can be computed in millions of dollars, will be gone.

"Few of our citizens realize that this attraction annually draws thousands of residents of other states to spend all or part of their summers in Michigan. State expenses are piling up. We all realize that state taxation is burdensome. The chief work of the next legislature will be to reduce expenses, rather than increase them. Therefore the fish commission cannot and should not seek an appropriation with which to enlarge the scope of its work.

"Realizing those things it is proposed that the anglers, those who most benefit from the work of the commission, shall furnish the means to replenish the waters for whose vanishing life they are responsible.

"The legislature will be asked to follow the lead of other state assemblies and pass a law this winter providing for an angler's rod license. A resident license probably of not more than a dollar a year will be asked, somewhat after the plan of the hunter's license. It is possible that women and children will be eliminated from its provisions. Such a law would not be burdensome and the taxpayers would be relieved of supporting the fish commission. At the same time the commission would have sufficient funds to carry on its work on such a scale as would maintain a good supply of fish at all times."

W. C. T. U. Meeting Friday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. P. R. Ross, 102 Nettleton street. Leaders are Miss Rogers and Mrs. Saltonstall. Topic, "Women in Civics." Mrs. Simmons will give her report of the district convention.

HOG CHOLERA PREVALENT IN STATE

More Than Three Hundred Fifty Herds Now Affected.

More than 350 herds of hogs in Michigan are affected by hog cholera, in an epidemic that is gaining serious proportions, according to S. S. Halliday, state live stock commissioner.

To meet the epidemic and aid in its eradication, the board of state auditors on Thursday of last week, authorized three additional field men for the commissioners' staff, their salaries to be paid out of the emergency fund.

Counties where the malady is most prevalent, according to Halliday, are Saginaw, Gratiot, Clinton, Shiawassee, Genesee, Tuscola, Livingston, Ingham, Eaton, Barry, Washtenaw, Branch, St. Joseph, Ionia and Oakland, with the most serious epidemics reported from Shiawassee and Oakland.

The chief cause of the epidemic, according to Halliday, is the low price for hogs which has resulted in a tendency among farmers to hold their hogs and to neglect the health of the porkers.

No cases as yet have been reported in Charlevoix county, but it will be to the interest of our farmers to keep careful watch of their herds.

Annual Event Pulled Off Without Big Casualty List.

The annual Knight of Pythius hunt, scheduled for last Wednesday, was a success and the supper the following evening was enjoyed by the Knights and their wives.

No serious casualties were reported. Of course in some sections of the county, especially where some of the older hunters spent the day, game will be a minus quantity for at least a year or two.

"Bill" Lynn's bunch were the winners over the Bert Carey outfit, and piled up such a score against their opponents that it fairly took the heart out of them.

After the supper the evening was spent in playing cards and dancing.

AFLOAT IN LAKE MICHIGAN

TOW LINE BREAKS IN RAGING SEA TUESDAY.

Captain Charles Allers of St. James Has Miraculous Escape From Drowning.

Afloat in the raging seas on Lake Michigan in a boat without power for nearly ten hours, was the experience of Capt. Charles Allers of St. James, Tuesday.

Capt. Allers, his 15 year old son, and Jerry Palmer, left the island about eight o'clock Tuesday forenoon bound for Charlevoix. His son and Palmer were in a fish boat, and Capt. Allers in another boat which was being towed. Shortly after leaving St. James the wind increased in violence until the heavy seas nearly swamped both boats. When about fifteen miles from Charlevoix, the tow line broke. Attempt after attempt was made to pick up the broken line, which was made impossible on account of the high seas. Finally the fish boat continued on its way to Charlevoix, leaving Capt. Allers alone in his boat without motive power of any kind.

Upon reaching Charlevoix, the local coast guards were appealed to for help, and they immediately set out in search of the boat containing Capt. Allers. After a search until dark the coast guard life boat returned without finding any trace of the boat containing Allers.

A patrol of the beach was instituted, but hope for the missing boat was about given up, as it was thought that it would surely capsize and go to the bottom of the lake.

But being afloat alone, in a boat without power, had no terrors for Capt. Allers. When the tow line broke, and he was cast adrift, his chief thought was for the safety of his son and Palmer in the other boat. He took a heavy piece of iron which was in the boat, tied it to a rope, which acted as a drag, and kept his craft headed into the seas. About ten o'clock he landed in the bay near Big Rock point. As the boat struck bottom, two oil barrels in the stern of the boat, smashed the cabin and as they came through the rear, Allers went overboard and walked ashore.

He found a fence near the shore, which he followed, and arrived at the Waller home about 10:30. After resting awhile, he borrowed a lantern and came to Charlevoix, wet, but still in good condition for a man who is nearly 70 years of age, having undergone the hardships and exposure he had gone through.

Jack Couldn't Build a Ladder as Fast as the Bean Stalk Grew

We often think of Jack and his bean stalk problem. Somehow, his bean plant that grew and grew and grew and his ladder that couldn't grow, bring home to us our own perplexing problems.

Like Jack's bean stalk, the costs of operating an efficient telephone system in Michigan have grown and grown and, too, just like Jack's ladder, the rates with which we must meet this growth have done little more than stand still.

Jack and your telephone company must have larger ladders.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

James Smith, crossing from Bois Blanc yesterday afternoon with his gasoline boat, when within a mile of the Dummy light, says he ran within a short distance of a flock of wild geese, perhaps about 300, resting in the water on their way south. On the near approach of the boat the flock arose from the water and continued southward. He says that it was the first time he ever saw geese paddling about in the straits and that many of them were pure white.—Cheboygan Tribune, Nov. 4.

Mrs. James Johnson was elected sheriff of Roscommon county on the Republican ticket last Tuesday. She defeated Walter Gardiner, her Democratic rival. Her husband had been sheriff during the last four years.

The Upper Peninsula reports wild strawberries growing in the woods, pussy willows coming out, wild flowers blooming, apple trees in blossom, ladybugs flying about, and grasshopper eggs hatching. Everything like spring, except they don't report any citizen who thinks that now, by being careful, he can make his coal hold out till the last danger of cold weather is past.

Quite generally people who have joys in the country or the small towns are being urged to keep those jobs, and not leave them for the precarious industrial life of the cities. Quite generally people have been thus urged ever since Nebuchadnezzar decided he would prefer to dwell in Babylon—if our history is correct—even though he still felt the inner irresistible urge to eat grass. And yet, while the population of Michigan has grown nearly half a million in the last 10 years, that growth has all been in the cities, while the population of some 45 farming and small town counties has declined. Urge on, you tireless urgers—urge! As a result of all your urging, you may be sure that all those who remain in the country would remain there anyway.—Detroit News.

The last issue of the Graphic, the weekly newspaper of Big Rapids, was published last Saturday. Shortage and high cost of print paper caused its suspension.

The total value of real and personal property on the assessment rolls of Grand Traverse county as equalized by the board of supervisors is $15,497,985. Traverse City is assessed at $7,834,290 and the several townships at $7,663,695. A year ago the valuation as equalized was $15,382,765.

Booze runners and manufacturers of moonshine are more careful in the Onaway, Rogers section of the state since state police have rounded up several violators and several men have been sent to prison. Cecil White and Zigmund Sobezak were convicted at Onaway of violation of the liquor law sent to Jackson for six months. Mike Muzezinski, Mrs. August Tuljetski and Otto Reiger, Robers, are being held on charges of making moonshine, state police have rounded up the trio in a midnight raid.

AT THE MOVIES

Charles Ray dons overalls and carries a dinner pail in his new picture, "Red Hot Dollars," which will be the attraction at the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. The youthful star has the role of Tod Burke, a machinist in a small town iron foundry. Peter Garton, owner of the foundry, is cold and selfish and has been the means of driving to the wall Angus Muir, his old business associate. Muir and his pretty daughter, Janet, live in poor financial straits in a humble cottage. Tod picks up an acquaintance with them. Later, his quick wit enables him to save his employer's life when a heavy timber falls, though Tod himself is badly hurt. Old Garton is affected by the boy's sacrifice and, taking him to his mansion, looks after him while he regains his strength and then decides to adopt him. Tod tells Muir of his good fortune, innocent of the strong enmity between the Scotchman and Garton, and Muir drives him out of his house. Thereupon, Tod gets Janet a job in the Garton offices and the two evolve a clever and successful scheme to bring about a reconciliation between Muir and Garton.

"Red Hot Dollars" is said to provide Charles Ray with a characteristic role. The supporting company is headed by Gladys George. It is a Paramount-Artcraft picture produced by Thomas H. Ince.

A Correction.

Figures sometimes lie, as is true in those quoted in our last issue of the Courier regarding the yield of potatoes on the farm of John Boss, Jr. The figures as printed were 483, but should have been 843, a transposition, making a difference in the yield per acre of 400 bushels. Mistakes sometimes occur, and the Courier is always willing to make correction when notified of errors.

That good old camp meeting hymn,
"Keep in the Middle of the Road," has given way before the modern chant of the motorist, "Keep on your own side of the traffic line." In order to insure that every driver shall stop where he belongs, the fashion of making lines of demarcation along suburban highways is now in the cities is fast gaining in popularity.The superintendent of the Marquette county, Mich., road board, had a stretch of highway under his supervision which was the scene of many accidents. The road surface was good, the scenery fine, and a constantly increasing stream of traffic went over the road paying little attention to keeping well over to the right, when once the city limits had been passed. Many collisions and accidents resulted. To remedy matters, eight-inch center lines of white were painted all along the road, with arrows pointing to the right where tourists turned into the highway, and along the curves, where the tendency of the driver is always to hug the inside. The scheme was immediately successful. The automobilist accustomed to city traffic signals recognized the warning line and the pointing arrows, and obeyed them. Accidents have been reduced to a minimum.The plan is simple and practical.
A light line along a dark pavement or a dark line on the white surface operates not only as an immediate warning but as a habit-forming aid.
Once the habit of staying on his own side of the road is well established, the driver will be influenced by it though the marking line be obliterated by wear or buried under the snow.DIPLOMATIC LIQUOR.
It may go against the grain forAmerican citizens of bibulous propensity to see foreign diplomats at Washington permitted to import and consume alcoholic liquor, while they themselves are barred from such privilege. It may also offend the moral sensibilities of many conscientious people. There is no question, however, of the legal right of the diplomats to do this, under the law of nations, and also under the specific provisions of our federal statutory law.The latter has explicitly excepted from the operation of the prohibition enforcement act liquor intended for the use of properly accredited diplomats, on their own premises. This is merely a recognition of the general principle of international law which recognizes the residence of an ambassador, minister or other diplomatic representative as "extraterrito-rial," being technically a part of his own country and therefore not subject to the jurisdiction of domestic law. The personal effects of diplomats are likewise regarded "everywhere, in civilized countries, as sacred from search and seizure.It is well that the matter has been straightened out by the United States government, and the rather absurd controversy between the state department and the customs service brought to an end, and the growing irritation of foreign representatives thereby allayed. It would be a graceful thing if those representatives would acquiesce voluntarily in the prohibition regime, but they are under no obligation to do so, and any effort to compel them might result in grave restrictions, hereafter of diplomatic prerogatives, in cases of greater importance.A SUGGESTION.
Here is a little suggestion. Never carry over an election grouch. There proved to be considerable difference of opinion, in this county at least, over the school amendment. Do not nourish any bitterness because your neighbor did not see that question the same as you did. The next time this neighbor and yourself may be supporting the same proposition.
In other words politics is give and take; the "crucify" policy never pays in politics. If you really want to mix a little religion into the game here is the best formula we know of:
"And now abideth faith, hope and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.""I am happy to utter my gratitude, but am not exultant. It is not a personal victory. It is a renewed expression of confidence in Americanism and a national call to the Republican party. It is all so serious, the obligations are so solemn,
that instead of exultant I am more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part, and thatall those called to responsibility may meet the aspirations and expectations of America and the world.—
From President-elect Harding's post-election statement.The New York World says it 'cannot regard Mr. Harding as the type of a man who ought to be president of the United States.' That may be one reason why the state of New York piled up a million plurality for him.The election results lead the New York World to despair of the intelligence of the American people. Well, there are a few spots where reason still reigns—like Mississippi and South Carolina.Alan A. Ryan's campaign performance as an impersonator of Dr. Burchard caused the public to call loudly for the hook.The southern Democrat still votes the straight ticket and receives the reports of a Republican national victory with a thankful heart.One lesson of this campaign ought never be forgotten; a whispering brigade of libel-mongers cannot win an election.The enthusiasm of the Democratic politicians for woman-suffrage was an awful example of misplaced confidence.That low chuckling you hear to the westward is Wm. Jennings Bryan mourning over the election result.The people did their part on election day; the Republican party's job has just begun.Europe has a dozen wars going; this country is at peace. Yet we are told that the way to get us out of war is to get us into an arrangement whereby these wars become our own responsibility.BETTER HIGHWAYS*WAR "T. N. T." AIDS HIGHWAYSHigh Explosive Allotted Bureau of Public Roads for Use in Road Construction.Trinitrotoluene is its proper scientific name, but the human tongue has its limitations, and so this much-talked-of explosive is generally known by its abbreviation, "T. N. T." It is a pale yellow crystalline substance which used in the late war to furnish the explosive element for shells, bombs, and the depth bombs, which did so much to check the submarine activities.The sudden collapse of the German resistance found the United States government with a large supply of T.

N. T. on hand which it was not advisable to store. The bureau of mines demonstrated by experiment that this
"T. N. T." could be used for industrial purposes, and allotments from the war department's stock were assigned to the department of the interior for use in the reclamation service, national parks service, Indian service, Alaskan engineering commission, and to the department of agriculture for use in road construction work supervised by the bureau of public roads.The value of T. N. T. in road building operations has been fully demonstrated, and the bureau of public roads has published a circular to describe its characteristics, and to furnish directions for use of the explosive in place of dynamite for blasting, ditch digging and rock breaking. As a general rule, T. N. T. may be used for any purpose to which dynamite may be put. It is safe to handle; does not cause "dynamite headaches" as readily as the commonplace explosive, and is a little more powerful than low-percentage dynamite.Olympic Games.
The origin of the Olympic games is lost in antiquity. The official list of victors begins with Cincinnatus, who won the foot race in 776 B. C. They were celebrated every four years and were at their height in the fifth and fourth centuries B. C. The games continued until 393 A. D. when they were suppressed by Emperor Theodosius. The modern series of Olympic games began in Athens in 1896.To Clean Furniture.

Circulation counts—we have it

Selling of Tires
by a dealer, and the purchasing of tires by the consumer combines two interests and ambitions; that of the dealer to unload his stock at the highest margin of profit possible, and that of the consumer to buy a good tire at as low a price as possible. However, here are some facts that must be borne in mind when purchasing a tire. It is not always the lowest priced tire that is the cheapest to buy, but the cheapest tire always to buy is the tire that gives the most mileage for the amount of money invested in it. Now here is absolutely the cheapest tire for you to buy; it is lowest in price of any good tire sold and has more mileage in it for the money than any other tire made. Fox, the Tire Man, sells them direct from factory to consumer, at 303 Antrim street, Charlevoix; Michigan.—Adv. 451tpd.

WALLACE WEISS DEPT. STORE

ELLSWORTH, MICHIGAN

ELLSWORTH

Quite a number from here attended the Henley sale on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. A. L. Ely and Mrs. Wallace Weiss were Traverse City visitors on Tuesday of this week.

Jake Waasmaar of Henryetta, Oklahoma, arrived on Thursday of last week for a two weeks stay.

Richard Dennis, Sr., of Detroit, is in this vicinity looking after his farm and other business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher and son, Kenneth, and daughter, Alice, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ely.

Sugar beets have been coming in fast recently, and two hundred and fifty two loads were taken in the first week. Beginning with Saturday, October 30, 392 tons were received up until the Friday night following, and on Saturday, November 6th, 98 tons were brought in.

Paul Johncheck has produced the record sugar beets in this locality, so far at least this year. One beet weighed 21 pounds and the other weighed 13 pounds. The largest was sold by Mr. Johncheck to Charlevoix parties, but the smaller one was brought into town and placed on exhibition.

The final returns on the school exhibit at the Antrim County fair have been received, and the teachers and pupils of the Ellsworth schools feel highly elated, as should the parents of the pupils. The exhibit drew 1st on army display, 2nd on general school exhibit, 1st on collection of grasses, 1st on woods, 2nd on grains, 1st on insects and 1st on agricultural products. In addition to this there were 1st and 2nd prizes given on the paintings by Miss Jennie Groenink, 1st on drawing of model dairy barn by Hero Bral, and 2nd on same subject by John Peebles, and 1st on drawing of model silo by Jessie Kinner. The Ellsworth school were forced to compete with the high schools of Mancelona, Elk Rapids, Bellaire and Central Lake, and entered the contest hoping for very little. The fact however, that they won more first prizes than any school in the county proves beyond a doubt that pupils and teachers are pulling together this year, as perhaps never before.

Value of Youthful Thinking.

We are learning that the fabled foundation of youth lies in ourselves; is in our own mentality. Perpetual rejuvenation and renewal are possible through right thinking. We look as old as we think and feel, because thought and feeling mutually change our appearance in exact accordance with their persistence or their variations. It is impossible to appear youthful and remain young unless we feed young. Youthful thinking should be a life habit.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago Daily News.

Tattoo Marks.

Although tattoo marks are generally asserted to be indelible if produced by the insertion of carbonaceous matter, it is said they will disappear if first well rubbed with a salve of pure needle oil and lard, then with a solution of potash, and finally with hydrochloric acid. It would be advisable to consult a skin specialist.

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead for 3 Months.

"I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Sykes, Butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a cake of RAT-SNAP behind a barrel. Months later, my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by CENTRAL DRUG STORE CHARLEVOIX HARDWARE CO.

Don't forget that W. A. Boss has a car load of Portland cement. Now is the time to buy.—Adv. 44t2.

marriages, deaths, met all trials, and did politics on the side. His boss, busy in politics, was out of town a good deal and let Warren write the editorials warning him that they must be fervently Democratic in tone.

"You know some of the best editorials I ever wrote were for that Democratic paper," Harding says. But all the while he was an active Republican worker, though not old enough to vote. He was one of the large Blaine campaign hats adopted by Republican partisans during that campaign. He got away with it for a while, but local Democrats began to complain to Harding's boss about him allowing a Republican to get out his paper. Then Harding made his first political decision. It was either discard the Blaine hat or be fired. He was fired. "I have been a strong party man ever since," Harding adds.

Bought a Newspaper.
Then you may hear Harding tell how he and a boy chum between them borrowed $300 and bought the Marion Star after the sheriff had taken charge of the property. They printed it one page at a time on a small job press—and it was the first small town daily in Ohio, Harding says. But the partnership broke up when the telephone was introduced in Marion. Harding, who had to get all the advertising and collect news as well, wanted to put in a telephone to save time. His partner said it was a silly idea. Harding ordered it in anyway and the partner coming back to the office was so angry that he demanded dissolution of the partnership and insisted on being put on salary.

"I put him on the payroll at nine dollars a week," Harding said. "And he was better off than I was then."

Set His Own Type
But the young publisher struggled along, setting up his own type often writing all the news and soliciting most of the advertising. When the Star grew to need a circulation manager, Mrs. Harding dropped her housework and took the job. She went down to the Star office every day, kept the books of all subscribers, collected for the paper, hired the carriers and supervised the distribution of the paper from the time it came out of the press.

"In those days I knew every subscriber of the Star and I knew just how much he owed on his paper bill," Mrs. Harding said one day. She also had her troubles with the newsboys. One day a youngster ran a small electric wire around the press to the rack where Mrs. Harding pulled out the papers.

When she put her hand down to take out a bunch, she touched the live wire and got a shock.

And Then She Spanked Him
She started on the trail of the offending youngster who had given her trouble before and, having obtained his mother's proxy after an attraction of some weeks before promptly collared the young man and turned him over her knee and spanked him. A few Sundays ago fifty former newsboys of the Star, all now prosperous young men scattered in many cities came to Marion. They were gathered on the front porch with Senator and Mrs. Harding.

"Where is the boy Mrs. Harding spanked," Senator Harding asked. Five hands went up in the crowd.

That is Mrs. Harding's way. She is frank, outspoken, and the most inveterate campaigner of the two. She appears to really enjoy shaking hands during a political affair and around her home in Marion she is out from early morning until after dark greeting visitors.

Her good humored manner has made a hit with political audiences throughout the campaign.

He Goes to the Senate
When Harding went to the senate Mrs. Harding set up a home in Washington, but to the consternation of many ladies of the senate, she continued to invite her old friends in regardless of their social standing in the "senatorial circle."

BREAK JAIL AT PETOSKEY

Saw Bars and Crawl Through Opening Eighty by Sixteen Inches

Two prisoners in the Emmet county jail sawed their way to freedom during the early morning of Thursday, November 11, Armistice Day, and so far have not been recaptured. The men were George Near, charged with burglary at the Fitchman Department Store, and Robert Johnson, negro, charged with cashing bad checks in Petoskey.

The men removed green putty from one of the windows on the south side of the jail, put it around one of the bars of the window and sawed the bar off in nice shape. Sheriff Miller, who had just returned from a trip to Fort Leavenworth, said he believed the men were given outside assistance, probably having been supplied with a keen cutting hack saw.

No one heard the men at their work and no one heard them crawl through the window to freedom. The hole through which they escaped was about eighty by sixteen inches in size. Near was believed to have escaped easily but Johnson was thought to have had difficulty in crawling through the small opening.

News of the escape has been sent to every sheriff and chief of police of the state and local officers believe the men will soon be rounded up.

Near was waiting trial, having been in jail several weeks. Johnson was brought back here from Elkhardt, Ind., about ten days ago.

WIDLAR CREW IS RESCUED

BECKER LINE STEAMER GOES TO PIECES IN GALE

Terrific Storm Pounds Superior—Wrecks Ship on Pancake Shoal

The tug Iowa arrived in the Soo locks late Monday with 22 of the survivors of the ill-fated steamer Widlar which grounded on Pancake Shoals Friday evening. All the crew was saved including the mascot, a fox terrier dog named Tontie. The dog spent the first night of the storm locked up in the after cabin but later was rescued by one of the crew.

The men spent the greater part of the time keeping warm in the forward cabin using furniture after their fuel ran out for firewood. The Canadian tug Ainsworth which was on the scene for some time picked up the remaining ten of the crew. In the rear of the tug as it entered the Soo locks was a lifeboat from the Widlar, now pounding to pieces. The boat was covered with ice.

Capt. Arthur Forbes of Ashtabula, Ohio, in command of the ill-fated vessel, was among the first to be rescued by a passing steamer, the Livingston. Other members of the crew have been picked up by passing steamers.

Capt. Forbes in his wireless report declared that the Widlar was a total wreck. His message was the first word received as to the fate of the steamer that had been overdue more than seventy-two hours at the Soo. He made no mention of loss of life.

First intimation of the Widlar's fate was received at the Soo Saturday night when Capt. William Meiser of the steamer John Erickson, reported that he had sighted the Widlar drifting helplessly upon the shoals during the storm.

Friday's storm, which wrecked the Widlar and in which it is feared other lake craft met with serious mishap, was one of the fiercest in that region in years. A heavy gale from the northwest pounded the surface of Lake Superior and Whitefish bay into huge waves, while a heavy snow storm most of the day made navigation difficult both day and night.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION by the Governor

"Praise walteth for thee, O God, in Zion; and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy paths drop fatness.

The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, they also sing."

Following the custom established by our fathers nearly three hundred years ago, it is entirely fitting that we should set apart one day in the year as Thanksgiving Day.

We have gathered this year a most abundant harvest. We have enough and to spare. Our own people will be fed, and out of our abundance we shall help to satisfy the world's hunger. For this and for other blessings, for peace at home and abroad, for the general spirit of content, for work to do and the will to do it, the people of Michigan may well give thanks and make solemn and public acknowledgment of their debt to the Most High.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the President of the United States in designating, "Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer."

Coleman C. Vaughan, Secretary of State
Albert E. Sleeper, Governor

CROP GROWERS TO ORGANIZE

BETTER MARKETING SOUGHT
BY NATIONAL BODY

Great Variations in Prices Paid in Different Parts of the Country

Preliminary steps have been taken in the formation of a national body of growing crop vegetable growers, and Michigan growers are planning to take their place in the country-wide organization. The purpose of the association which is being fostered by the American Federation of Farm Bureaus, is to bring about more satisfactory marketing conditions for growers of growing crops.

Great variations in the prices paid for crops in different parts of the country, and generally unsatisfactory marketing conditions from the grower's point of view, are among the problems to be met by the proposed organization.

"Canning factory men in Michigan have argued that they could not pay more for peas in this state because the canning people were paying a lower price in Wisconsin," said C. W. Waid, extension specialist at M. A. C. in discussing the situation. "Canning factory men in the eastern states have put up the argument that they could not pay the price asked by growers because tomatoes could be purchased much cheaper in Indiana and Illinois."

"These inequalities are among the problems which must be faced by the new association. If canning crops can be grown more cheaply in one section than in another, then there is justice in a corresponding variation in price. If on the other hand the cost of production is quite similar in different sections, a more uniform rate should be paid for canning crops."

A committee consisting of one man from each state interested has been appointed by President Howard of the American Federation of Farm Bureaus to look into the organization possibilities for the growers. C. W. Waid Organization Secretary of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America, and Extension Specialist at the State Agricultural College, has been named the Michigan representative on this committee, and is co-operating with the state and county farm bureaus.

MATHEWSON HAS TUBERCULOSIS

"CHRISTY," IDOL OF FANS IS LATEST VICTIM

White Plague is No Respector of Persons—Takes Outdoor Man
As well As Inside Workers

The news that "Christy" Mathewson, the idol of scores of millions of baseball fans, has fallen a victim to tuberculosis is now being treated for that disease in a New York sanatorium has shocked large masses of people into an acute realization of the fact that the white plague is no respecter of persons. Some of the world's greatest men have had their careers cut short by tuberculosis, the most familiar to all being perhaps the lovable Robert Louis Stevenson.

But men like Stevenson were indoor persons who were supposed to have contracted the disease because of too much poring over books and burning of midnight oil. It is a popular notion that the outdoor man, like a baseball player, is practically immune.

And the man-of-outdoor habits has much the best of the chances, the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association declares, but he is not immune. The general public forgets that tuberculosis is almost always contracted in childhood and lies dormant till the time when conditions for its development are favorable. The outdoor man usually builds up a strong constitution that keeps the disease at bay; but he sometimes has periods of illness when his vitality is depleted, and then he is in danger like anybody else who has the germs in his body.

To bring commonsense information about tuberculosis to the attention of the people of the state is one of the functions of the Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association. Such information is the best safeguard against the disease and counteracts the masses of information that are constantly being spread by nostrum vendors. The state association expects to increase its efforts against the disease in 1921, and to finance this work the annual Christmas Seal Sale is to open December 1 and last till December 11, during which time the association expects to sell 30,000 seals.

STATE NEEDS NEW COLLEGE

Education and Training of Teachers Demands Attention

Michigan's opportunity to establish a nationally recognized Teachers' College and College of Education at Ann Arbor will never be better than right now according to Thomas E. Johnson, superintendent of public instruction.

Normal schools of the state are doing excellent work in turning out teachers for the grades and smaller high schools, but Mr. Johnson declares that the university must have a college that will furnish teachers for the larger schools, the principals and superintendents.

Teaching is becoming as specialized as other professions and proper training should be provided in the state. The big teachers' colleges of the country are now at Columbia and Leland Stanford, Jr., with Chicago trailing these two schools. By installing an efficient college of education it is almost assured that Michigan could usurp Chicago's position at the start and dominate the central western field.

Plans have already been made for a new training school at Ann Arbor and installation of a complete College of Education would work with this plan. The proposed new college would be separated from the Literary College and have a new dean.

Brown-Hoskins
Mrs. Hazel Hoskins of Boyne City was united in marriage to Mr. Tom Brown of Toledo, Ohio, Wednesday evening, November 10, at eight-thirty at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Henry Candler. Mr. Earl E. Brown of Toledo, Ohio, and Miss Winnie Petter of this city attended the couple. The ring service was used after which the wedding supper was served at James Earl's restaurant on Bridge street.

The happy couple started on their honeymoon trip to Toledo where they expect to make their home for the winter returning to Charlevoix next summer.

SCHOOL WEEK DECEMBER 5 TO 11

EVERY AVAILABLE MEANS OF PUBLICITY TO BE USED

Civic Organizations Asked to Devote
One Meeting to Discussion of Local Needs

The United States commissioner of education has designated the week of December 5-11 as "school week" and has asked the governors and chief school officers of the states to co-operate in bringing before the people accurate information concerning the condition and needs of the schools. It is hoped that widespread discussion will deepen general appreciation of the value of education, and will result in better educational opportunities through larger appropriations for schools of all kinds and grades.

Every available means of publicity will be used, from the churches to the motion picture screen. Chambers of commerce, boards of trade, women's clubs, labor unions and all civic organizations and associations will be asked to devote one meeting to a discussion of local education needs. In the schools themselves teachers will explain to pupils how the schools are supported how much money is needed or spent for them, their economic, social and civic value and the general state of education in their communities.

Educational problems in this country are too numerous and too vital to the nation's lasting welfare to be solved in one week. However, the mere publishing of facts about school needs and methods, so that every citizen in every walk of life may know more than he ever knew before about the part the school plays in the nation's life, will be a good thing. As present conditions and requirements are brought into the foreground they will arouse interest and stimulate thought on the part of citizens who have been indifferent to them in the past. School authorities and educators, as well as public-spirited and fore-sighted private citizens, can make school week count for real gains to education in the United States if they use it to catch public attention and follow it up through many succeeding weeks with the steady development of a program of constructive improvement.

PROTECT FISH IN MICHIGAN

LACK OF OXYGEN CAUSES EX-TERMINATION OF FISH LIFE

Rivers and Streams not Public Sewers—Michigan Must Enforce Sanitary Laws

Michigan's summer resort industry which attracts vacationists who spend $100,000,000 each season, and the state's fisheries, with earnings based at $25,000,000 yearly, will be destroyed unless adequate sanitary measures are taken to protect the fish life in lakes and streams, declared Dr. R. M. Olin, state health commissioner, today.

"Lack of oxygen rather than fisherman's luck is the cause of the extermination of fish life in Michigan's inland lakes and streams," Dr. Olin says. "Industrial wastes and untreated city sewage reduce, in the process of decomposition, the supply of oxygen, and the fish smother in great numbers as they have in the Shiawassee, Saginaw, Pine, and Raisin rivers, for example."

Until Michigan industries discard the notion that rivers and streams are public sewers, the extermination of fish life will continue, according to Dr. Olin. Nearly all the industrial wastes, such as oil from automobile factories, milk washings from condensaries and dairies, and beet sugar refuse, are detrimental to the fish, it is said. Even in the streams which appear to have enough oxygen to enable the fish to live, the organic matter in the factory wastes and untreated city sewage may clog their gills and so prevent breathing.

"Though the pollution of streams will not kill the fish directly," said Dr. Olin in continuing, "they often become unpalatable as food after living in filth for a short time. Large quantities of Michigan fish shipped out of the state were condemned for food last year by other states. The Great Lakes as well as the inland bodies of water, are being affected by the insanitary conditions of the rivers and streams which empty into them and the fish are being driven farther and farther from the shores and bays."

"To save her fish life Michigan must follow the example of Pennsylvania in providing and enforcing adequate sanitary laws. That the state's lakes and streams represent a real economic value is evidenced by the thousands of non-resident fishing licenses issued yearly to vacationists. Not only will these people stop coming to Michigan resorts if this form of recreation is not protected, but even Michigan residents will be forced to go to other states for their vacations and recreation."

WAGE FIGHT AGAINST THE GRASSHOPPER

Thirty Counties Will Make a Coordinated Effort.

With the loss of a million dollars in crops through grasshopper visitations last year vividly in mind, farmers of thirty northern Michigan counties are preparing to fight the hordes of hungry insects which are expected to return to infest the land next spring, according to the state farm bureau.

Supervisors of Antrim county have appropriated $5,000 for grasshopper control work and $1,000 for anti-bovine tuberculosis work, in addition to $3,300 for farm bureau work.

Emmet county supervisors have set aside $2,600 to fight grasshoppers and $1,000 to carry on anti-bovine tuberculosis work, in addition to $1,000 for farm bureau expenses. Both of these counties have suffered severely and consider that the appropriation of funds to fight grasshoppers is money well spent. Other counties are planning to follow suit. Last year the only counties which made a consistent fight were Benzie, Oceana, Wexford and Manistee. The state farm bureau sent a car of white arsenic to each of these, except Manistee, which bought early independently. For Oceana the farm bureau obtained two cars of molasses. Salt and molasses are used with the arsenic as bait.

Hoppers are moving south at the rate of 40 miles a year. Sporadic efforts to check them have failed. When farmers have done fairly well in fighting this pest one season they have neglected to continue the next. Because of greater unity among the farmers, due to organization of the state farm bureau it is believed that a better fight will be made next year than on any previous occasion.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The boiler of one of the large Chicago & Northwestern road engines exploded with a terrific report at the Jones and Laughlin mine, near Stambaugh last week.

The engineer, A. S. Kaseck, and fireman, H. O. Peterson, were blown for several hundred feet, landing on different sides of the track. The men were picked up and hurried to the hospital at Stambaugh. The nature of their injuries has not been learned at this time beyond the fact that their condition is very critical and they may not survive.

The boiler was blown clear of the truck, and was found a quarter of a mile from the tracks.

The cause of the explosion is unknown as the boiler was apparently in good condition at the time.

The explosion was heard for many miles and attracted a large crowd in a few moments.

Supt. Helmer and a number of his assistants went to Stambaugh to investigate the accident.

Where Discipline and Recreation Combine to Better Service

Work is more than just a living to the girl at central. There is always an abundance of fun and recreation, too, during regular rest periods and whenever she is off duty.

Lots of people who have visited our larger exchanges marvel at their simple, homelike atmosphere—the delightful lounging and reading rooms—the immaculate kitchens and pleasant dining rooms—and, most important of all, their watchful, helpful sensible matrons.

Long ago, your telephone company learned that in order to have efficient operators, their girls must also be happy and healthful. So these comforts, which mean so much to our girls, are, after all only instruments to improve your telephone service.

Our girls' health is always carefully guarded. Frequent physical examinations are given and healthful athletics encouraged. In rainy weather dry footwear and stockings are loaned. In the dining room meals are very, very good and are provided at very low prices.

To insure the best service possible, strict discipline, it is true, must be maintained in the operating rooms but after hours and during rest periods complete relaxation is encouraged.

We believe that the life of the telephone girl has all the pleasant, clean joys that should surround the life of a normal girl. We believe, too, that you will find that the careful supervision which we maintain over them is being reflected daily in the improved telephone service which they give.

CURRENT SPEECH
The country has just been reborn. "Better English Week." From current observation one might be led to infer that the habitual speech of the American people consisted chiefly of such gems as these:
"Say, listen here!"
"Where you got that stuff?"
"Whajja know about that?"
"You said an awful!"
"I'll say so."
Unfortunately the celebration referred to seems to have been confined to the schools. The worst linguistic sins are not those of the children, but of their elder brothers and sisters, and, sad to say, their parents. And this absurd parroting of slang expressions is the very worst phase of the evil.
Mispronunciation need not be taken too seriously, if the voice is pleasant. Bad grammar, the bogey of the half-educated, may be forgiven, if it is used to express honest feeling or real thought. The deadly thing about slang, as ordinarily used, is that it provides ready, though almost meaningless substitutes for words and phrases that actually belong to the language and express definite thoughts. Thus it puts brains to sleep, limits vocabularies, dulls and deadens speech.
The first utterance of a slang expression is usually spicy and piquant. That is why it "takes." But after a thousand repetitions, it becomes intolerable to any mind that has not yielded to its narcotic influence and gone to sleep with the rest.
For the sake of clear thinking, and also of conversation, which ought to be of the finest arts, there might well be a law against the repetition of any slang phrase more than ten times altogether by the same person. We'll say so!

FEAR EPIDEMIC OF SMALLPOX

Many Severe Cases in Various Parts of State

Michigan is due for a destructive epidemic of small-pox this winter according to officials of the state health department. This deduction is based on the fact that a large per cent of the population has grown up unvaccinated.

After the Spanish War soldiers returned with small-pox and vaccination became general. Recently, however, schools have been visited where less than five per cent of the students have been vaccinated. It is declared that vaccination will afford immunity for seven years and even after exposure it will reduce the severity of the disease.

Health officials declare that more virulent cases of the disease have been reported in Michigan in the last five months than for the last five years.

Diphtheria is not only prevalent now in Michigan but throughout the country. A total of 326 cases were reported last week and 347 the week before in the state. Diphtheria serum is said to provide immunity from the disease for life. Small-pox vaccination that is successful provides immunity for a longer period than a mild attack of the disease itself.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Public Utility Relations Improved
There are strong indications that there has been a better feeling established between the various public utilities and the communities which they serve. Primarily this is due to the deep-seated sense of justice that exists in the hearts of the American people, whose common sense told them that the universal change in industrial and economic conditions could not overlook the public utilities in the readjustment.

In furtherance of this conviction the appointment of the Federal Electric Railways Commission by the President, and the report which the latter presented, served the purpose of establishing a basis for the consideration of street railway fares and changes in franchise conditions in different parts of the country have been absorbed from the necessity of doing business on the five cent fare. The politicians who sought to make capital out of the upset relations between communities and their street railways have been met by a public apparently willing to face the new conditions in transportation. The street railway managements that have shown a disposition to supply the public with the highest efficiency at the lowest cost, under public supervision and control broad enough to safeguard the public interest and to protect the investors, while at the same time preserving a condition guaranteeing proper wages to employees, and recognizing the right of the men to deal collectively with their employers, have furnished a method of action that has eased the way toward reconstructing public relations with reference to the utilities.

Distributing Cars

An interesting statement by the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association tells of the success of the railroads in producing greatly enlarged service from their existing equipment. At the termination of federal control the freight cars of the American railroads were scattered helter-skelter. There were too many box cars in the east and too many coal cars in the west. Following the armistice the railroads prepared for handling the crop of 1918 by providing a reserve of 68,000 cars on western railroads. But in the spring of 1920 the distribution of box cars supplied to meet the demand anticipated in connection with an unusually heavy wheat crop, followed by a record-breaking corn crop, presented a difficult situation. According to the Car Service Division, the railroads succeeded in returning more than 92 per cent of all box cars owned by the western railroads to them by September 15. The number of cars actually delivered to western roads since that time amounts to over twice the number of cars they were short as compared with their ownership on June 1. This relocation movement has been particularly difficult because of the great demand for cars from all sections has made it necessary to deprive certain parts of the country of the cars belonging to their roads, irrespective of the rights of their particular lines. Eastern roads are, as a matter of fact, delivering to western lines at Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis a designated number of cars per day in excess of the number required for equalization of equipment as provided for in the original relocation movement. These cars are being distributed between the roads of the west in such a manner as to give quick relief to the roads whose supply is below the average, and particularly to lines which have been losing cars during the past few weeks by reason of heavy east-bound shipments.

Is Soldiering Becoming a Snap?

The number of officers and men who entered the war and who have now chosen army life as their permanent occupation indicates that the life of a soldier is not altogether irksome in peace times. Educating the men in khaki has proved a distinct hit with the War Department, and it also appears that the men whom politicians have been telling us are being held in Germany and elsewhere, are not having such a hard time after all. Major General E. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the Army says:

"The service in Germany has proved so attractive that the ranks are always filled. Our chief difficulty is that regiments are apt to be over-enlisted before we can stop the recruiting officers from accepting more applicants, and we must send such men to the station for which they were accepted."

Equally popular is Army service in Hawaii, and as a rule few recruits can be accepted for duty there. However, the 13th Field Artillery has left the United States for service in the mid-Pacific, and enlistments for this regiment have been issued. In the old Army new recruits had no choice in the selection of a regiment, and could not name any particular station. In the new peace-time Army a man may either pick his own regiment or designate the part of the world to which he wishes to be sent.

Economy and the Use of Power

The forthcoming development on a large scale of the Nation's vast water power resources, must be considered one of the most significant achievements in the field of American industry in the post-war industrial readjustment. The increased was the salesman who made the sale. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Youngdyke and Mr. and Mrs. L. Aardima and children left on Monday of this week for the Pacific coast where they will make their future home. They expect to settle either in Washington or Oregon.

The train north due at Ellsworth at 3:38 p. m. was held up for about three hours on Monday of this week due to the tender leaving the rails. The accident occurred near the trestle about one and a half miles south of town. No one was injured.

A number of the young people of Ellsworth and vicinity attended a delightful little dancing party at the Blue Hall on Wednesday evening of last week and all present enjoyed a good time. The affair was engineered by the Misses Dawson, Madill and Parsons and the hall was prettily decorated for the occasion. Music was furnished by a victrola loaned by Mr. Weiss for the occasion.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday evening of last week at the M. E. Parsonage at Ellsworth when Rev. E. E. Clark spoke the words which united in marriage George Light and Miss Fay Wagner both of Charlevoix. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wagner, brother and sister of the bride. The newly married couple have not yet decided where they will make their future home.

Sealed Bids Wanted.

Sealed bids will be received until 12 o'clock, noon, on Saturday, November 20, 1920, for the remodeling of the M. E. church at Ellsworth, and for the converting of the Congregational church into a parsonage. Specifications may be secured from the pastor, Rev. E. E. Clark. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Spayde-Scott

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Lawrence Parish house, Muncie, Ind., October 30, when Miss Charline Scott, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Scott, became the bride of George Earl Spayde, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Spayde of Charlevoix. The Rev. Father Houlihan performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate family and a few intimate friends. The bride wore a suit of midnight blue tricot with a hand embroidered hat to match and a corsage of orchids. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Spayde left for a short trip to Chicago. After November 15 they will reside temporarily with the bride's parents in North Hackley St. Muncie.

George Spayde is an ex-service man having served in the Navy during the late war, and is well known here.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL By J. E. Jones

cost of fuel and the diminishing supplies of our fuel reserves necessitate what the Federal Reserve Board believes to be "much more energetic action if industrial conditions are to be made safe for the coming winter." Water power is about to have a new certificate as a national asset, and the United States is going to make a late start in the utilizing of this means of effecting a saving in the manner of producing its energy, which it is confidently predicted can be accomplished to the extent of one billion dollars a year.

The Profits from Profiteering
Little Cuba wallowed in its wealth while sugar was pivoting in prices. But the moment the stilts were knocked from under the fictitious prices of that commodity, Cuba ran up the white flag and it was necessary for the President of that Republic to declare a moratorium until December 1, in order to keep the country from going on the toboggan.

The big story of Cuba is identical to the small story which exists in every community in our own land. Institutions which have made more money in a single year than they had ever made before in a dozen years, cannot see their way clear to lower prices and to help the country to restore itself to its normal conditions. This is doubly hard if it makes it necessary to sell the stock of goods on hand at actual cost—or below cost. Nevertheless, the sad news is dawning, and even the profiteers are beginning to understand that the boom days are over, and that they must adopt the methods of far-seeing industrial leaders who declare that it is high time to return to the conservative standards in trade and industry.

Raising Hemp

Kentucky once led in hemp production, but has turned to more profitable crops and relinquishes the lead to Wisconsin, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The Badger State cultivated 7,000 acres, half the country's total, this year, followed by Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio and California, with Kentucky sixth.

Flax in the United States

In 1920, 6,000 acres of flax were cultivated in the United States, as against 5,000 acres in 1919, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates. Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and the Willamette Valley of Oregon lead in production. The 1920 crop is valued at $1,600,000.

The Pride of Victory

It is estimated that 3,357,624 men who served in the Army are entitled to Victory Medals, but to date only 379,214, or about ten per cent of the number have applied.

FARMERS KNOW

ADVERTISING PAYS

Farmers Catch Modern Spirit—Are Real Business Men

Farmers are catching the modern way of doing things and the auction sale advertisements published in the Courier demonstrate just how they take hold of opportunities that will lighten their work and bring them better returns.

We refer to the big auction advertisements lately run in this paper. Farmers, for good reasons, wish to dispose of their stock and tools and offer them at auction. The old way of doing this would have been to put a sign out in front of the farm and then wait for a buyer. If he came all was satisfactory. But he seldom came. Then the idea of posting bills on the fence corner was taken up and during the days when farmers came to town on foot or by wagon this method was satisfactory. But nowadays farmers come to town in autos and not many of them ever see a bill on a tree or post.

This is where the home paper came to the rescue. It carries the message direct to the home and may be read at leisure. Containing the news of the neighborhood, it naturally directs attention to the announcements of both business men and farmers.

The newspaper is useful in many ways and it is pleasing to note that our farmer friends are coming to see and take advantage of the opportunity it offers.

The M. E. ladies will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, November 12, 13, in Mrs. Washburn's building, formerly occupied by Pearl's barber shop.—Adv. 45tl.

Marion probably will be able to wander into the White House and get an invitation to stay to dinner.

Mrs. Harding has what they call "cunption" out here in Ohio. In her youth she was a skilled horsewoman, her father, who was a wealthy business man, having owned a fine string of riding horses. Now she takes most of her recreation in the form of automobile riding. That is one reason Hardings never travel on the train if good roads are available. Most of the trips to and from Washington are by motor and all trips in Ohio are by that method.

Harding played tennis years ago, but relies on golf for recreation now. Neither reads a great deal but they are fond of the theater and especially the more serious plays.

Career as Office Holder

Harding has been primarily a newspaper publisher during his entire manhood, although he has carried on politics as a sideline most of the time. Identified with the Ohio Republican machinery since he became a voter, Harding, however, has held office only a comparatively short time. He was in the state senate from 1899 to 1903, was lieutenant governor for the next two years, run for governor but was defeated, and went to the senate in 1914. He rounds out his first term as U. S. senator March 4 next, just as he steps into the White House.

Harding was a political protégé of the late Senator Foraker of Ohio and was allied with his faction for many years. But by a strange twist of fate, Harding ran against Foraker for the senatorial nomination in 1914 and won, ending the public career of the famous Ohio boss who had brought him up in the political world.

A Second McKinley

Harding has a reputation throughout the country as being a second McKinley. He himself has often said he saw little resemblance, yet close friends of both see a parallel in their tariff views and in their willingness to be guided by advice, and in some of their mannerisms. Both have grave countenances and probably no one ever slapped either on the back.

Under the Harding administration, it is likely that the "great man" theory of the president which has prevailed since Roosevelt's dominating personality reigned at the White House, will disappear at least for the time.

Those closest to Harding say he does not consider himself a powerful dominating figure.

MOVEMENT ALREADY STARTED TO THIS END

Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Noted Evangelist, Is Backing Project—Located at Norwood

C. Wilbur Hewitt, D. D., who recently purchased the Henry Wagner property at Norwood states that it is his intention to make Norwood his permanent summer home. Dr. Hewitt and family comes to us highly recommended. Following is a copy of a recent letter which speaks for itself:

Jackson, Mich., July 20, 1920

To Whom It May Concern:

"The officials of this bank have been personally acquainted and have done business with Evangelist C. Wilbur Hewitt, D. D. for over twenty years.

"Dr. Hewitt is not only an energetic evangelist, but he is also a Christian courteous business gentleman of broad experience. Dr. Hewitt and family are leaving this week for a trip through the southern states. Any courtesy extended the Doctor and his family will be deeply appreciated and considered a favor by the officials of this bank.

Yours very truly,

Jackson City Bank

S. Loomis, Cashier.

We print the following notice which appeared in the Jackson daily Citizen-Patriot in their issue of Thursday, July 22, 1920:

"Dr. C. W. Hewitt of Albion, who this week sold his residence to the Delta Tau Fraternity, is well known in Jackson, where he was formerly a resident. He was actively engaged in Red Cross work for several years, and has been mentioned for congress this year, but declined to enter politics.

"Dr. Hewitt and family will leave the last of August for Florida, where he will be engaged in evangelistic work. Dr. Hewitt's residence was one of the finest in Albion, and its sale to the fraternity will complete the housing of all college fraternities in their own residences."

Wood Brothers, electricians of this city, have recently installed a Delco electric lighting system in Dr. Hewitt's home, also a Delco water unit system. Robert Bonthron, also of this city, has the contract for the bathroom fixtures and plumbing, and when completed, Dr. Hewitt will have all the modern conveniences of a city home. There are other modern improvements that Rev. Hewitt will add to his home as soon as weather permits in the spring.

Dr. Hewitt came to northern Michigan climate on the advice of his family physician, he having had a physical breakdown during the past year from over work, resulting in heart and throat trouble. Mr. Hewitt tells us of a plan he intends to see put through in Norwood. It is the building of a large, permanent tabernacle, with a seating capacity of four thousand, which will be open for six weeks during the summer resort season. It will be conducted under interdenominational methods, with some of the best speakers in the United States for the services. Included among them will be "Billy" Sunday, D. D., Rev. James Gray, D. D., Rev. John McNeil, D. D., William Jennings Bryan and others. Dr. Hewitt said: "If my health improves so I feel able, I shall surely see this deal put through."

Dr. Hewitt feels much encouraged in his efforts to arouse a spiritual interest sufficient to build up the M. E. church of Norwood by the following letter:

Registered Letter No. 968122.

Chicago, Nov. 5, 1920.

Dr. Hewitt, Norwood:

Dear Sir—"So glad to hear the good news of an organized Sunday school and prayer meeting established in Norwood. I have attended there several times and really I was sick at heart when I attended the service, with only fifteen present! May the Spirit of God lead you, all the way. Surely there is need of a revival. I well remember you before the throne of Grace. May the Lord richly bless you in all your undertakings is my wish." A Friend.

P. S.—Five dollars enclosed to help the church along in which ever way you think best."

If Dr. Hewitt's plans mature, and with a little encouragement they undoubtedly will, a great amount of good will be the result. Christian people as well as business men of this vicinity should give all the assistance they can. The building of the tabernacle would be a great attraction for Charlevoix and northern Michigan.

AUTO LICENSES READY DECEMBER 1

County Clerk Lewis to Open Bureau on This Date

County Clerk Richard Lewis will open the Charlevoix county automobile and automobile truck license bureau at his office in the court house, December 1, having a large number of licenses on hand and the assurance from the secretary of state department that enough of the plates will be furnished him to fill all demands.

This is the first year Charlevoix county autoists have had the opportunity of obtaining their licenses right here at home, and there is no reason why every car owner should not have his "driver" equipped with a 1921 license at the opening of the year.

STATE FUNDS GETTING LOW

AUDITOR GENERAL WORRIED OVER COMING YEAR.

Schools and Departments Draw on Treasury Far in Advance of Fiscal Year.

Auditor General O. B. Fuller is worried over the possible financial status of the state next year. Estimates from state institutions, boards, and commissions now in the hands of the budget commission indicate a tax levy for the next fiscal year approximating $25,000,000.

The present situation offers a fair example of what is likely to happen next year. The auditor general says there is only $1,000,000 in the state treasury now to run the commonwealth until January 15, when state taxes for 1920 are due.

The Michigan system is wrong, the official asserts, contending that provision should be made in appropriations accounts so that the institutions could not avail themselves of money until it is actually in the treasury.

In 1919, the legislature appropriated more than $17,000,000, to be levied during each of the two succeeding years. The fiscal year ends June 30, and at its conclusion many departments began drawing on the state for the coming year's allowance. So large an amount was drawn that a surplus of $9,700,000 in the treasury on July 1, had been reduced to $1,000,000 and in some instances the board of state auditors have been forced to supply demands from emergency funds.

Total receipts of the state, including tax levies, fees, income of commissions and departments, road bonds, etc., were $480,000,000 during the last fiscal year. Yet Mr. Fuller believes next year may see another temporary embarrassment between June and December, until the new taxes are available.

ESTABLISH GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Answers to Be Made by Rev. C. W. Hewitt of Norwood.

Commencing in the next issue of the Courier, there will be established a Gospel Question Box, conducted by the Rev. C. W. Hewitt of Norwood. All questions received this week or between this week's issue and next Tuesday, will be answered next week. The object of the question box is to answer such Biblical questions as present apparently the greatest difficulties to Christian and non-Christian people, and to the end that the religion of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be made plain and his Kingdom established on earth.

All questions must be plainly written and signed by the writer, but the writer's name will not be published. Address all questions to C. W. Hewitt, D. D., Charlevoix, R. F. D. No. 4, or direct to the Courier to be forwarded to Dr. Hewitt.

This opportunity is open to all, regardless of religious affiliations. The success of it lies directly in the interest taken by those seeking knowledge.

SCHOOL QUESTION COMES UP AGAIN

NEW FORM OF AMENDMENT TO BE SUBMITTED.

Provision for Children Attending Schools Out of District—Cares for State Schools.

Attempts to abolish parochial and private schools will be renewed at once. The Public School Defense League, with headquarters at Detroit, has submitted to Secretary of State Vaughan the form of the petition for the submission of a constitutional amendment to be submitted at the state election in November, 1922.

The new proposed amendment differs slightly in form from that which was defeated Nov. 2. It has no limitation requiring children to attend a public school in the district in which they reside, thus providing for attendance at high schools or other public schools outside the district of residence; the word "normal" is inserted before "children" thus voiding the blanket requirement that all children must attend. This permits blind, deaf, dumb and mentally defective children to be provided for outside the regular school system. The new amendment also gives fourteen months for preparation before it becomes effective, the date of taking effect being made January 1, 1924.

A meeting of workers from all parts of the state will be held in Detroit, January 1, 2 and 3 in the G. A. R. hall, at which a complete program for the campaign will be planned. The petition has been sent to the secretary of state for a formal ruling as to the correctness of form.

FOOTBALL ROW IS NOW DEVELOPING

Northern Michigan Team Not Entirely Satisfied With Season.

Traverse City high school football team Saturday again demonstrated its strength by outplaying the heavy, speedy Pontiac high school team, the score being a tie 7 to 7. Traverse City scored her first touchdown early in the game, but this was protested and finally disallowed, the opposing team claiming the referee had not officially started the game after time had been taken out. Traverse City fans claim the showing against this powerful team, which defeated Detroit Central and other big schools, proves their right to meet the best team in the south part of the state.

The Saturday game with Pontiac however, has torn northern Michigan high school athletic relations asunder and caused much dissatisfaction, especially at Cadillac, and now it seems certain, some fans, officials and players say, that athletic relations will be severed between the two schools. Other schools may also make this the occasion for severing relations. Alpena and Traverse City did not play this year, Alpena contending that the Traverse City team was not sticking to M. I. A. A. rules and regulations.

OBSERVED HIS 91ST BIRTHDAY

Capt. H. Berdan and Relatives Have Enjoyable Time.

Capt. Harrison Berdan and friends and relatives to the number of fifteen, most fittingly observed the Captain's 91st birthday anniversary last Sunday night.

The afternoon and evening was spent in visiting and talking over happenings of the past. At six o'clock a turkey supper was served which was greatly enjoyed. Capt. Berdan's turkey weighed seventeen pounds and after the bunch left the table, nothing but the back and neck were left.

Hale and hearty at 91 years, Capt. Berdan presents a most striking figure. A veteran of two wars and a citizen the community is proud of, all join in the hope that he will be here to take an active part in occasions of this kind for years to come. Gifts appropriate to the occasion were presented him, and the party broke up at a late hour.

Supervisors Meet.

A number of supervisors of Charlevoix county met at the court house Tuesday in a conference in regard to the purchase and installation of cells for the new county jail. Among those present were E. C. Chew, Frank Thompson and Ernest Pease.

COUNTY RURAL SCHOOLS FAVORED

PLAY GROUND EQUIPMENT HAS ARRIVED.

Three Boxes of Apparatus to be Distributed in County—Bats, Play and Basket Balls.

Under the direction of Mr. Rowe, director of physical training for the State of Michigan, the Boxing Commission has sent to the County Commissioner of Schools, Miss Stewart, three boxes of play ground apparatus for the rural schools of the county. Two of the boxes contain bats, and one large box contains official playground balls and basket balls. There will be at least one good ball for each school, and a bat to accompany it. What is best yet, we hope for more sometime in the future. If this can become an annual feature the boys and girls may become well supplied with game material for the leisure hours that are in some schools so idly spent.

Teachers requests last year ranged all the way from giant strides, and swings, or slides, to balls or rackets. In the meantime, because of the long delay in receipt of the material, a few of the schools already have swings, several have balls and one or two have croquet sets. Several schools are already assured of clean, happy recess periods without the use of the useless and irritating "don't" and "thou shalt not's" of the old school of pedagogy. The new supply of material just received from the Boxing Commission will encourage the teachers and parents of these districts and will furnish an incentive to others.

HARVEY CAMPBELL BADLY SCALDED

Steps Into a Vat of Boiling Water at Jackson Plant.

It seems that misfortune and accident is bound to follow Harvey Campbell, formerly of this city, no matter where he is or what his occupation may be.

Last week while at work in the boiler room of the Jackson Steel Products Co. at Jackson, where he has been employed since last spring, he stepped into a vat of boiling water, severely scalding both legs from the knees down. He was removed from the vat by men working under him, who bathed his legs in oil and then he was taken to the hospital.

The room in which he was working was dark and steamy, and probably he was unable to see where he was going on account of his glasses being covered with moisture.

A card received Tuesday by relatives here states that he is getting along nicely, and his burns, although severe would not cripple him to any extent. The soles of his feet were not injured, being protected by his shoes.

About two years ago Mr. Campbell was badly injured while working in the plant of the Ohio Sugar Co. at Ottawa, Ohio.

SUNDAY'S STORM A FURIOUS ONE

Big Barge Seeks Shelter in Little Traverse Bay.

Sunday's violent wind and rain storm raised havoc among the boats and barges on the great lakes, especially in the neighborhood of the straits.

A large steam ore or grain barge spent Sunday near the east end of Little Traverse bay, having stemmed in seeking shelter from the heavy storm of wind, rain and snow. Evidence of being unfamiliar with Little Traverse bay was shown by the captain and pilot for the boat steamed slowly along the south shore to a point off Bay View, later crossed to the north side of the bay but failed to seek shelter in the deep water off Harbor Springs. The craft left some time during Sunday night.

The steamer Missouri entered the bay during the storm Sunday and went to Harbor Springs where several thousand bushels of potatoes were loaded. The boat also had potatoes and other freight at Petoskey, potatoes and fish at this port and a big shipment of fish from St. James, for Chicago.

1920 HUNTING SEASON CLOSES

FEWER FATALITIES THAN IN FORMER SEASONS.

Game Department Estimates That One Deer Was Killed for Every Two Men.

About 40,000 men and a few score of women obtained licenses to shoot deer in Michigan during the 10-day season for 1920, which closed Monday. Last year the open season was 20 days, and about 35,000 took out hunting licenses. These 35,000 killed approximately 20,000 deer, according to the records of the state game warden at Lansing—about four deer for every seven hunters.

With the 1920 season reduced one-half, the number of licenses issued about 12 per cent more, and the deer estimated to be less numerous than in 1919, John Baird, chief of the Game, Fish and Forest Department, believes that the deer killed this season will not exceed one deer for each two hunters. The long and unusually cold winter of 1919-20 accounts for the reduction of the herd and for cutting the open season. Many deer died of starvation or freezing last winter. State experts say that cold weather alone will not kill deer if the deer can get around and browse. But when a deer's vitality is so reduced by continuous cold that it has no strength left to reach browsing patches it is likely to freeze to death when the thermometer falls to 25 below.

Hunting conditions were ideal this year, the heavy fall of snow coming in time for the opening of the season. Fewer deer were left to die in the woods this year than in former seasons, old hunters claiming that not one in fifty deer wounded were left in the woods. Charlevoix hunters, almost to a man, bought home the venison. In some sections of the upper peninsula there was fourteen inches of snow on the opening day, making ideal hunting conditions. The snow lasted during the entire season in the extreme north and western part of the upper peninsula, but north of St. Ignace to Son Junction, it had disappeared by Friday night.

A large number of deer were killed in the lower peninsula. In some sections they were plentiful, especially in the Black river district east of Gaylord. A party of hunters from Traverse City passed through Charlevoix Monday with four deer tied to their automobile, killed in the vicinity of Carp Lake, Emmet county. George Gallop captured a 380 pound black bear on Wednesday near his home at Springvale. Gallop was out after deer when ruin crossed his trail.

Congestion on the railroads leading north resulted in all train being late from two to five hours. Sunday night a party of more than six hundred hunters were delayed 12 hours at St. Ignace on their homeward journey when the car ferry found the storm too hard for safe crossing of the straits to Mackinaw City. The hunters were compelled to spend the night on the boat, trains and in the railroad station.

PRISON LOSES NOTED WARDEN

JAMES RUSSELL KNOWN ALL OVER UNITED STATES.

Editor of Marquette Mining Journal and Power in Upper Peninsula Politics.

James Russell, warden of Marquette state prison, and editor of the Marquette Mining Journal, who died at Mackinaw City early Wednesday morning of last week, was for years regarded as one of the strong political and business characters of the upper peninsula. A warden he was known over the United States as a strict disciplinarian but with a kindly man. His institution, the Marquette prison, under his rule, was a place where an inmate could find as much trouble, or kindness, as the circumstances seemed to permit.

Several times the institution has been under fire. Cruelties were charged, and Mr. Russell never made any bones about the fact that he had a spanking paddle which he used as often as he believed necessary.

Several years ago an investigation developed that this form of punishment, as well as a dungeon, were included in the institution's discipline system, but the circumstances under which both forms of punishment were used were found to be such that nothing ever came of the quiz. A legislative committee prepared a lengthy report which never got beyond a filing spindle.

About two years ago another committee visited the prison following a visit at all other penal institutions in the state. This committee commended Mr. Russell's system.

Mr. Russell's prison was remarkable for the small number of escapes. Up to the time of the last official quiz, there had been only three men get away from the prison doors whose whereabouts were unaccounted for. There were two more absent whose whereabouts were known. One of the men, not sent up for a high crime, had since his escape, seven or eight years ago, married and gained such standing in a southern community that Mr. Russell did not see fit to bring him back to prison. Mr. Russell received almost monthly reports on the man's conduct from private sources and in telling about some of these reports to the committee, Mr. Russell remarked that he did not believe prisons were made to confine such citizens. The committee privately agreed and the man is still "at large." The case of the second man was similar.

In Marquette there is a long-service man working in a downtown shop under an agreement with Mr. Russell never to attempt to get away. The man has established a good record. The committee when advised of this, did not disturb Mr. Russell's arrangement.

Of late years Mr. Russell had not devoted much time to state politics. Several years back, he took a prominent part.

As editor of the Marquette Mining Journal Mr. Russell wielded a powerful influence in the upper peninsula. He at times filled offices of public trust and service. In Wisconsin he was elected clerk of the Fond du Lac county circuit court in 1878 and in 1879.

In Michigan in 1882 he was elected to the board of supervisors of Marquette county.

In 1885 he was appointed postmaster of Marquette by Grover Cleveland.

In 1898 Governor Pingree made him state commissioner of mineral statistics. In 1902 he was elected mayor of Marquette. In the same year he was appointed warden of Marquette prison.

What Happens in the Dark?

The farmer receives on an average only about one-third of what the consumer pays for meats, grains, fruits, wool, vegetables and cotton. Somewhere between producer and consumer an enormous toll is added to the cost of farm-grown necessities.

The city consumer, not seeing the profit-taking along the road to him, blames the farmer for high prices. The local farmer, not knowing just what does happen in the dark, is at the mercy of the system. To turn on the light is one purpose of

THE FARM-BUREAU MOVEMENT

Your local farm bureau is an important link in the great American Farm Bureau Federation which is fighting the farmer's market battles for him. The Federation has no quarrel with honest middlemen or efficient merchants, but it does have with the gouging in-betweeners, speculators and gamblers.

The Federation is demanding that the Government hasten to furnish official figures on the cost of producing farm crops so that the public may know and attention be focused on what happens in the dark.

Many other big, constructive plans that you are too busy to attend to are being pushed for you by the Federation, and THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN urges you not to remain neutral

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

Common Rights

Every one knows that the great wage-earning classes of America want just wages, and a chance to play their part in the game of life in a manner that will give to them all the necessities and their just proportion of comforts and luxuries. This is the same demand that is made by every class of human beings, no matter what their station may be in life.

But there are so-called "leaders," both of the capital and laboring classes, who set up standards of "rights," which when analyzed usually give to their favored followers an advantage over the rest of society. It is disapproval against this small autocratic class—who speak more for their "leadership" than they do for their constituency, that has brought the reproach upon Wall Street. For Wall Street is simply a great money center for the nation, and it is as necessary as are the "money centers" of the small and large towns of the country. These money centers are called banks, no matter whether they exist in Wall Street or at Smith's Crossing.

Labor Leaders Demands

The labor leaders make their headquarters in Washington, and the American Federation of Labor and the Railroad Brotherhoods speak right out in meeting regarding their demands. Mr. Gompers and two of his associates attempted to tell the American union workers how to vote. The way in which the advice was accepted is pretty well known. These labor leaders, in session at Washington, have set forth the untenable proposition that they are diametrically opposed to existing laws that furnish arbitration for industrial disputes. On the other hand, the voices of individual American laboring men and women have time and time again been raised for peaceful methods in industrial disputes, as opposed to strikes and lockouts. The Federation has also declared its opposition to laws restricting the rights of workers to quit work. This is simply another way of defending strikes.

The Secretary of Labor when he served on the President's Industrial Commission early in the year, joined in a report with other labor leaders capitalists and private citizens, including Herbert Hoover, demanding the establishment of a Federal Industrial Board with agencies spread throughout the country empowered to solve labor troubles in a way that amounts to arbitration. The Secretary of Labor is a union labor man, as he did his stint as a coal miner earlier in life. He believes, as do all others, who view the question with open minds, that the industrial situation cannot be separated from the rights of the public, as represented by the government, in preference to class leadership of either labor or capital.

Herbert Hoover, Counselor

Herbert Hoover is a very rich man, but his opinions are taken so seriously that the American Federation of Labor invited him to become their counselor at the gathering of labor leaders. There is no question but that he took the position that peaceful methods should rule in place of strikes and lockouts. His acceptance as an advisor, by labor leaders is a big step in the right direction, because it is evidenced that among some of these leaders there is a determination that has not heretofore been very clearly voiced, favoring closer co-operation with the public, and fuller recognition of the rights of the whole public. We have had altogether too much in the way of demands from labor leaders—as well as capitalists, for the furtherance of their individual interests. The spirit of socialism, represented in this manner, seems to be on the downhill slide. This is encouraging, since it strengthens the principle that government is reaching forward to secure rights for which "governments are instituted among men," and for which purpose they derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Our Water Powers

The Federal Power Commission is arranging to put the provisions of the Federal Water Power Act into force, and when Congress convenes appropriations will be asked for, that will permit of the investigation of every application to determine whether the project proposed is best adapted to become a comprehensive scheme of development of the water power resources of the region, not only for power development, but also for such related uses as irrigation, navigation, flood control and water supply.

Investigations so far made show that the West has evidenced far more enterprise than the East, and the Pacific coast states are far ahead of the older eastern states in utilizing their natural resources. Nature has provided sufficient water power to practically take care of the condition of the West as it exists in reference to population and industry at this time. Nature's supply is not as bountiful in the eastern states, and when every available ounce of water has been harnessed in water power, with hydroelectric development stimulated to its greatest possibility, a large part of the demand for power will still have to be met by the use of coal and oil.

Niagara's Water Power

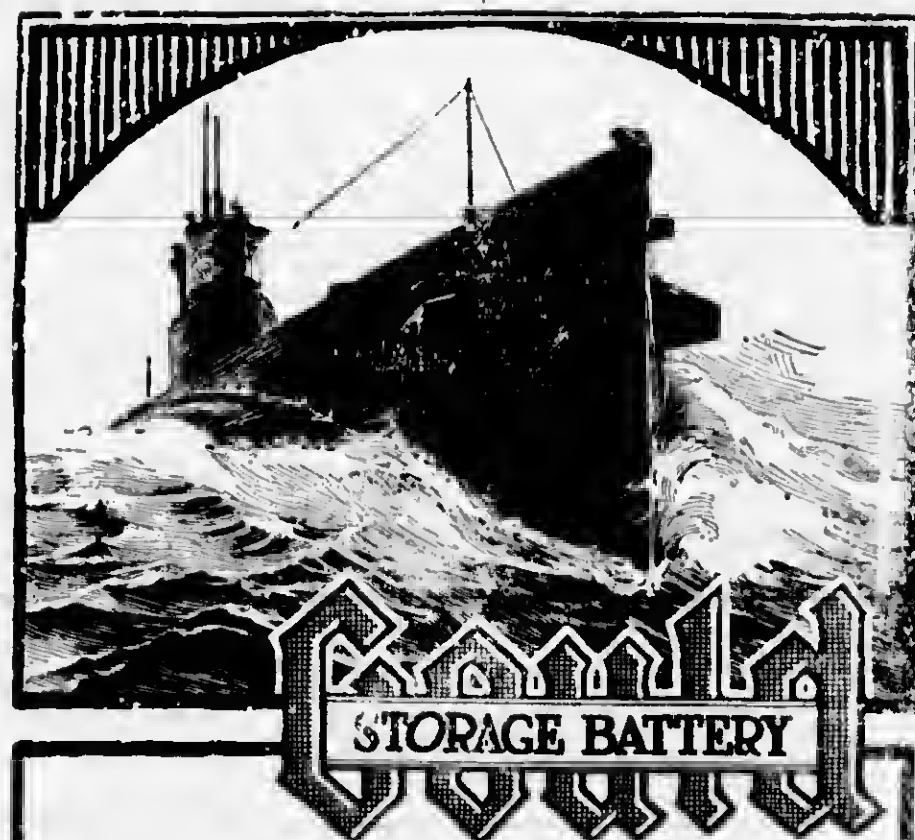

The possibilities of power from Niagara will likely be carefully surveyed by the Water Power Commission, and sharp logical lines will be drawn to determine just how much of the agitation against despoilation of scenic grandeur is based on fact. The city of Buffalo, which is as much interested in the natural beauties of Niagara from a purely commercial point of view as any place in the country, has filed an application for a permit in connection with a proposed municipal hydroelectric plant at Niagara. There are eight other applications contemplated in the development at Niagara pending before the Commission.

In all there are approximately 94 applications before the Commission, at least two of which are from Alaska. The applicants seek to develop three million potential horse power, which is but a fraction of the possibilities of the country, since there are at least fifty million horse power in sight.

Recruiting on the Mexican Border
Of course the recruits that are being gathered into the United States Army have to congregate somewhere and maybe there is nothing significant about it at all, yet the fact remains that the Mexican border is the scene of considerable activity right now. The famous Second Division, known as the "Indian Heads" in the big fighting in France, are being strengthened at the rate of 250 new soldiers a day, at Camp Travis, Texas. Major General P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the Army says that the Second Division will be recruited up to 11,000 men.

No one can suspect that the present Administration is entertaining a war-like disposition toward Mexico, which has of late been making substantial improvement in its internal affairs, while at the same time evidencing a spirit towards the United States that is not being criticized at Washington. Some of the "elder observers" in the newspaper fraternity at the Capital interpret the activity on the Mexican border due to

"AND HE GOETH"

"Several years ago when I had just been promoted to my first real job, I called on a business friend of mine. He is a wise and experienced handler of men; I asked him what suggestions he could make about executive responsibility.

"You are about to make the great discovery," he said. "Within a week or two you will know why it is that executives grow gray and die before their time. You will have learned the bitter truth that there are no efficient people in the world."

I am still very far from admitting that he was right, but I know well enough what he meant. Every man knows who has ever been responsible for a piece of work, or had to meet a pay-roll.

Recently another friend of mine built a house. The money to build it represented a difficult period of saving on the part of himself and his wife; it meant overtime work and self-denial, and extra effort in behalf of a long cherished dream.

One day when the work was well along, he visited it, and saw a workman climbing a ladder to the roof with a little bunch of shingles in his hands.

"Look here," the foreman cried, "can't you carry a whole bunch of shingles?"

The workman regarded him sullenly.

"I suppose I could," he answered, "if I wanted to bull the job."

By "bull the job" he meant "do an honest day's work."

"At ten o'clock one morning I met still another man in his office in New York. He was munching a sandwich and gulping a cup of coffee which his secretary had brought him.

"I had to work late last night," he said, "and meet a very early appointment this morning. My wife asked our maid to have breakfast a half hour early so that I might have a bite and still be there on time."

"When I came down to breakfast, the maid was still in bed."

She lives in his home, and eats, and is clothed by means of the money which his brain provides; but she has no interest in his success, no cure whatever except to do the minimum of work.

"The real trouble with the world today is a moral trouble," said a thoughtful man recently. "A large proportion of its people have lost all conception of what it means to render an adequate service for the wages they are paid."

He is a generous man. On almost any sort of question his sympathies are likely to be with labor, and so are mine. I am glad that men work shorter hours than they used to, and in certain instances I think the hours should be even shorter. I am glad they are paid higher wages, and hope they may earn still more.

But there are times when my sympathy goes out to those in whose behalf no voice is ever raised—to the executives in the world, whose hours are limited only by the limit of their physical and mental endurance, who carry not merely the load of their own work, but the heartbreaking load of carelessness and stolid indifference in so many of the folks whom they employ.

Perhaps the most successful executive in history was the centurion of the Bible.

"For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me," he said. "And I say to this man go, and he goeth; and to another, come, and he cometh; and to my servant, do this, and he doeth it."

Marvelous man!

The modern executive also says, "Go," and too often the man, who should have gone, will appear a day or two later and explain, "I didn't understand what you meant." He says, "Come," and at the appointed time his telephone rings and a voice speaks saying: "I overslept and will be there in about three quarters of an hour."—Bruce Barton in Public Service Monthly.

The New York World declares that one reason the Democrats were so badly defeated at the recent election was that they were without organization, and that it is not too early to begin now for the campaign of 1924. This is a fact that Republicans, too, should keep in mind. It is all very well to talk about dropping partisanship—provided the other fellow will do the same—but he will not.

Savvyard, an ante bellum journalist, wants the Democrats to start in by expelling Jim Reed, John Shields and Tom Watson from the Democratic senatorial caucus. It really doesn't look as if the Democratic party was in shape to stand in very many expulsions.

Eugene Debs has issued a statement endorsing the present regime in Russia. In other words you might suppose Mr. Debs favors murdering all those accused of sedition by the government instead of just jailing them. It is fair to say that Eugene's bark is worse than his bite.

A correspondent writes to the New York World: "There is one compensating fact in the late contest—the Democrats went through the campaign without Old Bill Bryan." They seem to have gone through the campaign with several others absent.

It was very courteous of the President to offer President-elect Harding a steam yacht and a battleship for his trip to Pannam and it was very sensible of Senator Harding to decline it. The people have grown a little wary of the travelling in state habit.

Mr. Gompers says he is satisfied with the results of the recent election. Well if Sam is satisfied after the way he talked during the campaign, there isn't any excuse in the world for anybody else feeling he got the worst of it.

The bravest people in the country are the southern Republicans, who, in the face of persecution, prejudice, intolerance and bigotry stand true to what they believe to be for the best interests of their country.

The most encouraging sign of the times is the way in which Republican leadership accepts victory; not in exultation, but in solemn determination to make the victory count for the nation's good.

The people seem to have decided that they prefer the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States to the un-Americanized covenant and the new freedom.

The quarrel that has arisen among Democratic leaders over the "future" of the party is too much like a family squabble over the possession of a corpse.

Ex-President Elliot of Harvard, after failing to elect Cox, has begun a crusade to reform woman's dress. Dr. Elliot certainly does like to tackle impossible jobs.

The people who said they couldn't understand what Senator Harding's position on the league of nations was will now have the privilege of finding out.

Secretary Colby said he was going to take Saturday afternoon before the election off and back Republican wagers off the boards. Here's hoping he didn't forget that.

With New Orleans voting 15,000 for Harding and 22,000 for Cox, who says the Solid South isn't wearing mighty thin in places.

It was a "great and solemn referendum." Great for the Republicans and solemn for the other fellows.

There will be no soft wood used in making the next cabinet.

Jack Watson Says, "I'll Never Forget When Father's Hogs Got Cholera."
"One morning he found 20 hogs dead and several sick. He called in the Vet. who after dissecting a rat caught on the premises, decided that the rodents had conveyed germs. 950 BUSHELS FROM THREE ACRES

Hayes Township Farmer Reports a Good Crop Yield

M. K. Chew, a prominent Hayes township farmer, reports an exceptional yield of potatoes and peas. On October 23 he finished harvesting 900 full rounded crates of potatoes that would weigh 950 bushels from three acres.

He also threshed 78 bushels by weight, of Premium Gem Garden Peas from two acres of land.

Tom Scroggie, also of Hayes township, harvested 819 bushels of potatoes from a piece of new land lacking eight rods of one and one-half acres.

Next! Send in your good crop reports and help advertise Charlevoix county as an excellent agricultural district.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. James A. Smith has accepted the call to the pastorate of the church and will be here about December 1st.

There will be no mid-week service this week.

Christmas will be celebrated with appropriate exercises by the church school and the rehearsal of the carols commenced last Sunday.

Next Sunday a Medical Missions' dialogue "Waiting for the Doctor," will be presented by a class of girls during the opening exercises. The missionary offering of the school this month goes to the American Board.

The report of the State Sunday School Convention given last Thursday night by Mrs. Cross was very interesting. The whole program of the convention was on the topic of "Religious Education," and it would seem that existing conditions are awakening the leaders of our country to the great need of religious training for all children.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT SUCCESSFUL MEN

Edward Bok, famous editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, arrived in America as a passenger from Holland without knowledge of a single English word. He was unable to attend school after thirteen years of age, and at one time made his living by selling ice water to passengers on the old Coney Island surfce cars.

Since that time he became the friend of Mark Twain, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Longfellow, Emerson and Phillip Brooks. He is credited with having done more to awaken civic pride, clean up cities, improve taste in domestic architecture and interior decoration, and raise standards of living than any man in America. Although editor of a woman's publication, he is exactly opposite the "Miss Nancy" type, and in fact at one time was the most powerful enemy suffrage had. He has recently published a book under the title of "The Americanization of Edward Bok," and in it tells of his early life from the time he started to turn theater programs into advertising mediums, on down to the point when he wrote a "woman's page" for a daily paper, and from there stepped into the work that was to make him famous.

MOTORTRUCK IS INSISTENT

War Brought It Into Prominence as Commercially Practical Form of Transportation

The value of the motortruck as in the war, spring into prominence as a commercially practical form of transportation and while the fighting has ceased, the need for the motortruck remains with us, more insistent than ever before. Within certain limitations the freight car of the highway is more efficient than the rail carrier, and, because it is, it may be taken as a permanent form of transportation and one destined to have a large influence on the movements of trade in the future.

PUSH GOOD ROADS BUILDING

Construction Work Retarded by War Should Now Be Resumed to Facilitate Transportation.

Good roads construction retarded by the war should now be pushed vigorously and nothing should be permitted to interfere with the expansion and development of these important arteries of transportation and trade which can serve to materially reduce high living costs by facilitating the movement of foodstuffs from the farm to the table.

Significant Auto Fact.

Observers are said to regard it as significant that the states which will spend most freely for better highways and which manufacturers depend upon to buy the most motortrucks in 1920 are states in which farming is the predominant occupation.

23,000 VOLTS THROUGH BODY

MORRIS ACKERT BURNED AT SUB-STATION SUNDAY.

Hurled From Ladder and Sustains Burns and Bruises on Head and Body.

One ten-thousandth of an inch probably saved the life of Morris Ackert of South Bridge street, when 23,000 volts of electricity went through his hat, traversed the length of his body and grounded out through the great toe of his left foot at the Charlevoix sub-station Sunday morning. He escaped with minor burns.

Early Sunday morning the feeders for the north side were cut off and work was in progress for the change throughout the city of from two to three phase, which is being made gradually and at such times as conditions will permit. Mr. Ackert was doing the work at the plant with a helper, while others were employed on the north side. Sending his helper out for something, Mr. Ackert went up the step ladder directly above which were choke coils carrying 23,000 volts. It is thought he must have gone just far enough to brush his hat lightly across the coils. The electricity entered his body and hurled him to the floor.

The helper was returning and on passing the window saw Mr. Ackert fall. He quickly notified the nearby coast guards, who rendered first aid, and also brought Drs. Armstrong and McMillan, who administered several hyperdermics.

On arrival at the hospital it was found that besides being considerably shaken up, he had sustained several burns and a bruised head. The burns on his back were slight and were no doubt caused by the perspiration under his suspenders; but the toe, where the electricity went out, was burned to the bone.

It was an exceedingly severe shock and one through which few could pass with as fortunate a result, but it is hoped that a few days will see Mr. Ackert at work and with no bad effects.

LEGION DEFEATS THE HIGH SCHOOL

Mad Pigskin Scramble Results in Legion Victory.

In an enthusiastic football game played Thanksgiving between the American Legion and the Charlevoix High School, the latter went down to defeat in what those who have seen them play before, said was the best scrap they put up this season. Score 13-6.

It was individual playing against team work and the Legion men, who would be considered old so far as the game of football is concerned, showed that they had not forgotten how to make runs through a broken field and make line smashes.

Halverson starred for the high school; with the Legion—well, they deserve the name of all stars (or comets). Poole was always good for a gain, and Tubbs showed remarkable ability with his toe. And Powers made the best run of the day when he stemmed for a run of better than a hundred yards to the school house and came back waving a rule book. To the Courier reporter it looked as if he won his argument.

"Doc" Mitchell was there too. As pilot of the team, he showed to excellent advantage, and one time when no one came to take the ball in response to his signal, he looked around and decided to take it over the goal line himself, which he did.

The Legion agrees that night practice has its compensations, proving efficacious the last few minutes of the game which was played in the dark.

TAKES MANAGEMENT OF EASTERN FARM

Cyrus Beers Leaves for Greensburg, Pa., December 15.

Cyrus Beers, for the past eight years manager of the Orchard Bay farm, owned by Mr. Waller of Chicago, has resigned his position here to assume the management of a 2000 acre farm at Greensburg, Pennsylvania, owned by George Huff.

The farm which he assumes management is about 30 miles east of Pittsburgh, and is considered one of the most modern in that section. Mr. Beers will leave here on December 15th, but his wife and child will leave on Friday of this week.

During his management, the Orchard Bay farm has undergone wonderful changes along progressive lines. Not only has the acreage been increased, but new orchards set out, land placed under cultivation and modern buildings erected, until today it is one of the best farms of its size in this section.

During his stay here, both Mr. Beers and his wife have taken an active part both in social affairs and church work, and have a host of friends who greatly regret their departure.

FOOTBALL SCRAP AIRED IN COURT

CADILLAC FANS DIVIDED OVER CONTROVERSY.

Say There is No Remedy Too Vigorous for the Malady of Swelled Head.

The action of the officials of the Cadillac high school in bringing into court Principal Duncanson and Coach Peterman of the Traverse City high school, after the latter men had disregarded an injunction to refrain from giving a scheduled Cadillac date to Pontiac, November 20, is causing northern Michigan sport circles to divide on the respective ethics of the two teams.

Many Cadillac people criticize the action of the local school men as being too hasty and giving the Traverse school a greater grievance than their cancellation gave Cadillac.

One man said, "If the Cadillac team had merely ignored the Traverse team's violation of the contract and collected the penalty, the injury would have been done to us and we could sever athletic relations with the northerners for so long a period as present school officials are on the job. By enjoining Traverse, it appears as if the local school thinks Traverse is of the utmost importance in the football schedule and was capable of causing much inconvenience."

Others sum up the situation as follows: "Traverse City could have cancelled the Cadillac game by a simple explanation that would have caused the local boys to boost for Traverse for the state championship. Their action in ignoring Cadillac, appears as if the up-staters figured that Cadillac didn't count anyway and their contract was a 'scrap of paper.' There is no remedy too vigorous for the malady of swelled head."

BADLY BITTEN BY STRANGE DOG

Mrs. Amos O'Neil Bit on Her Arm and Ankle.

Mrs. Amos O'Neil was badly bitten by a strange dog last Sunday, when she entered the yard of Charles Bassett, where she was going for a short visit.

The dog was in Bassett's yard when Mrs. O'Neil entered, and upon showing alarm, was assured the dog was not ugly. She stooped to pat the dog on the head, when the animal bit her on the arm. When she attempted to get away, the dog again attacked her and bit her on the ankle.

The dog was immediately killed and Mrs. O'Neil given proper medical attention.

12,808 FIRES IN MICHIGAN

SPARKS ON SHINGLE ROOFS LEADING CAUSE.

Even With Number State Fire Marshall Says People Are Taking Better Precautions.

The public of Michigan is taking a greater interest in fire prevention as a means of saving lives and property than ever before and the result should be shown in a steady declining number of fires per capita, according to Frank H. Ellsworth, state fire marshal.

Marshall Ellsworth and his aids have been unusually active this year in preaching the gospel of fire prevention. A special effort was made to have fire prevention day generally observed in all schools of the state October 19, and much interest was shown by the children in the work according to reports to the marshal's office.

Since January 1 the department has distributed 250,000 small pieces of literature, about 150,000 posters, 25,000 colored card board posters and 7,000 news bulletins. The latter is a monthly publication.

"We have reason to believe this literature is obtaining the desired result," said Marshall Ellsworth. A large number of inspections also are being made.

There were 12,808 fires in Michigan during 1919, the total loss being placed at $13,453,220. Causes of the fires were classed as follows:
Unknown and incendiary, 1,194; sparks on shingle roof, 2,899; lighting, 727; defective heating devices, 1,892; children playing with matches, 1,293; smokers, 179; gasoline, kerosene and gas, 962; defective electric wiring, 512; spontaneous combustion and rubbish, 318; miscellaneous, 1,947; rural fires, 885.

The marshal has compiled the following list of "don't" which he asks the public to observe:

Don't allow children to play with matches.

Don't block the fire escape; you may need them yourself tonight.

Don't leave everything to the land-lord; inspect your own house from cellar to garret and locate all exits.

Don't throw away lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.

Don't go into dark closets, bedrooms or cellars, using matches or candles to light your way.

Don't use insecticides in the vicinity of open flame lights. Many such compounds contain inflammable oils.

Don't use kerosene, benzine or naphtha to light fires or quicken a slow fire—it may result in death.

Don't use gasoline or benzine to clean clothing near an open flame light or fire.

Don't fill any lamp with gasoline, kerosene, or other oils while the lamp is lighted. Keep the burners of all oil lamps thoroughly clean.

Don't fill kerosene lamps after dark or within 15 feet of the light of fire. Don't use alcohol lamps made of glass. They often break and the fluid becomes ignited at once.

Don't put ashes in wooden boxes or barrels. Don't place them on dumb waiters or in closets.

WERE MARRIED ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Miss Audrey W. Hunderman, a Former Resident of Charlevoix.

Word comes from Detroit of the marriage of Miss Audrey W. Hunderman to Mr. Charles J. Marler of Nashville, Tennessee, at the First Baptist church in Detroit on Thanksgiving day. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McLellan, sister of the bride.

A dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. D. E. Beaubien to about twenty guests. The newlyweds left on the afternoon train for the east on a short honeymoon trip, after which they will return to Detroit for a short time before going south to live.

Miss Hunderman will be remembered by a number of Charlevoix friends, who join in extending congratulations.

AUTO LICENSES ARE NOW READY

GET YOUR PLATES FROM COUN-TY CLERK LEWIS.

Some of the Details of How to Make Out Your Application for Necessary License.

County Clerk Richard Lewis will issue 1921 auto licenses for Charlevoix county residents from now on. Car owners can apply in person or plates will be sent out by parcel post the same day the license and tax is received. Mr. Lewis issues a few "be sure and do" instructions for notary publics in order to avoid delay when the applications are received at his office. The cautions are equally of interest to the car owner and it would be well to cut out the following list of instructions and see that whoever makes out your application attends to all the details required by the state. Here they are:

Application for auto licenses must bear all information asked for, with special care for the following:

1. Fees for weight and horse power and total fee.

2. Items 5 and 9 engine and serial numbers. In case applicant states either one or both these numbers are not to be found on his car, write in the proper space the word NONE, DESTROYED, or LOST as the case may be.

3. Item 12 signature of owner. This must be in ink and legible.

4. County in which owner resides, very important.

5. Postoffice where owner receives his mail.

6. Owner's street address or R. F. D.

7. Affidavit at bottom of application must be executed.

8. Total amount of tax must accompany application.

9. All weights should be taken in even hundred weights.

For example, 3985 pounds net weight, make charge for 3900 pounds.

10. The weight receipt at the lower right hand corner for the truck application is a part of the application and should be signed by the weight master, or separate weight bill signed by the weight master must be attached thereto, on all applications for truck licenses.

11. A careful observance to the above rules will enable us to issue the license in a prompt and efficient manner. Be sure that the blank is filled complete and the affidavit signed by notary. If any questions are left blank it occasions delay and much correspondence from this office.

Applications may be made out and acknowledged by any notary and sent by mail to the county clerk and your license will be sent by mail the same day as received.

ANNUAL MEETING COMMERCIAL ASSN.

Meeting to Be Followed by Banquet and Election of Officers

Friday evening, December 3, is the date of the regular and also annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

The meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple, and beside the election of officers for the ensuing year, considerable important business will be transacted.

The Courier has been requested by the officers of the association to urge all members and citizens interested in the future of Charlevoix, to attend this meeting. The business interests of Charlevoix depend a great deal on the interest manifested at these meetings, and as citizens, all should do their individual part. You do not need a special invitation—just lay aside all engagements for this evening and be there on time.

The ladies of the Eastern Star will serve the banquet, a guarantee of plenty of good things to eat.

Attention, Odd Fellows.

Saturday evening, December 4, 1920, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a regular meeting of the Encampment to confer 2nd and 3rd degrees, election of officers, important business, and a big oyster supper. All members come. Good time for all. Lawrence Terry, Financial Scribe.—Adv. 4811p.

FOUR AUCTION SALES THIS WEEK

Sale of Stock at Loeb Farms Should Interest Farmers.

This issue of the Courier contains four auction sales, one of which is of more than usual interest to farmers and stockmen.

On Saturday, December 11, the Loeb Farms will have an auction sale, at which time some of the best grade Holstein cows in northern Michigan will be sold, also full blooded young Holstein cattle, hogs and horses and farm implements. This stock has previously been shipped to Chicago, but at this time the farm management decided to offer them for sale at home. The sales are as follows:
Monday, December 6, at the farm of Katy Balotku, one mile south of Bird's corners on the Charlevoix-East Jordan road.

Tuesday, December 7, at the farm of H. L. Fracisco, seven miles south of Charlevoix.

Wednesday, December 8, at the farm of Charles Hebert, two miles south of Norwood.

Saturday, December 11, the big stock sale at the Loeb Farms, south-east of the city.

AUTO FEES PAY FOR ROAD WORK

NEW LICENSE LAW PROVIDES FOR THESE FUNDS.

Federal, Trunk Line and District Highways to Be Built at Cost of $20,000,000.

All expenses of the Michigan highway department administration as well as state rewards on country roads can be paid during the next two years from the state's share of automobile license tax fees, which have increased 60 per cent since the new license law went into effect, Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, says.

The cost of running the department last year was $252,426, while the cost in 1922 will be $347,050, according to the budget figures. The increase includes an addition of $70,000 a year to the salary item. Mr. Rogers said this is made necessary by employment of additional help to care for the rapidly growing road construction program.

Besides caring for cost of running the highway department's offices and field forces the automobile tax, according to Mr. Rogers' estimates, will be sufficient to pay the $3,010,000 of money to be paid in state aid during 1922 and the $3,200,000 to be paid in 1923.

Mr. Rogers said the department now has under contract between 400 and 500 miles of federal aid roads at a cost of $6,000,000, 600 miles of trunk line roads at a cost of $10,750,000 to be paid from the money available under the good roads amendment, and 400 miles of assessment district roads, the cost of which cannot be determined accurately until the roads are built, since many are being constructed by counties on a cost basis. The total cost probably will be about $20,000,000.

PETOSKEY BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Found Dead in the Woods on Thanksgiving Day.

Ignatius Kruzel, age 15, and son of Theodore Kruzel, who lives about three miles southeast of Petoskey, was found dead Thanksgiving Day about noon a mile south of his home. The boy went hunting with his dog and his death was the result of an accident. His remains were found lying across the muzzle of his gun and the load of shot had passed into his body. He is survived also by four brothers and five sisters.

Small Blaze at Myers Home.

Sparks from the chimney lodging on the roof started a fire which, had it happened during the late hours of night, would probably have partially destroyed the home of Mrs. S. J. Myers on Clinton street last Friday. The damage was slight, due largely to the quick response of the fire department.

OLDS BACKS BOYNE RAILROAD

LANSING FINANCIER SAVES IM-PORTANT RAILROAD.

His $450,000 Kept the Boyne City, Gaylord & Alpena Line From Bankruptcy.

The man whose cash was the magic key that released from receivership in 1917 the Boyne City, Gaylord & Alpena railroad, and has made possible its operation to this day, was Ransom E. Olds, the automobile financier, a jury in the Alpena circuit court was told last Thursday by George E. Nichols, of Ionia, defending the railroad in a $100,000 contract suit brought by I. S. Canfield, F. H. Orcutt and W. T. Hoey, of Alpena.

Olds put up $450,000 that the road might be rescued from receivership into which it was plunged in November, 1913, Attorney Nichols told the jury.

All this the defense expects to prove, it is said, during its lining in the trial occupying the attention of Judge Emmerick, at Alpena, a jury, and a costly array of legal talent. The trial already has been in progress more than a week, and predictions were it would not end this week.

The road originally was a spur to a lumber camp. William H. White & Co., of Boyne City, had extensive lumber holdings about which this road reached. The brothers were William H., Thomas, James and Robert White. When the road was projected in 1905, a bond issue of $250,000 was negotiated, which was partly sold. Later it was decided to extend it to Caylord, whereupon the Whites advanced the road $160,000 more. The road continued expanding until 1915, when it owed White & Co., $325,000. The story of its extension to Alpena in 1919 was recited in full.

In November, 1913, James A. White made application in the district federal court for a receiver, both for the railroad and William H. White & Co., which was granted, the Michigan Trust company of Grand Rapids being named receiver. Up to that time stock had been issued in the William H. White & Co. in the sum of $1,200,000, of which $1,150,000 was owned by the White brothers. And about $500,000 in stock and bonds had been issued by the railroad, of which the White brothers owned a majority.

In 1915, William H. White came to Alpena, Attorney Nichols related, with the idea of enlisting the aid of Canfield and Attorney Orcutt, a banker; Hoey, a lumberman, in the raising of $700,000 with which to rescue the two companies from receivership, for which service he was willing to pay $100,000. Then it was that the contract, which is the basis of this suit, was entered into.

From August, 1915, until early in 1917, various attempts were made by the trio, the White brothers, and others to finance the road, it was declared. All sorts of combinations were devised and each time success seemed about to smile on the plan, a frown appeared, usually opposition of the receiver. At least, several distinct attempts were claimed by the defense.

Finally Chud Hamilton was brought into the financial problem, and it was he who went to Ransom E. Olds and borrowed $450,000, as claimed by the defence, of which amount $275,000 was used in putting the road on its feet. The Alpena stockholders, partly through the efforts of Canfield, Orcutt and Hoey were induced to take the paper of the new company, par for par, while William H. White & Co. did likewise, said Nichols.

$11,000 Harbor Appropriation.

According to appropriations for Michigan rivers and harbors, announced on Saturday last, Charlevoix received an allowance of $11,000 for much needed improvements. This is but a fraction of the amount need to place our local harbor in condition, for the entrance of boats of the larger size, but if expended judiciously will make a decided improvement.

Notice.

Bake sale to be given on Saturday, December 4, by the intermediate girls of the Congregational Sunday school. It will be held in the See building, just vacated by Wood Bros. Hot chocolate and wafers will also be served. Be sure and come.—Adv. 4811.

PAY ATTENTION TO ORCHARDS

In Numerous Instances Sols Have Lost Humus as Result of Rains or Bare Cultivation.

While people today perhaps give more attention to their orchards than they did years ago, yet many do not give enough attention. As the country has been settled, land brought into cultivation and old farms worn, the fertility has failed in many instances.

In the first place many of the orchard soils have lost humus, others have failed in plant food as a result of heavy crops, washing rains or bare cultivation.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Mistaking cattle for deer and mistaking hunters for deer have been reported this season, but the first case of mistaking a horse for a deer is reported from Rudyard, upper peninsula, where Lenard McDowell lost a horse valued at $250. McDowell believes some hunter was "shining" deer and mistook the horse for his game.

Cyril Cote, Boyne City, was painfully burned about the face and hands at the F. O. Barden hunting camp on the upper peninsula when he undertook to start a fire with gasoline. The party had purchased what they supposed was kerosene to use for lighting and starting fires but when this was used in the stove a quick explosion occurred. Mr. Cote was alone in camp when the accident happened and did not receive first aid until the remainder of the party arrived the next day. He was then taken to St. Mary's hospital, Marquette. Word from Marquette is that the man may be able to return to Boyne City in about a week.

The man who stole the automobile of John Shemmaker, Zeeland shoe merchant, while the latter was attending church, must have been a sort of a half-souled scoundrel.

A man returning from a funeral at Vicksburg was dragged from his car and rifled by bandits. There is one place, though, where a man can feel fairly safe even in those days, and that is going to his own funeral.

As regards that Michigan reporter who couldn't find any news, and so shot himself through the innard with a rifle in order to make a sensational story—has he tried the well known Dana advice to go mad and bite a dog?

A few years ago there were 20 blacksmith shops in Lansing, and now there are only six which leads the Courier poet to exclaim,

"Under the towering water tank the service station stands.
The owner, a mighty man is he, with large and greasy hands."

"Mrs. John Burkholder is quite a dry joker in her way," observes the Mancelona Herald. "She bought two pedigreed geese a short time ago, and when in town recently, she told about the goose making her nest in the top of a cherry tree, and did not explain further until the audience began to look a little wild-eyed, that the tree had been blown flat on the ground."

George White, Boyne City, pleaded guilty to a charge of pointing a gun at Levi Arnold and threatening to shoot. Booze caused a big disturbance among the Pole population at a Boyne Falls lumber camp and many threats were made. One man was taken in tow by Sheriff Weaver, who quieted the gang.

GROW GRAPES FOR HOME USE

With a Little Care at Least a Few Varieties May Be Found Suitable for Purpose.

Some orchardists have assumed that grapes are adapted to peculiar soils and ideal situations. Upon this supposition many have not tried grapes when they planted orchards. As a matter of experience, with a little care grapes for home use can be grown on most soils; at least a few varieties can generally be found for this purpose.

But pruning and spraying will always be necessary to good fruit. Without pruning the vines will not grow new and fruit-bearing wood. The pruning must be kept up. If followed regularly a few years and then left off for a year the results will be plainly observed. Pruning must be done every year.

YOUNG HORSES ON DECREASE

Illinois Horseman Quoted as Saying Foals Have Never Been Scarce as in Present Year.

In a communication received at University farm the Horse Association of America, Wayne Plummer, secretary, quotes horse authorities as declaring that the lack of young horses on farms is becoming serious. An Illinois horseman is quoted as saying that foals have never been so scarce as this year. There are lots of buyers, he says, but the farmers haven't any horses to sell. For the future of the farmer and the horse it is strongly urged that every good mare be bred this year.

Motive Power Weak.
Lura Florence has heard a great deal of talk about woman's electric being without power and the necessity of charging it. One day she was told to remove her rubbers and tucks them to her room. She failed to do this and later was asked why she had not done so. She replied: "I did not have power enough; I had to stop and charge up."

PACKAGES HELP TO SELL GOODS

Desirability of Packing Products in Clean, Sound Containers Is Emphasized.

RECENT INSTANCE IS CITED

Farmer, Who Shipped Large Amount of Butter in Dark, Unattractive Barrels Suffers Loss of 8 Cents a Pound on Shipment.

The desirability of packing farm products in clean, sound containers is again emphasized by the loss of $950 recently suffered by a producer in connection with a single shipment of butter, say specialists of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture.

Used Dark-Colored Barrels.
This farmer shipped in barrels unsalted butter that scored 80 points. Because of the dark gray color of the barrels, which suggested packing stock butter, the receiver was unable to interest buyers in the commodity. Realizing that he would be unable to sell it at all in that condition, he suited and reworked the butter and then packed it in butter tubs. Although the butter had deteriorated in quality by this time, the appearance of the packages commended the attention of buyers and the butter was promptly sold. The loss in the shipment was practically 8 cents a pound, or over $950 on the entire shipment—a loss that would have been avoided in the first place had the shipper packed the butter properly, and a loss that would have been greater had not the receiver done so.

Other Things Being Equal the Lower Packed Butter Packages Will Market Better Because of Their More Attractive Appearance.

The same principle applies to eggs, beans, or any other commodity, say the bureau's experts. If the packages present an inviting appearance, the sale is half made; for good-looking packages suggest contents of high quality.

Another Illustration.
Another illustration given by the bureau of markets is that of a country creamery that forwarded a five-tub sample shipment of butter to a commission firm and received an offer for future shipments. In the next shipment the creamery used second-hand tubs instead of bright, new, clean, attractive packages, such as were used in the five-tub sample. Although the butter shipped was uniform in quality and scored 92 points, the commission firm was unable to dispose of it as "extras," and the shipper was compelled to take a loss of 2 cents a pound on the shipment.

ROADS TO DEVELOP COUNTRY

Of 2,500,000 Miles of Rural Roads in United States, but 12 Per Cent Have Been Improved.

There are today some 2,500,000 miles of rural roads in the United States. Of this amount perhaps 12 per cent could be classified as improved, while only about one-quarter of 1 per cent can be said to be suitable for the carriage of heavy-duty motor trucks. And to the face of this condition it can be said without contradiction that the future development of the United States rests upon the road.

WHAT POOR ROADS INDICATE

Generally Seen in Dull Neighborhood Where Houses Are Run Down and Everything Dead.

Where one finds bad roads, he generally finds a dull, poor and thinly-settled neighborhood. The farmhouses are generally run down, the vehicles are shabby and everything shows that a dead community prevails, while on the other hand where good roads exist the farmer generally has some pride about himself, and tries to bring his business up to the standard of other conditions.

DR. C. WILBUR HEWITT'S

GOSPEL QUESTION BOX

Address all questions to Dr. C. W. Hewitt, Charlevoix, R. 4

Q. "My Dear Doctor: Is it not true that there are chapters in the Bible that a father or mother could not read to their children, and that reek with obscenity from beginning to end?"

A. That there are chapters in the Bible which describe scenes that cannot be wisely dealt with in a mixed audience, I have no desire to deny, but these chapters are not obscene. To speak in the plainest terms of sin, even the vilest of sin, in order to expose its foulness and in order to picture Man as he really is, is not obscenity. It is purity in one of its highest forms. It is true that adultery and similar offenses against purity are mentioned by name without any attempt at mining words. Revolting deeds of this character are plainly described and their awful results related; but everything is so told as to make one recoil from these horrid and disgusting sins. Your question would indicate that there is much in the Bible that is not fit to read in public, and that this is an argument against the Bible, but it is an exceedingly foolish argument. There are passages in the very best and most valuable medical books that are not fit to read in public. They are not even fit for a father to read to his children, but he would be a fool who would cut these passages out of the medical works on that account, and he is equally a fool who objects to the Bible because there are passages in which are invaluable in their place, but which were not intended for and are not adapted to public reading. I for one thank God that these passages are in the Bible. There are things that every boy and girl need to know at a comparatively early age about some forms of sin, and loathsome sin. Many a boy and girl have fallen into these forms of sin before they realized their character, simply because they were not warned against them. Ignorance about them is a misfortune. That the Bible is a pure book is evidenced by the fact that it is not a favorite book in dance halls, saloons, pool rooms, gambling dens and the like. On the other hand, books that try to make out that the Bible is an obscene book, and that endeavor to keep people from reading it, are favorite books in places of infamy.

Q. With all the modern teachings concerning the historical portions of the old Testament, is a minister at liberty to use his own judgment in allegorizing?

A. Every minister of Jesus Christ is under obligation to preserve toward the old Testament precisely the attitude of Jesus Christ. What the old Testament was to Jesus Christ is easy of ascertainment. In one day one may go through the Gospels and select every reference of our Lord to the Scriptures. From these passages may be drawn Christ's doctrine of the old Testament. That He received it all as the very word of God is indisputable to any one trained in the law of evidence. He obeyed it himself. He appealed to it as containing His doctrine, and as testifying of Him. He never criticized it, never intimated that it was in any sense unworthy of credence. Instead of saying that the accounts of the flood, of Jonah, Lot's wife, were myths or allegories, He went, as one may say, out of His way to affirm the historicity of those events. Rom. 15: 4; Luke 17: 26, 27, 28, 32.

Q. Will the joys of Heaven, as well as the punishment of the lost, be alike for all?

A. No. There are degrees both in the punishment of the lost and in the rewards of the saved. 1 Cor. 3: 13-15; Luke 19: 17; Rev. 20: 12; Luke 12: 47, 48.

Q. Does not Ecclesiastes 7: 16 prove that it is possible to be too religious?

A. "Be not righteous overmuch," refers to scrupulosity above what is written—excessive and strength destroying fasting, and such like fleshly exercises. The flagellantes and "penitents" of Roman countries illustrate this. See the next verse: "For why shouldst thou destroy thyself?" Col. 2: 16, 17, 20, 23.

Q. There is one thing that has bothered me I would like to have you explain if you can. How could Jesus have been in the earth three days when he died on Friday afternoon, and arose from the grave Sunday morning? Is it not commonly preached and accepted that Jesus was crucified on Friday and came from the grave early Sunday morning?

A. Yes, according to the tradition of the Church, Jesus was crucified on Friday, dying somewhere between 3:00 p. m. and sundown, and was raised from the grave very early the morning of the following Sunday. The Bible nowhere says or implies that Jesus was crucified and died on Friday, but what it does say is that Jesus was crucified "the day before the Sabbath." Mark 15: 42. It is a well known fact that the Jews had other sabbaths besides the weekly sabbath which fell on Saturday. The first day of the passover week, no matter upon what day of the week it came, was a sabbath. Exodus 12: 16; Leviticus 23: 7; Numbers 28: 16-18. The question therefore arises whether the sabbath that followed Christ's crucifixion was the weekly sabbath Saturday or the passover sabbath falling on the 15th of Nisan, which came that year on Thursday. Now the Bible does not leave us to speculate in regard to which sabbath is meant in this instance, for John tells us in so many words, in John 19: 14, that the day on which Christ was tried and crucified was "the preparation of the passover." That is it was not the day before the weekly sabbath (Friday), but it was the day before the passover sabbath, which came that year on Thursday. That is to say, the day on which Christ was crucified was on Wednesday. The Gospel of John makes this clear. Jesus did not eat the passover with his disciples at the regular passover time. John clearly states that he ate it the evening before, and that He himself died on the cross at the very time or moment the passover lambs were being slain, "between two evenings." On the 14th Nisan, Exodus 12: 6; Hebrew and R. V. Margin. God's real pascal lamb, Jesus, of whom all other pascal lambs offered through centuries were only types, was therefore slain at the very appointed time of God. See Exodus 12: 5.

If my answer is not absolutely clear to you I shall be glad to take further space in the Courier of next week's issue, for the Bible bears abundant testimony as to the correctness of my answer.

We have in stock the well known Patrick Overcoats. All wool, well made, at a price that will induce you to buy. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 44tf.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS.

Ford Burns, But Owner Knows It Not

The latest Ford story comes from Augusta, Georgia. A Ford was standing in front of a fashionable hotel on Peachtree street, says the Daily Chronicle. It caught fire and six fire companies came and put it out, and went back to their respective station houses. Again it caught fire and the fire companies came a second time; put it out and returned to their stations. Then the owner of the Ford came out of the hotel, cranked up, got in, and rode away.

News dispatches from Texas tells of the closing down of mills for the production of peanut oil because the heavy importations from Oriental countries have destroyed the demand for the home product. The news reports also convey the information that the peanut growers are continuing the demand, so vehemently voiced during the campaign, for a return to the protective system, and particularly, for an import duty on peanuts, peanut oil, and other vegetable oils which come into competition with their products. In comment upon this demand for an import duty which will check foreign importations we read the argument that vegetable oils imported from Oriental countries are used by American mills in the manufacture of foodstuffs, soap, etc., thus affording employment to American labor and capital.

There is a manifest weakness in this latter argument. No doubt the imported oils do go into the manufacture of commodities in American mills, but there is no apparent reason why the imported oils should not be displaced by American oils. We hold no brief for southern farmers, yet we feel impelled to put in a word in their interest. They are producers of cotton which is now selling at a low price, and they need all they can get from one of the by-products, cotton seed oil. They also produce peanuts, the oil of which constitutes one of the sources of income. Moreover, it is declared that the south is a fertile field for the development of a soybean industry—another, profitable source of vegetable oils. Food products and soaps made of American oils ought to be as good as the same commodities made of oils from across the Pacific.

Let it be understood that we do not argue for a prohibitive import duty. We would not give the American producer an absolute monopoly of the American market without the possibility of competition at any terms. We would, however, impose an import duty at least equal to the difference in cost of production here and in the Orient, and thus place the American producer on an equality with his foreign competitor. Then if the American producer cannot hold his own in the contest for markets, he has no one to blame but himself. The argument in behalf of the producer of vegetable oils in the south is exactly the same as we would offer in behalf of the producer of any other commodity in any other section of the United States. The building up of any American industry is certain to result in benefit to all.

CATCHING COLD.

There is a common impression that colds knock people out. As a matter of fact, according to the New York commissioner of health, it is being knocked out that brings on the colds. Healthy people don't catch cold—or

If they do, they throw it off without any trouble.
If you catch cold, says this authority, it is probably for one or more of the following reasons:

You have overworked, and are tired out;
You have abused your stomach;
You have been unusually worried;
You have been too much indoors without sufficient ventilation;
You have not been regular in your habits;

You have not had the proper amount of sunshine and exercise.

When you succumb, that makes matters worse, and you are left with still lower resistance. Then it will be just your luck to catch another cold. Some people have one cold after another, all winter, every winter.

Germs? Of course. There are germs everywhere. In the air you breathe, any physicians, in the food you eat, on the street-car straps you cling to, on the shop counter you touch, on the money you handle, on the chair you sit in, there are likely to be disease germs of many kinds, some of the deadly—if they "take."

The blessed thing about it is that these enemies have trouble getting a toe-hold in the system of a normally healthy person. There was this much in the old theory that babies could "thrive on dirt." Though the dirt was full of dangerous germs, the babies were able to resist because they were getting the fundamentals of a healthful life—fresh air, sunshine, etc. Grown people can do the same, and thus laugh at the varied family of cold-germs and all other forms of "dirt."

THE TRICKLE THROUGH THE DAM.

Imports of manufactured products from Germany into England during the first ten months of 1920 amounted to $1,170,000,000 as compared with only $1,49,000 during the same period last year. The figures are significant of the restored producing power of German industries, and forecast the danger to our own markets unless a protective tariff policy along Republican lines is speedily adopted.

ROLL-CALL WANTED.

Those labor union leaders who complain that they are in danger of being overthrown by "barons from within" should tell the country how many of those menacing "Reds" they have expelled from their membership, and when.

The paid officers of the farm Bureau, at Lansing, have endorsed the state constabulary. A referendum on the question would be quite a shock to these Lansing gentlemen if the opinion of some of the Farm Bureau members in this county is any criterion as to how the dirt farmers really feel on this subject.

That's some intelligent idea National Chairman Will H. Hayes has for paying off the Republican National Committee deficit of over a million and a half. The postoffice candidates at $100 each would soon wipe that out.

The speed with which the fire equipment returns to the fire house is more dangerous to the public than nine-tenths of the fires.

When you pay your taxes this month don't abuse the tax collector. He didn't have anything to do with it.

Do you remember the number of high prices that were charged up to the high cost of sugar?

Get down on the Christmas Kildies list early. Be a good fellow.

Have you seen the line of Mackinaws at Benj. Brown's? If not, you are missing some rare bargains.—Adv. 44 ff.

IMPROVED ROADSARMY MATERIAL FOR ROADS

Millions of Dollars' Worth of Machinery Available for Construction of Highways.

The signing by the president of a bill directing the secretary of war to transfer certain surplus army equipment to the United States department of agriculture, as well as allotting certain material to other branches of the government, makes available for distribution to the states millions of dollars' worth of machinery for use to highway construction.

Since there is now available from all sources—federal, state, county, etc.—more than $1,000,000,000 for road building, the states are anxious to secure their allotments of these army supplies because of the great assistance they will be in expediting road building. This material is in addition to approximately 22,000 army motor vehicles which already have been allotted to the states through the federal department of agriculture in accord with previous legislation.

As yet no definite estimate can be made as to the number of machines of different kinds which the secretary of war will designate to be "surplus and not required for military purposes," as provided in the act. Among the scores of items listed in the law are: Road rollers, sprinkling wagons, concrete mixers, derricks, complete pile-driver outfits, chain-saw buckets, caterpillar and drag-line excavators, plows, rams, dump wagons, hoisting engines, stump pullers, wheelbarrows, ditching machines, corrugated metal culverts, surveying instruments, drafting machines, fabricated bridge materials, gravity and power conveyors, and wagons.

The distribution of this material will be made by the United States department of agriculture, the work being in the immediate charge of the bureau of public roads. It will be allocated in the same ratio as funds granted to the states for federal aid roads.

The bill also empowers the secretary of war in his discretion to transfer to the United States department of agriculture for use by the forestry service in the work of supervising the national forests, any telephone supplies no longer required for military purposes.

The federal government is to be reimbursed by the states, a sum equal to 20 per cent of the value of the material less all freight charges incurred in delivering the property to them. The title to all vehicles and other equipment remains vested in the state for use in improving highways. No vehicles and equipment, in serviceable condition, can be sold or the title transferred to any one else. A provision inserted in the bill shortly before its final passage provided that any state highway department may arrange for the use of this material by any state agency or municipal corporation at a fair rental. If it is to be used in constructing and maintaining public highways, the rental must not be less than the cost of maintenance and repair of the vehicles and equipment.

DRIVERS CAN PREVENT WEAR

One Thing That Is Most Destructive Is Driving in Tracks—Distribute Traffic Evenly.

Drivers can prevent wear in the surfaces of the roads and even improve their conditions. If instead of driving in one track or on the edge of the road they will drive over the middle and other less-used parts of the road when traffic permits. The one thing that is fatal above all things to road surfaces, whether dirt or paved, is driving in tracks, which subjects one small part of the road surface to all the traffic and damage that the whole road accommodates. Traffic should be evenly distributed over the entire surface of the road, and a little thoughtfulness and care in this respect on the part of drivers will do much to add to the permanence and excellence of our roadways.

Benefits of Good Roads.

Good roads will enable the producers to hold their yield for a longer time, thus insuring higher prices for them and lower and more uniform prices for the consumer, and will serve to distribute railway traffic more evenly over the entire year.

The Fallacy of Public Management.

When the railroad problem under government management, seemed to contain nothing but trouble, and promises of more trouble, a group of enthusiasts of government ownership tried to foist the notorious "Plumb plan" onto congress. But congress had been fed up on telegraph, telephone and cable mismanagement under the postmaster general, and railway operation under the railway administration; and the legislative mill was speeded up to finish its grist of railway legislation, with the result that a concrete plan was devised, and this was known as the "transportation act."

If results count—and the American public is pretty apt to use results as a standard of measurement—then it is significant that under private management the official records show that the railroads have achieved the biggest freight mileage in history during the past three months. When war conditions were being met and cars were supposedly being packed to their roofs, the railway administration boasted of its prowess. But the tons loaded per car during the past three months show that private management has again scored over public operation.

With practically the same equipment as the government had, the private management of railroads has beaten every record made by the railroad administration. Despite the switchmen's strike, the volume of freight traffic for the first seven months of 1920 exceeds the net tons carried one mile during a corresponding period in any of the past three years, including the period of federal control.

Labor Shows Record for Efficiency. The fact that the railroads under private management have beaten all records under federal control, when considering the volume of business turned over, is a victory that appears to belong largely to the employees of the roads.

It seems only a few weeks ago, when the newspapers were filled with accounts of "decreased production," and the accounts told how, in case after case, an equal number of employees on a certain piece of work, fell far short in the accomplishment of results after the war from what had been established as an average record before the war. We remember an instance where an exact calculation showed that under identical conditions in a certain shop, the decrease in production was 40 per cent less in 1919 than in 1915. Even so recently as last spring the switchmen's strikes on the railroads were featured as evidence of the disinterestedness of railroad employees in their jobs.

But getting back to results, it is shown that the railroads have beaten all records for handling freight and passenger business during the present year, and the accomplishments during the past three months, since all labor disturbances have subsided, show conclusively that the wage-workers on the railroads, are delivering a hundred cents on the dollar in services. And since there are considerably over 2,000,000 railroad men in the country, it seems reasonable to suppose that laborers in other industries where the disputes between employers and employees have been smoothed out, are performing their part in returning the full volume of production to their employers.

In short, railroad employees have disproved the charge that they are not rendering full service—for the proof that has been submitted to show that the railroads have beaten all records, carries with it the further admission and proof that the thing would not have been possible at all, except for a degree of efficiency among the workmen equal, if not greater than was obtained in the pre-war days.

It is also equally clear that the shippers have given their full cooperation in carrying out the railroad program to speed up production. The result of it all is the clearing up of practically all freight congestion, and the rendering of an added ability to the railroads to care for all demands upon them, including the handling of coal, grain, and the products of industries.

Period of watchful waiting at hand. When one speaks of "watchful waiting" it usually suggests our relations with Mexico. It is correct that this policy is now in full effect, and Washington expects that the new turn of events to the southwest will continue to show improvement.

But "watchful waiting" is given a new significance by the fact that the Wilson Administration will have much to propose during the coming three months, while Congress will pursue the policy of "watchful waiting," or "nothing doing" until the Harding administration goes into effect.

This same condition followed the defeat of former President Taft eight years ago, when congress served all his plans and suggestions in a political bag, which they put in storage until after he had taken the train out of Washington.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

will be sent to Congress by President Wilson. While there is no concerted opposition to allowing Mr. Wilson to make his selection, in the line of his public duty, it is noticeable that some Senator appears to loom like a black cloud in the path, way to obstruct each suggestion that has the Executive approval. And while it may be possible for the President to get some of his appointments confirmed, the chances are that there will be no end of reasons advanced by different Senators against the nominations. This will result in holding up confirmation till March 4, after which Republicans will have the Administration in their own hands.

Lawmakers Returning to Washington
Business is again quite brisk in the Senate and House Office Buildings, and everything in Washington indicates the usual activity preceding the opening of a session of Congress. The President, we are told, has determined the nature of his message, and there is a faint expectancy that he may deliver it in person. However, those who know most about the physical condition of Mr. Wilson do not believe that he will be able to read the message before a joint session.

Freedom of the Philippines
While mammoth parades and great mass meetings have been carried on in Washington for the Irish, the Filipinos, who have had promises galore from our great political parties and leaders, seem to be making but slow progress in their efforts to secure self-government. However, an effective organization is maintained in Washington by the Filipinos, and the representatives of the Islands promise to carry their cause before Congress with vigor, this winter.

Speeding Up Ireland
There is being carried on in Washington an intensive propaganda in favor of "free Ireland." Nothing is being left undone to arouse public opinion and to impress Congress and our own Administration with the importance of the Irish cause.

Canadian Wheat
The Federal Trade Commission has reported to the President that the large importations of Canadian wheat are responsible for the break in the price of our domestic product.

Grapefruit
From July 1 to September 30,

1920, 79,649 crates of grapefruit were exported from the Isle of Pines to the United States, as shown by invoices certified at the American consulate at Nueva Gerona, Cuba.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING.

But Not So Bad if You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing is more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Charlevoix people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:
Mrs. W. L. Cowan, 210 Antrim St., says: "I was subject to severe backaches and pains in my kidneys. I was also greatly annoyed by the irregular action of my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought me much relief."

BETTER FRUIT PRICES SEEN

Expert at Ohio Station Says Future Will Justify Conservative Planting of Orchards.

That the price of fruit, particularly apples, in the future will only justify the conservative planting of orchards is the opinion of W. J. Green, horticulturist at the Ohio station. Mr. Green points out that the enormous crop of apples a few years ago really resulted in a loss as the over-production reduced the price to such an extent that orchard owners could not even pay for the expense of handling the apples.

Mr. Green believes the price of apples in the future will adjust itself profitably to the grower who sets out orchards containing varieties of general commercial importance.

Plenty of Cream of Tartar Here.
Americans have for generations spent millions of dollars a year in Italy for cream of tartar, a household necessity which the grape regions of the United States can well supply. This is a by-product collected from the sediment of the fermenting vats and the sides of the tanks, against which it crystallizes during storage.

MUSCADINE GRAPE VARIETIES

Pronounced Difference in Value for Making Juice and Other Products —Thomas Is Best.

There is a pronounced difference in varieties of Muscadine grapes in their value for the making of fresh juice and other products. This fact has been brought out by the United States Department of Agriculture in its investigations on the utilization of this native type of grape as an addition to the national food supply. The Thomas, says the chief of the bureau of plant industry, in a recent report, is the best of the varieties now commonly grown for unfermented juice and has high merit compared with others.

Muscadine Grapes.

For varieties for most other uses. Under the cultural and pruning methods used in the experiment at the Penlarz test farm of the North Carolina department of agriculture, at Willard, N. C., Muscadines have produced excellent crops when unfavorable climatic conditions have caused other varieties to yield little or no fruit.

BIG SHORTAGE OF REFRIGERATOR CARS

Shipper Will Be Forced to Use Ordinary Box Cars.

With 6,000 cars of potatoes, 300 cars of apples, and a considerable amount of small truck to ship, Michigan farmers face a shortage of refrigerator cars which will make it necessary for some shippers to use box cars instead, according to the state farm bureau.

In a conference with H. O. Halstead, superintendent of car service of Pere Marquette railway, and Carl Stewart of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, the farm bureau traffic department reports it has secured an endorsement of a plan providing that box cars lined by local co-operative associations at their own expense will be returned to them.

If the Michigan Public Utilities Commission issues an order covering this proposition it will become effective in all railroads in this state. Mr. Halstead has already stated that the Pere Marquette will agree. To become effective outside of the state the Inter-State Commerce Commission will have to issue an order. To secure return of cars under this plan co-operative associations would have to notify local agents and divisional freight agents, giving car number, consignee and destination.

Lining cars is expensive, but such a provision would make it possible for associations which have a number of cars to ship to do so more economically. When such cars were returned they could not be held any longer than ordinary loading time without demurrage charge.

Social Set Wedded at High Noon Thanksgiving

An event of the Thanksgiving holiday season occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glassford on Diken avenue when their daughter, Hilda Mabel was united in marriage to Mr. George Franklin Weaver on Thanksgiving day at high noon. Rev. Alburt of the Presbyterian church of Petoskey officiated, with Miss Marjorie Weaver as bridesmaid and Mr. T. G. Finucan as best man. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present.

A wedding supper was served at six o'clock the same day and on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Weaver left Charlevoix; Mr. Weaver going to the University of Michigan where he is a junior in the Dental college and Mrs. Weaver going to Detroit to continue her teaching in the public schools of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are both well known here, this city having always been their home, and both are graduates of the Charlevoix High School.

The Courier with their many friends extend congratulations and wishes for a prosperous future.

AVOID OVERCROWDING FOWLS

In Culling Out Laying Hens It Is Wise to Remember That Two Years Is Maximum.

When poultry keepers find their runs and ground becoming overcrowded it is wise to look around for a reduction of the stock; and, in doing so, to remember that a hen ceases to give a maximum profit after the first year. If kept beyond that time all her eggs will be laid when they are plentiful and cheap—in late spring and summer.

QUALITY OF DISINFECTANTS

Hog Raisers Are Cautioned to Ascertain Value Before Using—Smell Is Poor Guide.

Swine raisers are cautioned to determine the value of disinfectants before using the same. Many people believe to the theory that the stronger the smell of the disinfectant, the greater the power to destroy infection. This idea is erroneous, for it is a fact that many strong deodorants do not have much germ destroying qualities.

Expert Use of Hoe.
The expert gardener begins to use the hoe backward, as well as forward in order to crush the lumps of soil and leave the surface in the best condition.

Making Sure.

A story is told of a farmer who was having trouble with his horse. It would start, walk about 20 yards or so, then stop for a few seconds and start again, only to repeat the performance. After watching this exhibition for some time a friend overtook the farmer during one of the horse's long waits. "What's the matter with the horse?" he asked. "Is it lame?" "Not as I know of," answered the farmer very crossly. "But he's so dashed fagged I'll say 'when' and he won't hear me, so he stops every now and then to listen."—The Tailor.

Had Plenty of Time.

"Yes, boys," continued the sleepy Jack, who was telling true and thrilling stories. "Yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about twelve minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yelled to 'em. 'Say you folks, go home to your suppers, I'll be close to half an hour before I drop.'"

The total and official vote on the proposed amendments to the constitution is as follows:
Salaries Amendment—Yes 348, 1; No 463,959.
Electors Amendment—Yes, 415, 1; No 359,749.

Labor Hours Amendment—Yes 9,085; No 413,362.
School Amendment—Yes 353,817; No 610,699.
Passage at the November 2 election of two of the proposed amendments to the state constitution—the laws of labor and electors amendments—became known last Wednesday with the completion of the canvass of the ballots by the state canvassing board.

The work was completed upon the receipt of reports by wire from election boards which had failed to submit their final reports Tuesday.

Under the provisions of the constitution the amendments approved by the people will take effect 30 days after election, or on December 2.

One of the approved amendments goes the way for the legislature to fix the hours of labor for men as well as women and children. The other requires all voters who exercise the right by virtue of first naturalization papers to either complete their citizenship before January 1, 1924, or lose their right of suffrage. It also grants to teachers and members of the families of members of the legislature the right to send their ballots in by mail when absent from their place of residence.
